

19 ... c. 5.

From the Library of Professor Samuel Miller in Memory of Judge Samuel Miller Breckinridge Presented by Samuel Miller Breckinridge Long to the Library of Princeton Theological Seminary

SC 1486
c. 1

Allen M. Lean
his Book.

DISSENT

FROM THE CHURCH of ENGLAND,

Fully justified:

And proved the genuine and just Consequence of the Allegiance due to CHRIST,

The only LAWGIVER in the CHURCH.

BEING

The DISSENTING GENTLEMAN'S

T H R E E

LETTERS and POSTSCRIPT,

In Answer to

Mr. JOHN WHITE's on that Subject.

Micaiah Towgood

The FOURTH EDITION.

D U B L I N :

Printed by S. POWELL and SON, in Dame-street, opposite Fownes's-street.

MDCCLXVI.

T H E

P R E F A C E.

THE Gentleman to whom these Letters are addressed, having called us forth to a vindication of our religious principles and practice; we think ourselves happy that without fear of the heavy fines, imprisonments and deaths, which our Forefathers suffered, we can make our Defence.

A calm and unprejudiced examination of our cause is all the favour we ask. Such an examination, we are humbly confident, will shew — That we separate from the Church of England in no one thing, but in which she separates herself from the Church of J E S U S C H R I S T — That we are Non-conformists to the Establishment only in those points in which the Establishment is not conformed to the primitive apostolic plan of discipline and worship established in the word of God — And that would the Governors of this Church be pleased to lay aside those things which they themselves know and acknowledge to be no parts at all of genuine, original, real Christianity; and to be but the devices of fallible and weak men; the difference would be no more; our separation would at once vanish; we should immediately join together, with one heart and one mouth giving glory to God.

Here we rest our cause; upon that which is the grand basis of Protestantism, and of all rational onal and reformed Religion; viz. That the Scriptures are a perfect rule of faith and of manners: Whoever departs from this, must wander into endless mazes of Church Tyranny and Superstition; till he plunges at last into that horrid abyss of both, POPERY, or the Church of ROME.

To every impartial judge our dissent from the Church of England will appear, nothing but a protest which we publickly make against A new Scheme of CHRISTIANITY, which our brethren of the Establishment have taken upon them to set forth. We are content with the old, the primitive, plan of doctrines and rites which CHRIST and his Apostles established in the Church: Our brethren are not; they are for altering, improving upon, and mending CHRIST'S scheme: For embellishing and adorning it with some additional splendors; and for making new terms of Christian communion besides those which CHRIST made: In this we differ from them: And this (we pray it may be noted) this is the only point in difference betwixt us. Here the merits rest. Which of us have TRUTH and RIGHT of our side we readily submit to every unbiaſſed judgment: Yea, we are even bold to submit it to the conscience and the sedate reflections of our brethren themselves.

May the GOD of TRUTH judge betwixt us! We are assured he will judge. To him alone be the glory of dominion over conscience, and of all authority in religion; throughout all Churches, and all ages. Amen.

T H E

DISSENTING GENTLEMAN'S

A N S W E R

T O T H E R E V E R E N D

M R. WHITE's Three Letters, &c.

S I R,

A Debate of this kind I should not have chose in the present Situation of our publick Affairs: But as you have done me the Honour of publickly addressing to me three long Letters for my Conviction and Edification, Gratitude and good Manners constrain me to answer.

As worldly Considerations are very strong on your Side, I assure you, I have an Ear always open to any thing that can shew Conformity to be my Duty. Dissenters are not Men of so peculiar a Turn of Mind, as to love Suffering and Re-proach, or to despise the Dignities, Preferments, and lucrative Posts, to the amount of Millions a Year, which are shared amongst their Fellow-subjects, could they with a good Conscience partake of them, as they have a natural Right to do.

But, notwithstanding this Prejudice in Favour of your Argument, and all the Ingenuity with which you set it off, I cannot say it has wrought in me the Conviction you seemed to hope. So far, Sir, from this, that the more carefully I examine the Grounds of my Separation, the more thoroughly I am convinced of its Lawfulness and Ex-

A

pedience

pedience: that, 'tis a Debt I owe to GOD, to Liberty, to Truth, and an Act of Homage and Allegiance due to CHRIST, the only Law-giver and King in the Church.

I shall not enter upon the Enquiry, on which you largely expatiate, who are the best Livings, Churchmen or Dissenters? And amongst which the best Means for holy Living are found? Let the World judge betwixt us. Would to GOD that both of us had greater Reason to boast!

The Controversy betwixt us, Sir, I apprehend may easily be brought to a plain and short Issue, if you will heartily join in it. It turns upon the single Point of the XXth Article of your Church, viz. That THE CHURCH hath Power to decree Rites and Ceremonies, and Authority in Matters of Faith. For if THE CHURCH hath really this Authority and Power, then all Objections of the Dissenters about Sponsors, the Cross in Baptism, kneeling at the Lord's-supper, and every other Thing, are impertinent and vain: The Church having this Authority, ought reverently to be obeyed. And, if instead of two or three Ceremonies, it had enjoined two or three score; and if to the thirty-nine Articles it had added an hundred besides, we ought meekly to have bowed down to her spiritual Jurisdiction, and to have practised and believed as the Church hath taught and enjoined.

But, if on the contrary, Sir, the Church hath really and in Truth, no Power at all, nor Authority of this kind; yea, if CHRIST, the great Law-giver and King of the Church hath expressly commanded that NO POWER of this kind shall ever be claimed, or ever be yielded, by any of his Followers, then your Church is reprehensible and highly criminal before God, for usurping this Power: And then the Dissenters are justified, and will have Honour before GOD, for entering their Protest against such Usurpation; for asserting the Rights and Privileges of the Christian Church; and standing fast in the Liberty wherewith CHRIST has made them free.
and

Our Separation from the Establishment you are pleased to represent in very terrifying and black Colours, as a Sin of near the first Magnitude—
 “ Our Ministers, you say, have Guilt lying heavily upon them on Account of their schismatical and uncatholick Proceedings.—They are “ notoriously peccant (i. e. are great Sinners) in “ throwing off the Authority of those whom they “ ought to obey and submit themselves to.—Their “ Conduct is such as you challenge all the Wit
 “ and Ingenuity of the Nation ever to reconcile
 “ with holy Living——You represent them as carnal, evil, and deceitful Workers, disorderly Walkers, whom God will, undoubtedly, for these things, bring into Judgment*; and the Faithful, far from being permitted to enter into any pastoral Relation to them, are not permitted to have any Christian Communion with them; no, not so much as any intimate unnecessary Acquaintance and Familiarity with them in common Life †;” with much more to the same Purpose.

You speak also “ of the Lay-dissenter, as having stained his Soul with Guilt †; and of the Doctrine on which our Separation is built, as being false and dangerous ‖. This you wish me to lay to Heart, and seriously to consider.”

I have, according to your Wish, Sir, lain it to Heart, and seriously considered. The Result of my Consideration I shall now freely give you; and in return heartily wish, that laying aside all Prejudice and worldly Attachments, you would impartially consider—What is the true Nature and Constitution of the Christian Church; and what

A 2

the

* Letter I. Page 22, 83.

† Letter II. Page 8.

‡ Letter II. Page 26.

‖ Letter III. Page 59.

the Allegiance, which, as a Subject of JESUS CHRIST, you owe to HIM the only Law-giver and King in the Church; who will shortly call you to Account for your Conduct in this Respect.

To come then to the Point—THE CHURCH, you say, and solemnly subscribe it, hath Power to decree Rites, and Authority in Matters of Faith. This is the grand Hinge upon which the whole Controversy turns. Now here, Sir, let me ask you,

FIRST, What CHURCH is it, to whom this Authority and Power is given? You will, doubtless, say, the Church of England; for the Church of England expressly claims and exercises this Power; and you avow and defend it in this Exercise and Claim: Yea, this is the very Basis on which its whole Frame and Hierarchy stand. It obliges all its Ministers to subscribe to Articles of Faith, which it hath authoritatively decreed; and to use in religious Worship Ceremonies and Rites, which it hath authoritatively enjoined.

But mind, Sir, I beseech you, the Consequences of this Claim. If the Church of England hath really this Authority and Power; hath not the Church of France—the Church of Spain—the Church of Rome the very same? Hath England, in this Matter, any Privilege from GOD, any spiritual Prerogative, any Charter from Heaven, which its neighbour Countries have not? You will not pretend it has. But if it has no Privilege nor Prerogative of this kind, then the Church of France, and the Church of Rome have also, you acknowledge, POWER to decree Rites and Ceremonies in GOD's Worship, and AUTHORITY in Points of Faith; consequently, all the Fopperies and Superstitions of the Romish Church, at least, which cannot be proved to be contrary to the Word of GOD, are to be reverently submitted to by all the Members of that Church, and cordially received.

But will not your claiming this Power for the Church absolutely overthrow the Reformation itself, and subvert the very Foundation of the Church you seek to establish? For till you can shew, why the Church of England is possessed of this Power, but not the Church of Rome; why a Body of acknowledged fallible Men in Britain have Authority to make and to enjoin Articles of Faith, but not a Body of pretended infallible Men at Trent; whence ENGLAND came thus spiritually-gifted, and endowed beyond all its neighbour Kingdoms—your Separation from the Church of Rome is incapable of a just and solid Defence.

To this, perhaps, you will reply—But our Church hath expressly guarded against any such Abuse of the Power it claims, by adding in the XXth Article—Yet is it not lawful for the Church to ordain any Thing that is contrary to GOD's Word written; neither may it so expound one Place of Scripture that it be repugnant to another. But, upon this I entreat your Patience for these two Remarks:

1st, Whatever Ceremony or Rite then cannot be shewn to be CONTRARY to GOD's Word, your Church, yea, the Church of Rome hath, you acknowledge, full Authority to enjoin: Consequently, as your Church, by Virtue of this Authority, hath enjoined the Cross in Baptism, it hath full Power also to require you to cross yourselves, whenever you enter the Place of Worship, say your Prayers, look towards the East, touch the Bible, sit at Meat—It hath full Power to enjoin the Use of Salt and Spittle in Baptism, Chrism, extreme Unc-tion, and an hundred other Things which are no more contrary to GOD's Word than the Cross in Baptism is.

As your Church now consecrates Ground, it has every whit as much Power to consecrate the other Element, and to make holy Water, as well as holy Earth; and to order it to be decently sprinkled upon

upon its Members (for all Things, you know, are to be done decently and in Order) in Token that they shall keep themselves pure from Sin: It hath Power to consecrate holy Knives to cut the sacramental Bread; holy Basons and Ewers for the Priests to wash in before the Sacrament, holy Vestments and Robes, and a great Variety of holy Utensils, lighted Tapers for the Altar, &c. (all which, you know, Sir, was done by your admired Bishop Laud) knocking on the Breast, bowing towards the East, Prostration before the Altar.—All these, I say, and innumerable other Ceremonies your Church claims Authority and Power to enjoy; for none of these can be shewn to be more contrary to the Word of GOD, or to be a whit more superstitious, ridiculous, or absurd, than the crossing at Baptism, or the solemn Consecration of Churches and their Yards. But, 2dly. The Limitation or Guard, which the Article seems to put upon this Power of the Church, is really of no Force, and amounts to nothing at all.

For tho' it says—That the Church may not ordain any Thing CONTRARY to GOD'S Word, nor so expound one Scripture as to be REPUGNANT to another: Yet of this Repugnance and Contrariety, the CHURCH alone, you will observe, and not every private Person, is allowed to be the proper Judge: For else the Article is absurd; it actually overthrows itself; and takes away, with one Hand, what it gives with the other. For, if every private Person hath Authority to judge of the Church's Decisions, and to reject them, if they appear to him repugnant to Scripture, then the Church's Authority in Points of Faith comes to just nothing at all. It is an Authority to decree, where none are bound to submit; that is, an Authority over no Body, an Authority to do nothing. But such a senseless, unmeaning, impertinent Claim, can never never be the Design and Import of this Article. It does claim therefore for the Church some real Authority to settle Points of Faith; consequently, to Points thus authoritatively settled by it, private Christians, its Members are, reverently to submit, even tho' to their own Judgments they appear repugnant to the Word of God.

This, Sir, must be the real Meaning and Intent of the Article, notwithstanding the restrictive Clause. Accordingly, in Consequence of this Claim, your Church hath authoritatively decreed thirty-nine Articles of Faith; and these it declares to have decreed *for the taking away Difference of Opinion, and to establish an Agreement in true Religion. The plain Language of Authority. These Articles it obliges all its Ministers to subscribe; and our Princes, as Heads and Governors of the Church, have authoritatively forbid its Clergy to preach any Thing repugnant to them, and required them to frame their Sermons according to the Plan here prescribed. From all which it appears, that, notwithstanding the pretended Limitation, there is a real Authority claimed by the Church, that is to say, by its Governors, to settle Points of Faith. But if there be such Authority really vested in them, then the People are bound to submit to their Decisions, and have no Right of private Judgment to examine or reject them; for there cannot be two CONTRADICTORY Rights; a Right in Governors to prescribe, and a Right in Subjects to refuse.—But if the Church of England has really this Authority and Right, the Church of Rome had it before her; and, as the elder and Mother-church, ought to have been obeyed. The Reformation, therefore, as we are wont to call it, was a Rebellion against Superiors, a Disobedience to the Authority vested in the Church, and ought,

as

* Preface to XXXIX Articles.

as such, to be renounced by returning to the Church of Rome.

In this Manner, Sir, a Romish Priest will turn upon the Church of England its own dangerous Artillery; and by the meer Concessions of this XXth Article, thousands of Profelytes have, no doubt, been gained from you. Nor, with all your Ingenuity, would you find it easy to ward off the Force of such Arguing, should any of your Parishioners be likely to be seduced. And this, perhaps, is the Reason why the numerous Converts these Priests are said to make, are gathered all from your Church; whereas, from amongst the Dissenters, you hardly ever hear of one gained. But,

SECONDLY. I want much to be enlightened as to THE PERSONS who are invested with this Authority and Power.

You say, it is the Church: But Who, I pray, are the Church, in whom this great Power is lodged? You will please to observe well, Sir, not the Bishops and Clergy, who are wont to speak of themselves as our spiritual Pastors and Guides, as being over us in the Lord, as Stewards of the Mysteries, &c. This Power to order the Manner of GOD's Worship, and to settle Articles of Faith, is not at all lodged in them, but entirely in the KING and PARLIAMENT of these Realms.

You need not be informed, Sir, that all the Clergy of this Kingdom, with all the Bishops, at their Head, have not the least Authority to enjoin one Ceremony or Rite of Worship; or to either establish or annul one Article of Faith. No, but all Power and Jurisdiction relating to these Matters is lodged chiefly in Lay-hands; 'tis solely in the KING and PARLIAMENT, and the Clergy are to act in all Things under their Direction and Controul. The KING and PARLIAMENT are in Truth the real Fathers, Governors, or BISHOPS of this Church:
These

These ONLY have Power to make or to unmake Forms and Rites of Worship, and do authoritatively instruct and prescribe to the Clergy what they are to believe—in what Manner, and to whom the Sacraments are to be given—what Prayers they are to offer up—what Doctrines to preach—who are to be admitted to the Episcopate or Priesthood, and who to be refused—by what Ceremonies and Prayers, and Exhortations they are to be set apart, and consecrated to their Office.—These, with every other Circumstance relating to Religion and the Worship of GOD, which is authoritatively prescribed or enjoined in your Church, you know, Sir, not the Bishops and Clergy, but the KING with his Parliament are the ONLY Persons who have authoritatively enjoined and prescribed them.

“ The Clergy of the whole Land, in Convocation “ assembled, cannot so much as attempt any Canons “ or Constitutions without the King’s Licence. If “ the King and Clergy make a Canon, tho’ it binds
 “ the Clergy in re ecclesiastica, yet it does not bind “ Laymen*.”

Yea, so far, Sir, were the Bishops and Clergy from having any Hand in the first forming our present established Church, or in ordering its Rites and Articles of Faith, that it was done not only without, but in actual Opposition to them: “ For in the 1st of

B

“ Q.

* Vide Examination of the Codex, &c. Pag. 114, 148. “ By the 25th of Hen. VIII. Cap. 19. it is a Præmunire for the Convocation to meet without the King’s Writ: And when they are met to do any thing without the King’s Licence: And then no Resolution of theirs to have the Force of a Canon, unless the King confirm it. Nor is it then valid, if it be contrary or repugnant to the Laws, Statutes, and Customs of this Realm, or be to the Damage or Hurt of the King’s Prerogative royal—And of this the Courts of Westminster Hall must judge—Hale, in his Analysis (Page 12.) says, If ecclesiastical Laws are not confirmed by Parliament, the King may revoke and annul them at his Will and Pleasure.”—Vide Notes on an Answer to the Examination of the Bishop of London’s Codex.

“ Q. Eliz. the Parliament alone established the “ Queen’s Supremacy and the Common-prayer-“ book, in spite of all Opposition from the Bishops
 “ in the House of Lords; and the Convocation then “ sitting, were so far from having any Hand in “ those Church-acts for Reformation, that they “ presented to the Parliament several Propositions
 “ in Behalf of the Tenets of Popery, directly con“ trary to the Proceedings of the Parliament*.”—

Hence then, Sir, I think you must be absolutely forced to own (what I know Gentlemen of your Robe don’t care to hear) viz. That the Church of England is really a PARLIAMENTARY Church; that it is not properly an Ally, but a mere Creature of the State. It depends entirely upon the Acts and Authority of PARLIAMENT for its very Essence and Frame. The Qualifications of its Ministers, their Power to officiate, the Manner in which they are to administer the Sacraments, are all limited and prescribed by Authority of Parliament, and this Authority, which at first made, can alone alter and new-make it; can abolish, or add to its Articles or Rites, according to its Pleasure, even tho’ the whole Body of Bishops and Clergy ever so much dislike, or protest earnestly against it.

It is a Point therefore incontestible, and absolutely out of Doubt, that THE CHURCH, your Article declares to have this Authority and Power here, is the KING and PARLIAMENT of these Realms; and it is no other than they. But,

THIRDLY. The grand Point which yet sticks, and which, without your Assistance, I shall never get over, is, how came the civil Magistrate by this Authority in the Church of CHRIST? Who gave him this Power to decree Rites in Christian Worship, which Christ never decreed; and to make Articles of Faith which Christ never made? Neither CHRIST, nor

* Vide Priestcraft in Perfection, Pref. Pag. 4.

nor the Apostles, ever gave him this Authority; whence then is it derived?

The Subjection to higher Powers, and Obedience to Magistrates, which the Scriptures enjoin Christians, relates only to civil, not at all to religious Matters: For this obvious Reason; that the Magistrate at that Time was every where Pagan. The Apostles therefore instead of paying, or exhorting Christians to pay, any Subjection to him in religious Affairs, strenuously exhorted them to renounce and disavow it—to come out from among them and be separate. They were every where, you know, Sir, Dissenters from the established Church.

CHRISTIANITY is so far from enjoining, that it actually forbids, Obedience to civil Governors in Things of a religious Nature. It commands us to *call no Man upon Earth Father or Master, i. e. to acknowledge no Authority or Jurisdiction of any in Matters of Religion, but to remember that ONE, one only is our Master and Law-giver, even CHRIST; and all Christians are Brethren; i. e. stand upon an equal foot, having no Dominion over one another. Tho' the Princes of the Gentiles exercise Dominion over them, and they who are Great exercise Authority upon them, yet it shall not, our LORD says, be so amongst you †. Nay but your Church replies, in this its XXth Article, it shall be so amongst us.—There are some who have Authority over others in Matters of Faith.—There are other Masters besides CHRIST. Thus the Article and the Scripture manifestly clash: Will you be so good Sir, as to adjust the Controversy betwixt them, and tell me which I am to follow.

The Church is CHRIST's Kingdom, a Kingdom not of this World: For his voluntary Humiliation and suffering of Death, he is advanced to the high Honour of being sole Law-giver, Judge and Sovereign in religious Matters.—He only hath Authority to fix the Terms of Communion for his Followers or Church; and the Terms which He hath fix'd, no Man upon Earth, nor Body of Men, have Authority to set aside, to alter or new make. And if any Men upon Earth shall presume to alter, or new make, Terms of Communion in his Church; they are guilty of great Arrogance, and invade his Authority and Throne. But this, we apprehend, is what you have done. You will not now receive a Person to publick Baptism or the Lord's-Supper upon the Terms on which CHRIST and his Apostles would have received him. Neither CHRIST nor his Apostles ever made the Sign of the Cross, or other Sponsors besides the Parents, necessary to a Child's Baptism; nor did they ever make kneeling a necessary Term of receiving the Sacramental-Supper; but both those you make necessary*. Thus you have taken upon you to new model the Church of CHRIST, to change and set aside his Laws, and to make others in their room.

* Matt. xxiii. 8, 9.

† Matt. xx. 25.

Now give me leave to ask you, Sir, by what Authority do you presume to reject those from your Church, whom in your Conscience you believe CHRIST and his Apostles would have received into theirs? Are you wiser than they? Or is your Church better framed, and more perfect than theirs? If an honest and sincere Christian now brings his Child to you to be publickly baptized, desiring it may be done without the Sign of the Cross, and that himself may stand forth as Surety for its Education; would you not refuse him? Or if he desired to be admitted to the Communion of Christians, in the other Sacrament of the Supper, but that he might not take it Kneeling: Would you not reject him? But if the same Person had come to JESUS CHRIST

OR

* The XXVIIth Canon requires, the Minister never wittingly to administer the Communion to any, but to such as kneel. The XXIXth Canon requires, that no Parent shall be urged to be present at his Child's Baptism; nor be admitted to answer as God-father for his own Child.

or the Apostles, offering himself and Child upon the same Terms, would they not have received him? But how is it, Sir, that you take upon you to reject from CHRIST'S Family and Church, those whom you believe HIMSELF would have received? is not this Lording it over GOD'S Heritage, and usurping CHRIST'S Throne? Is it not setting yourselves up for Law-Makers and Rulers in his Kingdom; claiming Homage from his Subjects? And are not his faithful Subjects, by the Allegiance they owe HIM, obliged to enter their Protest against such Usurpation, and to stand fast in the Liberty wherewith CHRIST has set them free?

Where then, let me appeal to your own sober Judgment, does the Guilt of Schism lie: Upon you or upon us? Upon us, who offer our selves to Communion in your Church upon the Terms which CHRIST appointed, and are ready to do every Thing which CHRIST has commanded: Or upon you who absolutely reject us, unless, besides what CHRIST hath order'd, we will submit also to some Orders and Devices of your own? We come as the Lord's Servants, and desire to eat at the Lord's-Table, with reverent Submission to all his Appointments. Nay but, say you, you shall not come to the Lord's-Table, unless you will kneel; i. e. unless you will come in that Posture, which tho' CHRIST in his Wisdom did not think proper, yet which we in our Wisdom have thought proper to ordain. In other Words; unless besides being CHRIST'S Servants, you will also be ours; and pay Subjection to our Institution and Authority in this religious Rite.

This, Sir, is the true State of the Controversy betwixt us: Judge now, I pray you, with the Impartiality of a Christian who makes the Schism, and who has reason to fear being brought into Judgment, by the great Law-giver of the Church, for the unhappy Breach which subsists.—Let a great Prelate who at present adorns one of the highest Stations of your

your Church be heard as Judge betwixt us — “ In all “ other Societies, the express Will of the Founder,
 “ and the Terms of Fellowship and Communion “ which he has laid down, are accounted sacred. In “ all other Kingdoms the Will of the supreme Power
 “ is a Law. No one pretends, or dares pretend, “ to make Laws of equal Force with his. How “ hard then is the Fate of the Christian Church, or “ of the Kingdom of CHRIST, when his Will is de“ clared insufficient, and the invented Words and De- “ visions of his Subjects are made co-ordinate with his “ own, equally exclusive of others of his Subjects “ from the Communion of their Fellow-Subjects! And “ how hard is the Fate of those Believers in him, who “ desire Communion upon the Terms GOD has prescribed, “ to be excluded by the Words of Men; by the In“ ventions of Men imposed upon them for his Pre- “ cepts! And, how unhappy is the Church, to be re“ duced by any such Methods within more narrow “ Bounds than our LORD himself has confined it *.”

But you are in Readiness to retort, and with great Assurance tell me, “ That the Avoidance of Kneel“ ing insisted upon by our Ministers, is not less an “ Imposition than your enjoining it.—That we do “ really impose the Observance of one particular Ges- “ ture upon our Communicants.—That sitting is “ the regular, unvaried Practice of our Churches; “ observed as constantly and universally amongst “ us, as Kneeling is amongst you,—never allowed to “ be departed from; which our Ministers require, “ insist upon, and refuse to abate.”——And you ask me “ if one should present himself to take the Sa“ crament standing, or offer to take it on his Knees, “ whether I don't think he would undergo some “ severe Expostulations, and be plainly told, we “ had

* Bishop of Winchester's Postscript to his Answer to Dr. Hare's Sermon, page 254.

“ had no such Custom, nor the Churches of GOD, and “ it would not be given him at all*.”

I believe the World will be surprized, Sir, and that an ingenuous Blush will cover your own Face, when you find that this Account of us is absolutely without Truth, and quite contrary to Fact. I have spent my whole Life amongst the Dissenters, and am acquainted with a great Number of their Churches and Ministers; but never once, till now, heard that SITTING at the Lord's-Table was ever insisted on as a Term of Communion with them; or that it is their unvaried and universal Practice. The contrary to this, I know to be Truth. In the Church to which I myself belong, there is a Person who for many Years has constantly received KNEELING, without the least Offence to the Congregation, or any Expostulation from the Minister on that Account. In some of our Churches I am well informed, there are some who receive Standing, some Kneeling: In this every one amongst us is left entirely at his Liberty. Tho' the Posture of Sitting be generally thought by us most suitable to the Commemorative-Supper of our LORD; instituted instead of the Paschal-Supper of the Jews; and most agreeable to the Practice of CHRIST and his Apostles, who, without all peradventure, Sat around the Table; yet in this we are all left to follow freely our own Persuasion. Nor is there, I believe, amongst our Ministers one in five hundred, who would refuse to give the Sacrament either Standing or Kneeling to any one who thought either of these the fittest Posture of receiving. Our Liberty as to this Matter you might have seen in Baxter's reform'd Liturgy; where it is expressly said—“ And let none of the People be forced to sit, stand or kneel in the Act of receiving, whose Judgment is against it.” And in Dr. Calamy's brief Account, &c. which you appear to have read—“ The Communicants amongst Protef- “ tant

* Letter II. pag. 56, 57, 58. Letter III. pag. 8, 9.

“ tant Dissenters, are AT LIBERTY to use THEIR “ OWN POSTURE in the Time of Receiving ; tho’ a “ Table Gesture is most commonly used*.”

Thus, Sir, I have at large considered your Charge of SCHISM upon the Dissenters ; and hope by this time you begin to think more favourably of us ; and to justify our Principles as truly Catholic and Generous ; the only Broad-Bottom on which the Peace of the Church can be solidly fixed ; and that the Guilt of the Separation lies wholly on your Church ; which insists upon UNCHRISTIAN and UNSCRIP-TURAL Terms of communicating with it.

But I hope to finish your Conviction, Sir, and to wipe off every Speck of the Taint of Schism from Dissenters, by calling to your Remembrance your own excellent Definition of the Catholic or Christian Church ; and reasoning with you on it. “ The Ca“ tholic Church, you say†, is one outward and visi“ ble Society DIVINELY instituted ; the most admira“ ble and glorious Society under Heaven.” —Mind, Sir, your own Words ; and it will soon end the Debate. If it be a Society DIVINELY instituted, then whatever Society is not of Divine, but of meerly human Institution, is not the Church of Christ. If it be a Society divinely instituted, then the Terms of Admission into this Society, and the Qualifications of its Members are divinely fixed, i. e. fixed by the Will and Authority of GOD : Whatever visible Society then hath its Terms of Admission and the Qualifications of its Members NOT divinely fix’d, fix’d only by the Will and Authority of Men, cannot be the truly Catholic and Christian Church.

Now here shall I intreat you, Sir, with the Impartiality of a Christian, who has nothing but Truth and the Will of God in view, to stop a Moment and compare the CONSTITUTION of the Church of England, and the CONSTITUTION of the Church of Christ,
 and

* Letter to a Divine in Germany, pag. 11.

† Letter. I. pag 73.

and see if they are not Societies of a quite different Frame; the one a human, the other a divine Institution; the one resting entirely on the Authority and Will of Men, the other upon the Will and Authority of G O D.

If you enquire after the Constitution and Frame of the Church of Christ, where must you look for it? only in the *Bible. But if you enquire after the Constitution and Frame of the Church of England, where must you look for that? in the Statute-book, in the Canons, and Common prayer-book, and in the Codes of the English-law.

The Church of CHRIST is a religious Establishment, founded upon the Scriptures, as the only authentic Rule of its Doctrines and Worship; the Church of ENGLAND is a civil Establishment, founded upon Acts of Parliament, as the only authentic Rule of what is to be believed and practised therein. The one a spiritual Structure, built upon the Foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, JESUS CHRIST himself being the chief Corner-stone: The other a political Structure, built upon the Foundation of the Lords and Commons of the Realm, THE KING, as supreme Head, being the chief Corner-stone.

Into the Church of Christ any Person may be admitted, who submits to the Terms appointed by Christ: But, into the Church of England, he cannot be admitted, except over and above these, he submits also to the Terms which human Authority hath instituted and devised.

In Christ's Church the Lord's-Supper is appointed and used ONLY for spiritual and religious Ends; but, in the Church of England, it is notoriously both instituted and used for political and worldly Ends, to qualify for a Post. In the former 'twas appointed with Intention, and as a mean of uniting all Christians; and of destroying all Variance and Distinctions

C

betwixt

* The Bible only is the Religion of Protestants. Chillingworth

betwixt them. In the latter 'tis appointed with Intention, and as a Mean, of discriminating and dividing Christians; and of making a Distinction betwixt one and another.

In the Christian Church, no openly debauched or scandalously wicked Person has a Right to come to the Table of the Lord, or to partake for its Provisions; but in the Church of England, if such a Person has a Commission from the King in the Army or the Fleet, or any profitable Post, this gives him a Right to come to the Communion-Table, a Right to demand the holy Elements at the Priest's Hands, as a Qualification for his Post.

In the scriptural Church of Christ, there are no such Officers ever heard of as Bishops, Deans, Archdeacons, Prebendaries, Canons, Chancellors, &c.—But there is another Church, you know, Sir, where these are Officers of great Influence, of high Importance and Rank. But whence came this pompous Train! From the apostolick Fountain at Jerusalem, or from the corrupted Source at Rome?

The Church of Christ never excommunicates, nor pretends to exercise its Discipline upon any but its own Members; For what have I to do, the Apostle says, *to judge them that are without? But the Church of England extends its ecclesiastical Authority over those who never belonged to it; and by a very extraordinary Act of Power, excommunicates such as never were of its Communion; that is, it casts such from, who never were in it. In common Life such a Thing would be reckoned marvellous indeed. Should I solemnly threaten, yea actually proceed to cast a Person out of my House, who never was in it, I should work as great a Miracle as was ever wrought in the Church of Rome: But Miracles of this kind, Sir, your Church, you know, sometimes works.

Again

* 1 Cor. v. 12.

Again ; the Rod with which the Church of Christ chastises its Delinquents is spiritual, not carnal ; but the Rod of the Church of England is carnal, not spiritual. By the Constitution of the former, the excommunicated Member is only to be deprived of spiritual Privileges, such as Fellowship in Prayer, Singing, Sacraments, &c. As for this civil Property and Rights, it meddles not with these ; for CHRIST'S Kingdom is not of this World ; but by the Constitution of the latter, the excommunicated Member is delivered over to the civil Arm, to humble and chastise him ; he is disabled from asserting his natural Rights, from being a Witness, from bringing Actions at Law, and if he does not submit in forty Days, a Writ shall issue forth to imprison him. —

In the Church of Jesus Christ, those who are entrusted with ecclesiastical Discipline are solemnly charged before GOD, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect Angels, to be no Respecters of Persons, to do nothing by Partiality, and not to prefer one before another* : Neither the Gold Ring nor the gay Cloathing†, nor pecuniary Gifts, are to have any Influence upon their ecclesiastical Proceedings ; but the Poor are to receive the same Measure with the Rich. But is it thus, Sir, in the Church of England ? May not a grievous Sinner, according to her Constitution, be suffered to commute ? to have Pardon for Money, and to screen himself by a round Fee from the Stroke of the Church's Rod ? Yea, when he is going to be delivered, or actually is delivered, into the Hands of the Devil, and Satan has him in his Keeping, will not an handsome Sum presently pluck him thence, and restore him to the Church's soft and indulgent Bosom again ? — You remember, Sir, the Heathen Satyrift, Dicite Pontifices, in Sacris quid facit Aurum.

————— At vos

Perfius Sat. II.

And you know what was said, upon a like Occasion,

C 2

on,

* 1 Tim. v. 21.

† James ii. 2, 3.

on, by a much greater than he—*Thy Money perish with thee; because thou hast thought that the Gift of God (Pardon and Absolution) may be purchased with Money, thou hast neither Part nor Lot in this Matter.

Some of the most sacred Acts of spiritual Jurisdiction, its solemn Curses and Excommunications, are exercised in the Church of England, by unconsecrated and meer Laymen. These hold the Keys, open or shut, cast out or admit to it, according to their sole Pleasure. The Chancellors, Officials, Surrogates—who administer the Jurisdiction of spiritual Courts, and determine the most important spiritual Matters, such as delivering Men to the Devil, &c. frequently are, and by express Provision of Law, always may be Laymen. And truly, Sir, I greatly pity you Gentlemen of the Clergy, that some of the most tremendous and solemn Parts of your sacred Office, such as Excommunications, Absolutions, &c. you are forced to perform, not according to, but sometimes, perhaps, directly against your own Judgments, as you are authoritatively directed and commanded by these Lay-persons. Forced, I say, to do it, notwithstanding what you urge about your own Concurrence; for if you refuse to concur, you are immediately liable to Suspension ab officio & beneficio; and if you continue obstinate, to be excommunicated your ownelves †.

The Church of JESUS CHRIST never owed its Support (it scorned to owe its Propagation and Support) to the Powers, Preferments and Riches of this World

* Acts viii. 20, 21.

† There is one Thing, says Bishop Burnet, yet wanting to compleat the Reformation of the Church; which is to restore primitive Discipline against scandalous Persons, the establishing the Government of the Church in Ecclesiastical Hands, and taking it out of Lay-Hands, which have so long prophaned it; and have exposed the Authority of the Church and the Censures of it, chiefly Excommunication, to the Contempt of the Nation; so that the dreadfullest of all Censures, is now become the most scorned and despised.—Hist. Reform. Abridg. Pag. 367.

World; 'twas its Glory, that it made its Way, and was established upon Earth, not only without, but in direct Opposition to them: It commands its Ministers not to STRIVE, but to be gentle to all Men; in Meekness, instructing those who gainsay—(2 Tim. ii. 24, 25.) But the Church of England, conscious of its Weakness, props itself on every Side with civil Dignities and Emoluments; calls in the Powers and Riches of this World to its Support and Defence; intrenches itself deep under Shelter of penal Laws, and from thence thunders out its Excommunications, and Threats of Fines and Imprisonments, upon any who shall dare to write or speak any thing derogatory to its Ceremonies and Forms of Worship, or its Articles of Faith*.

There is one Difficulty more, Sir, which I have often revolved, but could never possibly get over; it seems to hang as a dead and insuperable Weight upon the Frame of your Church; if you can handsomely remove it, you will merit Lambeth for a Reward.

The Church of England and the Church of Christ seem to be two Societies, absolutely distinct, and of a quite different Constitution, as they have two different HEADS, or FOUNTAINS of Power, whence all Authority, Jurisdiction, and Ministrations in the two Churches severally spring. In the Church of Jesus

* The IV, V, VIth Canons solemnly denounce—“ That whoever shall affirm that the Form of God's Worship contained in the Common-prayer, hath any Thing in it repugnant to the Word of God—or that any of the XXXIX Articles are in any Part erroneous, or such as may not with a good Conscience be subscribed, let him be EXCOMMUNICATED ipso facto, and not be restored until he repent and publickly revoke his wicked Errors.”

And by the Act of Uniformity, it is enacted—“ That if any one shall declare, or speak any Thing in the Derogation or depraving of the Book of Common-prayer, he shall, for the first Offence, suffer Imprisonment one whole Year, without Bail or Mainprize; and for the second Offence shall be imprisoned during his Life.”

Jesus Christ, HIMSELF is supreme Head, the only Law-giver and Sovereign: *To us there is but ONE Lord. ONE is your Master, even CHRIST †. Gave him to be HEAD over all Things to the Church ‡. ALL POWER is given to ME in Heaven and in Earth, goye therefore teach all Nations §. CHRIST is the ONLY Fountain of Influence, Jurisdiction, and Power in his Church, by Commission from whom alone all its Officers act.

But in the Church of England, you well know, Sir, the King or Queen is SUPREME HEAD, “vested with all Power to exercise all Manner of Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction, and Archbishops, Bishops, Archdeacons, and other Ecclesiastical Persons, have no Manner of Jurisdiction ecclesiastical, but by and under the KING’s Majesty, who hath full Power and Authority to hear and determine all Manner of Causes ecclesiastical, and to reform, and correct all Vice, Sin, Errors, Heresies, Enormities, Abuses whatsoever, which by any Manner of spiritual Authority or Jurisdiction ought, or may be lawfully reformed*.”——

At the first Establishment of this Church under Hen. VIII. and Edw. VI. all the Bishops took out Commissions from the CROWN, for the exercising of their spiritual Jurisdiction in these Kingdoms, during the King’s Pleasure only; “and in their Commissions acknowledge all sort of Jurisdiction, as well ecclesiastical as civil, to have flowed originally from the REGAL Power, as from a supreme Head, and a Fountain and Spring of all Magistracy within his own Kingdom †.”

Yea, even the Power of Ordination itself, which is reckoned a Peculiar of the episcopal Office, the first Re-

* 1 Cor. viii. 6.

† Matt. xxiii. 8.

‡ Ephes. i. 22.

§ Matt. xxviii. 18, 19.

* 26 Hen. VIII. Cap. i. 37 Hen. VIII. Cap. xvii. 1 Eliz.

Cap. i.

† Burnet’s Hist. Reform. Part II. Col. p. 91.

Reformers and Founders of this Church derived from the KING, and exercised only as by Authority from him, and during his Pleasure. “ Thus Cranmer Arch-bishop of Canterbury, Bonner Bishop of London, &c. took out Commissions from the Crown, importing, that because the Vicegerent (Cromwel, a Lay-person) could not personally attend the charge in all Parts of the Kingdom, the KING authorises the Bishop in his (the King's) Stead, to ordain, within his Diocese, such as he judged worthy of holy Orders; to collate to Benefices; to give Institution; and to execute all other Parts of the Episcopal Authority; and this during the King's Pleasure only*.”

In consequence of this SUPREMACY, the KING or QUEEN of this Church hath Power to excommunicate from, or to re-admit into it, independent of, yea, in direct Opposition to, all its Bishops and Clergy. The KING or QUEEN, revoke, if they please, any spiritual Censures of the Bishops or Arch-bishops; yet can suspend, deprive, or even excommunicate, themselves or can, by their Proclamation only, without the least Confession, Humiliation, or Satisfaction for their Offence, pardon and restore excommunicated Persons, the vilest Offenders, to the Church's Bosom again †.

Yea, further; they have Power to forbid all Preaching for a Time; as did K. Hen. VIII. K. Edw. VI. Q. Mary, Q. Eliz.— to limit, instruct, and prescribe to the Clergy what they shall, and what they shall not preach; as did Q. Eliz. K. James I. K. Charles I. K. William, &c.—Finally, to the King or Queen ONLY does it pertain to declare what is HERESY, and authoritatively to pronounce what Doc- trines

* Vid. Examination of the Codex Juris, &c. Pag. 32, 33.

† A Parson was deprived for Adultery; afterwards a general Pardon came, which pardoned the Adultery. It was adjudged that the Parson was ipso facto, restored to his Benefice. Coke 6 Rep. 13-trines and Tenets are, and what are not, to be censured as such: Nor have all the Bishops and Clergy, assembled in Convocation, the least Authority to censure any Tenet as heretical, if the PRINCE ON the Throne refuse his Consent.

Now here, Sir, I am pressed with an insuperable Difficulty how to reconcile this Constitution of the Church of England with the Constitution of the Church of Christ. Are they not most indisputably two different Societies, subject to two different, sometimes opposite, Authorities, animated and governed by two different Heads? In CHRIST'S Church, HIMSELF is the only Sovereign and Head; HE only hath Power to decree Ceremonies and Rites, to fix Terms of Communion and Authority in Points of Faith: Nor hath any earthly Prince Power to make Laws in his Kingdom, which shall bind the Consciences of his Subjects; or sovereignly to dictate to his Servants and Ministers what they shall believe, and what they shall preach. Yea, his Subjects are expressly commanded and charged to receive nothing as Doctrines or Parts of Religion, which are only Commandments of Men *. But in the Church of England there is ANOTHER Sovereign, Law-giver, SUPREME HEAD besides JESUS CHRIST; an Authority which commands Things which CHRIST never commanded, which teaches Doctrines HE never taught, which enjoins Terms of Communion, and Rites of religious Worship, which CHRIST never enjoined.—What now can I judge, Sir! What do you yourself judge! but that the two Churches are two distinct and quite different Societies (for in one and the same Society, surely there cannot be two Supreme Heads) that they are framed after different Models, consist of different Members, are governed by different Officers, Statutes, and Laws.—Consequently, my SEPARATION OF DISSENT from the one

* Matt. xv. 9.

one, does, by no Means infer my SEPARATION from the other. Yea, what am I to judge but that by the Allegiance I owe to CHRIST my ONLY supreme Head and King in spiritual Matters, I am obliged to enter my Protest against the Pretensions and Claims of any OTHER supreme Head. For, can a Man serve two Masters? Can he be subject at the same Time to TWO supreme Heads? Can he be faithful to CHRIST, the only KING in the Church, and yet acknowledge ANOTHER King, as a Fountain of all Magistracy and Power therein? Surely he cannot.

Permit me, good Sir, to exercise your Patience a Moment or two more upon this remarkable Contrast, and I will dismiss the ungrateful Subject.

By the Constitution of the Church of Christ, 'tis expressly ordered and declared—That *the WOMAN shall not be suffered publicly to teach, nor to usurp Authority over the Man. But by the Constitution of the Church of England, the WOMAN is permitted publicly to teach, yea, to limit and controul in spiritual and religious Matters, and authoritatively to INSTRUCT all the Bishops, and Clergy, and Men in the Land. Thus did Queen Elizabeth, thus did Queen Anne, and thus hath every Queen Authority to do that fits upon our Throne; Authority to prescribe and dictate to all, both Ministers and People, what the one are to preach, and the other to receive. And was it not, Sir, a very comely and edifying Sight, to behold the two Houses of Convocation waiting upon the good Q. (Anne†) in the Case of Whiston's Books upon the Trinity, to be instructed by her Majesty whether they were to be condemned as heretical, or not? that venerable and learned Body had solemnly decreed them to be dangerous and heretical; but this their Censure was of no Force, till they had laid it before the Queen, to have her Judgment upon the Point. Upon her Majesty's Determination

D

* 1 Tim. ii. 12.

† Anno 1711.

mination it entirely depended, whether Whiston's Tenets were to be rejected by the Church of England as erroneous, or not. Her Majesty, in this Case, was of a different Opinion from her two Houses of Convocation; she thought not fit to censure the Books: So her single Opinion, strange to relate! her single Opinion carries it against that of her Bishops and Clergy. She over-rules and sets aside all their Proceedings, restrains and counteracts them in one of the very chief of their pastoral Functions, the guarding against Errors and Heresies in the Church.

Behold here, Sir, A WOMAN exercising spiritual ecclesiastical Authority over the Man! Yea, behold the Representative of the Clergy of the whole Land, a most learned, grave and venerable Body, waiting upon A WOMAN to learn from her Mouth, what the Church is to believe, and what to reject, as to this great Mystery of Faith: Upon A WOMAN, who could be supposed to know as little of this Matter as of the Motion of the Stars; yet, by her sole Determination, (I repeat it with Astonishment, and you hear it, no doubt, with Perplexity and Grief) your Church was uncontrollably and authoritatively directed in this deep and mysterious Point.

I ask you, Sir, in the Name of God, is this the Constitution and Frame of the Church of CHRIST? Is it not a Constitution of a quite different Nature; a Society not DIVINELY, but humanly instituted; and therefore, by your own Definition, NOT the Church of Christ? And may not, think you, a Person separate peaceably from it, without any the least Danger of thereby separating himself from the one scriptural, apostolic, and catholic Church?

When you strip the Pope of his SUPREMACY, and gave it to our Princes, you should have taken Care not to have left his INFALLIBILITY behind. An infallible Head and Director of the Church, be it Woman or Man, be it an He or a She-bishop, is a Thing plausible enough, and carries a good Face:

But

But to lodge the absolute Direction of the Conscience, the Faith and the Discipline of the Church with a fallible Head! to give a Prince, yea a LADY bred up in all the Softnesses and Diversions of a Court, an uncontrollable Dominion over the religious Conduct both of Clergy and Laity, authoritatively to direct what those are to preach, and what thes to believe as the Doctrine of CHRIST! to make HER the sole Judge in all Controversies which shall arise upon any the most mysterious and inexplicable Points; so that all the Priests are to ask knowledge at HER Lips; and whatever SHE determines is to be received by the Church as Christian Verity and Truth! This is such a Constitution as quite shocks the Understanding, and comes not a whit behind Transubstantiation itself. Hence, doubtless, Sir, the Triumphs of Popish Priests over you! Hence their Inroads upon you, and the thousands they are continually carrying captive from your Tents! And hence the sad Increase, and the Insults of Deists, who taking the Scheme of the Church of England to be that of the Christian Church, are authorised by common Sense, they think, not only to reject, but to treat it with Contempt!

And now, Sir, having so largely discussed this Point, I presume you are convinced, “That this same peaceable Separation of ours is not, what you call it, a Piece of arrant Nonsense and Contradiction;” and that you will cease to be so displeas’d at our treating your grave Lectures upon the heinous Sin of SCHISM, as solemn Cant and Ecclesiastical Scare-crows. You see, likewise, how extremely unapt, and quite wide of the Point, are the two Instances you bring to illustrate our Case, viz “of a Wife separating from the Bed and Board of her Husband—Or of two or three Counties disliking a monarchical Government, and throwing off their Allegiance to the King*.” Has the Church of England, Sir, any such Power or Authority over us Dissenters, as the Husband has over the Wife? Pray who gave it that Authority? Have we ever plighted it our Troth? or bound ourselves by a solemn Vow to honour and obey it to the End of our Life?—Or have we ever sworn Allegiance to it; or do we owe it any Homage; as the Counties have sworn and do owe to the King?

Amongst the peculiar Excellencies of your Church you reckon “The Use of the three Creeds in publick “Worship; as one of the most effectual and powerful Means both for teaching and preserving the “Christian Faith entire and uncorrupt, which we “have not in our Churches*.” The Creed called the Apostles, we have in constant use among us: And as for the two other, especially the Athanasian, we are content you should have the Honour of its being peculiar to yourselves. But methinks, Sir, it should a little check your Triumph over us here, to remember, that some of the wisest and most illustrious Members of your Church, both Clergy and Laity, account the use of this Creed your great Sin and Reproach, and with A. B. Tillotson, wish you were well rid of it.

What are you, Sir, amongst the weak and uncharitable Minds who damn to the Pit of Hell all who cannot receive all the dark and mysterious Points set forth in that Creed! Do you in your Conscience think that there is NO SALVATION for those who do not faithfully believe the several Articles it contains; and that whosoever doth not keep whole and undefiled the Faith therein deliver'd, he shall WITHOUT DOUBT perish everlastingly? What! the many great and worthy Persons, bright Ornaments of your own Church, who instead of keeping it whole and undefiled, have openly disavow'd, preach'd and wrote against it, dying in this Disbelief, have they with- out peradventure everlastingly perish'd? Alas! for the good Doctors Clarke, Whitby, Burnet, &c.—For the illustrious Sir Isaac, &c. &c. Yea, alas! for the whole Greek Church who have strenuously rejected the Article of the Filioq;—They are gone down, it seems, to the infernal Pit! And notwithstanding their great Knowledge and Piety in this World, are, for not believing the Athanasian Creed, sunk into EVERLASTING DARKNESS and DAMNATION in the other! Do you wonder Deism prevails, if this be genuine Christianity?
out

'Tis a Fact, I presume, indisputable, that a great Part of the most learned and virtuous of your Clergy are departed from the Athanasian Doctrine; and that those of them who are not, do by no means think its Belief absolutely and indispensably necessary to Salvation. What now must a Deist think, when he hears both the one and the other thirteen Times a Year, most solemnly declaring in the Presence of Almighty God, and as Instructors of his People, that whoever will be saved, it is before all Things necessary that he hold the ATHANASIAN Faith; and most peremptorily denouncing EVERLASTING DAMNATION upon those who do not believe it; that is, many of them denouncing DAMNATION upon themselves!—Is this your “powerful and effectual Means of preserving the Christian Faith?”—I should think it one of the most effectual to subvert and destroy it. It has no doubt, been in fact a great stumbling-block in the Way of Infidels and Jews, and harden'd them in their Opposition to the Religion of CHRIST, when they see it dooming to undoubted and everlasting Perdition all who do not heartily and sincerely believe (for that must be meant by faithfully) these deep and mysterious Points, which we acknowledge to be inexplicable, and far above the powers of Reason to comprehend.

“ But the Dissenting Ministers, you tell me, who “ have complied with the Terms of the Toleration, “ have

“ have solemnly subscribed the VIIIth Article which “ approves the Athanasian Creed *.” Let Dr. Calamy answer †. “ The dissenting Ministers about the “ City, in a Body, gave in their Sense of the Ar“ ticles when they subscribed them, and among the “ rest of this VIIIth Article, in the Gloss upon “ which, the damnatory Clauses of this Creed are “ expressly excluded the Subscription.—And there “ was something of the same Nature done in several “ Parts of the Country.” Now the Fathers and Predecessors of the present dissenting Ministers having made this public Protest and Declaration at their Subscription, and the Legislature having accepted, or at least not rejected it; under the Favour of this Protest their Successors may be supposed now to subscribe with the same Disapprobation of the damnatory Clause. If it were not to be thus taken, there is, I hope, not a Minister among us but would publicly disown and renounce his Subscription.

I should now proceed, Sir, to the Examination of other Parts of your Letters, to shew the great Insufficiency of your Arguments and Objections; and to observe that, in many Instances, you have extremely mistaken and given quite wrong Representations of our religious Principles and Practice.—But I relieve your patience at present.—If this Province be undertaken by no other Hand, you may in some Time, by divine Permission, expect to hear farther from,

Sir,

Your very humble Servant,

A DISSENTER.

* Appendix, Page 78.

† Life of Mr. Baxter, Page 236.

Diffenting Gentleman's SECOND LETTER

To the R E V E R E N D

Mr. W H I T E,

In A N S W E R to his

T H R E E L E T T E R S .

I N W H I C H

HIS V A R I O U S M I S R E P R E S E N T A T I O N S of the D I S S E N T E R S are corrected,

HIS O B J E C T I O N S against them answer'd,

And the G R O U N D S of their D I S S E N T are further represented, and proved solid and just.

To which is added a

P O S T S C R I P T ,

C O N T A I N I N G

R E M A R K S on Mr. W H I T E's Defence of his Three Letters, &c.

In vain do they worship me, teaching for Doctrines the Commandments of Men, Mark vii. 7.

D U B L I N :

Printed by S. P O W E L L and S O N S , in Dame-street.

M D C C L X V .

T H E

DISSENTING GENTLEMAN'S

SECOND LETTER, &c.

S I R,

T I S with some Regret I proceed in Vindication of my Dissent, as it will constrain me to say some things, which may seem to be disrespectful to established Forms of Worship. But Self-Defence is a Principle which generous Minds allow strongly to operate. I highly reverence and esteem, and most heartily rejoice in the great Number of illustrious and excellent Persons, both Clergy and Laity, which the Church of England can boast. But yet, as the present establish'd Forms were drawn up when this Kingdom just emerg'd out of Papish Darkness; and as in Drawing them up, especial Regard was had to the then Weakness of the People, who could not be all at once entirely brought off from the old Ceremonies and Forms: As there are several Parts of our Liturgy, and ecclesiastical Constitution, which a great Number, I apprehend, if not all our Bishops and Cergy, wish to see alter'd: And finally, as the Alteration of those, and the Removing a few Things, acknowledged in themselves to be mutable and indifferent, would heal the unhappy Breach, and restore the chief Part of the Dissenters to the Church—

E

Upon

Upon all these Accounts, I may be allow'd I hope, with Freedom to make my Defence against your vigorous Attacks; and to represent my Objections, and the Grounds of my Dissent, in as strong a Light as I am able.

The Part of a public Monitor, and of my Instructor in this Affair, which you have voluntarily taken on you, will allow me, as I go along, to put you in mind of a great Objection or two which Dissenters are wont to urge, but which you have quite overlook'd, and to intreat you will direct me How to get over them.

“ We Letter-Writers, say you, have a Privilege of setting down our Thoughts as they offer themselves, without scrupulously adhering to strict and close Method*.” This Privilege you have indeed with great Freedom taken: I shall therefore be indulg'd the same.

To begin then with your Defence of SPONSORS in Baptism. It is the Opinion of the Dissenters, that when an Infant is brought to be enter'd by Baptism into the Family or Church of God, and a solemn Vow and Engagement is to be made before the Church for its religious Education; that the PARENTS, whose Child it is, and to whom both GOD and Nature have committed its Education; that those, I say, are the proper Persons to stand forth, and take upon them this great and important Trust; and to bind themselves by a solemn Vow faithfully to discharge it. Now our Objections to the Order and Practice of your Church are,

I. That in a very arbitrary and strange Manner, without the least Shadow of Authority from Reason or Scripture, or the ancient Practice of the Church, you actually SET ASIDE the Parents in this Solemnity; and FORBID them to stand forth, and take upon them this great Charge to which GOD hath called them.

* Let. III. p. 60.

them. For your XXIXth Canon expressly commands, That no Parent shall be urged to be present at his Child's Baptism, nor BE ADMITTED to answer as Godfather for HIS OWN Child. And,

2. That you require other Persons to appear in the Parents Stead, and to take upon them this important Trust, and most solemnly to promise before God, and the Church, the Performance of that, which few of them ever do, or ever intended to perform; or, perhaps, are ever capable of performing. What now, Sir, is your Answer to these Objections of the Dissenters? Why, truly, the first, which is indeed the chief, you very prudently slip over; and attempt not the least Apology for setting aside the Parents; so that you leave us still to consider this, as a Thing utterly indefensible, unlawful, absurd, and which will admit of no Excuse.

But as to the second, viz. the solemn Vow and Obligation under which the Sureties lay themselves, to this you largely speak; and tell me—"It is a gross Mistake to imagine, that the Promises there made by the Sureties concerning the future Faith and Practice of the Child, are made in their own Name: As if they engaged thereby, that, when it is grown up, it shall actually believe all the Articles of the Christian Faith, shall renounce the Devil and all his Works, &c. Whereas the Church considers these Answers, as the CHILD's Answers, only made by its Representatives: they contain ITS Part of the baptismal Covenant or Contract; which, because, by Reason of its tender Age, it cannot itself utter, is utter'd by its Sureties—*." But if this be, Sir, a gross Mistake, the most celebrated of your own Writers have led us into it. "The Sureties in Baptism, says your learned Dr. Nichols †, religiously

* Lett. I. p. 31.
Part II. p. 273.

† Nichols's Defence, &c.

“ ENGAGE for the Faith of the baptised; that they “ SHALL sincerely believe all that is revealed in the “ Gospel, and SHALL direct the subsequent Actions “ of their Lives by the Laws of Christ.” A Cloud of Witnesses, I believe, can be brought from the Doctors of your Church, whose Judgment is the same. But no wonder the Learned differ in so mysterious a Point.—You go on and affirm—“ That “ the Sureties are, by the Church, considered in “ this affair, no otherwise than as the Mouth of the “ Child.—You see, Sir, here are NO Promises NOR “ Engagements which ANY besides the CHILD are “ supposed to enter into, and to be bound by.
 “ Read over the Office of public Baptism, you “ will not find, I assure you ANY Promises or Sti“ pulations at all made by the Sureties in their own “ Name: I mean any that are explicit*.” But this Account of the Matter appears to me extremely dark; and rather greatly to strengthen than remove our Objections. For,

FIRST, It represents the Church as acting a very extraordinary and unaccountable Part; viz. as receiving a Child to Baptism, on Account of ITS own Faith, and ITS OWN Promise, utter'd by its Sureties; when at the same time, it knows, the Child neither does nor can, either promise or believe any more than the Font at which 'tis baptized. It considers the Child as ACTUALLY covenanting and contracting, yea, as the ONLY covenanting and con- tracting Party in this Solemnity, when it knows it to be absolutely incapable of either. It represents the Church as very solemnly asking THE CHILD—Dost thou believe? Wilt thou be baptized? Dost thou forsake the Devil? &c. When it is fully persuaded of its utter Inability to believe, or resolve, or will any Thing about it. Now when a Deist stands by, and sees a learned and grave Divine thus asking,
 and

* Nichols's Defence, &c. Part II. p. 31, 32.

and talking, and covenanting with a Child, can you wonder, Sir, if he smiles, and merrily treats the whole Transaction as a Jest?

“ The Answers, you say, are considered by the Church as ONLY the Answers of THE CHILD, and contain ITS Part of the baptismal Covenant; which because, by Reason of its tender Age, it cannot itself utter, is to be uttered by its Sureties:” That is to say, the Child thinks, but cannot speak: It really covenants, contracts, promises, but not being able by Reason of its tender Age to utter its good intentions, these Sureties are its Mouth to utter them for it. But why, good Sir, its Mouth to speak for it; and not its Understanding also to think for it; its Will to promise for it; and indeed its Soul, and its very self, to covenant and contract for it? Is not the Child, by Reason of its tender Age, as absolutely incapable of Covenanting, as 'tis of Uttering; of Contracting, as 'tis of Speaking? If the Surety therefore does one of these good Offices for it, he undoubtedly does the other also. But,

SECONDLY, If there be, as you say, NO Promises NOR Engagements which ANY besides THE CHILD are supposed to enter into, or to be bound by, the Consequence is extremely plain, that then there are no Promises nor Engagements entered into at all, for its religious Education. For the Child surely, does not engage for its own religious Education. If the Sureties therefore do not enter into any Promise of this Kind, it evidently follows, that there are no express Engagements entered into by any for the Child's Education. And thus, behold, your boasted double Security, turns out at last no Security at all! But, a Surety not bound! a Sponsor promising nothing! a Security unengaged! This is Language, Sir, in the mercantile, whatever it may be in the scholastic Way of Life, absolutely unintelligible. And to retort your own Instance; my Lawyer I should should think a very wrong-headed Man, who should pretend to lend my Money upon a double Security, and make a Merit of so doing, when at the same Time he confessed, there were no Promises, NOR Engagements, by which either of the Securities were explicitly bound.

To be plain, Sir; as for this Business of a Child's believing, promising, covenanting by Representative or Proxy, I cannot but think a Gentleman of your Penetration, will easily perceive it to be a Thing absolutely inexplicable, impossible, and absurd; a Thing utterly repugnant to Reason and common Sense, and without the least Shadow of Foundation in the Christian Religion. For if by the Constitution of the Gospel Covenant, a Child may believe by Proxy, repent by Proxy, vow, promise, and contract by Proxy. he may also, no doubt, be saved by Proxy, or be damned by Proxy. But, into what a Jest will this turn the Religion of Christ?

As for the Antiquity of this Practice, Sponsors in Baptism, you have the good Sense and Ingenuity not to pretend it was ever known, or so much as thought of, in the primitive apostolic Church. Tertullian, who lived about Anno Dom. 200, is the first, I apprehend, of all Christian Writers, that makes any mention of them. Nor does it at all follow from what he says, that these Sponsors were any other than the Parents of the Child. Justin Martyr who wrote fifty Years before him, when he particularly describes the Method and Form of Christian Baptism in his Days, says not a single Word of any such Persons*.

But we learn from St. Austin, about the Year 390 (one of the earliest of Christian Writers, in which any mention of them is found) wh n, and upon what Occasion, these Sponsors were admitted.

“ A

* Vid. Lord King's Enquiry, Part II. p. 67, 68.

“ A great many, says he, are offered to Baptism,
 “ not by their Parents, but by others; as Infant- “ Slaves are sometimes offered by their Masters.
 “ And sometimes when the Parents are dead, the “ Infants are baptized, being offered by any, who “ are afraid to shew this Compassion to them.
 “ And sometimes Infants whom their Parents have “ cruelly exposed, to be brought up by those who “ light on them, are now and then taken up by “ the holy Virgins, and offered to Baptism by “ them who have no children of their own, nor “ design to have any.”——These are * Austin’s words. Observe now Dr. Wall’s † ingenuous Confession on them (and the good Doctor you know, Sir, was never partial in Favour of Dissenters, but a severe Remarker on them :) “ Here we see the ORDINARY Use then was for PARENTS to answer “ for the Children: But yet that this was not counted
 “ SO NECESSARY, as that a Child could not be bap“ tized without it.”

Hence then it is plain, that Parents never were set aside, when they were capable and willing to offer their children; and that only in Cases of Pa- rents Incapacity, were Sponsors admitted: And in all such Cases, Dissenters also use them. Why now,
 I beseech you Sir, in Defiance of this acknowledged Usage and Practice of the ancient Church, as well as of common Sense, does your Church severely decree, “ That NO PARENT shall be urged to be PRE-“ SENT at his Child’s Baptism, nor be ADMITTED “ to answer as Godfather for it?” What! would the Parents standing forth together with the Sponsors, and promising jointly with them, at all detract from this Solemnity, or render it less effectual, to secure the Child’s religious Education? It is most evident it would not, and that your Practice in this Point is undoubtedly an Innovation; an unreasonable,

* Epist. ad Bonifac.

† Hist. Inf. Bap. Vol. I. p. 196.

reasonable, absurd, and arbitrary Deviation from the Usage and Institution of the primitive apostolic Church; an Absurdity very generally acknowledged, and complained of, by the Members of your Church, though not attempted to be reformed.

“ But by this Institution of Godfathers and Godmothers, you say, your Church affords its Members some great and special Advantages towards growing in Grace and Goodness, above what are found amongst us:” and you tell me, “ you lay a great stress upon it, as a wise, an useful, and necessary Institution *.” — But did you not consider, Sir, that you were here highly reflecting upon the Wisdom and Goodness, not of the holy Apostles only, but of your great Law giver JESUS CHRIST? These SPECIAL ADVANTAGES for Growth in Goodness and Holiness, how came it to pass that the great Founders of the Christian Church never happened to think of them? You do not pretend it to be an Institution of JESUS CHRIST’S, and yet are not afraid to call it a wise, and useful, and even a NECESSARY Institution. Strange! that CHRIST, in whom were hid all the Treasures of Wisdom, and who loved the Church so as to lay down his Life for it, should not know this Institution to be so especially advantageous to the growing Goodness of his Church; or that knowing it to be so, he should unkindly omit it; and that we are obliged to the superior Wisdom and Goodness of after Ages for supplying this Defect. It has usually been thought, that the Apostles declared the WHOLE Counsel of GOD; and kept back NOTHING from the Church which was profitable to it; and that the Scriptures are a perfect Rule; but this, it seems, is not true; you have discover’d it, Sir, to be not true: For here you shew us a wise, an useful, and a NECESSARY Institution, which they really kept back: and which

* Let. I. p. 58, 59.

which had it not been for the Sagacity of their Successors, the Church had been so unhappy as never to have known. Into what Mazes Men plunge themselves, when they deviate from the Truth!

Of the same Temerity you are guilty, Sir, when treating of another Institution of your Church, CONFIRMATION, and glorying over us in its Want. “Another Administration of our Church is Confirmation; this you know you have already discarded, and surely you will be obliged to acknowledge you have lost thereby a very great Advantage—“greatly conducive to future Holiness of Life*.” Yes, Sir, this we will freely own, when you also will acknowledge, that you are wiser than the Apostles; and can better judge what is conducive to Holiness, and for the Advantage of the Church, than its great Lawgiver JESUS CHRIST. Had this Ceremony of Confirmation been really of great Advantage, and conducive to Holiness, it is very strange that neither CHRIST, nor his Apostles, should have ordained it. That it is an apostolic Institution, you have not so much as attempted to prove: unless Calvin’s Conjecture must be admitted as Proof.

The Text usually urg’d for it, (Acts viii. 14.) I presume you are fully sensible has no Weight. Peter’s and John’s going down to Samaria to pray, and lay their Hands on those whom Philip had baptised, is, surely, no Precedent, no Direction, no Institution nor Command for our Bishops to do likewise. For the End for which the Apostles did it, ’tis expressly said (ver. 15, 17.) was, that they might receive the HOLY GHOST, i. e. its miraculous Gifts; and they pray’d for them and laid their Hands on them, and they received the HOLY GHOST. That it was his miraculous Gifts (such as prophesying, speaking with Tongues, &c.) to form them into a Church, cannot be disputed; because, they were something visible,

F

and

* Let. I. p. 61.

and obvious to Sense, something which struck the Wonder and Ambition of the wicked Sorcerer; for 'tis said, when SIMON SAW that thro' laying on of the Apostles Hands the HOLY GHOST was given, he offered them Money.—Besides, as Dr. Whitby justly observes, if they laid not their Hands on all who were baptised, it makes nothing for Confirmation; if they did, then Simon Magus also was confirmed, and received the Holy Ghost: which you will by no means admit.

It was to give them to the newly baptised Converts at Samaria the miraculous Gifts of the Holy Ghost, that Peter and John went and laid their Hands on them. But do our Bishops, Sir, pretend that, by their Praying and Laying on of Hands, the HOLY GHOST is given? Do they not disclaim any Powers of this kind? Seeing then they make no Pretensions to the End, why with such Solemnity do we see them practising the Means? Might they not as well stretch themselves upon the dead Body of a Child, in Imitation of Elisba; or, make Ointment with Spittle for the Cure of the Blind, in Imitation of our Saviour; or, anoint the Sick with Oil, in Imitation of the apostolic Elders; as pray and lay their Hands on those who were baptised, in Imitation of Peter and John, who did this to the Samaritan Converts ONLY, that they might receive the miraculous Gifts and Powers of the Holy Ghost?

“ As for the open and solemn Renewal of the “ baptismal Covenant before God and many Wit“ nesses, which, you say, baptised Persons ought to “ make, when they come to Years of Discretion :”
 this they make with us, in the other Sacrament of the Supper; which Christ himself has appointed, and which is the only Institution his Wisdom has thought fit to appoint, for this Purpose.

But if you will suffer me to speak freely, Sir, this Ceremony of Confirmation, as 'tis at present appointed and and practised in your Church, to me appears so far from being greatly conducive to Holiness of Life, as that I wish it may not be conducive to a quite different, and a very noxious Effect: even to cherish in Mens Minds a presumptuous and false Hope; and to delude them into wrong Notions as to the Safety of their State, and as to the Terms of Acceptance and Favour with God.

By the Order of your Common Prayer, “ ALL “ Persons baptised, when they come to competent Years,
 “ and are able to say the Lord’s Prayer, Creed, and “ Ten Commandments, and the Answers of the short “ Catechism, are to be brought to CONFIRMATION.”
 The Bishop having asked, “ Whether they renew the “ solemn Promise and Vow which was made in their “ Names in Baptism.” &c. Upon their Answer we do, proceeds hereupon to declare in the most solemn manner, even in an Address to God himself, that He has vouchsafed to regenerate these his Servants by Water and the HOLY GHOST (note: not by Water only, but also by the HOLY GHOST) and to give them the Forgiveness of ALL THEIR SINS: and laying his Hand upon the Head of each particular Person, he CERTIFIES him by that Sign of God’s Favour and gracious Goodness towards him.

I pray you, Sir, in the Name of God, inform me, what Warrant has the Bishop to pronounce a Man’s Sins ALL forgiven, and himself regenerated by the HOLY GHOST, upon no other Grounds than his being able to say the short Catechism, and declaring that he stands by his baptismal Engagements? Will you say that this is the Christian Doctrine concerning the Terms of Acceptance and Forgiveness with God?
 Are good Vows and Resolutions, declared in the Church, infallible or proper Proofs of a Regeneration by the Holy Ghost? Is a Man’s Professing that he repents, and Promising that he will live godly, that actual Repentance and Amendment of Life which alone can ensure the divine Pardon and Favour? Are there not Multitudes who call CHRIST their LORD, and publicly profess to stand by their baptismal Covenant, whom yet he will reject with Abhorrence at last? You will inform me then, Sir, how his Lordship, upon his meer Profession and Promise, presumes to declare to Almighty GOD, and to ASSURE the Person, that he is regenerated, forgiven, and without all Peradventure in a State of Favour with Heaven!

The Expressions, you must acknowledge, are couch'd in absolute and strong Terms: nor do I find that there is any Intimation, that their Forgiveness depends upon their Care to keep, and to live up to, their baptismal Engagements. No: but though their whole Life hath hitherto been scandalously corrupt, yet upon their being able to say the Lord's Prayer, &c. the Bishop solemnly pronounces a most absolute Pardon over them; appeals to Almighty GOD that he hath forgiven them all their Sins; and lest this should be too little to satisfy the doubting Sinner, and quash his upbraiding Conscience, he lays his Hand upon his Head, and CERTIFIES him by THAT SIGN of God's Favour and Goodness to him.

This Bishop, Sir, the Multitudes, who come to be confirm'd, are taught to consider as an Ambassador of CHRIST, a Successor of the Apostles, and a special Minister of GOD: when they hear then, this sacred Person, so solemnly declaring that they are fully justified, pardoned, and regenerated by the Holy Ghost, can you blame them if they believe it; and rest satisfied that their Souls are in a safe and happy State? And as full Remission of Sins, and the Favour of GOD, are to be had on such easy Terms; can you wonder, should you see thousands eagerly flocking from all Quarters to accept it? Or that Persons of very vile and profligate Characters should often thrust themselves in to partake of this Benefit;

Benefit; and be seen receiving upon their Knees episcopal Absolution, and solemn Assurances of GOD's Favour and Grace?

You know the Aptness of Mankind, Sir, to deceive themselves with false Hopes; and to substitute good Purposes, Professions, and Vows in the Place of real Repentance and Amendment of Life: and you know this, Sir, (and have no doubt often declared it from your Pulpit) to be one of the chief Hindrances of Mens becoming truly good. Now should your Office for Confirmation be found thus powerfully and directly tending to cherish these false Hopes; you must excuse me if I then should think it so far from CONDUCTING to Holiness of Life, as that in my Conscience I should believe it to be rather greatly OBSTRUCTIVE to it; and extremely delusive and injurious to the Souls of Men.

Let me further ask you, Sir, on this Head—Is it any Breach of Charity, to suppose that amongst the vast Crowds which present themselves on such Occasions, there are often many, whom GOD, who knows their Hearts, knows to be Persons of a corrupt and wicked Mind, and to be still under the Power and Tyranny of Sin? Can the good Bishop himself, in any Judgment of Charity suppose there are not some such amongst the thousands he confirms? Candidly tell me then, Sir, upon what grounds he absolutely, and without Reserve, declares to the ETERNAL GOD concerning them ALL, that he hath fully forgiven these his Servants, when GOD at that Time knows many of them not to be his Servants, and that he hath not at all forgiven them? Or, lays his Hand on each individual Person to assure him of GOD's Favour, and of his Regeneration by the HOLY GHOST; when, in Truth, some of those he thus assures are absolute and entire Strangers to the renewing Influences of GOD's Spirit, and fast bound in their Sins; To me, Sir, I assure you, this appears, I do not say a very shocking, but I must say a very unaccountable Solemnity; and should be glad to know how to reconcile it to the Reverence you owe to GOD; or to the Faithfulness and Charity due to the Souls of Men.
not

Near akin to this, but of a yet more obnoxious Nature, is another Office of your Common Prayer. The ABSOLUTION of the Sick. To this you know, Sir, Dissenters have always strongly objected, as too much resembling the solemn Tricks of the Church of Rome; by which they pretend to send Men to Heaven, without real Amendment and Holiness of Life. But this you very prudently pass over in perfect Silence: for what indeed could so ingenious an Advocate offer, on so extremely absurd and indefensible a Point?

Being come to the sick Person, (no Matter what or how wicked his former Life hath been) the Priest is directed, after some pious Exhortations, to examine, “Whether he believes the Articles of the Apostles Creed; and truly repent him of his Sins; and be in Charity with all the World: And to move him to make a special Confession of his Sins, if he feels his Conscience troubled with any weighty Matter.” After which Confession, the Priest is order’d to ABSOLVE him (if he humbly and heartily desire it) after this sort.

Our LORD JESUS CHRIST, who hath left Power to his Church to ABSOLVE all Sinners who truly repent and believe in him, of his great Mercy forgive thee thine Offences: And by the AUTHORITY committed to me, I ABSOLVE thee from ALL THY SINS, in the Name of the FATHER, and of the SON, and of the HOLY GHOST. Amen.

The Form is extremely solemn, Sir, and the Matter of the last Importance. You had need therefore be sure you go upon good Grounds, lest you be found to trifle with the Name of God, and in Things of everlasting Moment, and to acquit those whom he abhors. Permit me, Sir, in this great Name, and before the World, to demand of you,

1. What Church is it, and where is the Church found, to whom CHRIST has left this high Authority and Power? Is it the Church of England, the Church of Scotland, the Church of France, or the Church of Rome? Do you here mean by the Church, what your XIXth Article hath defined it, viz. The Congregation of the Faithful?—Or, do you understand it as in your XXth Article, where it is said to have Power to decree Rites, and Authority in Matters of Faith? If so, I have shewn in my former Letter, that the Church is no other than the King and Parliament of these Realms. The King, indeed, has Power to absolve all manner of Sinners, penitent or not penitent; and by a single Act of Grace, to vacate and set aside the Censures and Excommunications of all the Bishops, Archbishops, and Clergy of the Land, and to restore the Offender to the Church's Bosom again. To absolve, not in Foro Civili only, but in Foro Ecclesiæ; not in the State only, but also in the Church. But whether the Kings or Queens of England do this by Authority derived to them from CHRIST? Whether that Church of which THEY are declared the supreme Heads, be the Church to whom this high Power is given? And whether THEY, as Heads of it, have not this Power dwelling capitally, supremely, and principally in them; so as that, what THEY loose on Earth, is as certainly loosed in Heaven, as any Thing that is loosed by any inferior Members who officiate in the Church under them—These, Sir, are high Points, which without your Assistance, I shall not presume to settle. Be so good, Sir, as to let us know, WHAT CHURCH upon Earth it is, to whom CHRIST hath delegated this important AUTHORITY;

THORITY; and WHERE the Charter or Grant is found, by which he gave it the Commission? But

2. That CHRIST hath given, can give, no such AUTHORITY to fallible uninspired Men, I should think absolutely out of doubt. Because if he hath given Power to any AUTHORITATIVELY to absolve those who are truly penitent, he must also have given them Power TO KNOW who are truly penitent. Else 'tis a Power to do nothing, for till they know them to be truly penitent, (i. e. till they can search their Hearts) they cannot authoritatively absolve them: But if they cannot do it till then, they cannot do it at a'l. Besides,

3. If the Priest has really from CHRIST this Authority and Power, the Manner in which he is here ordered to apply it, is most certainly wrong. For upon the Sinner's confessing his Faults, and professing his Faith and sincere Repentance, the Priest is ordered most solemnly and authoritatively to absolve him. But are any Promises or Professions which a Sinner makes in that Distress, a proper Ground for such an absolute authoritative Absolution? Are not the most profligate, when Death is thought to approach, wont to feel their Conscience troubled with many weighty Matters, ready to confess their Sins, to express the deepest Remorse, and to vow Amendment if spared? But when the Danger is past, is there one of a Thousand that remembers his Vows, and that returns not to his Sins with as keen an Appetite as ever? Do not you Gentlemen of the Clergy, loudly complain of this, when you press to present Repentance, and warn us not to trust to the Sorrows of a sick Bed? but notwithstanding all this, when the sick Sinner sends for you, confesses his Sins, professes Repentance, and desires Absolution, you are directed and required with all possible Solemnity, even in the Name of the FATHER, SON, and HOLY GHOST, authoritatively to absolve him from ALL his Crimes, how many or great soever they have been, and to declare him fully forgiven. Strange! That you can presume in the Name of the sacred Trinity, to ASSURE a Man that he is absolved from all his Sins, when at the same Time you know yourselves NOT SURE that he is absolved! Yea, when the only Grounds of your doing it, are but the same Signs of Repentance which a thousand Sinners give, who are nevertheless held fast under the Power and Guilt of Sin! What would you call that Man, Sir, who in a Court of human Judicature, should most solemnly affirm, and declare in the Name of GOD, an important Fact to be done, which yet at the same Time he is not sure is done; or who should call Heaven to witness to the certainty of that, which he is not at all certain of? But is it less dangerous, or less reproachful, thus to trifle and collude in eternal Things than in temporal; in the Court of Almighty GOD, than in that of the King?

I cannot say, Sir, in what Light you view this Order of your Church, nor what Obedience you pay it, but am humbly of Opinion, that 'tis this straining the sacerdotal Character, which has sunk it into some Contempt; and that if it continues thus strained, lower, much lower, 'twill continue to sink. For when Men see you claiming from GOD, awful and high Powers, which they are sure GOD has never given you; and hear you with great Solemnity authoritatively absolving in the Name of the Holy Trinity, when at the same Time they know the Holy Trinity never gave you any Authority so to do, how natural is it for them to deride the priestly Character on which these Claims are founded, and to treat your other Offices with Ridicule and Disrespect?

And now, Sir, having presented you with some of the true Grounds of our dissent, many of which you have not at all, and the rest but slightly touched, in your three long Letters, I proceed to your Attempts to reflect back our own Pleas and Objections upon ourselves, and to prove us self-condemned.

Here you complain—"that you walk almost " without Light—that our Churches are so secret
 " in all their Ways, that there is scarce any know" ing what they are—that you must grope and feel
 " for them as in the Dark—and that you are some" thing like one fighting with a Ghost*." This seems, indeed, a very just Description of your Case, for you greatly misrepresent both our Principles and our Practice. But the Blame of this Darknest, Sir, be wholly to yourself. Are not our Churches open? Our Prayers, our Sermons, our Sacraments and Ordinations performed in View of the World, that whoever pleases may come and see our Manner in them?

But "we have no common Rules of Discipline
 " and Worship, by which we hold ourselves
 " obliged to walk; at least none made public and
 " laid before the World, for your Examination
 " and Discussion†." Yes, Sir, we have an excellent COMMON RULE of Discipline and Worship, by which all our Churches hold themselves obliged to walk, even the same which CHRIST and his Apostles, the great Founders of the Christian Church, originally drew up, published, and established for it; and which they left as a common Rule, the ONLY common Rule, and a PERFECT common Rule, for the Use of all future Ages, viz. the HOLY SCRIPTURES: This therefore you may discuss with all the Freedom you please.

But to descend to some of the many Instances in which you much misrepresent us. Your very great Mistake, as to our imposing SITTING at the Lord's-supper, I have shewn in my former Letter. You farther affirm—"That it is generally held amongst " us, that the Sacrament is for none but perfect
 " and

* Let. II. pag. 4.

† Ibid.

“ and consummate Christians, such as can give a particular Account of their Conversion *.” Here you walk, Sir, without Light. There is not a single Church, I am persuaded, amongst the Dissenters in the whole Kingdom, hardly a single Person, who hath this Notion of the Sacrament. We universally hold, that every sincere Christian has a Right to the Lord's-Table.

“ As to the Duty of Fasting, you say, if you are not mightily deceived, it is thrown away amongst us. You have not met with any Sermons or Treatises of our Ministers, shewing the Obligations, and pressing its Practice upon the People; nor have you ever heard of its being practised, even by the strictest and devoutest amongst us †.” You are mightily deceived, Sir, a great deal too mightily, for one who sets up for so severe a Censor of his Brethren. Amongst many others, I refer you only to a most excellent Discourse on Fasting, in Bennet's Christian Oratory, Vol. II. which I am sure you cannot read without admiring it blushing, and condemning your own Temerity.

You are pleased to give us also a very grave and severe Reprehension for Standing, and not Kneeling at our public Prayers; and say, “ It is little less than imposed upon our People, insomuch that should any one presume to kneel in our Churches, we should certainly censure and condemn him for it ‡.—That your Church has as good Right to impose Kneeling in the public Worship upon her Members, as Dissenters have to impose it upon their Children and Servants in their Family Devotions §—And that we ALWAYS practise it in private || ” You are extremely unhappy, Sir, in your Intelligence about this strange People, whom you have taken upon you to reprebend. How came you to know, what their Posture of Worship always

G 2

* Let. I. pag. 52.
pag. 65, 67.

† Let. I. pag. 65, 66.

‡ Let. I. pag. 28.

§ Let. II.
|| Let. II. pag. 68.

ways is in PRIVATE? Have they taken you into their Closets? For my own Part, I pretend not to have been much with them at their secret Devotions, and therefore will not pronounce with such Assurance as you do upon the Point; but am very strongly persuaded they practise variously in this Matter and do not always kneel.

As to their Families and Churches, though I have been present at prayers in a great Number of both, (which you, I presume, Sir, never have been) I assure you, I never once saw nor heard any Thing like the Impositions you mention. In their Family Devotions some stand, and some kneel, according as their Inclination and Convenience serves. And in their public Assemblies, many kneel at Prayer, I believe, the whole Kingdom over, without it ever entering into the Thoughts of their Fellow-Worshippers, to take the least Offence thereat.

You tell me “you can name a considerable “ Congregation amongst us, which is greatly scan“ dalized—and has taken a great and general Of“ fence, at one of its Members kneeling at pub“ lic Prayer*.” But as in many other Points, Sir,
’tis very notorious you have been ill served by your Informers, as to our Customs and Worship; you must give me leave to think, that they have here also made too free with your Credulity. That we have weak Brethren amongst us, and those not a few, I am very ready to own. But a Congregation, a considerable Congregation too, so weak as to take a great and general Offence at such a Trifle as this! You must excuse me, if I cannot easily admit it. I think you will do Justice, Sir, to name the Congregation, that it may either purge itself of the Reproach, or stand corrected before the World, for its unchristian and imposing Temper; and learn to act more consistent with that Liberty and Right of private Judgment, which as Dissenters they profess.

No

No, Sir, Dissenters are not for binding, where GOD has left free. They are our Brethren of another Church, who think themselves capable of mending CHRIST'S Institutions; and not content to use them in the plainness and simplicity in which DIVINE WISDOM left them, must needs embellish and improve them by Additions of their own.

These Additions of your own, for Instance, KNEELING at public Prayers, you are so surprizingly sanguine as to represent as “ a great Improvement of public Worship, and as adding a natural Splendor and Beauty to it—that our Worship is debased for want of it—that kneeling is a more humble and honourable Posture—much more expressive of our profound Reverence of GOD.—And the humble Posture of kneeling, NATURE itself so plainly dictates, and so powerfully prompts us to, that a Man, if he were left to himself, whenever— he makes his Requests known to GOD, will hardly do it in any other—unless when some affected Restraint is laid upon him*.” How towering a Flight! You do not pretend to say, that either CHRIST or his Apostles, ever enjoined, or constantly, or mostly, used KNEELING at public Prayer; you mention several Instances from Scripture, where STANDING was the Posture of some of the most solemn Addresses to Almighty GOD—Abraham stood before the Lord †, when he offered up that humble Intercession for Sodom. Of the Levites and all the Priests, 'tis particularly recorded, that they STOOD UP; and all the People are also called upon to STAND UP, and blest the Lord their GOD, in that solemn Address to Heaven, Nehem. ix. 2, 3, 4, 5. An Address of deep Humiliation, Confession, Deprecation, and Covenanting with GOD, one of the most solemn that stands upon sacred Record; 'tis here no less than four several Times expressly mentioned, that STANDING was the Posture

iii

* Let. II. pag. 66, 67, 69, 73.

† Gen. xviii. 22.

in which their Worship was offered up. Moses and Samuel are represented as STANDING before GOD, when making their most humble and importunate Intercessions with him, Jer. xv. 1. When our SAVIOUR in his Parable represents two Men praying in the Temple, STANDING is the Posture in which he describes them, Luke xviii. 10, 11. Yea, himself in exprefs Words has, if not actually in-joined, yet most fully declared his Approbation of this Gesture, Mark xi. 25. When ye STAND praying, forgive. Finally, when the primitive Christians, it is acknowledged on all Hands, every Lord's Day, and at all other Times betwixt Easter and Whitsuntide, univervally prayed STANDING, and NEVER kneeled at their public Devotions. (Consequently, by the Way, not at the Lord's Supper.) "Die Dominico nefas ducimus, &c. says *Tertullian: "On the LORD'S DAY we account it a SIN to wor-
 "ship KNEELING; which Custom we also observe
 "from Easter to Whitsuntide"—With all this Evidence glaring full in your Face, Sir, you have the Affurance, shall I call it, or does it deserve some other Name, very smartly to reprehend us for STANDING at our public Prayers; and to call it a Debasement of our Worship—to affirm that kneeling is a MORE humble and honourable Posture—MUCH MORE expressive of our profound Reverence of GOD—A great IMPROVEMENT of public Worship, and that it adds a natural BEAUTY and SPLENDOR to it—Surprizingly enthusiastic! What Abramam, and Moses, and Samuel, and Nebemiab, and all the Priests, and Jewish People, DEBASE the divine Worship, when they STOOD before GOD, and made their solemn Addreses to him! Yea, what CHRIST himself too debase it, by directing Men to STAND praying!

Had you happened, Sir, to have been of the Council of the Apostles, you could have helped them

them to establish Christian Worship upon a greatly improved, a more beautiful and perfect Plan; and have INJOIN'D this MORE humble and honourable Posture, this ADDITIONAL Splendor and Beauty to public Prayer, which it never came into their Minds to INJOIN the Disciples.—But as our Bibles at present stand; and GOD and Jesus Christ have left us at full Liberty to offer up our Prayers either Standing or Kneeling, you will excuse us if we are not so struck with your additional Beauty as to give ourselves up blindfold to its Charms.

But it seems we are inconsistent, in condemning some of your Ceremonies, when at the same Time we readily conform ourselves to others: yea, have many Ceremonies allow'd and practis'd amongst ourselves. “Such, you aver, we have, tho' we seem not to know it: Such as Uncovering our Head when we enter either your Churches, or our own Meetings*.” But you are still “walking in the Dark,” Sir, as you justly represent yourself, “and encountering with Ghosts.” The Dissenters have no such Custom of Uncovering their Heads when they enter into their Meeting-places, unless in Time of Worship; no Notion of paying Reverence to Timber and Walls; no Ministers amongst them who have Sense or Grace enough to consecrate a Piece of Ground: And when they use this Ceremony at Entering your Churches, 'tis, I assure you, purely as a civil, not at all as a religious Ceremony; a Compliment paid, not in the least to the Building, but entirely to our good Brethren, whom we would not needlessly offend.

“Kneeling at Ordination,” the next Ceremony you mention, tho' generally used amongst us, was never I believe imposed. If the Person to be ordained scrupled that Posture, he would, without all Doubt, be permitted to stand.

As

* Let. III. p. 7.

As for “ the secret Ceremonies which you suspect, “ but will not positively affirm, to pass at striking “ the Covenant betwixt us and our Pastors,” which you once and again mention, let your Suspensions on that Head, Sir, give you no further Pain. I assure you I neither know, nor have ever heard of any such Covenanting now practis'd amongst us: And am perswaded, that of all our Churches, not one in five hundred observe any such Thing.

“ In Balance against your Surplice you put, what “ you call, the Ceremony of our long sweeping “ Cloak *.” But the least Attention would have shewn the two Cases to be far from parallel. Our Ministers are at full Liberty either to use or disuse the one: Are yours so as, to the other? Did you ever hear of any learned pious Pastors amongst us silenc'd, rejected, and cruelly imprison'd for refusing the sweeping Cloak? But, have you never heard of your Hoopers, Sampsons, Humpherys, and an hundred other Ministers, Men of distinguish'd Learning and Usefulness in your Church, who have been swept from their Stations in it; silenc'd, confined, and grievously harras'd, only for scrupling your Surplice and Cap? Have you never heard of many Churches forsaken, and shut up in London, and of numerous Congregations, both in City and Country, deprived for a long while of Sacraments and public Worship, by the rigorous Imposition of your Habits on their Ministers? And if the most celebrated Divine was now to offer to officiate in any of your Churches, but refused to wear a Surplice, must he not, by your Canons, be set aside and refused? Had our Cloak been the Occasion of a thousandth Part of the Distractions and Confusions in the Church, as your Surplice has been, and swept so many worthy Persons from their Ministry and Livings in it; we should have had the Grace, I hope, soon to treat it as a Besome of Destruction, and to have doom'd it to the Flames.

But

But “ the giving the Christian Name in Baptism “ to the Person baptised, you very seriously urge “ as another solid Argument of Ceremonies amongst “ us,” and ask, “ Is it not an Addition to the Sa- “ crament? Is it not an Imposition?” You add, “ Now I see you smile *” Excuse me, Sir, I could not help it! your Argument is quite new, and really surpris’d me with its Solidity and Weight. Yes, Sir, I own it an Addition, an Imposition, and a very ridiculous one too. And should any Minister of ours pretend to add, or to impose this Ceremony upon his People; and forbid them to call the Child by its Name till it was baptis’d; you may be assur’d he would soon meet with the Disregard and Contempt his Impertinence deserved. When you baptise adult Persons, do you give their Names in that Ceremony? Or do you not only call them by Names before given? The same, I apprehend, is the Case as to Children amongst us.

As for the Ceremonies in Marriage; these, you justly observe, we consider only as civil Ceremonies, and the Priest as a civil Officer, appointed by the Magistrate to officiate in this Affair. And whatever decent Rites the Magistrate prescribes in Matters of a civil Nature, we think it our Duty reverently to observe. But, “ the Magistrate prescribe!” you with Astonishment reply. “ For God’s Sake how “ does the Magistrate here prescribe the Rites and “ Ceremonies of Marriage, more than the other “ Rites and Ceremonies of the Church†!” But could not a Gentleman of your Discernment perceive a Difference here? Is the Form of Marriage any where Instituted by our SAVIOUR; or a Part of Christian Worship; as Baptism and the Lord’s Supper are? May we not therefore own the Power of the civil Magistrate to appoint Rites and Forms for the Celebration of the one, but not so as to the other? By prescribing Rites of Marriage, the Magistrate acts in Character, and rules in his own Kingdom : but by authoritatively prescribing Rites in Baptism and the Lord's Supper, we humbly apprehend, he extends beyond the Sphere assign'd him by GOD, and attempts to rule in CHRIST's Kingdom : and that therefore here we are to obey GOD, rather than Man.

H acts

* Let. III. p. 10.

† Let. III. p. 6.

You further ask with surprise—"What civil Ceremonies in the Church of GOD ! in the midst of the Administration of a divine Institution : intermix'd with pastoral Exhortations, holy Prayers, solemn Benedictions *."—But why, Sir, so astonish'd ? Did you never take an OATH in a civil Court of Judicature ? And did not the Person who administred this SACRED Rite, give you a pastoral Exhortation, accompanied with an holy Prayer, and a solemn Benediction, piously invoking on you GOD's Blessing and Help ? And as to the PLACE, which you call the Church of GOD, where Marriage is solemnized ; you might have pleas'd to remember, that the Consecration of Timber, and the Sanctity of Walls, is a Point too sublime for Dissenters Understandings ; and that in their Opinion all Places are alike holy, and that no Building on Earth merits the high Honour of being called the Church of GOD.

The same Reply we make as to the Ceremonies of Burial, our Compliance with which you also briskly retort upon us. Is Burial of the Dead, Sir, a CHRISTIAN Institution ? Any Part of the Religion or Worship of Christ ? Is it not purely a political or civil Thing ? Yes ; and as such only we view it : and consider the Person who officiates, as one appointed to this Office, directed, instruct'd, and maintained by the STATE.

But as you are here professedly "answering our great and popular Objections," how came you, Sir, to slide over, in consummate Silence, one of the greatest and most popular, to this Office of Burial ? which, indeed, is not ours only, but an Objection of of some of the most illustrious Members of your own Church. Were you conscious the obj-Eded Passages were incapable of Defence, and therefore prudently let them drop?

There are but three Cases, you know, Sir, in which your Church refuses this solemn Office of Burial, viz. to those who die unbaptised, to Self-Murderers, and to those who are under Sentence of the greater Excommunication. As for all other Persons which are brought to the Church-yard, it very strictly commands you, even under pain of Suspension, by Canon 68, that you use over them the Form prescribed by the Common Prayer. Now, hence it comes to pass, that over some of the most abandon'd and profligate of Mankind; over Men who have been cut down in a Course of open Impiety by a sudden and untimely Death; or who even fell by the Hand of Justice for some black and atrocious Crime; over these, I say, your Church, and I say it with Astonishment, directs and commands you most solemnly to declare, That Almighty GOD of his GREAT MERCY, has taken to himself the Soul of this your dear Brother. You give GOD heartly Thanks that it hath pleased him to deliver him out of the Miseries of this sinful World: And you pray GOD, that when you yourselves shall depart out of this Life, you may REST IN CHRIST, as your HOPE is this your Brother doth. This is what your Church commands you solemnly to say over EVERY Person brought to be buried, the three Cases above excepted. So that if the Man happen'd to be killed in the very Act of committing Murder, Adultery, or a Rape: Or for either of these Crimes dies upon the Gallows an impenitent hardened Wretch, whom Vengeance suffer'd not to live; yet concerning him you are to declare, that Almighty GOD hath in GREAT MERCY taken him to himself: Tho' he died a Victim to public Justice, and was taken away in Wrath, You are to give GOD heartly Thanks, that he hath taken this your BROTHER out of the Miseries of this

Sinful World: Tho' you have the strongest Reason to believe, that he is gone down to Realms of greater Misery below. And you are to profess before GOD that you HOPE the Man RESTS IN CHRIST, and pray that you yourselves may rest in Christ in the same manner as this your Brother doth: when you have all the Grounds in the World to think he died in his Sins, and is therefore not gone to be with CHRIST, where nothing that is defiled can ever be admitted. Strange! and extremely shocking! what can the People think, Sir! what must Infidels and Deists think! when they hear you in the Morning denouncing from the Scriptures certain Death and Destruction from the Presence of GOD, to all vicious and corrupt Persons; and assuring them that without Holiness NO MAN shall see the Lord: But in the Evening from the Common Prayer, shall hear YOU, the SAME PERSON, declaring before GOD your HOPE of the eternal Happiness of one of the most debauch'd and profligate Men your Parish affords; and sending him hence with all the lofty Expressions of Confidence and Hope, as you would a Person of the most shining and exemplary Life.

Do you imagine, Sir, People do not think? Can you wonder DEISM prevails? That the Priesthood is ridiculed? And that your good Sermons are no more effectual to reform a corrupt World? To me this appears (and doubtless it does the same to thousands of your own Church) a most indecent Prostitution of your sacred Character and Office; a Trifling and Prevarication in Things of everlasting Moment; and a fatal Snare to the Souls of Men: Who seeing their debauch'd Neighbour dismiss'd to the other World with such Confidence of his good Estate, suppress their just Fears, and say, I shall have Peace, tho' I add Drunkenness to Thirst.

But there is a further very strange and extraordinary Circumstance attending this Matter, viz. That it makes your Church perform, not to say a Miracle, racle, but something very like it, if not greater than that, for it damns and saves the same individual Persons. Whom it damns when living, it saves when dead. Arians and Socinians, you know, Sir, your Church declares WITHOUT DOUBT to perish everlastingly. But let these very Men die, and your Church as solemnly declares that GOD hath in GREAT MERCY taken them to himself, and that it HOPES they REST IN CHRIST. Can any thing be more transcendent and marvellous than this! That the Man whom I pronounce WITHOUT DOUBT to be damm'd, I yet HOPE that he is sav'd, i. e. I hope without Hope.

But you would establish, not only the Use, but the Church's divine Right, of MAKING Ceremonies from the Instance of the *holy Kifs. “ The Kifs of “ Charity used in the Apostolic Church, you ask, “ was it a Rite of divine Appointment, or was it “ not?” I answer you, that as I apprehend this Kifs of Charity cannot properly be called a divine Institution, nor be said to be ordain'd by the Apostles. The greeting with a Kifs, was an ancient established Usage, not only amongst the Jews, but the Gentile Nations also. This Usage therefore, or Ceremony, was not ordain'd by the Apostles, but only by their Advice regulated and directed to a moral and religious End. 'Tis as if they had said, 'Tis your Custom when you meet, to salute each other with a Kifs, see that it be a pure, a chaste, or holy Kifs, a Token of unfeign'd Charity, Friendship and Peace.

“ But if this Ceremony of the holy Kifs, was not “ of divine Appointment (which probably, you “ say, is the Truth of the Case, but a merely ec- “ clesiastical prudential Institution, ordain'd by the “ Apostles without any Precept from the Lord, or “ any particular Direction of the Holy Spirit.” — Then, Sir, I without the least Hesitation say, it was not at all obligatory as a Law upon the Consciences of Christians; they might or they might not practise it, without sinning against God. Even the Apostles had no Dominion over the Faith and Practice of Christians, but what was given them by the special Presence and Spirit of CHRIST, the only Lawgiver, Lord, and Sovereign of the Church. They were to teach only the Things which he should command them. Whatever they injoined under the Influence of that SPIRIT, was to be considered and obeyed as the Injunction of CHRIST. But if they injoined any Thing in the Church (which I can by no means admit) without the peculiar Influence and Direction of this Spirit, (i. e. as merely fallible unassisted Men) in that Case their Injunctions had no Authority over Conscience: Every Man's own Reason had Authority to examine and discuss their Injunctions, and as they approved themselves to his private Judgment, to observe them, or not. Should we grant then what you ask —“ That the Church in the present Age, has the “ same Authority and Power as the Church in the “ apostolic Age, considered as not being under “ any immediate and extraordinary Guidance of “ the Holy Ghost.”—What will you gain by it? This same Authority and Power, is you see, Sir, really no Power nor Authority at all.
was

I proceed next “ to the Point of DISCIPLINE,
 “ the Want of which you say, is objected to your “ Church; but you will represent the real State of “ it, and then shew that we really as much want it “ *ourselves.” We will attend your own Account of it, which to be sure is not too severe. You acknowledge “ that the Discipline of the Church is “ of great Moment towards the Edification of its “ Members; and that the Fault is unpardonable
 “ when Church Governors let it fall, through a “ supine Carelessness and Neglect—That there is a “ great

* Let. III. pag. 12.

“ great Prostration of Discipline in the Church of “ England—That it is ruined amongst you—That “ the Distempers of the Times are evidently too “ strong for it—That those who sit at the Helm, “ find it prudent not to bear up too much against “ the Impetuosity of the Storm, but to give Way “ till the Madness of the People be still—That the “ Discipline of the Church has not been carried to “ any Degree of Perfection—And now lies under “ a general Relaxation.—That your People are “ often indulg’d in all their unreasonable Demands “ and disorderly Ways, to prevent their putting in “ Execution their Threats, that they will go to the “ Meeting—And finally, That you have at least,
 “ the Shadow and Form of Discipline, and trust in “ God that *these dry Bones will one Day live.”

This, it must be owned, is very ingenuously and frankly spoken. And can you blame then the Dissenters, Sir, for joining themselves to Churches, where that godly Discipline is observed, which you confess to be of so great Moment to the Edification of Christian People; and which your Church is continually wishing, but never attempts to have restored. But here you retort, and intimate as great a Want of Discipline amongst us. “ What are there “ no scandalous Sinners, you ask †, no Fornicators, “ Adulterers, Extortioners, &c. received into your “ Churches! I must beg your Pardon if I demur “ upon this. For I could never perceive the Doors “ of the Meeting were ever shut against any. And “ if such profligate Persons be not admitted to sit
 “ at the Lord’s Table, they need not fear being ad“ mitted to all other Parts of your Worship.”

And is not this, Sir, exactly right? Ought not our Church-doors to be always kept open, that whoever will may come, and be Witness to our Way of Worship. Such profligate Persons therefore may come,

* Let. III. pag. 12, 13, 14, 17, 22, 28.
 pag. 23.

† Let. III.

come, if they please, and hear their Sins reproved, and be exhorted to Repentance and Amendment of Life. They are then, where they ought to be, under the preaching of the Word; the Means appointed by God, to convince and reclaim the profligate and corrupt. Were not the Doors of the Church at Corinth kept open in the Apostles Days, for Infidels to come in, and be present at their Worship. Vid. 1 Cor. xiv. 23. But to the Table of the LORD, to partake of the Children's Bread, you seem convinced that in our Churches, such profligate Persons are not suffered to come. And is not this the true Order and Discipline of the Christian Church? But—Is it the same, Sir, in your Church? Are not some of the most profane and abandoned of Men, Rakes, Debauchees, Blasphemers of God, and Scoffers at all Religion, often seen upon their Knees around your Communion Table, eating the Children's Bread, and partaking of the holy Elements to qualify for a Post? Dare your Ministers refuse them! No, they dare not refuse the most impious Blasphemer the three Kingdoms afford, when he comes to demand it as a Qualification for an Office in the Army or Fleet.

And if in any other Case, the Priest denies the Sacrament to the most infamous Sinner dwelling in his Parish, if the Man, upon an Appeal to the ecclesiastical Court, can secure the Favour of the Lay-Chancellor, he may securely defy both the Minister and the Bishop to keep him from the Lord's Table. The Chancellor's Determination shall stand in Law, though contrary to the Bishop's; and the Minister be liable to a Suspension, for refusing Compliance; and if he is contumacious, and will not give the Man the Sacrament, even to Excommunication itself. How, Sir, do you reconcile this with your affirming, “ That your Parish Priest has as much Power “ as any Presbyterian or congregational Minister to “ repel open and scandalous Sinners from the “ Lord's “ Lord’s Table*?” Or how with your “ Re“ senting the Lay-Chancellor as a Person only af- “ sumed by the Bishop, not to do any Act that is “ purely spiritual, but only to be his Assistant in his “ ecclesiastical and judicial Proceedings †?”

Is not the Chancellor supreme and uncontrouled in his Court, not liable to be restrained or directed by the Bishop in his judicial Proceedings? Does he not finally and absolutely determine on Cases of Excommunication, sovereignly direct who shall be received to, and who cast out from Christian Fellowship and Worship at the Table of the LORD? And is not this an Act as purely spiritual, as important and momentous, as any done in the Church? Must not his Sentence take Place without Controul, and is the Minister in publishing it any other than his Servant, appointed by Law to put it in Execution?

Will you please to hear, Sir, the Sentiments of a great Prelate ‡ of your own Church, upon the Point in Debate.—“ If there be any Thing in “ the Office of a Bishop to be challenged peculiar “ to themselves, certainly it should be this (speak“ ing of Excommunication) yet this is in a Manner “ quite relinquished to their Chancellors; Laymen, “ who have no more Capacity to sentence or ab“ solve a Sinner, than to dissolve the Heavens or “ the Earth. And this pretended Power of the “ Chancellor, is sometimes purchased with a Sum “ of Money. Their Money perish with them! Good “ God! what a horrid Abuse is this of the divine “ Authority! But this notorious Transgression is “ excused, as they think, by this, that a Minister “ called the Bishop’s Surrogate, but is indeed the “ Chancellor’s Servant, chosen, called, and placed “ there by him, to be his Crier in the Court, no “ better; that when he hath examined, heard,
 “ and sentenced the Cause, then the Minister, for-I “ sooth,

* Let. III. pag. 33.

† Ibid. pag. 38.

‡ Dr.

Crofts, Bishop of Hereford, Naked Truth, &c. pag. 58.

“ footh, pronounces the Sentence. Just as if the “ Rector of a Parish Church should exclude any “ of his Congregation, and lock him out of the “ Church, then comes the Clerk, shews and “ jingles the Keys, that all may take Notice that “ he is excluded. And by this his Authority, the “ Chancellor takes upon him to sentence not only “ Laymen, but Clergymen also brought into his “ Court for any Delinquency. And in the Court of “ Arches, they sentence even Bishops themselves.”

“ I remember when the Bishop of Wells, hear“ ing of a Cause corruptly managed, and coming “ into Court to rectify it, the Chancellor Dr. Duck, “ fairly and mannerly bid him be gone, for he had “ no Power there to act any Thing; and there“ withal pulled out his Patent, sealed by this “ Bishop's Predecessor, which frightened the poor “ Bishop out of the Court.”—Behold! this is the Person, Sir, whom you have the Courage to represent as only assumed by the Bishop, not to do any Act that is purely SPIRITUAL but ONLY to be his ASSISTANT in his judicial Proceedings.

But as we are now upon the Head of Discipline, and the Law called the TEST, is a Battery which has beat down all its fences around your Church, and you are a zealous Advocate for that LAW, you will permit me here, Sir, to enlarge a little upon that Point: And to ask—How you can bear to see the terrible Desolation it has made of your godly Dis- cipline, without Resentment and Grief? Can you be jealous, Sir, for the Prosperity and Honour of your Church, and yet patiently view it lying in this polluted and common State? Its Inclosures broken up, and a Way opened by Law for the most flagitious of Men, for Atheists, professed Deists and the most open and avowed Sinners, to lie securely in its Bosom, to suck at its Breasts, to be numbered and cherished amongst its holiest and most beloved Children, and to be acknowledged before the World

World as honest and good Christians, by being suffered to come boldly to the Table of the LORD.

But why do I say suffered? Does not your Church by the Force of this Law, even compel them to come in? Many of the unhappy Persons, conscious of their unfitness, would gladly draw back. Knowing themselves perhaps, either to disbelieve the Truth, or else to live in open Violation of the Laws of Christianity, they are loth to add to their other Crimes this Prevarication with Almighty GOD, and Affront to JESUS CHRIST, and thereby to run a dreadful Risque of eating and drinking Judgment to themselves. But, their All lies at Stake: They must qualify, or be given up to Beggary and Want. Away therefore with Scruples! They rush to the Lord's Table, and partake of the sacred Elements with Consciences and Characters all covered with Guilt.

You will say, perhaps, it is their own Fault, they might have refused to come. They might, indeed, if they would have lost their Posts, their Subsistence, their Bread.—But can the Church reasonably expect such Sacrifices as these, from Men of corrupt Minds? Is she then in no Fault, in laying Men under such strong, almost invincible Temptations, to this odious Hypocrisy and Profanation of holy Things? Is she not highly culpable, for opening her Bosom to receive Men of impure Characters to all the sacred Privileges, Liberties, and Honours, which belong only to sincere Christians? Yea, for owning before the World as worthy and good Christians, Persons whom the World sees, and whom the Church herself cannot but see to blaspheme the Name of CHRIST, and to live in avowed Contempt of his Authority and Laws?

And what Relief, Sir, has the unhappy Minister, of whom as Steward in GOD's House, it is required that he be found FAITHFUL, and who is to answer for his Conduct to his great MASTER hereafter?

What Relief, I ask, has he, when the most veteran Debauchee, shall come and demand from him these Pledges of Christian Fellowship, and of God's paternal Love? Truly, none at all: He must receive him as a Child of God, and a dearly beloved Brother to the Table of CHRIST, or have an Action commenced against him, and be condemned perhaps in Damages more than he is worth.

As much therefore as you are concerned for the Honour of the Church, and for the Interest, Reputation, and Comfort of its Clergy, so much you ought to wish and zealously promote the Repeal of this Law. A Law, which whatever was its original Intention, hath in its Application let in like a Flood-gate upon your Church, the Dregs of the human Race. A Law, which though at first designed only the more effectually to prevent all Danger to the Constitution from Papists, hath by an unnatural Perversion of it, actually broken down all Distinctions established by divine Authority, betwixt Sacred and Profane: Has thrust Infidels and Profligates into the most holy Places of your Temple, and brings Deists and Debauchees to eat at the Lord's Table amongst the Children of his House.—Let me ask you, Sir, in the Name of CHRIST, our common Master and Judge, doth not this Law, as now enforced, occasion the most notorious Prostitution of an holy Sacrament of his Religion? Is not its avowed and open Tendency and Use, to pervert an Institution of our SAVIOUR to Ends, not only quite different, but even opposite to those for which HE appointed it? Is it not making THAT a political Instrument to divide Christians, which CHRIST instituted as a religious Instrument to coalesce and unite them? Must it not be highly odious and offensive to Almighty God, to see an holy Sacrament, which his Wisdom hath ordained for spiritual only and religious Purposes, thus prostituted, perverted, made an Engine and Tool of State, employed to strengthen strengthen and perpetuate Differences amongst good Christians; and thereby debased, not to worldly only and secular, but to much worse than worldly, Ends?

As to myself, Sir, I assure you, tho' I think this Law to be a most unrighteous Restraint upon us, and an undoubted Violation of our natural Rights; yet I am far from being persuaded that its Repeal would be of the least Service to our Interest as Dissenters. I doubt, and have often thought, that there is too much Truth in what you say— “ That “ high Trusts, public Offices, and Court Employments, “ would be extremely apt to corrupt us, and to make “ practical Religion more visibly decay,” and that it would really rather injure than strengthen our Interest. I have never therefore, as a Dissenter, been at all solicitous for the Repeal. No, Sir, so far from this, that could I allow myself to hate and wish ill to the Church, I would most heartily wish it pertinaciously to hold fast this shameful Corruption. I would wish it, by no means to give up this open Profanation of the Authority and Name of Christ; this Prostitution and Perversion of an holy Sacrament of his Religion; this Destruction of all Discipline; this open Door for the Reception of the most Abominable and Profane to its most holy Mysteries and Rites: This, if I wish'd it ill, I would earnestly wish your Church inflexibly to continue: not doubting but, if long continued, it will surely at length bring down upon it the heavy Anger of Almighty God; the just Resentment and Jealousy of a despised and insulted SAVIOUR; and the deep Scorn and Contempt of all wise and thinking Men.

Whilst this Law continues, Sir, in its present Application, yourself cannot but see, that your Discipline must necessarily lie scandalously prostrate, ruin'd, relax'd. 'Tis impossible you can maintain, hardly the Shadow and Form, much less the Spirit of primitive ecclesiastick Government. Your holy Things must lie common, vilely trodden under Foot. Of all Persons in the Land therefore, the Clergy should be the first, to labour with all their Might the Repeal of this unhappy Law. A Law, which cannot but be supposed terribly to bear hard upon, and wound the Consciences of many of them : and which subjects them to so servile a Prostitution of their Character, as cannot but load it with great Infamy and Reproach.
 of

You tell me*, “ That you will engage, simple “ as you sit here, that this Law shall be repeal’d ; “ and our Incapacities removed, when we will lay “ down our Enmity to the Church, that is in short “ to one half Part of the Constitution.—For “ Church and State here in England are so incor- “ porated and united, that they have, like the “ married Pair, the same Friends and Enemies : “ and stand or fall together.” I cannot pretend to say, Sir, how simple you sat there, when you gave us this Assurance, but I would to God you were able to stand up, and make it good. For,

1. Are you sure that the Church is really any essential Part at all, much less the Half Part of the British CONSTITUTION : Or, that Church and State are so married and interwoven, that they must stand or fall together ?—Many, Sir, besides Dissenters will think, that this is a very partial and wrong Representation of our most excellent Frame of Government. Let any one in his Imagination annihilate the Form of our present Church. Let him suppose its Liturgy, Clergy, Articles, Canons, with all its Ceremonies and Rites, entirely vanish’d from the Land : its immense Revenues applied in Ease of our heavy Taxes, and for the Payment of the public Debts ; and Preachers paid only by voluntary Contributions, as they are amongst us. Would the STATE hereby sustain so essential a Loss, that it could not thence-forward

* Let. I. p. 11.

forward possibly subsist? What! would the British Monarchy be overthrown—Our Courts of Judicature be shut up—the Course of Law be stopp'd—Parliaments no more meet—Commerce and Trade stagnate—because what you call the Church is no more? Romantic and absurd! No: The Frame of our happy Government, both civil and military, might remain the very same: And you will give me leave to observe on the present Occasion, that in one Part of this Kingdom, those who profess themselves to be of your Church, as to its external Polity and Ceremonies, are almost to a Man inveterate avowed Enemies of our happy civil Constitution, and have risen in an impious Rebellion against his present Majesty, and joined with Spaniards, French, Italians, and home-bred Papists, in their wicked Attempts to subvert the Protestant Religion and Liberties.

2. This Destruction of the Church of England, is what we by no Means wish. May God in mercy prevent it, by causing her to see, in this her Day, the Things belonging to her Peace—We bear it no Enmity; God is our Witness. We wish it from our Souls Glory, Prosperity, Purity, Peace: The Glory of being form'd according to the perfect Plan of the primitive apostolick Church: purg'd of those Things, which yourselves know to be no Parts of the Religion of CHRIST! We wish to see it establish'd upon the catholic and broad Bottom, upon which alone it can stand firm; even the scriptural Foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being its only Lawgiver and King; And not upon the narrow Basis on which it now rests, the Articles and Canons, the Institutions and Inventions of fallible and weak Men; on which it can never be strongly and firmly fixt; which are all, in the Apostle's Language, Wood, Hay, Stubble; whose End is to be burnt! We wish, Sir, that as it opens its Bosom, and admits the vilest Debauchees without demurring demurring at their open Violation of GOD'S Commands; so it would charitably extend its Arms to take us into its Communion, without insisting upon our Obedience to the Injunctions and Commands of MEN! Finally: we wish, that what GOD, in his Wisdom, hath been pleas'd to leave indifferent; your Church also, in her Wisdom, would be pleas'd to leave the same: That you would not attempt to mend the Institutions of JESUS CHRIST: But would receive us into your Church upon the same Terms and Qualifications as CHRIST and his Apostles would have received us into theirs; and as GOD will receive us into Heaven at last!—This, Sir, I assure you, is all the Harm we wish the Church: Judge then yourself, whether we bear it any Enmity; and whether you are not now bound to take from us the Incapacities, which you engaged, simple as you sat there, should on this Condition be removed.

And you will give me Leave, Sir, to think, and to hope, that there are Numbers of your worthy Clergy of the same Mind; that it would not at all lessen either the Glory, Stability, or Prosperity of your Church, if its Bounds were thus enlarg'd, to admit the moderate Dissenters, who sincerely desire so happy a Coalition. Its Enemies seem to multiply, and dark Clouds to rise around it. Popery is making dangerous and mighty Inroads on the one hand; and Deism on the other. There may come a Time, as there formerly has been, when the Frame of your Church being terribly threatened, we may again be consider'd as no despicable Auxiliaries. But—If we cannot be so happy, as not to be cast out and rejected by our Brethren; our Consolation is this, that GOD judgeth in the Earth; and that he will surely, at the proper Season, vindicate and plead the Cause of the Injured and Oppress'd.

But to return to the Point of Discipline. To the acknowledg'd Irregularity of Lay-Chancellors in your Church, you would fain “ put in Balance the “ Lay-

“ Lay-Preaching, Lay-Praying, and Lay Ordination allow’d in our Churches*.” To which I reply, that in the Generality of our Churches there is no such Thing either allow’d, or ever done. Besides, if there were: Did not your own Church set us the Pattern? In the Rubrick before the general Confession at the Communion, did it not direct?—Then shall this general Confession be made, in the Name of all those that are to receive, either by ONE OF THEM, or else by ONE OF THE MINISTERS. How it came to be omitted in the late Editions of the Common Prayer; whether it is done according to Law, and by Authority of Parliament; you, Sir, perhaps can say.

As to “ Laymen being an essential Part of all our Consistories and Synods; sitting in them, and having an equal Vote with Pastors in all Business—jointly with them suspending from the Lord’s Table, &c. †.” This, Sir, is no other than the scriptural apostolic Plan. The aggriev’d Person is by our Lord, you know, Mat. xviii. 17. directed to lay his Complaint before THE CHURCH, i. e. the Congregation of the Faithful: and if the Offender neglected to hear THE CHURCH (the Congregation) admonishing and reproving him, he was then to be consider’d as an beaten Man and a Publican. So the corrupt Member, at Corinth, was to be solemnly excommunicated. How? Not by any particular Person, Chancellor or Bishop; but it was to be the Act of the whole Church. To the whole Body or Congregation of Believers in that City, St. Paul gives Directions, That when they were come together, they should deliver such an one to Satan.—And, that they should put away from amongst themselves that wicked Person, 1 Cor. v. 4, 5, 13. which Excommunication he afterwards calls a Punishment inflicted by the MANY, 2 Cor. ii 6. So in that weighty and momentous Question—How far the

K

Gentiles

* Let. III. p. 38.

† Ibid. p. 37.

Gentiles were to submit to the Law of Moses? The Elders and Brethren are join'd with the Apostles in the Decision and Decree, Acts xv. 22. The Laity therefore have a Right to be consulted, and to judge, in these important Church Matters, together with the Clergy; as they do, by their Representatives, in what you call our Consistories. But with you, Sir, a single Layman, (this is the Absurdity which you seem willing to lose sight of) I repeat it, a single Layman, not only in Distinction from, but in actual Opposition to, the Bishop, and all the Church, both Clergy and Laity, has Authority to judge and determine these important Matters; and excommunicates, or absolves; shuts out, or lets in, according to his sole Pleasure.

And here, Sir, let me stop a Moment, and review the Point in Debate betwixt our good Dr. Watts and yourself. As for the Lives of the Dissenters, tho' God knows we have nothing whereof to boast, but a great Deal that calls for Shame and Humiliation on this Head; yet whether we are quite so deep immers'd in the Deluge of Profaneness, Immorality, and Vice, which spreads over the Land.—Whether the Blasphemies and Oaths, the Debauchery, Riot, and guilty Excesses, which too generally prevail, be in Proportion to our Number, found as rife amongst us, as amongst the Members of the establiſh'd Church——must be left, and we freely leave it, to the impartial World to judge betwixt us.

And as to special OBLIGATIONS and ADVANTAGES for holy Living, which you contest strenuously with the Doct̄or to lie on your Side; what hath been above observed on your several Offices for Confirmation, Absolution of the Sick, and Burial of the Dead, shews them, I humbly think, to have really an ill Aspect upon the Morals of your People; a dangerous and apparent Tendency to cherish in them false Hopes, and to give them wrong Notions of the Terms of Acceptance, and of Entrance trance into Heaven. And of the deplorable State in which your Discipline lies (which you acknowledge to be of great Moment to the Edification of the Church) no Enemy need to wish a Jadder Account than yourself have given of it. Upon the whole therefore, Sir, I cannot think, the worthy Doctor to deserve Censure, for attempting to roaze Dissenters from the languishing State of Religion amongst them, by putting them in mind of the superior Advantages they enjoy'd, and of the peculiar Obligations under which they manifestly lay to greater Holiness of Life.

You seem not a little displeas'd * at its having been urged as a Reason for our Dissent, "That your Church has shewn a persecuting Spirit," and with some Emotion ask — "Did the Church persecute at any Time its own Members? Were you or your Fathers ever persecuted while they continued in the Church? And were they driven out of it by those Persecutions?" I confess, Sir, you quite surprize me by such Questions as these. What! are you only a Stranger in Britain; and have never heard of the bitter Sufferings of our worthy Fathers the PURITANS? With what Silencings, Deprivations, Fines, Imprisonments, and lingering and cruel Deaths, for more than an Hundred Years, they were terribly harras'd and oppress'd by your Church? Have you never read, with a bleeding Heart, the unrelenting Rigors of your Archbishops Parker, Bancroft, Whitegift, Laud, — under the first of whom above an hundred; under the second, above three hundred pious and learned Men, not only Members but Ministers of your Church, were silenc'd, suspended, admonish'd, deprived, many of them loaded with grievous and heavy Fines, and shut up in filthy Jails, where they expired slowly thro' Penury and Want? And what were the Crimes which drew this dreadful Storm of episcopal Vengeance on them? Nothing but their Scruples about the Surplice and the Cap, about Bowing at the Name of Jesus, about Christ's Descent into Hell, and such like momentous Points.

* Let. III. p. 60, 61.

Have you never read, Sir, what Desolations Laud brought upon our Fathers, whilst yet in your Church? How many Hundreds of them were sequestred, driven from their Livings, excommunicated, persecuted in the High Commission Court, and forced to leave the Kingdom for not punctua'ly conforming to all the Ceremonies and Rites; and not daring to tell their People, that they might lawfully profane the Sabbath by Gambols and Sports; and to publish from their Pulpits the Permission of the King to break the Command of God—And yet you ask—“Were your Fathers ever persecuted while they continued in the Church?”

Pray! what was it peopled the savage Desarts of North America? Was it not the Thousands of persecuted and oppress'd Families, who fled from tyrannising BISHOPS? Who not being suffer'd to worship quietly in their native Country, as their Consciences directed, sought a peaceful Retreat from the Rage of their Fellow Christians amongst more hospitable Indians.—To omit a thousand Acts of Cruelty, which thro' several successive Reigns our Fathers suffer'd not only from, but when actually in, the Church.—Did she not at last, in a most arbitrary and unrighteous Manner cast out at once above two thousand of them, excellent and pious Ministers, and abandon them, and their starving Families, to great Poverty and Distress? To heighten that Distress, did not your Church, by another Act, banish them five Miles from any City, Borough, or Church in which they had before served: and thereby put them at a proper Distance from their Acquaintance and Friends, who might minister to their Relief? Did she not by another Act forbid their meeting to worship God, any where but in your own Churches, under

under the Penalties of heavy Fines, Imprisonments, and Banishment to foreign Lands?

In Consequence of these cruel ACTS, were not vast Numbers of pious Clergymen, our Forefathers (once the Glory of your Church) with Multitudes of their People, laid in Prisons amongst Thieves and common Malefactors, where they suffered the greatest Hardships, Indignities, Oppressions; their Houses were rudely rifled, their Goods made a Prey to hungry Informers, and their Families given up to Beggary and Want. “An Estimate was published of near eight Thousand Protestant Dis-senters, who had perished in Prison in the Reign only of Charles II. By severe Penalties inflicted on them, for assembling to worship God, they suffered in their Trade and Estates in the Compass of a few Years, at least two Millions; and a List of sixty Thousand Persons was taken, who had suffered on a religious Account, betwixt the Restoration and the *Revolution.”—Behold, the Groans and the Blood of Miriads of oppressed Puritans, which cry beneath the Altar, How long, O LORD! But you are deaf to all their Groans—And with Insensibility enough ask—Were your Fathers ever persecuted?—

“But the Presbyterian and Independant Churches have each in their Day of Power, discovered as much, and indeed more of that Spirit †.” Too much of that b d Spirit ’tis acknowledged, they have each shewn. But surely there is no Comparison betwixt the Cruelties and Oppressions of your Church, and of their’s. Your little Finger, has been thicker than their Loins.

“But whatever the Church may have been heretofore, you affirm, it is not now of a persecuting Spirit: And that there is not the least Appearance of its having disquieted and oppressed any
“ on

* Vid. Neal's Hist. Purit. Vol. IV. p. 554. † Lett. III. p. 61.

“ on Account of Religion, for more now than half “ a Century *.” You had forgot, Sir, the famous Schism, and occasional Conformity ACTS, which long since that Date much disquieted and oppressed us.
 The Test and the Corporation ACTS had also slipped your Memory, which at this Time deprive us of valuable and important Privileges, to which as faithful Subjects, and Members of the Common- wealth, we think we have a natural undoubted Right.

The present Governors of your Church indeed, (Thanks be to Heaven for it) are too wise and too righteous, to permit Persecution to rage against us.
 But to their Clemency and Justice, Sir, not to the kind and benevolent Spirit and Constitution of your Church, I humbly apprehend we owe it, that we are not at this Time severely persecuted and oppressed. If the ACT of Uniformity, which to be sure you will call a grand Pillar of your Church, is not a very unrighteous and persecuting ACT, yet several of your Canons breathe, you know, Sir, a very cursing and persecuting Spirit. By the for- mer, “ Whoever shall declare or speak any Thing “ in the Derogation or Depraving of the Book of “ Common Prayer, or any Thing therein contained,
 “ or any Part thereof, he shall for the first Offence “ suffer Imprisonment for one whole Year, without “ Bail or Mainprize; and for the second Offence, “ be imprisoned DURING LIFE.” Here I affirm nothing, but appeal to the whole World; I appeal, Sir, to your own Conscience, whether this be or be not an unjust and a persecuting ACT? By the latter, the Canons, “ If any Man shall affirm “ any of the Things contained in the Book of Ar- “ ticles, Common Prayer, or of Ordination ;” (in which yet there are many Things acknowledged by your own most learned Divines, and I doubt not,
 by yourself to need Alteration; your IV, V, VI, VII, and VIIIth Canons, thunder out upon him a terrible

terrible Excommunication ipso facto *, by which he is to be cut off as a cankered and rotten Member, and not to be restored, till he hath repented and publickly revoked his wicked Errors. Doth not this favour, Sir, of an antichristian and persecuting Spirit?

But you seem not, with Submission, to have yourself, a just Horror of the dreadful Sin of Persecution, and to be a little too deeply tinged with this fanatical Spirit: For you call aloud for “ the Church’s Sword to fall upon Hereticks, as well as “ upon immoral Persons: And put me in Mind, “ that by that ancient Discipline” (which you wish to see restored) “ open Schismatics were treated almost as roughly as any Sort of Offenders whatsoever †.” By Hereticks, no doubt you mean, those whom you take to be such: And by open Schismatics, those who are withdrawn from your Church: These you wish to see roughly handled, and to have the Church’s Sword drawn upon them. But, God Almighty be praised! We live under so just a Government, as is not, we hope, like to gratify this cruel Wish.

Do you not remember, Sir, that the first Reformers were counted Hereticks and open Schismatics, by

* Concerning an Excommunication ipso facto, our late learned Primate, Dr. Wake, has observed. “ First, That there is no “ Need in this Case, of any Admonition, as where the Judge is “ to give Sentence; but every one is to take Notice of the Lazv, “ at his Peril, and to see that he be not overtaken by it. And, “ Secondly, That there is no Need of any Sentence to be pronounced, which the Canon itself has passed; and which is by “ that Means already promulged upon every one, as soon as he “ comes within the Obligation of it. In other Cases, a Man “ may do Things worthy of Censure, and yet behave himself so “ warily in them as to escape the Punishment of the Church, “ for want of legal Evidence to convict him. But Excommunication Canonis ligat etiam occulta Delicta. Where the Canon “ gives Sentence, there is no escaping; but the Conscience of “ every Man becomes obliged by it, as soon as ever he is sensible, “ that he has done that which was forbidden, under the Pain of “ such an Excommunication.” Appeal in Behalf of the King’s Supremacy, p. 22.

† Let. III. p. 12, 21.

by the Top Churchmen amongst whom they lived? That JESUS CHRIST and his Apostles were counted the very same? That our dear Brethren in France, who are now bleeding under the Church's Sword, are most confidently reckoned such, by all the Rulers and Priests there? But is it fit that these Hereticks should be thus roughly handled? Or, is it those only, whom you are pleased to call by that Name, who merit these rough Measures? Whenever, Sir, you shall produce your Patent from Heaven, constituting you JUDGE of HERESY, and shall be able authoritatively and infallibly to pronounce what is, and what is not, to be punished as such, then the Church's Sword will, I hope, be put into your Hands. But till then, Sir, 'tis much safer to let it remain sheathed; left under the Notion of Hereticks, you fall upon and roughly handle, Men better than yourself. This has ever been the Case, since the Days of the Apostles, when Ecclesiasticks have presumed authoritatively to draw and use the Church's Sword.

But you add, "'Tis well we can't say your Church has shewn a dividing Spirit, and actually divided itself by an open Schism, from a sound Part of the Catholic Church; that, indeed, would have been an unanswerable Reason for your dissent*." Yes, this also, Sir, we can say, and therefore stand justified by your own Concession. That misguided unhappy Prince Charles I. and his furious Primate Laud, began this fatal Schism, in Complaisance to the Church of Rome, and actually divided the Church of England from a sound Part of the Catholic Church; and the same schismatical Spirit has ever since too generally prevailed in it.

The Dutch, Walloon, and French Churches here in England, were established by Charters from several of our Princes; but Lord Clarendon informs us, "The Bishops growing jealous that the countenan-cing

* Let. III. p. 60.

“ cing another Discipline of the Church here by “ order of State, would at least diminish the Re“ putation and Dignity of the episcopal Govern“ ment,” got them suppressed. “ And that this “ might be sure to look like more than what was “ necessary to the CIVIL Policy of the Kingdom, “ whereas in all former Times, the Ambassadors
 “ and all foreign Ministers of State employed from “ England, into any Parts where the reformed Re- “ ligion was exercised, frequented their Church s,
 “ and gave all possible Countenance to their Pro“ fession; the contrary to this was now with great “ Industry practised, and some Advertisements, if “ not Instructions, given to the Ambassadors there “ (Le Clerc says they were ordered) to forbear any “ extraordinary Commerce with Men of that Pro“ fession. And Lord Scudamore, the last ordinary “ Ambassador there, not only declined going to “ Charenton (the Protestant Church) but furnished
 “ his own Chapel with Wax-candles on the Com“ munion-table, &c. And besides, was careful “ to publish upon all Occasions by himself, and “ those who had the nearest Relation to him, that “ the Church of ENGLAND looked not upon the Hugo- “ nots of FRANCE, as a Part of THEIR COMMU- “ NION; which was likewise too much, and too “ industriously discoursed at Home*.” Behold here, Sir, the Church of England, actually dividing itself from a sound Part of the Catholic Church!
 For such surely you will own the brave Protestants in France, who have born Testimony to the Faith by so great and so glorious a Fight of Afflictions, and sealed it with Seas of Blood.

I would also put you in Mind of another Fact, that seems to have escaped your Reading, or Memory. Upon the Queen of Bobemia's earnest Solicitation with the King her Brother (Charles I. Anno 1634) a Collection was ordered throughout England,

L

for

* Clarend. Hist. Rebel. Vol. III. p. 96, 97.

for the poor persecuted Ministers of the Palatinate, who were banished their Country for their Religion. In the Brief which was granted for this Purpose, was this Clause: Whose Cases are the more to be deplored, because this Extremity is fallen upon them, for their Sincerity and Constancy in the true Religion, which we together with them profess. Archbishop Laud excepted against this Clause, and denied that the Religion of the Palatine Churches was the same with ours, because they were Calvinists, and their Ministers had not Episcopal Ordination. Laud acquainted the King with his Objections. The Clause was ordered to be expunged, and the brave unhappy Palatines were thus publicly disowned by the Governors of the Church, who in all reasonable Construction, must be supposed to know and speak its Sense, and not allowed to be Professors of the same true Religion *. How unchristian and schismatical this!

Of the like Schism was it also guilty, in the Occasional Conformity Act, which took Place in a late Reign. For it thereby FORBID under severe Penalties, all its Members who had any Places of Profit or Trust, to worship or hold Communion with any of the foreign Churches, Dutch, French, &c. in those Kingdoms, in which its Liturgy was not used. And should any Minister of any of the reformed Churches of Scotland, France, Germany, Holland, now come into England, would your Church receive them as Ministers, or admit them as such, to officiate in its public Worship? I presume you know, Sir, she would not. But is not this virtually renouncing their Communion? Nor will you admit even the Lay Members of any of these foreign Churches, to your Communion at the Lord's-supper, except besides what CHRIST has ordered, they will submit also to some Order and Institution of YOUR OWN.

Now

* Neal's Hist. Purit. Vol. II. p. 271.

Now your great Stillingfleet * hath thus determined—“ That which confines, must also divide the Church ; for by that Confinement, a Separation is made betwixt the Parties confined, and the other ; which Separation must be made, by the Party so limiting Christian Communion.” Upon the whole then, 'tis most evident, that your Church has shewn, and does shew, a schismatical and dividing Spirit, has actually divided itself from sound Parts of the universal Church. This therefore you will please to take, as an unanswerable Reason for our dissent.

You must excuse me, Sir, if I think you treat a great deal too severely a worthy Body of Men, our MINISTERS ; when you represent them as “ Persons whom the Faithful, far from being permitted to enter into any Pastoral Relation to them, are not permitted to have any Christian Communion with them ; no, not so much as any intimate unnecessary Acquaintance and Familiarity with them in common Life †.”—And tell me—“ They are not duly ordained to their Office ; that their Administrations are most certainly irregular, an unnecessary and wanton, if not a factious Departure from the primitive Order. And that therefore I cannot depend, at least with so much Assurance, as is requisite to the Peace and Acquiescence of my Mind, that such Ordinances will be blessed to me ‡.”—I have weighed this Matter with a good deal of Attention, and upon the whole am fully satisfied, both from Scripture and Antiquity, that Presbyters have a Right to, and did from the Apostles Times actually ordain. There are two Things, amongst many others, which I beg Leave to offer to your Consideration upon this Point.—

L 2

I. That

* Ration. Account, p. 359.
I. p. 73.

† Let. II. p. 8.

‡ Let.

I. That the Ministers of the Reformed Churches in all foreign Parts, have almost all of them, I apprehend no other than Presbyterian Ordination.

The whole Company of illustrious Protestant Churches of Scotland, France, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Poland, Hungary, Denmark, except perhaps Sweden, &c. have none but Presbyterian Ordination amongst them. For Luther, Calvin, Bercer, Melancton, Bugenbagius, &c. and all the first Reformers and Founders of these Churches, who ordained Ministers amongst them, were themselves Presbyters and no other. And though in some of these Churches, there are Ministers which are called Superintendants, or Bishops, yet these are only primi inter Pares *, the first among Equals; not pretending to any Superiority of ORDER. Having themselves no other Orders, than what either Presbyters gave them, or was given them as Presbyters, they can convey no other to those they ordain †. You are a Gentleman of too great Discernment to urge the stale Pretence, that this is to these Churches a Matter not of Choice but of Necessity and Force. For if they thought episcopal Ordination, I do not say necessary, but even more regular or expedient, could they not with the greatest Ease immediately obtain it? Would not the Church of England, upon the least Intimation of their Willingness to receive it, most readily send them Bishops to supply this Defect? You know, Sir, too well its charitable Disposition, and even Offers of this kind, in the least to suspect it. Whatever Censures you pass then upon the Orders and Administrations of the Ministers amongst us, they equally fall upon all the Reformed Churches

* Account of Denmark, p. 253. † The Danish Church is indeed at this Time governed by Bishops. But they look upon Episcopacy as only an human Institution; and the first Protestant Prelates in that Kingdom, were ordained by Bugenbagius, a meer Presbyter; who by Consequence, could convey no other than a Presbyterian Ordination to their successors ever since. Seekendorf. Hist. Lutheran. Lib. 20. Sect. 1. With Caveat, p. 15.

Churches throughout the whole Protestant World. If ours are an unnecessary and wanton Departure from the primitive Order, theirs are the same. Now it gives me great Pleasure to see myself in such a Crowd of excellent and good Company. And unless you can offer something more demonstrative on this Head, than I have ever yet seen, my Mind will enjoy full Peace as to the Regularity of the Ministration on which I attend. But,

2 It seems a little strange to hear you glorying over us, and consequently over all the foreign Churches, as to this Matter of ORDERS, when these very ORDERS in which you glory, you acknowledge to have derived ONLY from the Church of ROME. A Church which yourselves, in your Homilies, confess to be idolatrous and antichristian, "Not only an Harlot, as the Scripture calleth her, "but also a foul, filthy, old, wither'd Harlot; the "foulest and filthiest that ever was seen.—And that "as it at present is, and hath been for 900 Years, "it is so far from the Nature of the TRUE Church, "that nothing can be more *."—Note, These Homilies every Clergyman publicly declares, and subscribes with his Hand, that they contain a godly and wholesome Doctrine, fit to be read in Churches by Ministers.

Now it is ONLY, Sir, from this filthy, wither'd, old HARLOT, that you derive, by Ordination, your Spiritual Descent. You confess yourselves born of her, as to ecclesiastical Pedigree: And the Sons of this foulest and filthiest of Harlots, you acknowledge as Brethren, by admitting their Orders as regular and valid; whereas those of the Protestant Churches you reject. If a Priest, ordained with all the superstitious and idolatrous Rites of this antichristian and false Church, comes over to the Church of England; you admit him as a BROTHER, duly ordained; without obliging him to pass under that Ceremony

* Vid. Homilies, p. 162, 295.

Ceremony again: But if a Minister of the Reform'd Churches joins himself to you, you consider him as but a Layman, an unordain'd Person, and oblige him to receive Orders according to your Form. How, Sir, is it possible to account for this Procedure? Can that Church, which is no true Church, impart valid and true Orders? Can a filthy old Harlot produce any other than a spurious and corrupt Breed? Will you rest the Validity and Regularity of your Administrations on your receiving the sacerdotal Character from the Bishops and Popes of the Romish Church? Many, if not most, of whom, were Men of most corrupt and infamous Lives; Men, who were so far from being regular and valid MINISTERS in the Church of JESUS CHRIST, that they were not so much as regular or real MEMBERS of it at all; and therefore could not possibly, duly, or regularly OFFICIATE therein; consequently, had no Power to communicate or convey Orders or Offices in the CHRISTIAN Church. Whatever Offices they convey'd therefore, are at best doubtful and suspicious; if not absolutely null, irregular, and void — So that really your own Orders, if strictly examin'd may minister great Doubt and Disquietude of Mind.

If Charity then were silent; Prudence, methinks, should loudly dictate, that you speak gently as to the Authority and Orders of our Ministers, when you know it is in their Power so strongly to retort. It was therefore surely not wise, Sir, as well as extremely unkind, to set them up as Objects of public Odium and Avoidance; and to admonish “every good Man not to have any intimate or unnecessary Acquaintance with them, or Familiarity in common Life.” But — BLESSED, our Lord hath said, are ye, when Men shall hate you, and SEPARATE YOU from their COMPANY, and CAST OUT your Names as EVIL, for the Son of Man's sake: REJOICE ye in that Day, and leap for joy; for behold, your Reward in Heaven is great *!

You very strenuously contest what you call “one of the favourite and fundamental Principles of the Dissention, namely, That every Lay-Christian has a Right to chuse his own Pastor †.” A Right so evidently founded on Reason, Scripture, and the undoubted Practice of the primitive Church, and so generally acknowledg’d by all the learned of your own Communion, that I cannot but a little wonder at the Alertness with which you make your Attack upon it. The Charge given to the Christian People—To take heed what they hear—to beware of false Prophets—not to believe every Spirit, but to try the Spirits—incontestibly proves them to have a Right of Judgment and of Choice, relating to this Matter: And that this Right, which God has given them, it is their Duty to use.

When an Apostle was to be chosen in the Room of Judas the Traitor, the whole Body of the Disciples were applied to on that Occasion, Acts i. who APPOINTED by common Suffrage, two from their whole Number to be Candidates for that Office, § 23 “The Election, you say, was evidently made by God †.” But was it not as evidently made by the People also? If the choice of ONE from the two be acknowledg’d to be the Act of GOD; was not the Choice of these two, from amongst the whole Number, as much the Act of the People? The People then were actually concern’d in that Choice. “The seven Deacons, Acts vi. you say, were but presented or recommended by the Brethren §:” But let the sacred Story judge—Wherefore, Brethren, LOOK YE OUT amongst you, seven Men of honest Report: And the Saying pleased the whole Multitude, and they CHOSE Stephen and Philip, &c.—Can Words be more express?

That

* Luke vi. 22, 23.
§ Ibid.

† Let. II. p. 6.

‡ Ibid. p. 8.

That Bishops and Pastors were chosen in the ancient Church by the Suffrage of the People, the Evidence is so strong, as greatly to try the Countenance of the Person who disputes it. Ignatius, if you will allow him genuine, says πρεπον εστιν υμιν ως εκκλησιας Θεα χειροτονησαι επισκοπον *. It becomes you as the Church of God to CHUSE a Bishop. Alexander was made Bishop of Jerusalem, by the Compulsion or CHOICE of the Members of that Church. Upon the Death of Anterus, Bishop of Rome, All the People met together in the Church to CHUSE a Successor—and they all took Fabianus and placed him in the episcopal Chair. So Cornelius, his Successor, was ELECTED by the Suffrage of the Clergy and Laity. Cyprian often acknowledges he was made Bishop of Carthage, Favore Plebis—Populi universi Suffragio, &c. By the FAVOUR and VOTE of all the People †. And expressly says, Plebs maximè habet Potestatem, vel eligendi dignos Sacerdotes, vel indignos recusandi. The chief Power of CHUSING worthy Ministers, and of REJECTING the unworthy, belongs to THE PEOPLE. I produce no further Evidence upon a Point so incontestible, but the Words of a learned Brother of your own, high enough for Church Power, “That the People had Votes in the Choice of Bishops all must grant; and it can be only IGNORANCE and FOLLY that pleads the contrary ‡.”

“ You think a Man provides very well for his Soul, who submits himself to the Instructions, and devoutly attends all the Administrations of an able and orthodox Minister, by whomsoever provided. And it will be confessed, you suppose, that the King, and Bishops, Lord-Chancellor, Nobility, and Gentry, who are our greater Patrons, are more competent Judges of the Abilities and Orthodoxy of Clergymen, and of their Fitness for particular Stations, than the common Run of Men,

* Epist. ad Philad. the Primitive Church, p. 46.

† Vid. Constitut. and Discipline of the Primitive Church, p. 46.

‡ Locke on Church Power.

‘ Men, especially *the Vulgar.’ But imagine yourself, Sir, for a Moment on the other Side the Water, preaching this wholesome Doctrine to the good Protestants in France. If Kings, Bishops, &c. have Authority and Right to appoint Pastors to the People, then the People are Bound to receive and attend the Pastors they send. But if this be right in one Country (I must again put you in Mind) ’tis right also in another; unless one Kingdom can produce a Warrant, or Charter from Heaven giving it such Authority, which other Kingdoms have not. If this Doctrine be Truth in England, ’tis Truth also in France. The brave Protestants then have rashly and unwarrantably withdrawn themselves from the Pastors, whom their King and Bishops had set over them; they ought to return, and submit to their established Guides, and not proudly attempt to find Ministers more able and orthodox, than those their Superiors have solemnly deputed to that Trust. — Will you stand, Sir, to this Doctrine? If not, you must allow every Man a Right to judge for himself.

To the common and just Plea—“That every “ Man has as good Right to chuse his own Pastor, “ to whom to commit the Care of his Soul, as to “ chuse his Lawyer or Physician, with whom he “ intrusts his Body or Estate,” you reply:
 “ Physicians in many Places are provided by Go“ vernors for those who are sick, as in Chelsea, and “ other Hospitals, whilst no body dreams of any “ Ineroachment upon their natural Rights †.” But tell me, Sir, would you not complain, if whenever you were sick, you were OBLIGED to accept of this public Provision; and MUST commit yourself to the Care of those Gentlemen of the Faculty who officiated in the Hospital, supposing you lived near it, whatever Notion you had of their Fidelity or Skill? Or should a Physician be provided, and established by Law in each Parish of this Kingdom, would you not call it an Infringement of your natural Right, to be obliged to call him in (however ignorant or uncapable you took him to be) and to commit your Health to his Care; especially if there was at Hand another, licensed by Authority, whom you thought to have better Judgment, and from whose Prescripts you had received frequent and signal Relief? I am persuaded in this Case, you would strongly and very justly complain of the Restraint. But every Man surely, is as capable, and has as undoubted a Right to Judge and to chuse what Minister to attend for the Edification of his Soul, as what Physician to use for the Recovery of his Health.
 M blished

* Lowth on Church Power, p. 9.

† Ibid. p. 13.

“No, you reply, there is a Difference in the “two Cases; your Pastors are your Guides and “Governors, to whom you owe Subjection in spiri“tual Things: And it is not, I think, quite so “reasonable to challenge to yourselves the chusing
 “of these, as of the other who have no Authority?
 “over you*.” But I beseech you, good Sir, who MADE them my GOVERNORS? Who GAVE them this Rule and Authority over me? Does every gay STRIPLING, just emancipated from the College, that can get (and there are various Ways of getting, you know Sir, not fit to be here mentioned) to be inducted into a good Living, does he, I ask, thence-forward become GOVERNOR of all the Souls dwelling in his Parish, to whom they owe SUBJECTION in spiritual Things? What, must all the learned, the wise, the grave and experienced Persons residing in that Parish, consider the enrobed YOUTH as their spiritual RULER, vested with AUTHORITY over them, in Things pertaining to GOD, to CONscience, and to Eternity! Yes, he has AUTHORITY, you say, over me, I OWE him spiritual Subjection.
 But how far, Sir, does the Authority of my young RULER

RULER extend? Must I believe whatever he tells me, because He hath said it; or, do whatever he commands me, because He hath enjoined it; or, follow my spiritual Guide wherever He shall lead me, without considering, examining, and judging for myself, whither the Course tends? And if I happen to think he is leading me wrong, must I still obey and submit to my ghostly DIRECTOR, and trust GOD with the Event? Am I to deliver myself up ENTIRELY, or only a little, and in Part, to his sacerdotal Authority? And must I see Things in Religion, only and always by the Eyes of my Overseer, or ought I not also sometimes, at least, to see with my own? Will you please to inform me also, whether as my young GOVERNOR undertakes to judge for me now, he will also undertake to be judged for me hereafter; and to be damned for me too, if I happen to go astray, by going as he directs?—

A certain Nobleman, not half a Century ago, got his Huntsman inducted into a good Living; and from the Care of his Hounds, advanced him to the Priesthood and to the Cure of Souls. Now from the Time of his Investiture with this new Character and Office, he became the GOVERNOR and GUIDE, it seems, of all the Souls in his Parish, and they OWED him Subjection in spiritual Things. If a Lock then, a Newton, or even his Lordship himself who gave him the Living, had dwelt within its Bounds, they ought reverently to regard HIM as their spiritual GOVERNOR and DIRECTOR; and to submit themselves to him, as having THE RULE over them, and watching for their Souls. — But are these Claims to be vouched, or is this Doctrine to be preached, in this Age of Liberty and Light? Let them for the Honour of CHRISTIANITY, be eternally suppressed.—I am forced then to return, Sir, to the Point whence I set out, and to acknowledge the Right which every Man has, in Things of Religion, to call no Man upon Earth MASTER, but to examine and judge, and chuse for himself.

As to the Manner in which the Choice of our Ministers is conducted, against which you except, I believe no Elections of any kind, are transacted with greater Fairness and Equity than these. And the Nature of the Thing speaks, that thus it must be. For ours being Assemblies formed only by Consent, and supported only by voluntary Contributions of their Members, any oppressive or iniquitous Management would throw them presently into Confusion, disband and break them up. To your Question—Who are the Electors? And to all the Objections you raise on that Head—I reply, by praying you to turn your Eyes, Sir, to a British Parliament, or to an English Convocation, and tell me who are the Electors? And how is the Choice conducted? But if both the Parliament and Convocation, notwithstanding the enormous Disproportion and Inequality of the Electors, be yet accounted and gloried in as the REPRESENTATIVE of the Nation; and you compliment your Fellow Britons upon their invaluable Privilege in being ruled by Laws of their own making, and in paying no Taxes, but what themselves by their Representatives, have consented to levy.—Your Exceptions to our Elections will be presently withdrawn, and you will still give us Leave to glory, as possessing this ancient undoubted Right of the Christian Church.

But 'tis Time, Sir, that I now release your Patience and Attention, having strained, I fear, both to their utmost Extent. There are many other Parts of your Letters as liable to Remark, as those I have taken Notice of, but I would not be tedious.—I might have expostulated with you largely on your reading, as Parts of your public Worship, the fabulous and gross Legends of Bel and the Dragon, of Judith and Susannah; and above all, the magical Romance of receiving a fair Virgin from the Inchantments of her infernal Lover, and conjuring away the amorous Devil Asmodeus, by the Fumes of a Fish's Liver— Is it for the Honour of the Christian Name, think you, Sir, to have such spurious and idle Tales read solemnly in our Churches (if solemnly they can be read) and made Parts of our public Worship? What will an Unbeliever think, when present at such Worship! When he sees such Things not only bound up with the HOLY SCRIPTURES, but commanded to be read as such in the Order of the Common Prayer! Will it not heighten his Contempt of the Credulity of Believers, and establish his Prejudices against the History, the Miracles, and Doctrines of CHRIST?—

I might also have asked you, Sir, to what Oriental DEITY you pay your Devoirs, when from the North, the South, the West, the Worshippers in your Church on certain solemn Occasions, turn reverently towards the EAST, and make their peculiar Honours? To whom, Sir, I beseech you, are these peculiar Honours paid? Not surely to the immense, omnipresent JEHOVAH; he is an INFINITE Spirit, you know, alike present in all Places; not more confined to one Quarter of the Heavens, than to another: To represent him as being so, is to dishonour and offend him, to detract from the Glory of his Immensities or Omnipresence, and to give Men very false and unworthy Notions of GOD. This worshipping towards the EAST, is not, I think, ordered by any Canon of your Church, which is now generally received; but 'tis (if I mistake not) its common and prevailing Practice. I should be glad to be informed, for I assure you, Sir, I am quite ignorant, what Shadow of Ground, either from Reason or Scripture, you can possibly pretend, for this unaccountable Superstition, for such you must allow me at present to think it. If you say, the Worship is paid toward the ALTAR, this seems to make the Matter more inexplicable still. For what is there in the ALTAR to make it a proper Object of religious Veneration? Indeed, whilst the Bread GOD was upon it, the People who believed it to be the very Body of CHRIST, did well to pay their Homage to it: But now that IDOL is taken thence, I cannot for my Life perceive, what Shadow of Divinity Protestants see in the ALTAR, that they should give it religious Honours.

As much, Sir, am I at a Loss, when endeavouring to reconcile to Reason and good Sense, another of your additional Beauties and Splendors of public Worship, viz. Bowing at the Name of JESUS. As for that Passage of the Apostle, Philip. ii. 10. That at the Name of JESUS every Knee shall bow—the learned Men of your Church, I presume, universally disclaim it, as in the least authorizing or injoining this Practice. Your great Dr. *Nichols vindicates your Church from such an uncouth and ridiculous Abuse of this Text, and affirms, that it is not once mentioned in any of your ecclesiastical Constitutions, as to this Matter; and adds, that you are not so DULL as to think, that those Words can be rigorously applied to this Purpose. But if this Text be acknowledged not in the least to authorize or require this Act of Worship, what Shadow of Argument, Sir, can you possibly bring, either from Reason or Scripture, which shall so much as seem to support it? Why then does your Church command (Canon XVIII.) that when in Time of divine Service the LORD JESUS shall be mentioned, duly and lowly Reverence shall be done by all Persons present? Is not this, Sir, by your own Confession, an Act of Will Worship, a Commandment, an Invention of Men, not in the least founded upon the Authority and Will of God!

But why, Sir, must this lowly Reverence be made at the Name of JESUS, and not at the Name of CHRIST, at the Name IMMANUEL, JEHOVAH, or GOD? Is there not in all these, something at least as venerable venerable and worthy of peculiar Honours; indeed something much more so, than there is in the Name of JESUS; a Name not at all peculiar to our blessed Saviour, but which was common to him with a great many other Men?—But if this peculiar Reverence must be made at the Name of JESUS, why not at all Times whenever 'tis mentioned, at least in public Worship? Why in the Creed only, which is but a human Composition, and not every Time 'tis read from the Gospels and Epistles, which were indited by the HOLY GHOST? But I press no further a Point, which I believe few of your own Church think capable of a rational and solid Defence.—

I have now finished my Reply, Sir, to the Letters with which you have publickly honoured me, and have with Freedom set before you, the chief Difficulties and Objections which keep me in a State of Separation from your Church. If by calm and fair Argument, you can shew my Objections to be futilous and weak, I shall with Pleasure become your Convert, and readily obey the Calls of worldly Interest and Honour.

But as you, Sir, have the Dignities, Emoluments, and Powers of this World on your Side, you must give us Leave to think, at least till we are better taught, that we have TRUTH on our's. TRUTH, which is GREAT, and will finally prevail. Nor am I, Sir, without Hope, that, upon an impartial Review of the Merits of the Cause betwixt us, omnipotent TRUTH may even bend your Mind towards us; and dispose you, like one who has since had the Honour of being called the great Apostle, to join yourself to those you once censured and despised.

What though we have not the Honours and Profits of this World to draw you to our Communion, are we ever the less like to be the genuine Apostolic Church of a crucified, despised, insulted JESUS for this? Hath he not expressly told us, that His Kingdom

Kingdom is not of this World *.—That whoever will come after him, must deny himself, and take up his Cross †.—That not many mighty and noble are called? ‡—Are not the Witnesses to TRUTH, to Prophecy, clothed in Sackcloth §, till the promised Times of Refreshing come from the Appearance of CHRIST? Is not the PURE Apostolic Church, the true Spouse of CHRIST, represented in the Revelation as a Woman driven into the Wilderness, || i. e. in an afflicted and forsaken State; whilst the corrupt and antichristian Church (the apostate Church of Rome) is caressed and enriched by the Kings of the Earth ¶, glittering in all the Pomp and Splendor of this World, wantoning in Luxury, Power, and Wealth? Does TRUTH need the Charms of earthly Grandeur to recommend it, or the Force of civil Power to spread or to establish it? Was it thus the blessed GOSPEL was at first propagated, made its Way, and prevailed over all the Earth? No, worldly Grandeur and Power have generally, you well know, Sir, if not evermore, been extremely injurious to it; have enervated, obstructed, under Pretence of improving, have greatly corrupted and depraved it, and have robbed it of its native Beauty, and Glory, and Strength.

High Dignities and Preferments, Mitres and Thrones, Lordships and large Revenues, have a mighty Force, you will own Sir, to bias and pervert the Mind, in its Searches after TRUTH. These are not the Means which the GOD of TRUTH uses, to draw the Mind to it; but you know they are the Means, which the great ENEMY is wont to use, to seduce the Mind from it. 'Tis therefore, I apprehend, Sir, no Presumption at all in Favour of any Church, that it shines with all the Glory of worldly Honours and Wealth. This the prophetic Scriptures very clearly describe as

* John xviii. 36. † Matt. xvi. 24. ‡ 1 Cor. i. 26.
§ Rev. xi. 3. || Ibid. xii. 14, ¶ Ibid. xvii. 4, 5—13—17.

as the State of the false Church, whilst the true Church of JESUS CHRIST, his genuine and faithful Followers, are to be a little, despised Flock: A SECT every where spoken against: In the World it is to have Tribulation, till the expected happy Period, when it shall be the FATHER'S good Pleasure to give them THE KINGDOM.

Let not then the low Estate of our Interest, as to the present World, at all frighten or discourage you, Sir, from casting in your Lot amongst us. The World passeth away, and all its Glories and Pomp will soon vanish like a Dream before the descending Son of GOD, whom we stedfastly expect.—And then to be found faithful; and to have stuck with unshaken LOYALTY to the ONLY Lawgiver, Lord, and King of the Church.—To have denied ourselves any worldly Honours, Preferments or Profits out of Conscience towards Him.—To have been separated from Mens Company, cast out and reproach'd, because we would not make a Sacrifice of our Virtue and Integrity to the Applause of the Many, or the Favour of the Great.—Will yield divine Comfort, and procure immortal Honours in the everlasting Kingdom of GOD. Pardon me, Sir, if I am here acting a little out of Character, and seem to invade your Office: For I am extremely ambitious of engaging so ingenious a Gentleman amongst us.

These, Sir, are the Prospects with which Dissenters support themselves under all their Disadvantages with regard to the present World. They remember WHOSE Disciples and Followers they are—WHO it is that hath said, IN VAIN do they worship me, teaching for Doctrine the COMMANDMENTS OF MEN.—WHO hath strictly charg'd them to call NO MAN upon Earth MASTER, because ONE only is their MASTER, even CHRIST.—And, finally, WHO it is that hath promised, that if any Man shall forsake House, or Brethren, or Sisters, or Children, or Lands, for his Names Sake; he shall receive an hundred fold; and shall inherit EVERLASTING LIFE.

I now conclude, Sir, by beseeching you very carefully to remember, that the Controversy betwixt us depends absolutely and entirely upon the Decision of this single Point.—Is there any OTHER Lawgiver or King in the Church of GOD, to whose Authority and Command, as to Things of Religion, CHRISTIANS are bound to submit, BESIDES JESUS CHRIST? Or is there not?—If there be no other Lawgiver, besides JESUS CHRIST, no other King, no other Authority to whose Decrees in Point of Doctrine, and to whose Injunctions in Point of Worship, CHRISTIANS are obliged, and ought to submit: then the DISSENTERS in every impartial Judgment, will be, must be justified: then They act right: then they ought to be commended, and will surely be rewarded for adhering loyally and firmly to the ONE only KING and LORD of the Church: And for faithfully Opposing the Claims of any OTHER Power; and for Refusing Obedience to the Injunctions of any OTHER Lawgiver; and the Decisions of any OTHER Judge; who hath made other Articles of Faith, other Terms of Communion, other Rites of Worship, BESIDES and ABOVE those which CHRIST himself has made.

For to illustrate the Case.—If any foreign Prince shall pretend to make Laws, and prescribe Rules of Action to the People of these Realms, and shall exact Obedience to his Injunctions from the Subjects of King GEORGE; I ask, does not your Allegiance to HIM, your ONLY Sovereign, require and oblige you to make your Protest against any such Laws, and to refuse your Obedience to them? But is not the Church a Province in which CHRIST ALONE is King, as much as these Realms are the Dominions ONLY of King GEORGE? If any human Potentate then shall rise up in the Church, and shall claim claim Authority and Dominion over the Consciences of CHRIST'S Subjects; Authority as to Things of Faith, to decree what HE hath not decreed; and Dominion as to Things of Worship, to appoint Rites and Institutions which HE hath not appointed; I ask you, Sir, does not your Allegiance to CHRIST, your ONLY Sovereign, require and oblige you to enter your Protest against such usurp'd Authority, and to refuse your Obedience to it?

This, Sir, I repeat it, because I earnestly intreat your peculiar Attention to it, is the essential and important Point upon which the Controversy betwixt us entirely turns. If you can prove, that there is ANOTHER Lawgiver, ANOTHER Judge, ANOTHER King in the Church besides JESUS CHRIST, to whose Authority we are to submit in Things of Religion; and that the King and Parliament of these Realms are this Lawgiver, and this Judge; you will then at once gain your Point; and by that single Blow you will entirely overthrow the dissenting Interest and Churches, We will immediately become your Converts; and flock into the Establiſh'd Church.

But if you cannot prove this Point; you then yield the Cause to us; you then, in effect, own us justified before the World; and you leave us to indulge the rational and reviving Hope of being acknowledg'd by our great LAWGIVER, at his Return into the World, as his loyal and obedient Subjects; of being advanced to peculiar Honours and Dignities in his Kingdom, as we have here suffer'd on Account of our Duty and Allegiance to him; and of receiving from our JUDGE, before Angels and Men, that Sentence of Applause—Well done GOOD and FAITHFUL Servants, enter ye into the Joy of your LORD.

I have only to add, Sir, that this Principle—That CHRIST is the only Lawgiver and King in his Church; and that no Man, no Body of Men upon Earth, have any Authority to make Laws, or to prescribe Things in Religion, which shall oblige the Consciences of his Subjects ; is the grand, the only Principle, upon which the UNITY, the PURITY, and the PEACE of the Christian Church can possibly subsist. Take away this, and you let in endless Discords and Corruptions into it : You split it into Parties : You make CHRISTIANITY one Thing, in one Country ; a quite different, in another. In England you make it wear an Episcopal Form : In Scotland, a Presbyterian : In France, a Popish : In Denmark, a Lutheran : In Prussia, a Calvinist : In Russia, a Grecian, &c.—But ought these Things to be so ? Is CHRIST divided ? Is this the UNITY of his one beautiful, well-compacted Body ? Can these be all genuine apostolick CHRISTIANITY ?—Rather, are either of them so ?—When the Powers of this World take upon them authoritatively to interpret and prescribe in Things of Religion, which are CHRIST'S Kingdom and Province, they act beyond their Sphere : They invade the Throne of another Prince : The certain Consequence of which is Confusions, Separations ; the Unity of the Church is broken, the Rights of Christians violated, a Gate open'd for innumerable Superstitions and Inventions to enter, and mingle with the pure Doctrines of CHRIST ; and hence necessarily flow Schisms, Emulations, Contentions, and every evil Work.—

I beseech you, Sir, by the Mercies of GOD ; and for the Honour of CHRISTIANITY ; and by the Allegiance you owe your ONLY Lawgiver JESUS CHRIST, to weigh these Things in an impartial and unbiass'd Mind. May his Spirit of TRUTH judge betwixt us upon the Point, and teach us his Will ! To his Influence I commend you, Sir, and am,

With great Sincerity,

Your very Humble Servant,

A DISSENTER.

POSTSCRIPT.

Containing Remarks on the DEFENCE of your Three Letters.

THE above Letter being sent to the Press before your Defence, &c. was advertised; its Publication was staid, till I had seen what Occasion it might give, either to retract or support what was offer'd in my first Letter. You seem moved at its pretending to be an Answer to your three Letters, when so small a Part of them is consider'd therein: And with Airs quite suitable to the Cause you are pleading, ecclesiastical Authority, give me to understand, that your taking any notice of this Performance is to be consider'd as a Condescension to which you were not oblig'd, and which I had no Right to expect from you. But, pray recollect: What was the avow'd Design and Purport of your Letters? Was it not to refute the great and popular Objections of the Dissenters, and to bring me over to your Church? But upon Reading your Letters, I found you had scarce touch'd upon the principal Objection which kept me from your Church. Was it not then my Part to state the Objection to you, and set it in its full Light? As unask'd, you had taken on you to be my Instructor in this Affair; had I not a Right to lay my Difficulty before you, and to demand your Solution of it? What, must I confine myself to the Pleas which you had seen fit to cook up for the Dissenters; and if I presume to offer others, will you magisterially call them Ramblings, in which you are not obliged to follow? Very pleasant indeed!

Here therefore I now put in my Claim, Sir, and give you to understand, that I expect your plain and full Answer to the several Objections against your establish'd Forms presented in the above Letter: Some of which, tho' you knew them to be of great Weight with Dissenters, you dextrously avoided bringing into the Debate. To this you are most clearly and indispensibly obliged by the Province you have taken on you. If there be any Parts of the Liturgy indefensible and absurd, this (1.) condemns your own CONFORMITY, who not only declare, but solemnly subscribe your unfeigned Assent and Consent to ALL and EVERY THING contained in and prescribed by the Book of Common Prayer, &c. And, (2.) it justifies the SEPARATION, by proving it a severe and cruel Thing to cast out above 2000 of our Ministers from the Church for not declaring and subscribing this unfeigned Assent and Consent, &c. which began the Separation.

This being premised, we come to the Point of Church Authority, upon which the Controversy turns. Here I observe, with pleasure, that you are for mutilating your XXth Article, ridding your Hands of one Part, and holding only to the other. "*The Church's Authority in Matters of Faith, you have nothing, you say, to do with ."—But this, you know, your Church claims as much as a Power to make Ceremonies; and against this Part of its Claim I as much excepted as against the other. When you declare therefore you have nothing to do with it, you mean, if I take you right, you will not pretend to undertake its Defence. This to be sure is wise: No Man upon Earth being able to defend it. But then, is it not extremely hard that your Church should still inflexibly maintain its Claim to this Authority: Should force its Clergy to subscribe and acknowledge this this Claim; and keep Dissenters from a Share in those Emoluments, “after which, you say, they languish,” partly for refusing their solemn Subscription to so unreasonable a Claim?

“By the Church’s Power to decree Rites and Ceremonies, is meant, a Right in the Pastors and Governors thereof, to ordain and appoint such Things, so as to make it, ordinarily, the Duty of the People to conform themselves to them. *”— You have artfully declined to say, whom you understand by its Pastors and Governors; but from other Passages† it is evident you mean the Bishops and Clergy; for the Civil Magistrate, you declare, has no such Power at all ‡. Now,

1. That the Clergy have no Power nor Authority at all of this kind over the Laity, I proved beyond all doubt from the express Command of our great Lawgiver.—Call no Man upon Earth MASTER; ONE is YOUR MASTER, even CHRIST, and all ye are Brethren §. The Princes of the Gentiles exercise Dominion and Authority over them, but it SHALL NOT BE SO amongst you ||. What have you said in Answer to these Texts? Not a single Word. You leave them to stand in full Force against you: And without one Text of Scripture to support this Authority of the Clergy over the Laity, you go on to treat it as a Thing indisputable and allow’d: And labour hard in raising a pompous Structure upon the Sand. What you say as to the Kiss of Charity, has been consider’d above, p. 29. Should even this be allow’d to be a merely ecclesiastical and prudential Institution, it will by no means establish the Authority you claim for your Pastors and Governors; the Orders, Decrees, and Appointments of those Times being by the common Consent and Suffrage of the whole Church; in which the Laity had an equal, if not a far greater, Share of Authority than the Clergy ¶. But,

2. Your

* Def. p. 10. † Lett. II. p. 14. ‡ Def. p. 18. § Mat. xxiii. 8, 9. ¶ Mat. xx. 25. ¶¶ Vid. Exam. of the Codex, p. 120.

2. Your lodging this Power in the Pastors and Governors absolutely contradicts the Articles themselves. For as the XXth Art. claims it for the Church: So the immediately preceding Art. (XIX.) expressly defines what it means by THE CHURCH, viz. A Congregation of faithful Men where the pure Word of God is preach'd.—'Tis to the whole Body of the Faithful then that this Power of decreeing Ceremonies, if any such there be, belongs: How then do you presume, Sir, to wrest it from them, and to vest it solely in the Clergy? And,

3. When you add, that to this Right of the Pastors to decree Ceremonies, it is the Peoples Duty, ORDINARILY, to conform themselves: The Word, ordinarily, seems thrown in as a Mist to darken the Point; a seasonable Salvo to which to retreat when you feel yourself push'd. What mean you, Sir, by ordinarily? How shall the People know when it is, and when it is not, their Duty to submit to these Injunctions of their spiritual Governors? Are the People themselves to judge, always to judge, of the Fitness and Expedience of the injoin'd Ceremonies; or are they not? If they are not, then they are absolutely to resign themselves to the Direction of their Governors; which is palpable and gross Popery, and leads directly to Rome. But if they are, then the Babel of Church-Authority is at once over-thrown: For then the Authority resides no longer in the Decrees of the Governors, but in the Judgment of the People. 'Tis the Judgment they form of them, which alone makes them binding upon them or not. Of their Number, whether they are too many; and of their Nature whether they are superstitious, foppish, and vain, you seem sometimes to allow, the People are to judge: But if they have a Right to judge, they have a Right also to act in Consequence of that Judgment; and to withdraw from those Churches where such Ceremonies are injoin'd, as they think foppish and vain; and and to join themselves to others, where they think the Worship of God perform'd in a more scriptural and proper Manner. So then, the solemn Parade of Church-Authority, you see, turns out a mere Shadow. 'Tis an Authority to command, which no one is under Obligation to obey. This Power of making Ceremonies must be either limited or unlimited: If it be not unlimited (which you seem to disavow) Pray † what is it limits it? What prescribes its bounds, beyond which it shall not pass? If the Church has Power to ordain five Ceremonies, why not ten? And if ten, why not more? Who shall pretend to say how far it may go?

Your Illustration “as to the King's Injunctions,” &c. * will not reach the Case; because the Constitution and Laws of England empower the King to make such Injunctions: But you have not yet proved, and I presume never will prove, that the Constitution of the Christian Church empowers its Pastors to decree Ceremonies and Rites.

You ask †—“Where does the Church pretend to be alone the proper Judge, or where disallow private Christians to judge for themselves in these Matters?” I will tell you, Sir, in its XXXIVth Article, which decrees, that whosoever thro' his PRIVATE JUDGMENT, willingly and purposely doth openly break the Traditions and Ceremonies of the Church, which be not repugnant to the Word of God, and be ordain'd by common Authority, ought to be rebuked openly (that others may fear to do the like) as he that offendeth against the common Order of the Church, and hurteth the AUTHORITY of the MAGISTRATE. Private Judgment, you see, is here forbid to oppose the common Order of the Church, and the Authority of the Magistrate; and when it presumes so to do, is to be censured and punished for it.

O

“ The

* Def. p. 14.

† P. 13.

“ The Church of France, and the Church of Rome, you acknowledge, to be as much possessed of this Power as the Church of England: But it does not follow, that because they have a Power to decree Rites, that they may therefore decree Fopperies and *Superstitions.”—But by what Mark, I pray, do you distinguish betwixt Rites and Fopperies; betwixt Ceremonies and Superstitions? The Consecrating of Ground in the Church of England is a Rite, but the Consecrating of Water in the Church of France is a Foppery. — The Priest’s signing the baptised Infant with the Sign of the Cross, in Token that it shall confess a crucified Christ, is a significant Rite: But his putting his Finger into its Ear, in Token that it shall hear the Word of GOD; or Salt upon its Tongue, in Token that its Speech shall be season’d with Salt, are intolerable Fopperies.—Can you help blessing yourself, Sir, in the Refinement and Delicacy of such Distinctions! — The Bowings to the Altar, bowing at the Name of Jesus, Kneeling at the Communion, Sponsors, Surplice, Hoods, Lawn Sleeves, and every thing of this kind used in the Church of England, are edifying and decent Ceremonies “ of clear Signification and indisputable Use †:” But the Slippers and Staff, Knocking on the Breast, Elevations, Crossings, Gesticulations, Sprinklings with holy Water, &c. practised in the Church of Rome, are ridiculous Superstitions — How happy to have Governors thus spiritually gifted; able to distinguish betwixt Things that differ!

“ My Suggestion, that by the mere Concessions of your XXth Article Thousands of Profelytes have been gain’d from you to the Church of Rome, is rash, you say, and groundless: Nor do you believe I can name one who was ever gain’d by it ‡.”—I will give you two Instances almost equal to a thousand. The first shall be the renowned Chillingworth, who was gain’d to the Church of Rome, chiefly by this Argument, viz.

* Def. p. 11.

† P. 11.

‡ P. 15. The

The Necessity of an infallible living Judge of Controversies *: Which is but a different Expression for the Authority of the Church in Matters of Faith. Now if this Argument was so plausible as to vanquish, and lead captive so great a Master of Reason, Multitudes of weaker Minds have, no doubt, fallen by its Force. The other shall be King James II, of whom Bishop Burnet says, he gave me this Account of the Change of his Religion.—“ All due “ Care was taken to form him to a strict Adhe“ rence to the Church: Amongst other Things “ much was said of the AUTHORITY of the Church,
“ and of the Tradition from the Apostles in sup“ port of Episcopacy. So when he came to observe “ that there was more Reason to submit to the Ca“ tholic Church, than to one particular Church; and “ that other Traditions might be taken on her “ Word, as well as Episcopacy was received amongst “ us, he thought the Step was not great, but that “ it was very reasonable to go over to the Church “ of Rome †.” See how dangerous a Weapon is this same Church-Authority: And how capable of being used to the infinite Prejudice of the Protestant Cause!

“ But granting this Authority of the Church,
“ (i. e. of its Pastors and Governors, its Bishops “ and Clergy) How, you ask, would our Refor- “ mation be overthrown by it; which was not car“ ried on in Opposition to Authority, but with the “ Concurrence of all the Authority in the Nation ‡?”
Strange, Sir, you should so soon forget! Did not
I remember you that the Reformation under Queen Elizabeth, and the present Forms of Worship prescribed in the Common Prayer, were strongly opposed by every Bishop in the Kingdom; and the Convocation then sitting, were so far from having any hand in it, that they presented to the Parliament

* Vid. Life of Chillingworth, p. 7. † Burnet's Hist. of his own Times, Octav. Edit, Vol. I. p. 194. ‡ Def. p. 15.

ment several Propositions in favour of Popery, directly contrary to the Proceedings of the Parliament? The Civil Magistrate, you affirm, *has no Power at all, nor Authority in these Matters. They are the Pastors and Governors of the Church, in whom alone it is lodged. But behold, these Pastors and Governors were zealous for the old Religion! They argued, voted, petitioned strenuously for it, and against the R formation. The R formation then, upon your Principles, is built upon a wrong Bottom: Was carried on, not in Concurrence with, but in avow'd Opposition to, all the Authority of the Nation. How justly might I here return your own ungenerous Compliment, It was great Rashness (too great in Conscience) if indeed it was not TREACHERY and PLAYING BOOTY, to set the Protestant Cause upon so sandy a Foundation†. Your Principles, if digested into proper Form, will stand thus.—“ The Church hath Power and Authority “ to decree Ceremonies and Rites: But by the “ Church, observe, I understand, not the King and “ Parliament, not the Civil Magistrate, who have “ no Power at all relating to these Matters; but “ the Bishops only and Clergy, who are appointed “ and called of God to be its Pastors and Governors:
 “ But remember, my Countrymen, the “ Common Prayer, and Forms of Worship now “ established and used amongst you, were introduced “ into this Church, not by the Authority, no, “ nor yet by the Consent of the Pastors and Governors “ whom God hath set over it, but in direct “ Opposition to them. It was a Change brought about “ entirely by the Civil Magistrate, who had no Authority “ to effect it. It was therefore really no “ other than an ecclesiastical Rebellion, an unjustifiable “ Revolt from the only rightful Rulers and “ Governors of the Church in its spiritual Concerns.”——

This,

* Def. p. 18.

† P. 19.

This, Sir, is the plain Language and Tendency of your Principles; though I know you have been so wise as to contradict them again, by allowing, “*that if Church Governors will not come into such Reformation, as is according to GOD’s Word, but obstinately persevere in maintaining their sinful Errors and Corruptions, the People may reform themselves.”—But this Concession overthrows your whole Scheme of Church Authority, makes THE PEOPLE the supreme and ultimate Judges, as to Points of Faith and Rites of Worship; brings down the Decrees of the most numerous and most holy Councils, Convocations, and Synods, to stand at the Bar of every Man’s private Judgment; and vests him with Authority to receive or reject them, as to himself shall seem fit. So powerful is Truth, which will prevail!

But your Positions as to the Civil Magistrate, deserve a more distinct and accurate Consideration. “He has no Power at all to decree Rites in divine Worship †—This Power is not in the King and Parliament, for in this very Article (XX.) which, together with the rest, is confirmed by Act of Parliament (13 Eliz. c. 12.) and thereby made a Part of our ecclesiastical Constitution, they have plainly owned it to be in the Church; and no body imagines, that by the Church they meant themselves. The King and Parliament then have plainly disowned any such Power in themselves, and have recognized it to be in the Church ‡.”—This, Sir, is a Doctrine, of dangerous and important Consequence, and quite contrary to Fact. For,

1. As ’twas the Queen and Parliament alone, without, yea in Opposition to, the Bishops and Convocation, which decreed the present Form and Worship of your Church, and to their Authority alone it owes its very Being, Birth, and Support; by affirming affirming that they had no Power nor Authority of this Nature, you knock down and demolish the Church of England at once, and lay it prostrate in the Dust. And,

* Def. p. 13.† Ibid. p. 18.‡ Ibid. p. 17.

2. That the King and Parliament by acknowledging this Power to be in the Church, have not disclaimed it, nor put it out of their own Hands, is incontestible hence, that they have at the same Time expressly told you, what they mean by the Church; not the Bishops and Clergy, but the Congregation of the Faithful; of which Congregation themselves are not only a Part, but the principal and ruling Part: And accordingly, our Laws and Constitution have vested the supreme Power of prescribing Ceremonies and Rites, only in them. I ask you—By what Authority do the Rubricks of the Common Prayer, bind the Clergy to Obedience; or whence is it, they are obliged to observe the Rites and Forms prescribed in that Book? Is it not entirely by the Authority and Act of Parliament? As for the Pastors and Governors to whom you appropriate this Authority, (the Bishops and Clergy,) they have no Power by our Constitution to make one single Law, to decree one Rite, or to prescribe one Ceremony: When assembled in Convocation, they are absolutely under the Controul and Direction of the Civil Power. “ Even the very Subjects of their En“ quiry and Debate, as well as the Extent of their “ Ordinances in Point of Obligation, are prescribed “ by Statute Law, that they cannot so much as at“ tempt any Canons or Constitutions, without a “ Royal Licence; and that none of their Ordi“ nances are binding, even against the private “ Customs of a single Parish*.” How is it then you affirm, the King and Parliament to have disowned any such Power in themselves, and to have recognized it to be in the Church? But,

3. The

* Examinat. of the Codex, p. 114.

3. The Point is if possible, still rendered more clear from the XXXIVth Article above cited; which says, If any Man through his private Judgment, openly breaks the Ceremonies of the Church, ordained by COMMON AUTHORITY, he shall be openly rebuked, as one who offendeth against the common Order of the Church, and kurteth the AUTHORITY OF THE MAGISTRATE.—The Authority of the Magistrate then, is indisputably concerned in ordaining these Ceremonies: And your Church, Sir, however loath you are to hear it, is undoubtedly a Parliamentary and Civil Constitution; made, formed, supported entirely by the Civil Magistrate, and by him alone is it capable of being thrown into a new Form.

But you ask, “Are not the Dissenting Churches in the same Sense Parliamentary? Do they not depend entirely upon an Act of Parliament, the Act of Toleration*?” No; the Dissenting Churches were formed, subsisted, and grew without and before, any Parliamentary Authority. We are thankful to the excellent and good Government under which we live, for the Act of Toleration. But would humbly beg Leave to say, we derive not our Power to assemble for divine Worship, nor our Ministers theirs to officiate in such Assemblies, from any human Law, but from our natural Right as Men, and from the Authority of CHRIST. The Act of Toleration only protects us in the Enjoyment of this Right.

“But above all Things you marvel, that whilst I was making this Push at the Church of England I did not reflect how much I la d myself open: For if there was ever upon Earth a Church, which could properly be called Parliamentary, it was the Presbyterian in the Time of the grand Rebellion †.” What you call the grand Rebellion, Sir, a British HOUSE OF COMMONS, since the Restoration, oration, call a Vindication of their JUST LIBERTIES; and brought one of their Members, Lenthal, upon his Knees at the Bar, and there sharply reprimanded him, for presuming to reflect upon it in the Manner you have done*. Besides, if it was a grand Rebellion, the Shame and Reproach of it falls chiefly upon the Church of England; the Parliament who began it, consisting almost entirely of Members of that Communion, as Lord Clarendon himself owns. But, what if the Presbyterial Church established afterward by them was truly Parliamentary, how have I laid myself open! Had I said or suggested any Thing at all relating to that Church, or the Proceedings of those Times? Not a single Word; but for ought I had said, it appears not but I as much condemn that Establishment as yourself. How then have I laid myself open! Are you, Sir, the Gentleman, that reproves me for Ramblings?

* Def. p. 21.

† Ibid. p. 20.

You put the Case, † “that any of our Dissenting Churches, or the Church of Scotland, should by an Act of the general Assembly ordain, that a decent Basin, with clean Water should be provided, and placed near the Pulpit, that so the Minister taking the Child in his Arms, may conveniently pour or sprinkle Water upon its Face, in the Name of the Father, &c. Here are several Rites ordained, which Christ in his Wisdom did not think proper to ordain, and one of them at least as exceptionable as any excepted against in our Church, Sprinkling—What will this Gentleman say to such an Appointment?” I will say, Sir, that if Compliance with this Injunction be made a necessary Term of receiving Baptism in that Church (as the Cross and Sponsors are made necessary in yours) so as that no Child shall be baptized, that is not sprinkled from such Basin; and the Parent that desires to have his Child dipt (believing

* Journal of the 12th of May 1660.

† Def. p. 23, 24.

(believing that to be the only Way in which Christian Baptism ought to be administered) shall not have it done; in that Case, Sir, I will say the Church acts a tyrannical, unjust, schismatical Part; and if I could have my Child baptized in any other Church, constituted upon a more Catholic and Scriptural Plan, I should think it my Duty to apply to it on that Occasion. The Spirit of Ceremony-making and Church Tyranny, is of a restless and incroaching Nature, and ought timely to be crushed. 'Twas from such little Beginnings, the Mass of Romish Fopperies grew up to its present enormous and oppressive Heighth.

“ The natural Rights you represent some of our Fellow-subjects as submitting to be deprived of “ by disqualifying Laws, without going about to “ turn the World upside down for their Repeal *,” are vastly too trivial, to be compared with those of which Dissenters are deprived; nor are they disqualified as to these, upon the Account of Conscience and Religion (the hard Case of Dissenters) for acting as we think the Authority and Laws of God indispensibly oblige us: Nor, finally, can the Persons you mention, perhaps be properly said to have a natural Right, to sustain at the same Time two different Characters, and to execute two Offices which are generally inconsistent and interfere with each other—So the Cases are not parallel. Besides, why, are we represented as turning the World upside down? Have we ever kindled Tumults, raised Mobs, demolished Houses, threatened Courts (as you know, Sir, who have done) —under a seditious Cry, that our Churches were in Danger? We appeal to the impartial World, for the Loyalty and Peaceableness with which we behave.

You pass over, by your own Confession, almost half my Pamphlet † unremarked; in which the Constitution of the Church of England is compared with

P

* Def. p. 6. 7.

† Ibid. p. 37.

with that of the Church of CHRIST, and they are incontestibly shewn to be Societies of a quite different and even opposite Nature; so as that a Person's Separation from the one, does by no Means imply his Separation from the other. Your replying nothing to this, you will give me Leave to impute to some other Cause, than "your
 " not observing any Thing in it, which pretends to
 " refute or contradict any Position advanced in your " Letter." Is not the Charge of Schism your favourite and constant Topic? But if I prove the two Societies so entirely different in their Constitution and Frame, as that my not communicating in the former, does in no wise break me off from, nor in the least interrupt my Communion in the latter, is not this a Refutation of one of the chief and most interesting Parts of your Letters? And did not Justice to your Argument demand, if you could have given it, a proper Reply?

" 'Tis growing mighty modish, you complain, with our People to laugh at all Notions of Church Communion, and to make nothing of the most unnecessary Separations*." Yes, I thank GOD, the loud Peals you were wont to ring us upon the Head of Schism, are generally treated with pretty much Neglect, not only amongst our People, but even amongst your own. For when one sees grave Gentlemen setting themselves up for Rulers and Governors in the Name of the Lord, claiming Power to forgive Sins, to decree Ceremonies, to make Laws, and to determine Points of Faith; and then thundering out their Anathemas, upon such as refuse to submit to their Authority.—What must this provoke in all sensible Spectators, but a Mixture of Contempt, Indignation, and Mirth.

Can these spiritual Fathers in their Consciences, believe our SCHISM to be so horrid and so damning,
 and

and yet refuse to drop the Ceremonies which they see to be the Stone of Stumbling, at which we so grievously and wickedly fall? What, for the Sake of a few Things which they own to be indifferent, will they harden themselves against the Cries of so many perishing misguided Christians, and destroy the Souls for which Christ died! Forgive me, Sir, if I cannot think it; but that Schism is only used as an ecclesiastical Scarecrow, to keep the Simple in Awe, and to establish a sacerdotal Empire over ductile and weak Minds.

“ All Christians, you affirm, living within the “ Church of England, which is co-extended with “ the Kingdom, may be truly said to owe it Obe“ dience and Submission, and are de Jure, whe“ ther they will be or not de Facto, true Members “ and Subjects of it *.” But pray tell me: Is not the Church of Scotland equally co extended with that Kingdom, as the Church of England is with this? And do not all who live within its Pale, owe it like Submission? Is not the Presbyterian Discipline and Worship as much established there, as the Episcopal is here? If it be Schism then, and a grievous Sin for Dissenters to withdraw from the established Church in South-Britain, is it not alike schismatical and wicked in your Episcopal Brethren to withdraw from the Presbyterian Church established in the North? Whence is it we never hear from you any solemn Admonitions to your Brethren beyond the Tweed, of the detestable Sin of Schism; warning them of its damning Nature, and exhorting them speedily to unite with the established Church! Here your grave Lectures may possibly have good Effect; and if you really thought Schism so grievous an Offence as you affect to represent, 'tis strange you never try the Power of your Persuasions with your Brethren in the North. This would be a noble Proof that you were in earnest, and sincere. But whilst, amidst your warmest Harrangues against the English Separation, you encourage and support the Dissent from the Scottish Church; what can be thought of your Outcries about Schism, but that they deserve a Name more severe than I am willing here to give?

Your Notion of our being “true Members of the “Church of England de Jure, tho’ we are not, and “will not be de Facto”—is a Refinement, indeed, and quite surpasses my Comprehension. I thought it enter’d essentially into the Idea of a Church, that it is a Society of VOLUNTEERS: A Company join’d together in certain Acts and Professions by common CONSENT: And that without, much less against, his own Agreement and Consent, no Man could with Truth be stiled a Member of any Church. All Persons living in Christendom may be said to owe Jesus Christ Obedience and Submission, with infinitely greater Reason than all the People of England can be said to owe it to the Church; but does it therefore follow, that they are all de Jure, if they will not be de Facto, TRUE Members of the Church of Christ? What, those who openly renounce Christ, declare him to be an Impostor, and utterly disavow Obedience and Subjection to him, can such, with any Truth or Propriety, be stiled true Members of his Church! Strange Divinity indeed! Christ’s Church then, instead of a Congregation of faithful Persons, may now be defined a Society of impious Blasphemers, of Infidels and profane Persons, who neither fear God, nor believe in Jesus Christ; these all may be declared and treated as true Members of his Church. If this indeed be right, then with some Pretence it may be said, that those who openly renounce and disclaim the Church of England, and declare they will not live in any Subjection to it, may yet be consider'd as true Members of it.
not

I owe Allegiance to the King of England, because I receive Protection from him, and enjoy innumerable civil Blessings by means of his Government, under which I consent to live. But it does not hence follow, that I owe Subjection to the Church of England, (as you argue pag. 29.) from whom I receive no Protection, enjoy no Benefit nor Advantage, and in Communion with which I by no means consent to live. CONSENT, Sir, is indispensably and essentially necessary to form the Relation betwixt Pastors and People: And without this Consent no Church in any Christian or scriptural Sense can possibly be formed. Dissenters therefore can with no Justness nor Propriety in the World be stiled true Members of your Church. Your solemn Excommunications of them is really a Casting such out, as never were in it: So the Miracle still remains.

As to our Posture of receiving the Lord's Supper, instead of ingenuously owning your great Misrepresentation, you seek by frivolous and quaint Questions to raise a Dust to conceal it. As, "what meaneth this Infermant, by some of their Churches, which have admitted kneeling? What by some in their Churches? If there were any considerable Number, &c.*" Their Number, give me leave to tell you, Sir, is nothing to the Purpose. 'Tis the LIBERTY they have to do it, is the only Point in Debate. If all have this Liberty, tho' not one in five thousand should actually use it; my Point stands firm, yours is overthrown; and you stand convicted before the World of having given a very wrong and injurious Account of us. You rashly asserted that Sitting among us was NEVER allowed to be departed from; that our Ministers nisters INSISTED upon, and REFUSED to abate it.— This, from my own certain Knowledge, from the Information of others, from Baxter's reform'd Liturgy, I proved to be a false Representation. In the second Edition of my Letter, (pag. 21.) I added a Passage from Dr. Culamy's brief Account to the German Divines, which expressly says,—The Communicants amongst PROTESTANT DISSENTERS are AT LIBERTY to use their OWN POSTURE in the Time of Receiving; tho' a Table-Posture is most commonly used. Note. To this brief Account, &c. you appear to have been no Stranger; you had, doubtless, read it; for you quote a long Passage from it (Let. II. pag. 62.) not four Lines distant from that I have now cited. How then could you take upon you so roundly to affirm—that it is NEVER ALLOWED to be departed from, &c. When you had seen it declared to the World that our Communicants were AT LIBERTY to use their OWN POSTURE!

* Def. p. 32.

But if this deserves an ingenuous Blush, I am called upon to blush with you, “ For having said “ that Christ and his Apostles, without all peradventure, sat around the Table, when every Body “ knows, who knows any Thing at all, that they “ used the recumbent Posture, which is no more “ Sitting than it is Kneeling *.”—If my Assertion cannot be supported by indisputable Authority, I have a Blush at your Command. Let my Vouchers be heard. St. Matthew † says, he SAT DOWN with the twelve.—And as they were eating JESUS took Bread and blessed it. St. Mark ‡, As they SAT and did eat, JESUS took Bread, &c. St. Luke §, When the Hour was come, he SAT DOWN, and the twelve Apostles with him: And he took the Bread and gave Thanks. If I am now to be corrected for representing Christ and his Apostles as

SITTING

* Def. p. 31.

† xxvi. 20.

‡ xiv. 18.

§ xxii. 14.

SITTING around the Table, the Weight of the Stroke will fall entirely upon the Scriptures; under which Patronage I am safe. I make no manner of doubt, Sir, but the Posture was sitting, though with the Body, perhaps, a little leaning or reclin'd. Nor would our Language afford our Translators any better, or indeed any other Word, than sitting to express it by. Pray, how would you render it—as they RECUMBED and did eat.—And when the Hour was come, he RECUMBED with his twelve Apostles? If every Body “who knows any Thing at all, knows they used the recumbent Posture,” then good Mr. Henry knew nothing at all; for he says, “He sat down in the usual Table-Gesture; not lying on one side, for it was not easy to eat, nor possible to drink in that Posture, but sitting upright, tho’ perhaps, sitting low:” Or rather, as Dr. Lightfoot tells us, the Posture was, sitting on a Couch, leaning the left Elbow on the Table.

My Account of the Constitution of the Church of England, of the regal Supremacy, and of the Proceedings of the Convocation in the Affair of Mr. Whiston, you call Misrepresentations *; but I observe you are so prudent as not to offer a single Word in Proof of their being such.

Your representing me as having a great Zeal for Arianism, and being fond of these new Notions †, for which I had given not the least real Occasion, is an Artifice so low, that you must give me leave to look down with great Pity upon it; not doubting but I have both an Advocate and an Avenger in your own Bosom.

There is something truly extraordinary in your affirming—“That the damnatory Clauses of the Athanasian Creed may be as safely subscribed, without any explanatory Declaration, as the holy “Scriptures;”

* Def. p. 37, 38.

† P. 38, 41.

“ Scriptures ; at least such Passages, as *He that believeth not shall be damned—He that believeth not the Son, shall not see Life, but the Wrath of God abideth on him, &c.”—As much as to say, You may as confidently assent to the Decisions of a weak and fallible Man, concerning the everlasting State of Multitudes of his Fellow Men, as to the Decision of the omniscient and infallible GOD.—Or thus, because GOD hath fixed some Terms for a Man’s Entrance into Life, therefore Man may take upon him to devise and fix others.—Or thus, because CHRIST had Authority to pronounce, that no Man who received not the Gospel, which he preached, should finally be saved, therefore Athanasius (if he was its Compiler) had Authority to pronounce, that no Man who believed not the Creed which he had made, should attain eternal Life, but should everlastingly perish.—Are these Conclusions just ?

I cannot think myself to need your Forgiveness, Sir, for asking, “ whether you were amongst the weak and uncharitable Minds, who damn to the Pit of Hell, all who cannot receive all the dark and mysterious Points set forth in the Athanasian Creed.”—For does not that Creed most peremptorily pronounce this Damnation on all such ? Are not you a zealous Advocate and Admirer of that Creed ? Do you not yourself thirteen Times a Year, in the Presence and Church of GOD, and as his Minister and Ambassador, declare solemnly to the People, That whoever does not keep whole and UNDEFILED the Faith therein delivered, he shall WITHOUT DOUBT perish everlastingly ? Where then is the wrong of my asking, Whether you are amongst the weak and uncharitable Persons ? &c. For if you are sincere in its Use, and do really believe what you solemnly tell the People, when you read to them that

* Def. p. 40.

that Creed, you must, surely, be content to be reckoned in that Number. For how to reconcile a solemn Declaration that certain Persons, WITHOUT DOUBT perish everlastingly, with hopes of their Salvation, is what no Wit of the subtlest Jesuit is able to perform.

The Subscriptions of our Ministers, with the Protestation they made against the damnatory Clauses, can with no Truth, I apprehend, be called “ a Protestatio contra Factum, nor a subscribing Assent “ to the Truth of certain Propositions, at the same “ Time declaring they do not assent to it *.” For it really amounted to no more than this—“ I believe “ the Articles of this Creed, and think it agree- “ able to the Word of God, but I here publickly “ declare, I do not consider the damnatory Clauses “ as any Part of the Creed, nor give my Assent “ to them.” As for the Subscription of our present Ministers, if it be not done under a Claim of the Benefit of this Protestation made by their Predecessors, or with some such Protestation made by themselves; I freely own, Sir, I cannot justify it, and think it a Thing which ought not to be done.

SUBSCRIPTION to human Creeds have, I apprehend, been of infinite Disservice and Hurt to the Christian Church, have rent it into a Variety of Sects and angry Parties, and filled it with innumerable Strifes and Debates: They are a Fence raised around the Church, which can possibly keep none but virtuous and honest Persons, but never can one Hypocrite, one Heretic, or wicked Man, from entering into it. I wish the Case you mention may not be extremely common, viz. Fraudulent and insincere Subscriptions, and the constant Use of Forms, which they who use them do not approve of, whereby the Conscience is defiled †.

Q

But

* Def. p. 41.

† Ibid. p. 44.

But the Point of Subscriptions which is the Subject of your Appendix, will be considered by an abler Hand; who will give you, I hope, ample Satisfaction on this Head: To his Instructions I commend you, Sir, wishing you with great Sincerity, abundant Peace and Truth.

T H E

Micaiah Dowgood

T H E

DISSENTING GENTLEMAN'S

T H I R D and L A S T

L E T T E R, &c.

S I R,

I H A V E read carefully your two Defences, and attentively weighed the Reasons by which you further press my Conformity to your Church; but must still say, that though I feel the Attraction of worldly Interest strongly operating with your Arguments, and giving them great Force; yet there is something more forcible which draws a contrary way.

Were I to never live but in the present World, I would soon become your Convert: But when I consider that the Purity, Simplicity, and Liberty of the GOSPEL are a sacred DEPOSITE committed to my Trust; and that there is an Allegiance I owe to CHRIST, as the ONLY Lawgiver of the Church, for which I must surely be accountable before him; I cannot but think it my Duty, and therefore, upon the whole, most certainly my Interest also, to continue my Separation, though attended with some worldly Disadvantage and Reproach.

The Grounds of my Dissent I have already layn before the World, to whose impartial Consideration

tion they are humbly submitted. “ But I have left “ unnotic’d and untouch’d, you complain, a great “ Part of your Letters.” This, indeed, I have done, and shall also of your Defence; a great Part of both being futile, and of little Moment to the Merits of the Cause before us. Debates of this kind, I knew, insensibly swell. I remarked therefore, but upon a few of the many obnoxious Passages with which your Letters abound, that greater Liberty might be left to present you with several strong, and to me unanswerable, Arguments for Dissent from your Church, which you had artfully forbore to mention; and which, tho’ since held up before you and peculiarly urg’d upon you, you turn gravely away from, and will not be provok’d to encounter their Force.

I have press’d you with the Constitution and Frame of your Church; and have shewn you various Points in which its Structure and Form was not only quite different from, but actually repugnant to, the Church of JESUS CHRIST; consequently, that it was not, could not be any dangerous and dammable Schism for the Servants of Jesus Christ to separate and withdraw from it, as you had rashly affirmed. But to this popular and great Plea you have made no Reply at all; it stands before you in full Strength.

This Charge of Schism is still rendered more completely ridiculous; by observing, — That the very Powers which alone form’d, and which alone govern your Church, have given us leave to withdraw from it. The very AUTHORITY which made your Church, and upon which alone it rests, hath allow’d us to set up our separate Churches for Worship; and hath taken those Churches, and the Worship perform’d in them, under its immediate Protection and Care.

S E C T. I.

Of Church Power, and in whom lodged.

THE Issue of the Debate betwixt the Church and the Dissenters, I have frequently reminded you, and every attentive Person sees, depends absolutely and intirely upon this single Point— Is there any other Lawgiver or King in the Church of God besides JESUS CHRIST, or, is there not? Is there Power and Authority vested in any Man or Body of Men on Earth, to make and to injoin new Rites of Christian Worship, and new Terms of Christian Fellowship, besides what CHRIST, the only Lawgiver, hath himself made and injoin'd; or, is there not? Could you but be engag'd to give a plain and direct Answer to this one Point, it would soon end the Debate. But for Reasons best known to your self, yet very obvious to the World, you are deaf to my repeated Solicitations on this Head; and will not, cannot be either persuaded or provoked to speak your Sentiments freely and openly upon it.

You strenuously contend that there is such a Power; but are greatly at a loss, 1. Where to place it? And, 2. How to limit and confine it? These are two things which it indispensibly lies upon you to fix clearly and to ascertain; before you can, with any Grace, censure our Separation as unjustifiable and wrong. But tho' in multiplying Words, your Talent is not common, and you expatiate diffusely upon things of little moment; yet here where the Point lies, and you saw, and even felt it, you artfully endeavour to evade. However, with much Difficulty, a few Concessions are extorted from you, which, in Part, shew the World your your preposterous Scheme, and which prove you to be really (as I shall presently shew) no Advocate for, no Friend at all to the true Church of England, the Church established by Law; but to be a Betrayer, an Oppugner of it, a dangerous Underminer of its very Basis and Foundation; and that, if your Principles take place, it must presently be overthrown, and its Hierarchy and Frame be utterly destroy'd.

For, with regard to the first of the above Points, viz In WHOM this Power of making and enjoining new Ceremonies and Rites of Worship, and new Terms of Communion in the Church of Christ, is vested—You affirm, 1. “That 'tis NOT in the CIVIL MAGISTRATE; he has NO SUCH POWER at all.” But, 2. “'Tis in the PASTORS and GOVERNORS of the Church †.*” Now,

FIRST, If it be NOT in the CIVIL MAGISTRATE; and HE has, as you affirm, NO SUCH POWER at all; the Consequence is inevitable, that then the present established Church of England is illegally, unjustly, tyrannically established: That it is an Usurpation upon the Rights of Christians, and upon the civil Liberties of Mankind; and that the very Basis on which it stands, with its whole Frame and Constitution, are fundamentally, essentially and notoriously wrong. For, — That the present Church of England was constituted, form'd and establish'd by the Civil Magistrate, and ONLY by him, viz by Q. Eliz. and her Parliament, every Gentleman, not a perfect Stranger to our History and Constitution, indisputably knows. When we talk of the Church established by Law; by what Law, I pray, do we mean established? Is it not by a Law enacted by the Crown and Parliament, and enacted by no Authority or Power but theirs? Is not not the Act of Uniformity the grand Pillar or Foundation on which the Church of England rests? Was it not that alone which established its present Liturgy, with all its Ceremonies and Forms? But by whom was that Law made? was it not by the Civil Magistrate; and made by him alone; the Bishops in the House of Lords and the Clergy in Convocation labouring earnestly against it.—To say then, as you do, that the Civil Magistrate has NO POWER to decree Ceremonies and Forms of Worship, is to say that the Act of Uniformity was a tyrannical unrighteous Act: that it was enacted by those who had NO POWER at all to do it; consequently, that the Church established by that Law was an unwarrantable Establishment, a spurious illegal thing.—This is the destructive Tendency, Sir, of your Principles and Scheme. You root up Foundations, overthrow our Constitution, and demolish totally the very Church you seem zealous to defend; so that you never spoke, perhaps, a truer Word than when you were pleased to describe yourself as a sorry Advocate for the Church.*

* I. Defence, p. 18, 19.

† Ibid. p. 10.

But you ask, — Why are we to regard only the Establishment of Queen Elizabeth? “Why is King Edward’s Reformation overlooked †?” Not for

* Defence, p. 128 Your learned WARBURTON in his Alliance &c. honourably and frankly owns, “That the Church hath resigned her INDEPENDENCY, and made the MAGISTRATE her SUPREME HEAD; without whose Approbation and Allowance she can direct, order and decree nothing, p. 87. And that the Clergy are now under the MAGISTRATE’S Direction, p. 74.

Accordingly, an Act in the 2d Parliament of Charles II. in Scotland, to which all the Bishops concurred, and none of the Laity protested against it, enacts,—“That the Discipline of the external Government and Polity of the Church is in his MAJESTY and his Successors as an INHERENT RIGHT of the Crown; and that they may settle, enact and limit such Constitutions, Acts and Orders concerning the Administration of the external Government of the Church and the Persons employ’d in the same, and concerning all ecclesiastical Meetings, and Matters to be propos’d and determined therein, as they in their ROYAL WISDOM shall think fit.”

† II. Defence, p. 140.

for any Advantage which you can possibly get by it. For in the Reformation under that Prince also, “The Majority of the Bishops and inferior Clergy” (directly contrary to what you assert) were on the Side of POPY *.” And it was the Parliament alone, without the Convocation, which established the reform’d Liturgy and Service-Book then.

But at Queen Elizabeth’s Reformation, when the present Church was form’d, erected and establish’d, you alledge, — “Though the Bishops did, indeed, in some of her first Years oppose the Reformation, which they had before approv’d, yet they did not long stand out—†”. That the Majority of the Bishops did either before approve, or afterward comply, is, I believe, quite repugnant to Fact †; but whether true or not, is not at all to the Purpose: For when the Reformation was actually accomplished, and the Church with its Liturgy and Forms was established; their standing in or out afterward, for a longer or shorter time, makes nothing for your Point. The Work was done without them; this is all I ask; this you are forced to grant. The Bishops then had no Hand, no Share at all, in making and establishing the present Church of England; but with all their Might opposed it. It was done by the Civil Magistrate (who had NO POWER, you say to do it) and done by him alone. “At her Majesty’s Accession, and even after Religion was restored to the same State as under King EDWARD, the UNIVERSITIES were so entirely lost, that there were scarce TWO of the same Opinion with the Reformers. As to the Bishops and Clergy (Bishop Cox adds) they were UNANIMOUS for POPY, firm as a Rock.

—Stat

* Neal’s Hist. Pur. Vol. 1. p. 45, 51. † II. Def. p. 140.

‡ Only one Bishop conformed himself to the Queen’s Commands, and was continu’d in his Place, viz. Kitchen of Landaff. Fuller’s Ch. Hist. Book. ix. p. 59, and Book. vii. p. 414.

————— Stat Clerus Totus,
Tanquam dura silex aut stes Marpesia Cautes *.

“ But if the Reformation was carried on, it was “ not, say you, perfected without the Bishops †.” True, because it was never perfected at all. That glorious Work remains to immortalise, perhaps, the Name of its present Governors. But to whatever Perfection it hath been at all brought since its first Establishment, it was brought only and entirely by the Authority of the Crown and Parliament; our excellent Constitution acknowledging no legislative Power or Authority but theirs ‡.

“ And as for the XXXIX Articles, these, you “ alledge, were some Years after pass’d in a Convoca“ tion of the Bishops and Clergy §.” Whether they were pass’d in a Convocation or not, with regard to their Authority, is of no Moment at all. Their unanimous Assent adding not the least Grain to their Obligation on the Subject; nor their most zealous Dissent in the least detracting from it. But did not your Heart smite you, Sir, at the very Mention of these ARTICLES; the XXXIVth of which declares expressly against you.—That your Church Ceremonies were ORDAINED by the Authority of the CIVIL MAGISTRATE. The same also your XXXth Ca-R non.

* Neal’s Review, &c. p. 58. Vide also Fuller’s Ch. Hist. Book ix. p. 56.

† II. Def. p. 139.

‡ Synods and Convocations have in all Ages of the Church seldom done good; often much Hurt; have generally obstructed, not promoted Reformation; which hath mostly been carried on by LAY-Councils and Hands. The Sentiments of a learned Father, who had seen much of these Church-Proceedings, may be not unworthy to be here remember’d. Sic sentio, si verum scribendum est, &c. My Opinion is this, if I may be allow’d to speak the Truth; that all CONVENTIONS of Bishops are to be avoided. For I never saw any Good come of any SYNOD; nor that it did not much more Mischief, than it hindered. For Truth, in such Assemblies, is generally born down by a Spirit of Strife and Vain-Glory. Greg. Nazian. Epist. ad Procop. § Ibid, p. 140.

non *. You have several times subscribed the Truth of this Article, and sworn to this Canon. With what Countenance then durst you thus publickly oppugn and contradict it; and in open defiance of our Articles and Statutes, our Constitutions and Canons, and your own repeated Subscriptions, presumptuously declare,——That the CIVIL MAGISTRATE has NO POWER nor AUTHORITY AT ALL to decree Ceremonies in Religion? Do you solemnly subscribe one thing and publickly teach another! Where is the Consistency and Conscience of this? But let us see where you lodge this Power.

SECONDLY. They are the Church's PASTORS and GOVERNORS, whom you are pleased to invest with it †; that is, I suppose you mean (for you are extremely shy of Explications) its BISHOPS and CLERGY. But you have not deign'd to shew me one Text of Scripture, nor one Statute or Act of Parliament which vests them with this Power. I have shewn you several of both, which expressly divest them of it, and utterly deny them any such Jurisdiction or Authority at all.

But, for once, we will grant you,——That these PASTORS and GOVERNORS have Authority from GOD to make NEW Ceremonies and Rites, and to ordain in CHRIST'S Church NEW Terms of Communion.——Tell me then, is this POWER vested solely and only in the BISHOPS; or, must their Deans and Chapters act in concert with them? Has every Bishop, within his Diocese, this Power from GOD to injoin new Ceremonies and Rites; or, may his Archbishop controul him? This latter, I suppose, not: For Archbishops, bishops, you own not to be of apostolic, but of modern Institution; whereas Bishops it should seem, are the lineal Successors and Representatives of the Apostles; in whom therefore the apostolic Power of governing the Churches rests. This then, which is of divine, ought not to be controul'd by that which is but of late and human Institution.—The Bishop then of every Diocese, as its Pastor and Governor, has Authority from GOD to decree in his Church what Ceremonies and Rites soever, and to make what Terms of Communion, he thinks edifying and fit. Nor has any neighbouring Bishop, no nor any Power upon Earth, Authority to controul him: For as the APOSTLES were all equal, so must their Successors, the BISHOPS, also be: And as the former were not accountable to any temporal Prince for their Jurisdiction in the Church of CHRIST, the same Exemption also may their Descendants and Representatives claim. How excellent a Scheme of Government and holy Discipline this! With what Beauty and Uniformity, Unity and Peace is it calculated to bless the Church! as we shall presently see. But,

* “ We hold it the Part of every private Man, both Minister and other, reverently to retain the use of the Ceremonies prescribed by Public Authority; considering, that things of themselves indifferent do, in some sort, alter their Natures, when they are either commanded or forbidden by a lawful MAGISTRATE; and may not be omitted, at every Man's Pleasure, contrary to the LAW.” Canon xxx. † I. Def. p. 10.

THIRDLY. Acknowledging this high Power to be really vested in the Church's Bishops, as GOVERNORS and PASTORS of it. I again ask, How FAR does it extend? Is it limited or unlimited? May they injoin whatever Rites THEY think decent and ornamental; and decree whatever Ceremonies or new Terms of Communion THEY judge conducive to the Edification of the Church? As they have now in the Church of England, decreed we will say, four only, to give additional Beauty and Splendor to its public Worship; may they not, if they think it conducive further to this worthy End, decree four, or even forty, more? Yes, and make that forty, four Hundred, if they happen to think them useful, and to promote Decency and Order, in the Worship of their respective Flocks.—But do you not plainly see, Sir, how dangerous a Power this! A Power which, in all Ages, hath proved the Bane of the Christian Church! A Flood-gate which hath let in an horrible and filthy Deluge of Animosities, Corruptions and Superstitions upon it! Hence sprung that enormous Mass of profane and foolish Rites, which, to the Scandal of the Christian Name, now grievously oppresses both the Greek and the Romish Churches. One good Bishop, or perhaps Junto of Bishops, taking it into his Head that there ought to be a Trine-Immersion in Baptism; another the Signation of the Cross; another an Unction with Oyl; another Milk and Honey, and Imposition of Hands immediately after it; another Insufflation or Breathing upon the Person's Face to exorcise the Devil; another washing of Hands before Prayers——thus praying towards the East; Sponsors in Baptism; kneeling at the Lord's Supper; first the Veneration, then the Adoration of Relics; Images erected, first only as Memorials, thence quickly sliding into Objects of Religious Worship: Thus, I say, that Inundation of abominable Corruptions, which at present overwhelms both the Greek and Romish Churches, gradually came in at this very Breach which you are now zealously maintaining, namely, the Bishops POWER to decree Rites and Ceremonies in the Church.

'Tis a most dangerous and important POWER; not fit to be trusted, and therefore, we may be assur'd, never was trusted with any fallible uninspir'd Men. JESUS CHRIST, surely the SUPREME Bishop and ONLY Head of his Church, well knew what Institutions were most for its Edification; and what Ceremonies and Rites would best promote the Order and Decency of its Worship; and either by himself, or by his inspir'd Apostles, has left a perfect Plan of both. For any weak and uninspir'd Men therefore fore to rise up in after Ages, and fancy they can improve the Scheme of Worship which CHRIST hath left; that they can add greatly to its Beauty, its Splendor and Perfection by some Ceremonies of their own, is, to be sure, a rude Invasion of CHRIST'S Throne, which every sober Christian ought highly to detest.

But with great Acuteness you observe, “ That though those CHURCH-GOVERNORS have Power to decree Ceremonies and Rites, yet not Fopperies and Superstitions.” This is extremely pleasant! But when I ask you, by what Criterion to distinguish Rites from Fopperies, and Ceremonies from Superstitions, you will not, and no wonder, satisfy my Curiosity. For I defy all the Common Sense and Ingenuity of the Nation (to borrow one of your own Expressions) to shew the Consecration of Earth to cover the Body when dead to be an edifying and decent Rite; but the Consecration of Water to sprinkle it when living to be a ridiculous and foolish Foppery. I defy any Man upon Earth to say why Spittle and Salt in Baptism are not as instructive Ceremonies as the Sign of the Cross?—And, why a Bishop has not as much Power, according to ancient Custom, to exorcise the Devil before Baptism, as to lay on Hands after it (as you say he does in Confirmation) to impart the Graces of the Holy Ghost.

SUPERSTITION, Sir, is ever restless, insatiable, incroaching; every good Bishop will be ambitious of adding some Rite or Ceremony of his own to beautify divine Worship and render it more brilliant. Thus when your holy Bishop Laud was Governor of this Church, you had lighted Candles upon its Altars; Copes of Mass Priests with Crucifixes and Images of the Trinity upon them; consecrated Knives to cut the sacramental Bread; Incense Pots; Canisters for Wafers lined with Cambric Lace,— with a deal of other Furniture all solemnly CONSECRATED for the Service of Almighty GOD, and for the Comfort, Instruction, and Edification of his Church ; to exalt and enliven the Beauties of Holiness therein. And had it not been for the noble and heroic STAND against this Rite-making Spirit which the Puritans and their Successors have all along made, there is little Reason to doubt, that the Church of England, by this time, had fallen little short in these holy Decorations and additional Splendors of the Church of Moscow or of Rome.—
with

I have dwelt the longer upon this, because it is, undoubtedly, the Capital and Fundamental Point on which the Debate betwixt the Church and the Dissenters entirely turns. Prove your Church, Sir, to have this Power and Authority from GOD which she exercises and claims, a POWER to decree new Rites and Ceremonies in Christian Worship, to make new Terms of Communion, and to determine Controversies of Faith,—and you need give yourself no farther Trouble ; all other things in Controversy, Sponsors, Absolution, the Sacramental Test, and every other thing shall immediately be given up. Make good but this one Point, and if your Church commands us to sign ourselves all over with a significant and instructive Cross, we will reverently do it.—If it bids us worship towards the East, and to think the omnipresent DEITY to be more there than in the West ; and to bow at the Name of Jesus ; we will humbly submit ;—or, if it requires us to believe, that an amorous Devil was forced away from his beloved Maid by the Fumes of a Fish's Liver ; or that the vilest Wretch that lives, if the King gives him a Post, has a Right to eat at the Lord's-Table ; and that when he dies he rests in CHRIST, and is taken to GOD in Mercy ; we will roundly believe it all. There is nothing your Church can injoin or decree, but you shall find the Dissenters dutifully submitting mitting to it when you have once clearly shewn it to have this POWER from GOD ; and have told us plainly, and without Reserve, what you mean by the CHURCH ; and have distinctly pointed out WHO the Persons are in whom this Power resides.

But it is pitiful and low Trifling, Sir, and indeed consummately ridiculous—to talk of the “ CHURCH’S Jurisdiction and Authority over DISSENTERS—of the Subjection we owe IT,—“ of the DAMNABLENESS of the Sin of refusing Obedience to IT—.” When you have not, durst not, cannot openly and plainly tell us WHO and WHAT it is you mean by the Church ? Or WHO the Persons are to whom GOD hath committed this high and important Trust ?—Is it the King and Parliament ; or, is it not ?—Is it the Clergy met in Convocation ; or, is it not ?—Is it each Bishop in his respective Diocese ; by himself alone, or in Conjunction with his Clergy ; or is it not ?—Is it the whole Body of Christian People, the Congregation of the Faithful ; or, is it not ? Open yourself freely, Sir, and don’t be afraid of TRUTH. TRUTH will never hurt you ; it is a most innocent and lovely thing ; it may rob you of some Emoluments and Possessions of a worldly nature ; but be assur’d it will give you SOMETHING more substantial in their stead. Be ingenuous then, and tell Dissenters—in whom GOD hath lodged this POWER to which they owe Subjection, and by revolting from which they are guilty of a dangerous and damnable Sin. If you write again, but will not explain yourself distinctly on this Point, you yield the Cause to us before the World. You make it evident that you write neither for OUR, nor your own Conviction ; but that you have something else in view besides finding out TRUTH. That something, perhaps, you may find ; but it will continue with you but for a Moment : whereas, if you find and do the WILL OF GOD, it will give you a Possession that will endure FOR EVER.
a Mo-

S E C T II.

Of the SACRAMENTAL TEST.

THAT the Law called The TEST, is not, as you suggest, the innocent Occasion only, but the plain, the notorious, the culpable Cause of those Prostitutions of the Holy SACRAMENT, which, you say, you see with CONCERN ; what room can there be for any rational Doubt ? For does not the very Design and Intent of that Law, at least as 'tis now apply'd, prostitute and pervert the Sacrament to an Use not only different from, but directly repugnant to, THAT for which it was instituted and design'd by JESUS CHRIST ? The Christian Law enjoins it as a Mean, and with Intent, to unite and coalesce Christians. The Test-law enjoins it as a Mean, and with Intent, to discriminate and divide them. For the Ministers of JESUS CHRIST then to be Advocates for a Law which prostitutes and perverts an holy SACRAMENT of his Religion ; yea, a Law which makes THEMSELVES the very Instruments and Tools of this shameful Prostitution ; is such a Violation of their Character, such a Prostitution of their sacred Office, such a betraying the solemn Trust committed to them by God, for which they must give Account to the Chief Pastor at his coming, as cannot but greatly shock an attentive Beholder ; and as should give, methinks, extremely painful Apprehensions to themselves.

“ These Prostitutions, you assure us, you do see “ with CONCERN ; but yet cannot be for the RE-“ PEAL,

“ PEAL, because you think it inconsistent with the “ Preservation of the Church *.” What Church alas! must that be which cannot be preserved but by an acknowledg’d Prostitution and Perverſion of an holy Sacrament ! Sure, not the Church of CHRIST.
 Let not Christians do Evil, that good may come ;
 ſuch carnal and corrupt Policy ever defeats itſelf ;
 and its Condemnation is juſt †.

You correct me for ſaying,—That by the Force of this Law Multitudes of needy Perſons are compell’d to come to the Lord’s Table, and cry,—“ GOD “ forbid ! that the Temptations even of Poverty
 “ and Want ſhould be eſteem’d to have the nature “ of Force and Compulſion,—for in that Caſe
 “ they would have no Guilt at all upon their Con“ ſciences.” So then, you can bring off, I find, the young Adulterer from any Guilt with his lewd Woman, Prov. vii. 21. becauſe with the Flattery of her Lips ſhe FORCED him. I thought I had written to a Bachelor of Divinity, to a Gentleman who was no Stranger to Scripture Language, and who knew what is meant when the King commands his Servants to COMPEL the Guests to come in, Luke xiv. 23. For the like uſe of the Word compel, you may pleaſe to conſult Galat. ii. 14. vi. 12. See alſo Luke xiv. 18, 20. in the Original.

That the Prieſt has no Power to refuſe the Lord’s-Supper to the vileſt Perſon that demands it as a Qualification for a Poſt, you care not to admit, and aſk,—“ Is there any Law which forbids the Cu“ rate to repel him from the Lord’s-Table †?” Yes, by equitable Conſtruction of the Law called the Teſt ;
 moſt certainly there is : For the ſame Law which requires, under ſevere Penalties, all Perſons in Poſts to receive the Lord’s-Supper according to the Uſage of the Church of England, does, by indiſputable Conſequence, require ſome one to give it. If it muſt be received by them, it muſt ſurely be given to

S

to

* II. Def. p. 8.

† Rom. iii. 8.

‡ II. Def. p. 3.

to them. To suppose the Legislature to have oblig'd them, under heavy Pains, to partake of the holy Sacrament; but to have oblig'd none, upon their Demand, to administer it to them, is to suppose it acting a most absurd and unjustifiable Part; which is not to be imagin'd. Who then is the Person to whom, according to Law, a Man that wants the sacramental Qualification is to apply for that Service? Undoubtedly his Parish Priest; who is appointed and paid by Law for the Performance of the several Offices which the State requires of him; of which this is plainly one. Whatever Power therefore the Rubric gave the Curate to repel open EVIL LIVERS from the Table of the LORD before the Test-Act took place, in Cases of Qualification, it is now unquestionably superseded, and the Rubric virtually repeal'd. For when a new Law enjoins what is repugnant to an old, that old Law is to be consider'd as so far set aside. And as for the "Damages to which the Priest is liable to be condemn'd for refusing the Sacrament," these the Law, 'tis presum'd, will give according to the Loss, which the Person can make appear he hath sustain'd by that Refusal; which in many Cases may be great; more than the Priest is worth.

"The Oath of Abjuration you esteem quite a Parallel to the Sacramental Test; and urge, that if one should be repealed because it lays Men under violent Temptations to prostitute their Consciences; so also ought the other*." No, the Cases, if duly weighed, will be found to differ widely. An OATH of Fidelity to the Government that employs us in Posts of Influence and Power is a Security or Pledge evidently founded in the Reason of Things; it has been the Practice immemorial of all civiliz'd Nations; Its Necessity, or great Expedience, manifestly arises from the nature of civil Government;

it

* Def. p. 6.

it is therefore reasonably presum'd to be the Will and Institution of GOD the Author of Civil Government ; and was instituted for Purposes of a political or civil kind. Here is no Prostitution then, no Perversion of this sacred RITE, when the Oath is tender'd to a Man at his Entrance upon a Post of Trust ; and if a needy Jacobite takes it, to the Pollution of his Conscience, himself only can be blamed : The Law that ordered it is clear. But, can any of this be said concerning the SACRAMENTAL Test ? Hath THIS been an Instrument for the Support of Civil Government in the greatest, most flourishing and wisest Empires of the Earth ? Hath GOD, the Author of civil Government, given the least Intimation of his intending it such a Guard ? Had CHRIST the Institutor of this Rite the least Intention or Design that it should be thus used and applied ; be made an Engine and Tool of State ; an Instrument to discriminate betwixt Christian and Christian ; to lift some to Posts of Power in the Kingdoms of this World ; and to lay upon others (Men equally virtuous) Brands of Odium and Disgrace ? Had he not unquestionably a quite CONTRARY Design ? You know, Sir, that he had. Does he look then with Pleasure down, think you, upon the Kingdom and Church, where he sees his Name and Institutions thus openly violated, perverted, profaned ; his Priests liking to have it so ; approving, espousing, defending the ABUSE ? I own, I cannot think it ; and should any Man express a fear that this is not the least of those national SINS which expose us to Divine Displeasure ; that it is a public Violation of that RIGHTEOUSNESS and PIETY which alone can exalt a People ; a Blemish, a Disease which preys upon the Body Politic ; and, if it does not threaten its Dissolution, yet greatly impairs its Strength : I confess I could not prove his Fears to be superstitious or weak. For if the Church of CORINTH was severely chasten'd for not making a due Distinction betwixt the Sacrament and their common Meals, and not eating it AS the LORD's Supper; I see not but the Church of ENGLAND may have something also to fear, for those Perversions and Prostitutions which, you own, you see with CONCERN; for its using this Sacrament not only not according to, but directly against its primitive Institution; to a Purpose and for an End which quite opposes and subverts one principle Design for which our Divine Master appointed this SACRED RITE.

High Offices and Court Employments, I have acknowledg'd, might be apt to corrupt Dissenters; as every one knows them to have this Influence upon the human Mind; though as a Briton therefore and a Christian I wish earnestly to REPEAL, yet as a Dissenter I profess no Solicitude about it. "But I ought not then, you say, so strenuously to plead for their being admitted to such Employments, but to be very solicitous against it." Review, Sir, in less haste, and you will find, I am so far from pleading strenuously for their Admission to such Employments, that I have not so much as pleaded for it at all. All I plead for is, the Removal of the Incapacity under which they unjustly lie; the breaking a disgraceful Yoke which the Test hath put upon their Necks; and the restoring them to their native Freedom and Honour and Right. That the State may have Liberty, if it thinks it needs their faithful Services, to avail itself of them; and that it be left to their Liberty, their Virtue, their Choice either to accept or refuse Posts of Trust under the Government; and that they may not stand branded and stigmatiz'd before the World as Persons incapable and unworthy of such Trusts*.

S E C T.

* In the late excellent COMMENT on Warburton's Alliance, &c. the Passage of my second Letter, to which this refers, is not only

S E C T. III.

Of our CONSTITUTION in Church and State.

YOU seem a little displeas'd at my doubting “ Whether the Church were an essential and “ an half Part of our CONSTITUTION? and whe“ ther Church and State here in England are so in“ corporated and united as that, like the married Pair,
 “ they must stand or fall together? and alledge,
 “ that in all the Conversation as well as in the Wri“ tings of Dissenters and others, we read and hear “ continually of the ecclesiastical as distinguished “ from the civil Constitution: Yea, even from the “ Throne and both Houses of Parliament we often “ hear only mistaken, but not faithfully and exactly quoted. In the Letter it stands thus, p. 74, 75.—“ Though I think THIS LAW a most un“ righteous Restraint upon us, and an undoubted Violation of our na“ tural Rights; yet I am far from being persuaded that its REPEAL “ would be of the least Service to our Interest as DISSENTERS. I “ doubt, and have often thought, there is too much Truth in what “ you say, that high Trusts and Court-Employments would be “ extremely apt to corrupt us; and that it would really rather in“ jure than strengthen our Interest. I have never therefore as a “ DISSENTER been at all solicitous for the REPEAL.”

Note, This is express'd only as a Doubt or Suspicion; but the Author of that COMMENT hath made it say in positive and strong Terms (p. 123) “ That a Repeal of the TEST and CORPORATION Acts would REALLY be injurious to the Interest of Protestant Dissenters; or, that I am persuaded it would rather injure than strengthen our Interest.” Which is giving the Passage a very different Turn.

And when that Gentleman asks,—“ Is there an absolute Incapacity of being virtuous in high Stations? I Answer, No: But if there be a great Danger of being Vitious; this will justify surely an Indifference; a no solicitude about them; and will excuse, at least, a Doubt a Fear as to the Event. And when he further asks,—“ Would any Man think his Conduct justifiable, should “ he refuse a large Estate merely because of the greater Danger “ of his being corrupted by it?” I Answer, 1. There have been Instances

“ hear of our Constitution in *Church and State.” But divest yourself, for a moment, of worldly attachments, which insensibly warp the Mind, and you will see it, I believe, to be a very rational Doubt. For our ecclesiastical, however commonly distinguished by Sounds, I have fully proved in my first Letter (page 19—29, to which you have not presumed to make the least Reply) as also in the Beginning of this Letter, to be really no other than a civil Constitution; a System or Frame contrived, disposed and enacted by the CIVIL MAGISTRATE; as much as the Constitution of the Treasury, of the Army, or of the Courts of Westminster-Hall. These all, Sir, have their Constitutions, (that is, their several Parts of the public Business assigned them to dispatch, and their several Officers and Forms and Methods of proceeding in them) as really, as truly, and as much as the Church. The ARMY is the Constitution and Order of the civil Magistrate relating to the Direction of Instances of such Refusal recorded, and, perhaps, justly, as Instances of heroic Virtue. But, 2. TO REFUSE it when offer'd, is a thing extremely different from being SOLICITOUS to obtain it. Public Offices and Trusts, when offer'd by those in Power, ought not to be refus'd by such as think themselves capable of rightly discharging them; because this would be to reject an Opportunity of Public Service, to which their Country calls them. But this may be done without a Solicitude to procure them.

The Passage on which this ingenious Author has step'd aside to remark, speaks but the very same Sentiment which himself has elsewhere, perhaps more strongly express'd. Comment, &c. page 138. “ An indifferency to the Honours, Riches and Pleasures of this World, a Contempt of and Victory over them, is the Independency and Supremacy which the true Religion and Church can boast; the Resignation (or Loss) of which must be infinitely dangerous to her, her Poison, her death Wound.”—Again, page 131. “ Though it may be thought I am pleading for the Introduction of Protestant Dissenters into Places of Profit and Trust, I am fully persuaded that their having such Places would not make them more religious Men, nor from Numbers of them so employed would their Societies appear with greater Reputation as religious Societies.”

* Let. I. page 11. II. Def. pages 9, 10.

of the Military Force. The TREASURY is the Constitution and Order of the same Magistrate relating to the Collection and Disposal of the public Monies. The COURTS of Westminster-hall are the Constitution of the same Magistrate for the dispensing public Justice. And the CHURCH is the Constitution and Order of the same Magistrate relating to the Manner in which the public Worship is to be performed. The Officers in each are ALL entirely made, instructed, controuled by the Power of the CIVIL MAGISTRATE : 'Tis by his Authority alone they are all qualified and empowered to act in their respective Stations ; and 'tis in that Manner, and by those Rules only which HIS Wisdom hath prescribed, that in all their respective Offices they severally proceed.

What you call then the ecclesiastical is really, you see, no other than a Branch of the civil Constitution ; and what you call the Church is in truth no more an essential, much less an half Part of our CONSTITUTION, than the Treasury, the Army, or either of the Courts of Westminster-hall. Should, now, the Wisdom of the Legislature think proper to new-form any of these Constitutions ; for instance, the Method of dispensing Justice in any of our Law Courts (which Courts, by the way, are all of much longer standing than the Constitution of our present Church) by which a Saving would arise of vast Sums to the Public, and Justice be dispensed in a more rational and easy way : Would you not smile to hear some zealous Gentlemen of the Robe stand forth and insist,——That these COURTS were an essential and an half Part of the CONSTITUTION ; and that therefore whoever moved for, or so much as wished, an ALTERATION in either of them, could not be safely trusted with any share of the public Power, and was really in Truth an Enemy to the STATE—? The learned Gentlemen of that Robe, Sir, no doubt, alike smile smile to hear you thus reasoning as to the Church*.

By “ the CONSTITUTION in Church and State, “ then, of which we often hear even in Speeches “ and Addresses from, and to the Throne,” can be meant nothing else, than,—that ORDER or FORM of Government respecting ALL Persons and Things which is established by the Laws and Customs of this Realm. A CONSTITUTION, by which the King or QUEEN, as supreme Head of the Church, is the fountain of all Power and Jurisdiction therein; authorised to instruct, over-rule and controul all the Archbishops, Bishops, and Priests in this kingdom, in all their most SPIRITUAL and ECCLESIASTICAL concerns—A CONSTITUTION, by which a LADY, when such fills the Throne, is impowered to compose

* That the Account here given of the Nature and Constitution of the Church of England is quite agreeable to the Sentiments of our first REFORMERS, the Founders and Framers of it, appears from the determination of a select Assembly of them, convened at Wind-fox by K. Edward VI. by whom (as may be concluded from Archbishop Cranmer's Manuscript) it was declared.

“ That all Christian Princes have committed to them immediately from GOD the whole cure of their Subjects; as well concerning the administration of GOD's Word for the Cure of Souls, “ as concerning the Ministration of things political and civil Governance. In both these Ministrations they must have sundry Ministers under them, to supply that which is appointed to their several Offices.

“ The civil Ministers under the King's Majesty in this Realm be those whom it shall please his Highness, for the time, to put in Authority under him; as for Example, the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treasurer, Lord Admiral, &c.

“ The Ministers of GOD's Word under his Majesty be the Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and such other Priests as be appointed by his Highness to that Ministration; as for Example, the Bishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Winchester, the Parson of Coynewick, &c.

“ All the said Officers and Ministers, as well of the one sort as of the other, be appointed, assigned and elected in every Place “ by the Law: and Orders of Kings and Princes.” [Vide an Extract from Archbishop Cranmer's M.S. Stilling. Iren. Part II. Ch. viii. page 391.

pose public Prayers for the Church; to stop all Preaching therein; to fill vacant Bishoprics with what Persons she pleases, or not to fill them at all*; to direct all Ecclesiastics what they shall, or shall not preach; and even in the most abstruse and metaphysical Points to be the final Judge of HERESIE; whose Judgment must stand, as to what shall or shall not be deemed HERESIE in this Church, even though it happen to contradict that of all her learned CLERGY in Convocation convened.

Thus that renown'd LADY Queen Elizabeth, in the Fulness of her ecclesiastical Power, HERSELF compos'd a Prayer, Archdeacon Echard † informs us, for the use of a great Number of her Nobility and Gentry, as well as her Soldiers and Sailors, in the Expedition against Cadiz, directing it to be used daily in every Ship. And by virtue of her Supremacy she might, I presume, if she had pleas'd (and that any future QUEEN may) compose Prayers for the use of the Archbishops, Bishops, and all the Clergy of the Land; and injoin their solemn Use every Sunday in the Church; and that the Use of such devout FEMININE Compositions, no Bishop nor Priest can agreeably to our CONSTITUTION, in any wise refuse.

The same Royal LADY, by virtue of her Proclamation only, put an entire stop to all Preaching of Ministers and others throughout the Kingdom; and the People were charged to bear no other Preaching or Doctrine, but the Epistle and Gospel of the Day, and the Ten Commandments, without any Exposition or Paraphrase thereon. And should any future QUEEN

T

think

* Any of the Bishoprics may be kept vacant by the Princes of England, as those of Ely and Oxford were by Q. Elizabeth; the latter had no Bishop for 22 Years. The Parliament dissolved the rich Bishopric of Durham in King Edward VI's Reign, and gave the Profits to the Crown. And it had remained dissolved to this Day, probably, had not Popish Q. Mary restored it.

† Hist. of England, p. 367. Col. 1.

think proper to do the same, I humbly apprehend, all her Bishops and Clergy are, by our CONSTITUTION in Church and State, oblig'd to obey.

By the same Constitution King Charles I. put forth a Proclamation (if a WOMAN had worn the CROWN, she also might have done it; as any future QUEEN may) commanding the Clergy not to preach or dispute about Arminianism. The learn'd Bishop Davenant, presuming to preach upon the Doctrine of Predestination, was forced to appear upon his Knees before the Council; and being severely reprimanded, hardly so escaped: Though he alledg'd he had preach'd nothing but the XVIIth Article of the Church of England. The KING, not only in his superior, but SUPREME ecclesiastic, Wisdom told him,—"The Doctrine of Predestination was too big for the Peoples Understandings; and that HE WAS RESOLVED not to permit that Controversy to be discuss'd in the Pulpit*."

What Authority our Constitution gives QUEENS to judge in Points of HERESIE (the most deep and mysterious Points) and to controul the Proceedings of the most venerable and holy Synod which the Clergy of this Kingdom can possibly compose, has been observ'd in the Case of Whiston, whom Queen ANNE, by her sole Authority, skreen'd from the heavy Censure of her learn'd Convocation. HER single Judgment, in the Balance of our apostolic and excellently constituted Church, being of far greater Weight than that of the united Bishops and Clergy of the whole Land. This you are pleas'd, weakly enough, to call Misrepresentation; but might have seen the Truth of it attested by two of your own learn'd and reverend Historians Burnet and Tindal, in their Accounts of the Year 1711.

Again,

* Vide Fuller's Church Hist. Book IX. page 138

The same blessed Martyr, by his royal mandate only, without any trial, sequestered and suspended from the execution of his office good Archbishop Abbot, for refusing his licence and approbation to a most vile and scandalous sermon of Sjbtborp.

Again, by our present Constitution the King alone, or at least by Consent of Parliament, hath undoubted POWER to divide the twenty-six Bishoprics, into which this Kingdom is at present cantoned, into as many hundred; and thus to render them more like the Bishoprics of the first ages; when every Christian Bishop took the oversight of no more than he could personally know, and than could communicate at one Table; a POWER to new-frame the whole order of public worship; to abolish its present articles, ceremonies and forms; and to substitute none at all, or quite new ones, in their stead. A POWER to dispose of that part of the public treasure by which the Clergy are maintained in a more equitable and juster manner; and to reduce the shameful Exorbitance, by which some Members of that great, and in itself venerable and useful Body, wanton in vast Affluence, Indolence and Sloth, (which may be what you call Snugness) whilst others more virtuous, laborious and learned wear away their Lives in Obscurity and Want.—This, Sir, without question, is our present CONSTITUTION in Church and State.

S E C T. IV.

Of SPONSORS in Baptism.

YOUR Defence of Sponsors in Baptism comes next to be considered. Here you affirm,— “ That I represent the Use of Sponsors as a very “ mysterious Point, as an unaccountable, inexplicable, “ absurd and unlawful thing*.” An Assertion hurried from you by the Ardor of Zeal, but quite without Truth. The Use of Sponsors, in all Cases of Parents Incapacity, I entirely approve; and expressly T 2 told

* II. .Def page 24.

told you, That in such Cases the Dissenters also use them *. You could not, without extreme Inattention, but see, that it was “The SETTING ASIDE the Pa-” “rents; the FORBIDDING them to stand forth and”
 “engage solemnly for the religious Education of the” “Child; and the receiving the Child to Baptism upon”
 “account of its OWN FAITH and its OWN PROMISE” “expressed by its SURETIES,” that I thus represent. And though I have the Pleasure now to find you tacitly giving up, though not honourably retracting, that precipitant Expression, “That Godfathers are”
 “not an useful only, but even a NECESSARY In-” “stitution,” yet scarcely, without Pain, can one see you grievously embarrassed in accounting for the Answers made at the Font. These, you still insist, are not the Sureties, but the CHILD’s Answers. But your Attempts to explain, how a Child who cannot believe, does yet profess Faith!— How the Infant who in no Sense can promise or engage; does yet really and in good Sense vow and engage!— How the Babe, who has no Thought, no Purposes, nor Desires, may yet express these by the Mouth of its Sureties; and these Expressions of what it hath not, and cannot possibly have, are accepted by the Church as a proper Token that it hath them, and as a solid Ground of Baptism!— This is still to me, and I believe to all the World, as inexplicable, mysterious, transcendent a thing as before you undertook to unvail and explain it.

Nay, the Mystery grows upon you, by attempting to unfold it; For you declare, “That the”
 “Ground and Foundation of Infants being received”
 “to Baptism, in your Church, is the Promise of” “GOD to Believers and their Seed †.” Mind then, ’tis the Faith of the PARENT that intitles the Child to Baptism; but if the Ground of its being received to this Christian Sacrament be the Faith of its PA-

RENT

* Let. II. page 42.

† II. Defence, page 28.

RENT only, why do you receive it as if upon account of ITS OWN Faith? Why interrogate the poor BABE?— Dost THOU believe? Wilt THOU be baptised?— Again, if the PARENT'S Faith be that which intitles the Child to Baptism; why is not the PARENT the Person who stands forth to profess Faith as a Qualification for the Baptism of the Child? Why is the CHILD called upon vicari-ously to declare, that itself believes, that itself desires Baptism, &c. when all the World sees that it neither knows, nor does, nor can in any sense at all do either of these things?

You endeavour to explain the Matter “ by an “ Infant in the Lord of the Manor's Court, who by “ his Attorney is admitted to his Copy-hold, and “ covenants to do Homage for the same; or, by “ an Infant-King, who hath some one of the No- “ bility who in his Name and for his Benefit is ap- “ pointed to take the Coronation Oath; and there- “ by oblige him to observe the Laws and protect “ his Subjects*. But these Instances avail you nothing, For,

1. The Child, when admitted by his Attorney in the Lord's Court to his Copy-hold, does not cove- nant to do Homage for the same. That he does not covenant, I prove by a very plain and incontestable Argument, which is, that he cannot. There is no Sense at all, no religious or moral Sense, in which the Infant can with any Truth or Propriety be said to covenant. No, 'tis the Attorney, and he alone that covenants to perform the Homage. And in the Case of a Minor King, when one of the Nobility takes the Coronation-Oath in his Name or Stead (if any such Ceremony be ever performed) he does not, cannot in any Sense thereby oblige the Royal Infant to observe the Laws and protect the Subject: Not whilst an Infant; because, not being a moral Agent, he cannot cannot possibly be capable of moral Obligation : And not when he comes of Age ; because the Promise or Oath of one rational moral Agent, can never properly oblige another, if that other was not at all conscious of, nor gave his Consent to it. The whole Nature and Extent of the Obligation in that Case is unquestionably this : The Nobleman who takes the Oath, as personating the King, and who during the Minority is vested with the regal Power, swears that he HIMSELF will, in the Exercise of that Power, observe the Laws and protect the Subjects. The Obligation of this Oath, which is made by himself only, can extend only to himself ; and it lasts only so long as he continues vested with the regal Power. But when the Royal Infant comes of Age, and assumes the Power into his own Hands ; he must personally take the Oath ; or some way or other signify his solemn Assent to it, in order to his being laid under any real Obligation by it. And then,

* II. Def. p. 129.

2. These Cases also widely differ from that of the baptized Infant, because in both of them there are several important Services and Actions to be done, (which must be performed by some one) whilst the Minority continues. In the first, there are Suits and Services in the Lord's Court, and Quit-rents to be paid. In the other, there are Acts of regal Power to be continually exerted for the due Government of the People, even whilst the Infancy remains. These, therefore, being indispensibly Necessary to be done, and the Infant being utterly incapable of doing them, hence arises a Necessity of some Person's undertaking to Discharge these Offices for him, and to act in the Infant's stead. But, is there any Thing like this in the Case of baptized Infants ? Is there any Service or Homage, any Faith or Vows which God expects from them whilst their Infancy lasts ? You know there is not. If God then expects no such Services from the Infant, why are Sponsors called forth to pretend to perform them for him !

And

And this when the pretence is in every View ridiculous; because in Things of Religion 'tis utterly absurd for one Man to pretend to promise, to repent, to believe in the Name of another.

One principal Design of the Baptism of a Child, you own, "is that some SECURITY be given; some solemn STIPULATION be made before the Church for its RELIGIOUS EDUCATION." Who then, I pray, so proper to give this Security, as the Person to whom its Education is committed? Whom should the Church bring under the Engagement of a solemn Vow or Covenant for this purpose? Strangers, who, perhaps, never saw the Child; or, who when the Ceremony is past, will never see it more! Or the Parents, in whose Family it is to grow up, and under whose Eye it is to be formed!

An explicit STIPULATION, in your Baptism of an Infant, you do not pretend there is any but what the Child (poor Babe) ITSELF makes; "but the Sureties by standing there, and receiving a solemn Charge concerning the religious Education of the Child are justly supposed to accept it*." But do you not know, Sir, that this is no Stipulation, neither explicit nor implicit. A Stipulation is a mutual Promise: But though the Sponsors stand there, and bear the Admonition; no Answer, no Word, no Token is required of them by which to signify their solemn Purpose and Engagement to obey it. Accordingly, when they return home, they too generally with great Levity shake off the Charge again, and throw it over to the Parent †. And thus the solemnity of the Institution dwindles into a mere Trifling, if not ludicrous Ceremony; and your boasted double Security still remains no real Security at all.

Dr. Nichols's Account of this apparently absurd and mysterious Affair, to which I referred you, is to be

* II. Def. p. 36.

† Com. to the Temp. p. 612.

be sure far more defensible, though quite contrary to yours, viz. “Baptifatorum fidem religioſè in ſe recipiebant, eos ſincerè omnia in Evangelio revelata credere, & ſubſequentes vitæ actiones juxta Chriſti normam directuros eſſe*.”—That the Sureties religiously ENGAGED for the Faith of the Baptiſed, that they SHOULD ſincerely believe all that was revealed in the Goſpel, and direct the ſubſequent Actions of their Lives by the Law of Chriſt. This you call MY Translation; and tax me before the World “for having WRONG TRANSLATED it to ſerve my Purpose†.” It will give you, ſurely, ſome Confuſion and Pain to be told that this is not mine, but is the Doct^r’s OWN Translation, or that of his learned Friend who publiſhed his Defence, &c. And I appeal to the Public, whether the Doct^r’s or Yours be the proper Rendering of the Words. Is Recipere in ſe fidem baptifatorum,—To make a ſolemn Declaration and Profeſſion touching the Faith of the Baptiſed?—Beſides, the Doct^r was too wiſe a Perſon to repreſent the Sureties, as you would have him, as making a ſolemn Declaration that the Infant DID ſincerely believe all that is revealed in the Goſpel,—because this he well knew was what no wiſe or honest Man could poſſibly declare concerning any Infant upon Earth. He knew it abſurd to affirm,—That the Infant DID BELIEVE at all; much more to affirm that it SINCERELY believed; but more even yet, that it ſincerely believed ALL that is revealed in the Goſpel.—Which ever way you view it then, ’tis all myſterious and recondite: And this Buſineſs of the Sureties and their Answers at the Font, after all your Pains to clear it up, is ſtill covered with extremely dark and impenetrable Clouds, which, till ſome new Light ſhall ariſe, one may venture to prophesy will never be diſpelled: It turns the Ceremony of your Baptiſm into little elſe than a ſolemn Trifle; and furniſhes to Unbelievers Matter of everlaſting Ridicule and Contempt.

S E C T.

* Nich. Def. Part. II. p 273.

† II Def. p. 26.

S E C T V.

Of CONFIRMATION.

AS to the Ceremony of Confirmation, you are still so wise as not to assert any Scriptural or Apostolic Authority for its Practice. But yet ask,— “ If both the ordinary and extraordinary Gifts of the Spirit were communicated by the Apostles by Imposition of Hands, why may we not expect that the ordinary ones will be still communicated by the same Administration? And why should we not continue that Administration in the Church in Hope and Expectation of them*? By these ordinary Gifts, as you fully explain yourself, you mean, what are usually called, the GRACES of the Spirit, even the Spirit of LOVE and of a SOUND MIND. For you add, “ If this Spirit of Love and of a sound Mind was given to Timothy by imposition of Hands in his Ordination; why may it not be done by the same Ceremony in Confirmation?” I am sorry there is a Protestant Divine in this Kingdom capable of asking such a Question as this. For, 1. This Spirit of LOVE and of a sound MIND ἀγάπης καὶ σωφρονισμοῦ, which you encourage us to expect from the laying on of the Bishop’s Hands, is one of the sublimest GIFTS conferred upon the human Race by the Gospel of CHRIST. A GIFT which far excels an Ability to speak with Tongues, a Faith that can remove Mountains, a Power to cast out Devils, to heal all manner of Diseases, or even to raise the Dead.—The Spirit of LOVE and of a SOUND MIND far excels them all; and yet this it seems we may now expect by the laying on of the Bishop’s Hands! Blessed Episcopacy indeed, if it carries with it such Gifts!

U

But

* H. Def. p. 38.

But how foolish and wild the Claim, if neither Scripture nor Reason lend it the least Support! For,

2. Because this GIFT was conferr'd on Timothy at his Ordination by the laying on of the APOSTLES Hands; does it follow, that the same Gifts may be expected in Confirmation from the Hands of our present Bishops? Is there Power in their Lordship's Fingers to convey so divine a Blessing to the Head on which they rest? You should know, Sir, that the learned Prelates of this Church abhor the presumptuous Claim: They pretend to no such Power. Why then will you officiously presume to claim it for them? And why amuse the World, and give Infidels room to scoff by the use of a solemn Ceremony for the conferring these Gifts, which no mortal Man hath now Power to bestow? The Age is critical and discerning. For the Honour of the Christian Name therefore, and the Dignity of Christian Bishops, all Claims not clearly founded on Scripture or Reason, and all Offices and Rites not evidently supported by them, should at the least be silently dropt.

The only Rite, after Baptism, which I find either instituted or practised by CHRIST and his Apostles, "to make a public Recognition of baptismal Engagements in the Face of a Christian Congregation," is the celebrating the Lord's Supper. By this Christians are openly to profess themselves the Subjects and Followers of JESUS CHRIST; to recognize their baptismal Covenant; to show forth that Death by which he purchas'd them to himself; and in the most public and solemn manner to lay themselves under fresh and most sacred Obligations to live obedient to his Laws.—Here then are all the Ends which can rationally be propos'd in the use of Confirmation, a human Invention, more effectually and better answer'd in that of the Lord's Supper, an undoubted Institution and Command of JESUS CHRIST. With the Emblems of their Saviour's

viour's Body and Blood in their Hands, the Recognition they HERE make of their Engagements to an holy Life is vastly more solemn, the Motives to Obedience more powerful and constraining, and they are CERTIFIED of GOD's Favour and gracious Goodness to them by a TOKEN incomparably more important than the laying on of the Bishop's Hands.— If you ask, “ What is this to those who dare not “ offer themselves to the Sacrament * ?” I answer, such have equal reason not to offer themselves to Confirmation; the same Faith and Sincerity which are requisite to render a Person a proper Subject of the one, make him also a worthy Communicant in the other.

That this Ceremony of Confirmation is no Part of genuine and primitive CHRISTIANITY, there are few, I suppose none, of our learned Bishops and Divines, but perfectly know. Tertullian is the most antient Author in which Mention of it is found. But by his time, 'tis well known, a great Variety of Superstitions and ridiculous and foolish Rites were brought into the Church. And you are also, I presume, not ignorant that Confirmation was then always performed (not as it is with us, but) IMMEDIATELY after Baptism, as it is now also throughout the Greek Church, and all the Churches of the East. A due Regard to this will lead you to the true Meaning of that Expression in your office, which you are so embarrass'd in clearing up; where the Bishop declares to GOD, That he hath vouchsafed to regenerate these his Servants by Water and the Holy Ghost, and to give them the Forgiveness of all their Sins. An Expression taken, probably, from some antient Liturgy; and which was suitable and well adapted to the Practice of those Times, but is utterly incongruous and unsuitable to ours.

For then, as Dr. Cave observes †, “ Though Infants were undoubtedly taken into the Church by

U 2

“ Bap-

* II. Def. p. 39. † Prim. Chris. Part I. p. 194, 208.

“ Baptism, yet the main Body of the Baptised were “ adult Persons; who, flocking over daily in great “ Numbers to the Faith of Christ, were received in “ at this Door. Usually they were for some con“ siderable time catechised, and trained up in the “ Principles of the Christian Faith; till having “ given Testimony of their Proficiency in Know“ ledge, and of a sober and regular Conversation, “ they became Candidates for Baptism.” Or as a “ greater Author * says, “ The Catechumens enjoy’d “ not the Privileges of the Faithful till they had,
 “ in a Sense, merited them; which was when, thro’
 “ a considerable time of Trial, they had evidenced “ the Sincerity of their Hearts by the Sanctity and “ Purity of their Lives: And then, as Origen says, “ We initiate them in our Mysteries, when they have “ made a Proficiency in Holiness, and according to the “ utmost of their Power have reformed their Conver- “ sation. When they had changed their Manners “ and rectified their irregular Carriage, then they “ were washed with the Water of Baptism, and NOT “ BEFORE. For, as Tertullian observes, we are not “ baptised, that we may cease to sin; but because we “ have ALREADY ceased.” Now when this was the Case, and immediately after Baptism Confirmation was administred, there was some Decency and Propriety in the Bishop’s or Presbyter’s (for Presbyters also then confirm’d) addressing Almighty God as having vouchsafed to regenerate these his Servants with Water and the Holy Ghost, and to grant them the Forgiveness of all their Sins. But how different, alas!
 (vastly different) the Case at present is with the Multitudes who flock to our modern Confirmations! How rude and unserious they rush to receive this episcopal Grace! In how perfunctory and slight a manner the Ceremony is performed. What Riot and Disorder frequently concludes the Day! — is too obvious to
 the

* Inquiry into the Constitution, &c. Part I. p. 102.

the World, and would seem, perhaps, invidious if set in its proper Light.

Your laboured Apology for the Bishop's making that very weighty and solemn Declaration over a promiscuous Assembly, which is supposed to include many vitious and corrupt Persons, is effectually overthrown by your own just Concession,—"that " if he was, indeed, to declare to each individual
 " Person, by himself, that God had regenerated
 " him in particular with the Holy Ghost and for" given him all his Sins, it would be a different
 " Case.—Such a Person might be tempted there-
 " by to entertain better Thoughts of the State of his " Soul than he had Reason for, and to delude himself
 " with deceitful Hopes *." Behold this, in effect, indisputably done! For each individual Person, after having heard this solemn Declaration pronounced over himself in common with all the rest, is presented separately by his Parish Priest; and kneeling before the Bishop, feels his consecrating Hand resting upon his Head, and hears HIMSELF distinctly and personally certified (ASSURED from the Bishop's Mouth) that THIS is a TOKEN of GOD's Favour and gracious Goodness to him in particular. What now, I ask, is the obvious, the natural Construction which the Person puts upon all this! Why surely, unless he thinks the whole Solemnity a Farce; and that the Bishop and Priest (his spiritual Guides, whose Lips are to preserve Knowledge, and who are to be the Mouth of God to him) have conspired to put a dangerous Cheat upon his Soul, he must strongly conclude his Soul to be in a happy and safe Case; in a State of Favour with God; and a Partaker of that Forgiveness which his gracious Goodness hath promised in the Gospel of Christ.—Whether the Continuance of this Ceremony, in its present Form of Administration, be either for the Honour of the Administrator, or for the Benefit of the Church?—

Whe-

Whether it hath not an apparent Tendency to cherish a delusive Hope, and to speak Peace to such Persons as are not, by the Christian Covenant, entitled to Peace? I with all Humility leave to the Consideration of those whom, I thank God, it more immediately concerns than myself; who are to be faithful in God's House; and to watch for Mens Souls as those who must give Account to the GREAT SHEPHERD, who will shortly come; before whom it will be a tremendous thing to have the immortal Souls of THOUSANDS required at their Hands.

S E C T. VI.

The Terms of MINISTERIAL Conformity hard and terrible.—LAY-DISSENT justified.—The RISE of the Separation.

NEXT after CONFIRMATION, I considered two other Offices of your Liturgy, viz. RESOLUTION of the Sick, and the BURIAL of the Dead; and shewed them, I apprehend, to be liable to great Exceptions; and to have no friendly Aspect upon the Morals and Souls of Men. I am strengthened in that Opinion by observing, that amidst the Variety of trifling things to which you have descended, in the Prosecution of this Debate, you have quite overlook'd these two important Points; and have not so much as undertaken their Defence. It does some Honour to your Understanding not to attempt to defend what you know to be indefensible, but to let the Forms lie under the Imputations charged upon them, till God shall put it into the Hearts of those who have it in their Power to wipe these unhappy Blemishes from the Face of the Church.

But as to these, and some other of your additional Splendors (doing reverence towards the East, and bowing to the Name of JESUS, which also you do not so much as pretend either to justify or explain) you observe, — “ That these are things with “ which

“ which, as a Layman, I have no concern. As to “ the Form of Absolution, what has he, for GOD’S “ Sake, to do with it? If he does not design to “ take Orders in the Church, and so subscribe to “ the Use of the Liturgy, ’tis no Concern of his “ whether that Form be defensible or not *.” But have not I, dear Sir, as much to do with YOUR Ministerial Conformity, as you with MY Lay-Dissent?
 Are YOU not as much obliged to vindicate, before the World, your SUBSCRIPTION and USE of these Offices in your Church; as I am to justify my SE-PARATION from it? Yes, and I now publicly call upon you, and charge it upon your most serious deliberate Reflections, as you will soon answer it at a supreme and impartial Tribunal, to remember and consider—

That you have solemnly, and in GOD’S Presence (GOD that searcheth the Heart, and that abhors all Prevarication, Hypocrisy, and Deceit, especially in religious things) in the Presence of this GOD, I say, and in the Face of his Church, you have declared YOUR UNFEIGNED Assent and Consent to ALL and EVERY THING contained in, and prescribed by the Book of Common Prayer, &c. If then there be any ONE Thing contained in that Book, any ONE Office or Form, irrational, unfit, repugnant to the Gospel Scheme, and which no well instructed Christian can heartily assent to, or unfeignedly approve. I appeal to your own Conscience, I appeal to the whole World—Where is the Honour! Where the Christian Simplicity and Godly Sincerity of this solemn Declaration! What,—shall a Man, a Minister, in GOD’S Presence, and appealing to HIM as the Searcher of Hearts, declare his UNFEIGNED AS-SENT to things he does not approve; and promise his UNFEIGNED CONSENT to use Forms in GOD’S Worship, which he heartily dislikes! This is a most grievous Yoke; beheld by Unbelievers, upon the Necks

Necks of Christian Ministers, with mighty Insults and Scoffs; and which every Friend to the Christian Name should wish heartily to see removed. And,

This, as before observed, justifies most fully that SEPARATION from your Church, to which our Fathers were compelled, and which we at present continue: when in a most unrighteous and schismatical manner she cast out above two thousand of her Ministers, for not subscribing and declaring this UNFEIGNED Assent and Consent. These Ministers were by this deprived of what they had not forfeited; deprived of acting as Ministers by those who had no Right, nor Authority, to deprive them of it. The Pastoral Relation therefore undoubtedly remained betwixt them and their respective Flocks; and they acted a lawful, a worthy Part in continuing their ministerial Services, though thus cruelly cast out.

“ No, you reply, they ought to have conformed
 “ as Lay-Men, as some of them did; much less “ will this justify the Laity of those Times; less “ still the Ministers and Laity of the present in their “ Separation*.” To their immortal Praise be it recorded, they better understood their Rights and their Duty as CHRIST'S Subjects, the ONLY KING in the Church; and, with great Suffering and worldly Loss, entered boldly their Protest against this presumptuous Invasion of his Throne; this schismatical Intrusion of NEW TERMS of the Christian Ministry and Communion into his Church. The Conditions of exercising the Christian Ministry, which the Act of Uniformity imposed upon our Fathers, were such as no Power upon Earth had a Right to impose upon them: They were such, as if complied with, opened a wide way for innumerable Corruptions, Superstitions and Persecutions to enter and lay waste the Church. Their Subscription was required to NEW Arti-

Articles of Faith which CHRIST had never made; and their unfeigned Assent and Consent to NEW Rites and Forms of Worship which neither CHRIST nor his Apostles had ever appointed or enjoined: Yea, it obliged them schismatically to confine Christian Communion to those only who would submit to these Inventions of Men in the Worship of God; and to deny Baptism and the Lord's Supper, to those who, by the Constitution and Laws of Christ's Kingdom, were duly qualified to receive, and had an absolute Right to them.

Amongst others, there are two ever memorable Circumstances from which the flagrant Oppression and Tyranny of those Proceedings most strongly appear, 1. That the Time fixed for the Ministers subscribing and assenting to the Alterations in the Common-Prayer was so short, that not one in an hundred of those who lived remote from London saw, or could be supposed to see them, before their Assent and Consent was, under so severe a Penalty, to be solemnly given. It is a known and certain Truth, says one *, that the Liturgy, with its Alterations, to which they were unfeignedly to assent, came not out of the Press till Baribolomew-Eve; the Day ensuing, which was the ultimate Time fixed by the Act for the Ministers Subscription; so all those, throughout the Kingdom, who conformed, except a few in London, subscribed to they knew not what. “The “ Matter was driven on, says Bishop Burnet, with “ so much Precipitation, that it seemed expected
“ the Clergy should subscribe implicitly to a Book
“ they had never seen. This was done by too many,
“ as the Bishops themselves informed me——†.”
Could any thing be more unrighteous or tyrannical than this?—Yes: For,

2. The unhappy Ministers were obliged likewise to declare solemnly, and even to subscribe a notori- ous,

X

* Tong of Schism, page 150.

† Hist. of his Time, Vol. I. page 212, Oct.

ous, most dangerous and important UNTRUTH, viz. That it is not lawful upon ANY PRETENCE WHATSOEVER to take Arms against the King, or any Commissioned by him.—A Position absolutely subversive of the British Constitution, and which the Nation was soon after (in God's righteous and wise Providence) brought openly to acknowledge to be traiterous, detestable, scandalous and false. A Position which, if admitted, the glorious REVOLUTION, and our present happy GOVERNMENT, had never taken Place; but Tyranny and Popery, with all their dire Curses, had been bound eternally upon our Necks. But, be astonished, O Heavens! This false, this base, this scandalous Declaration, by the Act of Uniformity, the Ministers, upon Pain of losing their Places, were obliged solemnly to make. Our Fathers nobly abhorred it; scorned to betray the Rights and Liberties of their Country, and to be Tools of arbitrary Power. For this Heroic Refusal they were cast cruelly from their Churches, and delivered up, with their starving Families, to extreme Sufferings and Distress*.

This, Sir, was the shameful, the tyrannical Yoke, which the Act of Uniformity would have put upon

* “ By the Act of Uniformity, says Mr. Locke, all the Clergy of England are obliged to subscribe and declare, That it is not lawful upon any Pretence whatever to take Arms against the King. This they readily complied with †. For you must know that sort of Men are taught rather to obey, than understand. And yet that Bartholomew Day was fatal to our Church and Religion, by throwing out a very great Number of worthy, learned, pious, orthodox Divines who could not come up to this Oath, and other things in that Act. And so great was the Zeal in carrying on this Church-Affair and so blind the Obedience requir'd that if you compute the time of passing this Act, with that allowed for the Clergy to subscribe the Book of Common-Prayer thereby established, you will find it could not be printed and distributed, so as that one Man in FORTY could have seen and read the Book they did so perfectly assent and consent to.” Maiz. Col. page 61.

† Our two thousand worthy Predecessors excepted;

upon the Necks of our illustrious Predecessors ; and to which, as CHRISTIANS and as PROTESTANTS they bravely scorned to submit. Noble was the STAND which they made in Defence of Christian Liberty and Truth. Glorious will their Names ever shine in the British Annals, whilst Virtue and Integrity are sacred amongst us. Peace and everlasting Honour be upon the Memory of these Christian Heroes : Future Generations will rise and call them blessed !

To their MINISTERS thus unrighteously and cruelly ejected, it was the Duty and the Honour of the Christian LAITY to adhere. It was partly for their Liberty, and that the Gospel might be continued in its primitive Simplicity and Purity amongst them, that their Ministers thus suffered : It had been inglorious then, ungrateful, and in the highest Degree unjust, to have forsaken their ejected Pastors ; and not have borne their Witnesses with them against the imposing Spirit which then lifted itself up, and was fastening a disgraceful Yoke upon the Disciples of Christ. Through the Favour of Heaven, a noble Spirit of Christian Fortitude was awakened also in LAY-Breasts (and, its Mercy be praised, still lives ; beats high ; and, we hope, daily advances to the final and everlasting Overthrow of Bigotry, Church-Tyranny and Persecution from the Earth.) They saw and detested the dangerous and fatal Schism and Usurpation upon the Rights of Conscience, which a Part of lordly Men were setting up in the Church of Christ. They stuck fast to their injured Ministers, and to the Principles of Christian Liberty. And GOD hath eminently blessed their Churches for the promoting sincere Piety, Sobriety, and Virtue in all succeeding Times.

This was the Rise of that SEPARATION from the Establishment which I am defending in these Letters. A SEPARATION, which as it was founded upon Christian and just Principles, so it has marvellously subsisted, under great worldly Discouragements, strengthened and upheld, we trust, by the mighty Power of God. And by the same mighty Power, we hope, will still be upheld, till his Mercy shall dispose the Hearts of our Brethren who have cast us out, to receive us again.

As a Layman, Sir, I consider the GOSPEL and CHRISTIAN LIBERTY as a sacred Deposit committed to me by GOD, for which I am to be accountable at his Tribunal hereafter. As to these, he hath expressly charged me, and every Lay-Christian, to watch——to stand fast,——to keep what is committed to me,——to fight the good Fight of Faith, &c.—If I see then the Simplicity and Liberty of the GOSPEL corrupted and infringed by the Inventions, Traditions and Commandments of Men; the UNITY of the Church broken by new Terms of Communion, and new Articles of Faith imposed upon the Disciples. If I see things ridiculous*, superstitious†, erroneous‡, brought into the Church, and made a Part of Christian Worship; things dangerous to Mens Souls, and which give them wrong Notions of the Terms of Salvation and Acceptance with GOD, and which manifestly tend to cherish a false and delusive Peace §. In this Case, though a Layman, I am bound to enter my Protest, and to declare openly my Dissent, as I would not be condemned as a Betrayer of my SACRED TRUST, and would stand before my JUDGE with Confidence at last.

S E C T.

* Reading the spurious, romantic, apocryphal Tables.

† Bowing at the Name of Jesus; and worshipping towards the East, &c.

‡ Several of the Articles, especially the XXth, and the damnable clauses of the Athanasian Creed.

§ The Absolution of the Sick, the Burial Office and Confirmation.

S E C T. VII.

Several gross MISREPRESENTATIONS of the Dissenters corrected.

I Proceed next to what you seem to glory in as the peculiar Excellence of your Letters, but which will soon appear, to your very SELF, their peculiar Foible and Disgrace, viz. Your retorting upon DISSENTERS their own Pleas and Objections; particularly your Charge, That they not only have, but IMPOSE Ceremonies in Divine Worship; and that there are various IMPOSITIONS amongst ourselves.

You here force me to call you forth, Sir, to undergo the Mortification of seeing yourself proved, before the World, a false Accuser of your Brethren. SITTING at the Lord's-Supper you have at several distinct Times, and with great Variety of Language, most confidently asserted, "*to be really IMPOSED by us—to be CONSTANTLY, INVARIABLY and UNIVERSALLY practised amongst us.—That it is NEVER allowed to be DEPARTED from.—That our Ministers INSIST upon and REFUSE to abate it—," with much more to the same Purpose. This now is a Charge, not only absolutely false, but (which is a very aggravating Circumstance, and must shock greatly your Character and Credit before the World) you had seen it to be FALSE. For, you had actually read in Dr. Calamy's Brief Account, &c. a most express Declaration that NO SUCH THING was at all imposed amongst us, but that our Communicants were AT LIBERTY to use their OWN POSTURE. I again put you in mind of this, because you have not yet had the Honour to own the Falshood of this Charge, and publickly to retract it. I can assure the Public, there are no less than seven or eight dissenting senting Churches in my Neighbourhood, in which the Posture either of standing or kneeling at the Lord's-Supper has constantly been practised for many Years past (though in some of them the Persons are now deceased) and this without the least Offence, to any of the Congregation or Dislike of the Ministers.—Judge, Reader, hence what Regard is to be paid to the Representations of this zealous Censor! and how justly he describes himself encountering with Ghosts, and groping in the Dark.

* Let. II. pages 56, 57, 58. Let. III. pages 8, 9.

With equal Rashness you affirmed, and still stoutly maintain. — “ That kneeling in Family Prayer is ALWAYS practised by Dissenters; that ‘tis IMPOSED and COMMANDED by the Master of the Family upon his Children and Servants, by his signifying his Mind to them, and letting them know, once for all, he would have them kneel. *.” Upon a particular Enquiry I assure the Public, that I cannot find the least Trace of any such Imposition, or Signification of the Master's Mind in any Family of Dissenters; but that, in their Family Devotions, standing is a Posture very frequently used, and not avoided in Point of Conscience, I believe, by ten Dissenters in the Kingdom. The Matter is too trifling to merit many Words. But, to let you see how utterly unfit you are for the Office you assume, I will take you from the Darkness where you miserably gripe, and lead you to a Light which will a little disconcert your Countenance, by acquainting you, that at the three principal Dissenting Academies in the Southern Parts of England, viz. Northampton, Taunton, and Bridgwater, it hath been the general, if not the constant, unvaried Usage both of Tutors and Students, to STAND at Family Prayer. These are the Nurseries where most of the Dissenting Gentlemen and Ministers in England have been formed; whose Custom therefore must naturally

* II. Def. pages 70, 71.

naturally have a wide and strong Influence upon Multitudes of dissenting Families throughout the whole Land. See now with what Truth, with what Honour, and Discretion you bolt your random Censures at the religious Conduct of your Neighbours! and feel the just Pain with which they rebound and wound your own Head!

But what heightens our Perverseness and Inconsistency, is this; that at the same time that we thus ALWAYS worship kneeling in our Families, and the Master COMMANDS and IMPOSES it upon all its Members: “ Yet in our Prayers at Church, there, it “ seems, we always stand; and it is little less than “ imposed upon our People; for so great and general is the Discountenance that kneeling lies under, “ that it requires some Courage and Resolution for “ any one to venture upon it; and if ANY ONE “ does, you say it again, he WILL BE CENSURED “ for it *.” A charge not more bold, than it is groundless and false. “ One Congregation, you have “ said, you can name, where great Offence was “ given by a Person kneeling at her Prayers.” But you have publickly been told, by an Authority of great weight, which I presume you durst not contradict, that the whole Account is a MISREPRESENTATION; of which the most authentic Evidence is ready to be produced †. Did I not justly say, that your Informers had served you ill? A Man conscious of his own Darkness, should be cautious into what Hands he delivers himself up.

Besides, could you have made good the Charge, not against one only, but even an hundred of our Churches; will this justify the Universality and Positiveness of your Assertion, that if ANY ONE kneels amongst us, he WILL BE CENSURED for it? This publickly accuses not one only, nor an hundred, but

ALL

* II. Def. page 72.
non, page 14.

† Chandler's Case of Subscription,

ALL the Dissenting Churches of this ridiculous Weakness; which yet you cannot prove upon any single one of them all. The Reproach therefore comes back with great Force upon yourself.—I have made no extensive Enquiries on this Head, but can take upon me to assure you, there are no less than six or seven of our Congregations near me (I believe there are many more) where KNEELING at public Prayer hath been constantly practised by by one or more Members without the least Discountenance. And of the many Ministers I have consulted, I find not one who imagines the Practice would give Offence to any single Congregation amongst us.

Alike just and well supported is that other Reproach, “That it is generally held amongst us that the Sacrament is for none but PERFECT and CONSUMMATE Christians.” After multiplying on this Subject many Words to little Purpose, unless it be to shew the Reluctance with which you do it, you are at last forced to retract this injurious Imputation as to the *Presbyterians (who are by far the greater Part of the Dissenters) and acknowledge it to be false. You might have done the same by the Independents, whom you still leave under its Weight. For though they are generally more minute, I fear, in enquiring after Proofs of the Sincerity of a Man’s Christianity than the Scriptures authorise them; yet there is scarce one to be found, I believe, amongst the most rigid of them all, who will not declare, that every SINCERE Christian hath a Right to the Lord’s Table. For do they not all acknowledge that every such Person is become, by the Gospel Covenant, a Child of God, and a Brother of JESUS CHRIST? Will the most rigid Independent, say, then, that such have not a Right to eat of the sacramental Supper? No, the Truth of Grace, they will tell

* II. Def. page 36.

ell you, be it in ever so weak a State, intitles to he Sacrament. You wrong them therefore much y saying, that they hold it to belong to NONE but PERFECT and CONSUMMATE Christians.

Thus groundless and ill supported, Sir, are the Defamations of your Dissenting Brethren, which your Ear hath been wide extended greedily to receive, and your Hand so officious to publish to the World. But suffer, I beseech you, the Council of a Friend. Put away far from you that little, un-generous, unmanly, bigotted Spirit by which “You “ advise the Faithful to shun the Conversation and Com- “ pany of our Ministers,—as being NOTORIOUS “ SINNERS, and not to have any intimate unnecessary “ Acquaintance with them, or Familiarity in common “ Life.*” Indulge the more Christian and Catholic Disposition Dr. Nichols recommends, who informs the World with Pleasure “of the charitable “ Correspondence, and strict Degree of Friendship “ which subsists betwixt the established Clergy and some “ of the Dissenting Ministers †.” ’Tis because they know one another no more, that they do not love
 each other better. Shyness begets Estrangement, Estrangement, Aversion, and Aversion prepares the Mind not only to receive with Pleasure, but indus-triously to propagate gross Misrepresentations, false Accusations, scandalous and little Things, utterly without Foundation, and contrary to Truth.

Had you freely conversed with the Dissenting Mi- nisters around you, as the learned Doct̃or advises, you had saved yourself a good deal of public Mor- tification, which your injurious Accounts both of their Principles and Practice have now unhappily drawn upon you. Cultivate at length, Sir, a fa- miliar Acquaintance with them. Their Acquaintance will do you Honour; will edify and enlarge Y your

* Let. II. page 8. Let I. page 83. page 145.

† Nich. Def.

your Mind; will give you juſter Notions of Men and of Things than a mere College Education is capable of doing, and prepare you for that happy World where Bigotry and Party-Zeal no more alienate pious Spirits, but where ALL the Children of GOD are gathered together in ONE. From them you would have learned—that the Ceremonies of the Sweeping Cloak, of kneeling at Ordination, of the People's holding up their Hands at that Solemnity, of ſtriking a Covenant with their Paſtors, of giving the Name at Baptiſm,—are moſt of them never uſed at all in the greater Part of the diſſenting Churches; and the other not the leaſt impoſed; full Liberty is given to uſe, or to uſe them not; no ſtreſs is laid upon them; much leſs are they made indispensible Terms of Chriſtian Communion; as Sponſors, the Croſs, and kneeling are with you. They would, moreover, have told you, what you ſeem not to know, that 'tis not the mere uſing Ceremonies, againſt which Diſſenters object, ſo much as the impoſing them; the laying a ſtreſs upon them; the conſidering them as Decorations and Improvements of Chriſtian Worſhip; not only uſeful, but NECESSARY Inſtitutions (as you had the Irreverence to your divine Lawgiver to pronounce concerning Sponſors) and the making Compliance with them, Terms of Reception into the Family and Church of Chriſt. And finally, they would have told you, that Mens uncovering the Head in Prayer, is by no means a mere Ceremony, but a Circumſtance or Act of Worſhip, which ſeems dictated by the Light of Nature; and is commanded by an Apoſtle, 1 Cor. xi. 3, 4, 7; and that therefore, your placing this in the Rank of Ceremonies practiſed by Diſſenters, was (to return your own Compliment) moſt certainly a very heedleſs and wrong-headed thing.

“ The Neglect of private faſting,” is another Charge you advance againſt us, “ and inſiſt confidently that you were in the right in ſaying it was “ very

“ very little, if at all, practised amongst us*.”
 Dissenters, Sir, I presume, have read that Instruction of their Master, Mat. vi. 17. Thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy Head, and wash thy Face; that thou appear not unto Men to fast, but to thy Father which is in Heaven. Though they affect not to flourish with their Vigils and Lents (which with Sorrow they see turned into little else than a religious Farce by too many around them) nor, like the Pharisee are ostentatious in telling God and the World how often they fast; yet this Duty, I am persuaded, is practised with much Seriousness amongst them. Besides the excellent Discourse of Bennet, to which you were referred, you call for more Tracts. See another on the same Subject in the Morning Exercise by Barker; and from the Lives of the two Henrys, Allen, Baxter, Tross, &c. particularly, of the late most ingenious and pious Abernethy, you may learn what are their religious Sentiments and Practice as to this Matter. In many of their Churches there are stated periodical Fasts, besides the personal domestic ones, which upon extraordinary Occasions are not unusual amongst them.

But was it possible you should so alertly attack us on this Head, when you knew it in our Power with such Advantage to retort! If “ you have met with “ no Sermons or Tracts of Dissenters recommend“ ing private Fasts”——Pray, have you met with any which discourage and forbid them? But, have you never yet met with your own LXXIIId Canon? which says, “ No Minister shall without Licence of “ the Bishop, under his HAND and SEAL, keep any “ SOLEMN FASTS either publickly or in any PRIVATE “ HOUSE, other than such as are appointed by Law, “ nor be present at any of them; under pain of SUS- “ PENSION for the first Fault, of EXCOMMUNICA- “ TION for the second, and of DEPOSITION from the Y 2 “ Ministry

“ Ministry for the third.” This Sir, is the exalted Foot, upon which the Duty of private Fasting stands in your Church! Could any thing then be more wise, more pertinent, or more just than the Censures you deal us here?

As to the Posture of STANDING at public Prayer, for which also you had the Sagacity sharply to reprehend us; besides the great Variety of Scripture Examples which I produced in its Justification, you have had since, from a learned Hand*, indisputable Proofs from Justin Martyr, Irenæus, Clemens of Alexandria, Tertullian, Origen, Cyprian, the Apostolical Constitutions, Jerome and Austin, that it was the Posture in which the Christian Churches universally offered up their public and most solemn Addresses to GOD through all the Primitive Times. So unlucky is your Hand, that the Bolts you fling at us, as Debasers of the Public Worship, &c. light directly upon the Heads of some of the most sacred and venerable Persons which either Scripture or Antiquity holds out to your View!

“ But the Instances of Abraham, Moses, Samuel, &c. STANDING in Prayer serve, you say, to little purpose; unless it were also shewn, that they were Instances of such simple mere standing as is practised in our Congregations †.” Yes; they are full to our Purpose; because it appears not from the sacred Story, but they were Instances of exactly such simple mere standing as is used amongst us. As to the other Gestures of Devotion which your Imagination would supply, the SCRIPTURES are wholly silent; and your fertile Imagination, Sir, you will excuse us from accepting as a proper Supplement to the Word of God.

“ The primitive Christians, it seems, cannot be imagined to do no more than barely keep upon “ their

* Chandler's Case of Subscrip. pages. 11, 12.

† II. Def. page 76.

“ their Feet. — No, they prayed with Hands spread, and with Eyes lift up toward Heaven *” — Hence then we infer; first, That they did not read their Prayers from a Book: That there were no Liturgies in those Days. But the Pastor, as Justin Martyr and Origen say, offered up Prayers and Praises to God οση δυνάμις κ̄ κατα δύναμιν, according to his Power, or as he was able. But, secondly, by the Account which both Cyprian and Tertullian give of their Gesture and Manner, the public Prayers in Dissenting Churches vastly more resemble it than those offered in yours. “ Stamus, ad orationem, — Cum modestia & humilitate adorantes, &c.†” We STAND at Prayer, — adoring with Modesty and Humility, that we may the more effectually commend our Prayers to GOD; not even lifting up our Hands high, but moderately and decently, no nor boldly elevating our Faces. For the Publican whose Countenance as well as Prayers was HUMBLE and DEJECTED, went away justified rather than the sawcy Pharisee.

When you have sedately considered the Contents of this Section, you will see Cause, Sir, once more to resume your censorial Rod, and to lay it smartly on yourself; condemning heartily your own Temerity, in presuming to write so freely about Persons and Things you knew so little of; and to pronounce peremptorily upon Matters you had so slightly examined.

Though this Article of your MISREPRESENTATIONS might be vastly enlarged, I conclude with a fresh flagrant Instance of it ‡, which shews your Honour and Justice in a very unfavourable Light, and too plainly demonstrates that your Zeal for the Church hath just eaten them up. It is the Case “ of a Dissenting Minister in Cambridge, whom you knew; and who, you affirm, declared from his Pulpit, that the Common-Prayer-Book had damned more

* II. Def. page 77.

† Tert. de Orat. Cap. 13.

‡ II. Def. page 116.

“ more Souls, than the Bible had saved; for which “ he was indicted, and had his public Trial as a “ depraver of it.”——Here you stop short, and leave that injured Gentleman; yea, you transmit him to Posterity, under the Scandal of the Indictment, without having the Honesty and the Virtue to inform the World of the Issue which you could not but also know, viz. that after a long and full Hearing, on both Sides, he was by the Jury HONOURABLY ACQUITTED.
 This, Sir, is such an Instance of Partiality, Injustice and notorious Misrepresentation, as all virtuous and wise Men will behold with Indignation, and as, I am sure, must give you a good deal of Pain in the review. The Case of that injured Minister (Mr.
Joseph Hussy) has been since published (printed at Colchester in your Neighbourhood 1737) which I cannot doubt, you have seen. From thence it fully appears, that Mr. Hussy spake HONOURABLY, not reproachfully of the COMMON-PRAAYER, in the Sermon referred to; and that he deserved highly that Acquittal and Triumph over his Enemies which the Justice of his Country gave him; but which you injuriously endeavour to blast and suppress*.

S E C T. VIII.

Dissenters not INCONSISTENT in submitting to some Ceremonies, and refusing others.

THIS is another Charge advanced vigorously against us——“ The Ceremonies of Mar- “ riage

* He was shewing how utterly repugnant the Arminian Principles are to several Parts of the Common-Prayer; and after several things said very respectfully of that Book, concludes,——“ I “ wish there was more of that Spirit of God breathing in the “ Souls of Men now, which breathed in the Souls of those who “ made the Common-Prayer; and indeed considering the Incon“ sistency of Mens Principles, with their gross Hypocrisies in “ Practice, I fear that at the great Day, when the Books are “ opened, this Book of Common-Prayer, when 'tis opened, will “ come

“ riage and of Burial to which we conform, are “ enjoined in the same Manner, by the same Autho- “ rity, and in the same Place (the Common-Prayer) “ as the other Ceremonies and Rites against which “ we protest.” And you put it as a stunning Dif“ ficulty,——“ WHERE and WHEN the Magistrate “ prescribed the Marriage Ceremonies otherwise “ than he did those of Baptism and the Lord’s-Sup“ per*.” I am truly surprized, Sir, that so mere a Cobweb entangles you. Pray, what is your Common-Prayer ! Is it any thing in the World but a mere Statute or Act of Parliament ; as really and truly such, and nothing but such, as any Statute in our Books of Law. Now as the Magistrate has in this Statute enjoined some Things of a Civil nature, which belong therefore to his Kingdom, and which he has a Right to injoin ; to these we reverently submit : But as he has also, in the same Statute, in-joined other Things of a Religious Nature (pertaining to Baptism and the Lord’s-Supper) which, we humbly apprehend, belong to another Kingdom, even that of JESUS CHRIST ; to whom, and to whom ALONE, GOD the Supreme Governor has appropriated such Things ; as to these, we crave Leave to withhold our Submission, and chuse to obey GOD rather than MAN. And behold, the very Magistrate who made the Statute, has indulged us herein ! has excused our Obedience in the Points as to which we scruple ! has repealed the Obligation of this Law upon Dissenters ; and allows them to act in these things as to their Judgment seems best ! Is there any thing in the least difficult or entangling in all this ?

“ But

“ come in a swift Witness against them. And if so, I fear it “ will be found that that Book they now so much rely on, may “ be a means of sending more of them to Hell, than the Gospel “ converts in England.”

* II. Def. page 80. Let. III. page 6.

“ But upon this Supposition all our Objections to “ the Burial Office as Reasons against Conformity “ fall to the Ground. For if the whole Transac“ tion be a political thing; and the Gentleman of“ ficiating is, in that, no other than an Officer of “ the State, how is the Church, for the Lord’s “ Sake, concerned in any thing he either says or “ does, on that Occasion * ?” Certainly very much.
 The Church is indeed nothing but a Branch or Limb of the STATE. But if the STATE exacts of those, whom it deposes to officiate in this Part of its Administration, unreasonable and shocking things; if it commands them to say that black is white, to pronounce solemnly a Man saved, whom they think verily to be lost; and to thank God that in his great Mercy he hath taken to himself an abominable Sinner, when in their Consciences they believe that God took him away in Wrath, and hath driven him from his Presence to eternal Darkness below,—is the Officer, will you say, who is to pronounce and to do this, not at all concerned therein? Nor that Branch of the Administration in which he officiates at all wounded in its Honour or Reputation thereby? Most deeply, no doubt. And all virtuous and good Men, by the eternal Regards they owe to RIGHTEOUS-NESS and TRUTH, ought openly to protest against such public Violations of them; and to declare their Dislike of such Prostitution of sacred things.

The Church, your learned Warburton † tells you, has by Contract or Alliance, resigned up her SU-PREMACY in Matters ecclesiastical, and her IN-DEPENDENCY to the State. The STATE, in Consequence of this, hath drawn up for her, Articles of Faith and Forms of public Worship, which it requires the Church to subscribe and to use.—Hard Fate of unhappy Church! To come as Pupil to the STATE, to ask what she must believe, and how she must worship; yea, to be forced solemnly to sub- scribe

* II. Def. page 82.

† Alliance, &c. page 87.

scribe ARTICLES, which she by no means believes, and to use FORMS of public Worship, which she greatly dislikes! But, is there no Prevarication, nor Hypocrisy in all this? No; the STATE hath commanded it; and we are to be subject to the higher Powers, and to obey those who have the Rule over us: 'Tis not for a Man's private Conscience to kick against the PUBLIC; but if any one dare say,——" That either of the ARTICLES is in ANY PART erroneous; or that the Book of COMMON-PRAYER contains ANY THING in it contrary to Scripture;" your IVth and Vth Canons thunder out upon him ipso facto, a most terrible Excommunication, and cut him off, as a wicked Wretch, from the Body of CHRIST. —Excellent Constitution this! quite holy and apostolick! most heavenly and divine! bearing upon every Part a lively and glorious Impress of the Character of JESUS CHRIST! —What Wonder, if the Dignity of the Priestly Character sinks? If Religion is ridiculed, and its Sacred Things treated with Drollery and Jest? It is impossible, we are told, but Offences will come; but wo be to that Man! wo be to those Christians, whose hypocritical and corrupt Conduct lays these Stones of stumbling in the Way of Infidels and Papists! and by whom the Offence cometh!

S E C T. IX.

The egregious Absurdity of rejecting PRESBYTERIAN and admitting POPISH Ordinations.

WE come next to the much contested Point of Orders or Ordination, as to which you are wont to make a mighty solemn Parade. The Severity with which you nullify the Dissenters Ordination, though the very SAME with that of all the illustrious Churches of PROTESTANTS abroad, when at the same Time you are so complaisant as to acknowledge the Validity of the Ordinations of the Church of Rome, is a Conduct so extraordinary as one cannot easily comprehend. The Hands and the devoutest Prayers of a Company of truly virtuous, religious and Christian PRESBYTERS, in Scotland or Geneva, are not so efficacious, it seems, to send a Man forth a TRUE Minister in the Church of CHRIST, as the Hands and superstitious Prayers of an antichristian, idolatrous, persecuting and wicked BISHOP of Italy or Spain.—No; let a Priest, ordained by one of these, come over to the Church of England; he shall be received as a valid Minister, rightfully ordained: But, let another, ordained by the most learned, religious PRESBYTERY which Germany, Hungary or the whole World can boast, come over also to this Church, this Protestant Church; his Orders shall be pronounced NOT VALID, he must submit to be ordain'd afresh. The FORMER is admitted, as one rightly and duely enter'd a Pastor in the Christian Church, because a Bishop's Hand was laid upon him, though with a great many ridiculous, superstitious and foolish Rites; and though he was really no CHRISTIAN Bishop, but an Apostate from Christianity, an open and avowed Idolater and Persecutor of the Flock of CHRIST; yea, tho' the Church also into which by that Ceremony, he was enter'd was so far from being a TRUE CHURCH, that for 900 Years past, nothing can be more*.—But the LATTER, though set apart to the Ministry by the most fervent and holy Prayers; tho' he has long labour'd in the Church of GOD with great Diligence and Success; has suffer'd, perhaps, the Loss of all for the sake of CHRIST and his Truth; and is fled hither from the Rage of idolatrous and cruel Bishops; yet (strange to relate!) for not having had had the Hand of such an idolatrous and cruel Bishop in the Ceremony of his Ordination, he is consider'd but as a mere LAYMAN in this protestant Church of England; he shall not, cannot, be acknowledg'd by us as a Minister of JESUS CHRIST. How mysterious and quite astonishing is the Partiality of this!

* The Words of the Homily which every Clergyman subscribes his solemn Approbation of.

But let us hear your Censure on this Head,—
 “ Our Ministers are not duly ordain'd to their Office :
 “ their Ministrations are most certainly irregu“ lar ; an unnecessary and wanton, if not a factious “ Departure from the primitive Order, and there“ fore those who attend them cannot depend that “ such Ordinances will be blessed to them, nor can “ they be pleasing to GOD *.” And concerning the established presbyterian Church of Scotland, you affirm,— “ That having renounc'd EPISCOPACY, “ and their Ordinations being irregular, their COM-“ MUNION can be neither SAFE nor LAWFUL †.” A most schismatical and rash Judgment ; which equally condemns ALL the illustrious REFORMED Churches of France, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Poland, Hungary, Denmark, &c. They ALL likewise have renounc'd Episcopacy ; their Ordinations therefore must be irregular, and their Communion neither safe nor lawful.

But to give you, Sir, more just and favourable Impressions of Ordination by Presbyters ; and to sink a little your Esteem of that episcopal Ordination on which you pique yourself so much, I recommend to your Consideration the following things :

I. That Timothy was ordain'd by the laying on of the Hands of the PRESBYTERY, 1 Tim. iv. 14,—
 That Paul and Barnabas were ordained by certain Prophets and Teachers in the Church of Antioch, and not by any BISHOP (of whom there is not a Word in all that Solemnity) presiding in that City, Acts

* Let. I. page 73, 74.

† II. Def. page 145.

xiii. 1, 2, 3,—And that it is a well known, acknowledged, incontestible Fact that Presbyters, in the celebrated Church of Alexandria, ordain'd even their own Bishops for more than 200 Years in the earliest Ages of Christianity.

2. Bishops and Presbyters are in Scripture the very same; and are not a distinct Order or Office in the Christian Church. The Church at Philippi had but two Orders of Church-Officers amongst them, viz. Bishops and Deacons, Philip. i. 1. And that the Name, Office, Work of a Bishop and Presbyter are the same, appears from Tit. i. 5, 7. For this Cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldst ordain Presbyters in every City, for a Bishop must be blameless.—Paul called the Presbyters of the Church of Ephesus together, and charged them, Acts xx. 27, 28. To take heed to the Flock over which the HOLY GHOST had made them BISHOPS ΕΠΙΣΚΟΠΟΥΣ. So I Pet. v. 1, 2. The PRESBYTERS, among you I exhort, who also am a PRESBYTER, feed the Flock of GOD among you, performing the Office of BISHOPS ΕΠΙΣΚΟΠΕΙΤΕΣ.

The Superiority of Bishops to Presbyters is not only by the first Reformers and Founders of the Church of England, but by many of its most learned and eminent Doctors since; not pretended to be of divine, but only of human Institution; not grounded upon Scripture, but only upon the Custom or Ordinances of this Realm. “The Truth is, that in the New Testament there is no Mention of any Degree or Distinction of Orders, but only of DEACONS or Ministers, and of PRIESTS or Bishops—”, says a Declaration of the Function, &c. which was sign'd by more than thirty-seven Civilians and Divines, amongst whom were thirteen BISHOPS*. The Book intitled the Institution of a Christian Man subscrib'd by the Clergy and Convocation and confirm'd by Parliament, owns BISHOPS and PRESBYTERS by Scripture

* Buffet's Hist. of the Reformat. Vol. I. Ap. page 321.

Scripture to be the same *. And says, tho' St. Paul consecrated and ordered Bishops by Imposition of Hands; yet there is no certain Rule prescribed in Scripture for the nomination, election, or presentation of them: This is left to the positive Laws of every Country. And that the main Ground of settling episcopal Government in this Nation was not any Pretence of Divine Right, but the Convenience of that Form of Church-Government to the State and Condition of the Church at the time of the Reformation, your learned Stillingsfleet † affirms, and proves it to be the Sentiment of Archbishop Cranmer and other chief Reformers both in Edward VI. and Queen Elizabeth's Reign, of Archbishop Whitgift, Bishop Bridges, Loe, Hooker, Sutcliffe, Hales, Chillingworth, &c. ‡—Yea,

3. It deserves your serious Consideration whether, by the Constitution and Frame of the Church of England, SACERDOTAL Ordination be really at all necessary to the making a valid Minister, and to the giving Success and Efficacy to his Ministrations; or, whether there is, really, any SUCH Ordination in the Church of England at all? It seems clearly the

* To the same Purpose speaks the Erudition of a Christian Man.

† Irenic. Ch. VIII. page 385.

‡ See a Letter of Dr. Raynolds of Oxford on this Head; where he declares the sameness of Bishops and Priests, or that they have equal Authority and Power by GOD'S Word to have been the Judgment of St. Paul, Chrysostom, Jerome, Ambrose, Austin, Theodorus, Primasius, Theophylact, Oecumenius, Aenselm, Gregory, Gratian, the Waldenses, Wickliffites, Hussites, &c. Neal. Hist. Purit. Vol. I. page 497.

Archbishop Bancroft and the rest of the Bishops with him owned the Ordination of Presbyters to be valid, and therefore refused to re-ordain the Scottish Presbyters who were then to be made Bishops, declaring, That to doubt it, was to doubt whether there were any lawful Vocation in most of the reformed Churches. Archbishop Spotswood's Hist. page 514. The Bishops of Scotland, when Episcopacy was settled there, never required the Presbyterian Ministers to take episcopal Ordination. Bishop Burnet's Vindicat. pages 84, 85.

the Sentiment of our first Reformers that it was not ; and that they established the Church of England agreeable to this Plan. For in a select Assembly of Divines, convened by the Authority of King Edward VI., for the settling important Points relating to Religion, it was determined, as may be presumed from a recorded Opinion of Archbishop Cranmer their President,——*, “ That though, in the Ad“ mission of Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and other “ Priests to their Office, there be divers comely “ Ceremonies and Solemnities used (he speaks chiefly “ of Ordnation) yet these be not of Necessity, but “ only for good Order and seemly Fashion. For if “ such Offices and Ministrations were committed “ WITHOUT such Solemnity, they were neverthe“ less truely committed. And there is no more “ Promise of GOD that Grace is given in the com“ mitting of the ecclesiastical Office, than it is in the “ committing the civil.——A Bishop may make a “ Priest by the Scriptures, and so may Princes and “ Governors also, and that by the Authority of God “ committed to them ; and the People also by their “ Election. For as we read that Bishops have done “ it, so Christian Emperors and Princes usually “ have done it : And the People, before Christian “ Princes were, commonly did elect their Bishops “ and Priests.——In the new Testament, he that “ is appointed to be a Bishop or a Priest, needeth “ no Consecration by the Scripture ; for Election or “ appointing thereto is sufficient †.”

Agreeable hereto, the Bishops in this Church, in the Reigns of Hen. VIII. and Edw. VI. took out
 Com-

* Vide Extract from Archbishop Cranmer's M. S. Stilling. Iren. Chap. VIII. page 391.

† To the same Purpose speaks the Erudition of a Christian Man—which was drawn up by a Committee of Bishops and Divines, and read and approved by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the lower House of Parliament. An. 1543. Vid. Neal's Hist. Purit. Vol. I. pages 33, 36.

Commissions from the CROWN, like other STATE-OFFICERS, for the Exercising their spiritual Jurisdiction; in which they acknowledge,—“ That “ ALL SORTS of Jurisdiction, as well ecclesiastical “ as civil, flow ORIGINALLY from the Regal “ Power, as from a SUPREME HEAD, the Foun“ tain and Spring of all Magistracy within this “ Kingdom; and that they ought with grateful “ Minds to acknowledge this Favour derived from “ the KING's Liberality and Indulgence; and ac“ cordingly they ought to render it up whenever “ the KING thought fit to require it of them. And “ amongst the Particulars of ecclesiastical Power “ given them by this Commission, is that of OR- “ DAINING Presbyters; and all this to last no lon“ ger than the King's Pleasure. And these things “ are said to be super and ultra over and above
 “ what belongs to them by Scripture *.” †

From these Commissions, which the Bishops took out, especially Bonner's Bishop of London, it is evident, that all the Power of ORDINATION which the Bishops had, or could have and exercise, in this Kingdom, they derived entirely from the CIVIL MAGISTRATE, and only from him ‡. And that this really is the Case as to the Ecclesiastical Orders conferred by our present Bishops; that all the Validity, Significancy

* Rights Chr. Ch. Pref. page 39.

† Even Archdeacon Echard acknowledges, that in the Reign of Hen. VIII the Bishops took out, and acted, by Commissions in which they were but Subaltern to the King's Viceregent: But in the Reign of Edward VI. none being in that Office they were immediately under the KING: But by these Commissions they declare, “ that they held their Bishoprics only during the King's Pleasure, and were impowered in the King's Name, as his “ Delegates, to perform ALL THE PARTS OF THE EPISCOPAL FUNCTION,” Echard's Hist. Eng. page 299.

‡ Anno 1550, an order of Council was made that some Bishops and other learned Men should devise an Order for the CREATION of Bishops and Priests. Burnet's Hist. Refor., Vol. III. page 195.

nificancy or Weight which they have in this Church they derive purely and solely from the Authority of the MAGISTRATE incontestibly appears hence; namely, that the Magistrate has authoritatively directed and prescribed HOW and TO WHOM Ordination is to be given*. And should an Ordination be given by all the Bishops of this Church in OTHER Manner and OTHER Form than that prescribed by the Magistrate, such Ordination would be of no Legality at all, nor Authority in this Church. The Man so ordained would be no proper Minister in the Church of England. A Minister in the Church of Christ, he possibly might be; but he would, I repeat it, be no Minister in the Church of England; nor would have Power and Authority to officiate as a Priest therein †.

The Church of England, if you duely weigh it, seems evidently constituted upon the congregational or independent Plan. 'Tis from the PEOPLE (in other Words, from the King and Parliament, in whom the People have lodged their Power) that all the officers in this Church receive their whole Authority and are directed how to act. In all their ORDINATIONS, Jurisdictions, Ministrations, its Bishops and Priests act entirely by an Authority committed to them by the Civil Magistrate, received originally from the PEOPLE. So that as the PEOPLE, by their Repr-

* Vid. the Judgment of the Court in the Case of Horwel, a Nonjuring Clergyman, ordained by Dr. Hicks (Findul's Hist. of Eng. Vol. IV. page 502.) His Ordination was pronounced illegal, and he disowned as a Clergyman. Vid. a Statute 8 of Eliz. in Fuller's Ch. Hist. Book ix. page 80.

† The Bishop at an Ordination asks,—“ Are you called according to the Will of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the DUE ORDER OF THIS REALM.”

Note, It is not sufficient to make him a Minister in this Church that he is called according to the Will or Institution of JESUS CHRIST, if he be not also called according to the due Order of THIS REALM.

Representatives, are supposed to have authorised, directed, and appointed them to act; so, and so only, are all the Archbishops, Bishops and Priests in this Church to officiate, and to discharge their several Functions therein. And if they presume to transgress the bounds which the PEOPLE, by their Representatives, have set them; and to officiate OTHERWISE than in the Form and Manner prescribed, their Ministrations are illegal and of no Authority in this Church.

This, Sir, I appeal to all who know our Constitution, is the real and true Nature of your boasted EPISCOPAL Ordination, as it now stands in our Church. 'Tis an Ordination performed by a civil Officer, i. e. by one who officiates only by an Authority derived to him from the civil Magistrate, and the Legality of whose Ministrations, and their Efficacy in this Church, depends entirely upon his observing the Manner and Forms which the Magistrate hath enjoined — Ordinations then, in the Church of England, if traced to their proper Origin and rightly considered, are in truth nothing but merely civil or popular Ordinations.

Nor let it be here replied, — That these Bishops, who by the Laws of England are impowered to ordain, are at the same Time to be considered as Successors of the Apostles, and have received Power of Ordination from these Founders of the Christian Church by an uninterrupted lineal Descent. For the Constitution and Law of England knows nothing at all of this; it rests not this Power, which it commits to its Bishops, upon any such lineal Succession or Descent (which it knows to be a Rope of Sand, a ridiculous Chimera, a Thing which no Man upon Earth is able to make out) No; but it considers the KING, vested (by Act of Parliament, or the Suffrage of the People) with a FULNESS of ALL Power Ecclesiastical in these Realms, as empowering and authorising Bishops to ordain. This Power of Ordination was once delegated to Cromwel, a LAYMAN, as Vicegerent to the King. And by the Constitution and Law of England this Layman had then as much Authority to ordain as any Bishop in the Realm; and any Priest whom he had ordained would have been as much a Minister in the Church of England, and his Ministrations as valid, as if all the Bishops of the Realm had laid their Hands on his Head*. But,

4. The only possible way of avoiding this Difficulty, is recurring to the wretched Refuge of POPISH Ordinations, and deriving the Validity of your Orders and Ministrations, and your Powers of Ordination, from the idolatrous Church of ROME. If you derive them not from the CIVIL Magistrate, you must from POPISH Bishops. A desperate Refuge this! attended with a Train of monstrous Absurdities! all which yet, rather than admit the Orders of foreign Protestant Divines and the Regularity of their Ministrations, you resolutely swallow.

That POPERY is an undoubted fundamental Subversion of the whole Scheme of Christianity.—That it is that APOSTACY from the Christian Faith, described by St. Paul, 1 Tim. iv. 1, 2, 3.—The MAN OF SIN and the SON OF PERDITION sitting in the Temple (Church) of GOD; opposing, and exalting himself above all that is called GOD, foretold by the HOLY GHOST, 2 Thes. ii. 3, 4.—And that the Church of Rome is represented by the Prophetic Spirit in the Revelation of St. John, as an adulterous and bloody WOMAN, which hath broken the Marriage Covenant that espoused her to CHRIST, and is fallen into a State of abominable and open Lewdness; multiplying her Fornications; and instead of bringing forth and cherishing a faithful Seed to the Redeemer, breathes out horrid Threatnings and Persecutions

* Heath and Day, the Bishops of Worcester and Chichester, were deprived of their Bishoprics by a Court of Delegates, who were all Laymen. Vid. Echard's Hist. Eng. page 310.

secutions against them, makes War with the Saints, destroys them from the Earth, and is drunk with their Blood; that the Papacy or Church of Rome is thus described by the HOLY GHOST, Protestant Divines, and even those of the Church of England, readily confess. How astonishing then to see! That from this idolatrous apostate Church you derive, by ORDINATION, your spiritual and sacerdotal Powers; and boast that you can trace from her by an uninterrupted Line your ecclesiastical Descent. Strange! that without Shame you declare yourselves before the World the Offspring of this filthy withered old HARLOT, as your Church expressly calls her; and that the Validity of your Ordinations and holy Offices in CHRIST'S Church, you rest upon their Transmission to you from this antichristian and false Church, even at the very time that you acknowledge that for a THOUSAND Years past it has been so far from having the Nature of the TRUE CHURCH that NOTHING CAN BE MORE.—What Miracles are here! That which is no true Church, nor has been any thing like it for a thousand Years past; yet conveys true, regular, Church-Offices and Powers! An anti-apostolic Church imparting genuine apostolic Orders! The Synagogue of Satan become the sacred Repository, where the Power of Ordination to holy Offices in CHRIST'S Church, for more than ten Centuries principally rested, and was almost only to be found! The Church of Rome, which by Apostacy hath cut itself off from the Body of CHRIST, hath nevertheless his Spirit and Authority dwelling in it; and is commissioned by CHRIST to examine, ordain and send Ministers into his Church, for the edifying of his Body and perfecting his Saints! How in every View marvellous and transcendent is this?

“ But Harlot as she is, you say, she may bring “ forth Children as well as a virtuous Matron, and “ sometimes Children far better than herself*.”

A a 2

Poor

Poor Consolation this! For the Children she brings forth in this State of her Divorcement must be born of Fornication, a spurious and corrupt Race.

This, Sir, is that Church of Rome whom you own as your MOTHER, and from whom you claim by Ordination to be ecclesiastically sprung; and the Sons of this vile and detestible Prostitute you acknowledge as your Brethren; duly born into the Church; ordained, because episcopally, in a valid and right Manner; whereas the glorious Company of foreign reformed Churches, together with the Church of Scotland and the Dissenting Ministers at home, you utterly ditown as ecclesiastical Brethren; and affirm, “That having renounced EPISCOPACY, and their Ordination being irregular, their Communion can be neither lawful nor safe.” Where, alas! is the Decency, the Consistency and Common Sense; to say nothing of the Christianity or Charity of this!

The Church of Rome, by the XIXth Article of the Church of England, cannot possibly be a Part of the true visible Church of CHRIST; for this it thus defines,——A Congregation of faithful Men, in which the pure Word of GOD is preached, and the Sacraments be duly administred according to Christ's Ordinance, in all those things that of Necessity are requisite to the same. But, do you not acknowledge that the pure Word of GOD is so far from being preached in the Romish Church, that 'tis there corrupted by most erroneous and abominable Traditions, idolatrous Rites and blasphemous Fables, as your XXXIst Article most righteously stiles them? Do you not confess the Wine to be an essential Part of the Lord's-Supper? Is that Sacrament then duly ministred, according to Christ's Ordinance in the Church where the Cup is taken from the People?

In short, “If Blasphemies against GOD and Tyranny over Men; if defacing the Ideas of Deity, and corrupting the Principles of moral Honesty and Virtue; if subverting the Founda- “ tions

“ tions of natural Religion, and acting directly “ counter to the Spirit and Design, and overthrow“ ing the essential Articles of the Christian Faith;
 “ if the most avowed and bold Affronts offered to “ Heaven, and the bloodiest and most brutal Out“ rages executed on the best of Men; if all these,
 “ I say, are sufficient to exclude Men from being a “ Part of the truly catholic apostolic Church, the “ Romanists can certainly have no Pretences to it.”

The Church of Rome then having by her abominable Immoralities, Blasphemies and Idolatries, excommunicated and cut herself off from the Body of Christ, she cannot have his Spirit and Power dwelling in her; consequently, has no Authority to convey sacerdotal Characters and Offices in Christ's Church; the Characters and Offices therefore which she pretends to convey, are spurious and of no Validity or Efficacy therein.

But what finishes the Absurdity, and renders it quite astonishing, is,—— That these very Popish Clergy, to whose ORDERS you pay such extravagant Complaisance, are so unpolite as not to return the Compliment to yours: No, so far from it, that they rudely pronounce you ALL, from the greatest Archbishop to the meanest Clerk in the Land, a Company of mere common unconsecrated Laymen; as unqualified for performing any holy Office in the Christian Church as the most illiterate and contemptible Dissenter of us all. To return Good for Evil is, indeed, sometimes truly great. But to see the venerable Bench of Bishops and Governors of this Church, with the whole Body of its Clergy, not only yielding, but contending before the World for, the Validity and Efficacy of the Orders of POPISH Priests; when at the same time these very Priests are going up and down the Kingdom undermining their Authority, invalidating their Ministrations, and representing their sacerdotal Powers as a mere Nullity and Jest.—— To see them publicly maintaining the ecclesiastic Characters and Office of these Corrupters of Christianity, these sworn Enemies to our civil Government and to his Majesty King George, these crafty Seducers, who are gone out spreading Treason, Idolatry, Superstition and destructive Error through the Land,——this is such a Strain of Courtesy as no Reason can justify ; yea, is such a Strain of Weakness and Impolicy as ought not to be beheld without indignant Concern. For this gives these Papish Emisseries a most dangerous Advantage over you : they artfully tell their Profelytes, “ That you acknowledge the Truth and Validity “ of their Orders ; whilst they utterly deny the Validity of yours ; the only SAFE and SURE way “ therefore is to stick to their Ministrations ; which, “ yourselves being Judges, are authentic and valid ; “ whereas there is, at least a Risque, a Danger attending yours ;” and, “ that the People cannot “ (to use your own Words) depend with so much Assurance as is requisite to the Peace and Acquiescence “ of their Mind, that SUCH ORDINATIONS will be “ blessed to them, and that they are pleasing to GOD.” Thus they uncourteously turn the Weapons against you which you put into their Hands ; and whilst you are justifying their Orders, make use of those very Orders to poison and pervert the People ; and craftily to traduce, undermine and destroy your Church.
 taining

“ The great Blessing of EPISCOPAL Ordination is “ wanting to the foreign Churches, you affirm, “ rather through NECESSITY than Choice *.” This is perfectly romantic, and has not the Face of Probability. Does not the World know, that in their public Confessions and Formularies of Faith, Bishops and Priests are declared originally the same, and that the

* II. Def. p. 50:

the Power of Ordination belongs equally to both * ? Can any thing be more manifest than that episcopal Ordination, if chosen and desired by them, like other British Manufactures, might with all imaginable Ease be in a few Days exported to them, and spread in a few Months through all their Provinces and Towns? Are there not in this Kingdom thousands of Ecclesiastics, who, receiving it from our Bishops, would most joyfully carry over this great Blessing to foreign Churches? Or should any of their Divines come over to fetch it, would they not be received, think you, with Extasies of Welcome; and return loaded with Honours; perhaps, with Favours more solid and substantial than these? Has there no Management or Address been used thro' a Century past, to introduce into their Churches this episcopal Grace? And as to its "suiting the Constitution and Frame of their civil Governments," nothing, you know, can better fit those of the Lutheran Profession, who have nominal Bishops, tho' no Ordination but PRESBYTERIAN amongst them—. To assert then, "that the foreign Churches do really "PREFER, DESIRE and some of them SIGH for "EPISCOPAL ORDINATION; and that it is not of "CHOICE but of NECESSITY they want it—," appears to me to be mere Romance; an Assertion far from doing Honour to the Person that makes it.

There is one Consideration more, upon this Head of Ordination, which I beg leave to mention; the rather, because there hath not generally, I think, that Stress been laid upon it which its Importance deserves: Which is,

5. Sup-

* Mr. Du Pleſis (says Bishop Jer. Taylor) a Man of Honour and great Learning, attests, that at the first Reformation there were many Archbishops and Cardinals in Germany, France, Italy, &c. who joined in the Reformation, whom they might, but did not, employ in their Ordinations; and therefore, says the Bishop, what Necessity can be pretended in this Case I would fain learn? Episc. asserted, &c. page 191.

5. Supposing the Power of ORDINATION to be, from Scripture, ever so clearly proved to belong solely to Bishops; yet all the Bishops of this Realm refusing to ordain but upon unjustifiable Terms; ORDINATION, in this Case, may justly be sought from Presbyters; and, when given by them, is of undoubted Valiaity and Regularity in the Christian Church.

The Bishops require from all Candidates for Ordination, as an indispensible Term of receiving it from them——That they subscribe willingly, and ex animo to the XXXIX Articles, that they are ALL and EVERY ONE of them agreeable to the Word of GOD: And that they solemnly declare their UNFEIGNED Assent and Consent to ALL and EVERY THING contained in and prescribed by the Book of COMMON-PRAYER. This now is a Term of Admission to the Christian Ministry, which they have no Authority from CHRIST to insist upon or to make; yea, a Term (if with Humility I might say it) which they offend greatly against the Rights and Liberty of the Christian Church, and against CHRIST its only Head, by presuming to make; because, thousands may be duly qualified, according to the Will of CHRIST, to act as Ministers in his Church, who cannot with a good Conscience comply with this Term. By insisting therefore on it, they reject those whom CHRIST receives; and unlawfully keep out Numbers of worthy Persons from a Part in the Christian Ministry, who, by the Appointment and Will of GOD, and by the Constitution of the Christian Church, have a Right of Admission to it; and whose Ministry is greatly needed and would be useful therein.

Let the sole Power of Ordination, then, be allowed to have been originally lodged in the Bishops; yet, if at any Time they should enter into a Combination to abuse and pervert this Power; to lay a Yoke upon Christian Ministers which CHRIST never laid upon them, and which they ought not to bear; and and Ordination cannot be had from THEM upon honourable and Christian Terms; in this we may safely reason, as our Lord hath taught us in a like Case, that God will have Mercy and not sacrifice; that a mere Ceremony is to give Way to Considerations of a moral Nature; and that Men, in other Respects well qualified, when their Service is needed (of which themselves and the People are to be Judges) may act as Ministers in the Church of Christ; either without any Ordination, when it cannot honourably be had; or with such only, whether Presbyterian or Popular, as can be obtained upon honourable Terms.

These things I recommend, Sir, to your dispassionate and sober Thoughts; not doubting but they will dispose you to be less severe upon Presbyterian, and more Modest in your glorying on episcopal Ordination, than you have formerly been.—And whether those who now claim the sole Power of Ordination, and consider it as a TRUST committed to them by CHRIST, can justify their refusing it, but upon Compliance with such severe and unreasonable Terms,—deserves maturely to be weighed; considering, that (as far as they bear any Relation to Christ) they are not LORDS, but only Servants in his House, and that to HIM they must be accountable for so important a TRUST.

S E C T. X.

Of the Peoples Right to CHUSE their own Pastors.

THE next Point to be considered, is the Right of the Christian Laity to chuse their own Ministers. The Charge given them in Scripture to try the Spirits,—to beware of false Prophets,—to take Hæd of what they hear, “ you own, incontestibly proves their Right of Judgment, or of examining and proving Doctrines; but the thing you want to see is, how from the Right of Judgment

“*ment, the Right of Choice can be deduced?”
 But can a Person of any Discernment want to be shewn this? Does not the Right of JUDGING in things of Religion, necessarily imply not only a Right, but a Duty also, of ACTING agreeable to that Judgment; or in other Words, a Right of Choice? Pray, why must a Man examine? What! that he may have, peradventure, the Guilt and Mortification of combating his own Conscience, and acting contrary to his Sense of Things? What Absurdity were this! If the Christian Laity were to try the Spirits, and to examine and weigh the Doctrines their pretended Pastors brought; then those, surely, whom they found to bring not the Doctrine of CHRIST, and to be led by not the Divine Spirit, they were to reject, to turn away from, and not to accept as their Spiritual Guides.

Accordingly, the Christian LAITY are charged Rom. xvi. 17. To mark (σκηνοειν to consider, to observe carefully) them that CAUSE Divisions and Offences contrary to the Christian Doctrine, and to AVOID them. Note, those who make NEW Terms of Communion in the Church of Christ; who set up NEW Ceremonies of human Invention, and command the Subjects of Christ to yield Obedience to them; and who cast out of the Church, or refuse to admit into it, those who comply not with such Ceremonies and Rites; THESE, Sir, are the Men (I appeal to your own Conscience, and to the Bar of eternal REASON at which all must shortly stand) THESE are the Men which CAUSE Divisions and Offences contrary to the Christian Doctrine; THESE therefore, the Christian People are expressly commanded, by the Apostle, to AVOID. Attentively consider this, and you will never more condemn our Separation from your Church; this single Text alone justifies it before the World; and not only so, but proves it a most plain and indispensable Duty.

The

The Church of England seems to have departed from, and most manifestly to have destroyed the primitive Apostolic and Catholic COMMUNION, by setting up and enjoining OTHER Terms of Christian FELLOWSHIP than the GOSPEL hath enjoined, and rejecting those whom CHRIST receives.—From this, therefore, upon Christian Principles, and by the Command of St. Paul we are to withdraw ourselves, and to separate.

But to return—The Manner in which the Place of Judas, the Traitor, was fitted up, Acts i. and in which the seven Deacons were chosen, Acts vi. shews it plainly to be the Constitution of the great FOUNDER of the Christian Church that its Ministers should be appointed by the Election of the People. An Apostle was an Officer of extraordinary Rank, whom it seemed in a peculiar Manner the Prerogative of CHRIST to appoint solely to that Office; but neither doth he do this, nor yet order the Apostolic College to fill up this Vacancy by their own Authority and Discretion; but (for an Instruction, no Doubt, to future Ages) he commanded the Christian People (the whole Number of Believers, as far as appears, that were then at Jerusalem) to choose out two, and present them before him, of whom he would appoint one to the vacant Apostolate. A strong presumptive Evidence, every one must grant, in Support of popular Elections.

And when seven Deacons were to be appointed to manage the Church's Stock; though the Apostles were then vested with a Fulness of Power, and had the Gift of DISCERNING SPIRITS (in both which they have no Successors) and were therefore far better qualified to have chosen Persons for that Office than the Multitude of Lay-Christians; yet behold, as a standing Monument to after-times in whom this elective Power was to rest in the Church, they took not upon them authoritatively to nominate, but directed the PEOPLE to look out seven Men of good Re- port. In Obedience to this Direction, and in Pursuance of their Right (as the Lord's freed Men; put into an happy State, where none were to have Authority or Dominion over others, but all were to be Brethren) the whole Multitude, 'tis said, chose, or, as you learnedly render it, PICKED OUT of their Number seven Men.—Not to differ on small things, Sir, if you allow the Christian Laity to PICK OUT their Ministers, as the Apostles, with their superior Powers and Gifts of discerning Spirits, allowed the Laity in their Times, this is all we crave.

As to the Practice of the antient Church, 'tis not I, as you suggest, but a Writer * of your own, high enough for Church Power, who says “That the People had Votes in the Choice of Bishops, all must grant, and it can be only IGNORANCE and FOLLY that pleads the contrary.” I own, I am surprized at your contesting stiffly this Point, when the Stream of all, even your own Writers, beats so violently against you. Clemens Romanus † a Cotemporary of the Apostles, says, they appointed Bishops, συνειδοκησάσης της εκκλησιίας πάσης, by the Consent of the whole Church. How often does Cyprian say, “Nihil fiat nisi consentiente plebe,” Let nothing be done but by the Consent of the People. Again, “Deus instruit ordinationes sacerdotales non nisi sub populi assistentis conscientia fieri oportere ‡,” God appoints that sacerdotal ORDINATIONS should not be made without the Assistance and Consent of the People. Himself he declares chosen to his Office, “Favore plebis, populi suffragio,” by the Favour and Vote of the People. Your Criticism on the Word suffragium (which all the Learned know properly and constantly signifies a Vote; as it undoubtedly does in one if not both the very Instances you bring to disprove it) is too slender to deserve a particular Consideration; especially as you offer not a Word against that other express Testimony quoted from the same Father, which indisputably

* Lowth.

† Epist. ad Cor. Cap. 44.

‡ Epist. 67.

disputably shews the Sense in which he uses, suffragium, “ Plebs maximam habet potestatem vel eligendi dignos sacerdotes vel indignos recusandi,” To the PEOPLE belongs the CHIEF POWER either of choosing worthy Ministers or of rejecting the unworthy. This is a Testimony full to the Point, which you could not gainsay, and therefore wisely overlook it.

The Constitutions of the Apostles decree, That he who is to be ordained a Bishop must be CHOSEN by all THE PEOPLE as the most worthy *.

The Canons called the Apostles depose such Bishops as are chosen by the Civil Magistrate †.

The famous Council of Nice, in a synodical Epistle to the Church of Alexandria forbid any to be ordained Bishops without the ELECTION of the People.

The Council of Constantinople, anno 382, say they ordained Nestarius, cuncta decernente civitate, all the City decreeing it; and Flavianus, omni Ecclesia decernente, according to the Determination of the whole Church.

The Council of Carthage, anno 394, say a Bishop is to be ordained, cum omni consensu Clericorum & Laicorum, with the universal CONSENT both of the Clergy and LAIETY.

Leo V. Father Paul ‡ confesses, has amply shewn, “ that the Ordination of a Bishop could not be “ lawful or valid, which was not required and “ sought by the PEOPLE, and by them approved; “ which is said by all the Fathers of those Times;” and adds, Qui præfuturus est omnibus, ab omnibus eligatur §, Let him that is to preside over all, be chosen by all.

The Council of Paris, anno 552, require the ELECTION of the PEOPLE and Clergy, on Pain of Excommunication. Chrysostom was chosen Bishop of Constantinople by the common Consent of all Persons, Clergy

* Const. Apof. L. 8. Cap. 4.

† Benef. Mat. Sect. 29.

‡ Can. Apof. 30, in Photio.

§ Leon. Ep. 89, Cap. 5.

Clergy as well as LAITY *. In the Choice of St. Martin, the Votes of the People carried it against the Votes of the Bishops themselves, the People insisting upon their Privilege †.

Finally; the mighty Contests and Struggles, of which ecclesiastical Story is full, into which the great Cities frequently fell at the Election of their Bishops, put beyond all Doubt the Antiquity of the Practice. That at Antioch when Eustathius was chosen, described by Eusebius (de vita Constant. L. 3. Ch. 59, 60.) where also is the Emperor's Letter to the People of Antioch (another memorable Monument full to the Purpose) exhorting them not to chuse Eusebius as their Bishop, but to think of some other Person.—That at Cæsarea described by Greg. Nazian. ‡—That at Alexandria by Evangrius §.—That at Constantinople, several Times, by Sozomen, &c.—That at Ephesus by Chryso-stom.—At Verfeiles by Ambrose.—At Milan by Socrates.—At Rome by Ammianus Marcellinus, &c.—It hence evidently appears what the Sentiments and Practice were of the Churches in these antient Times. So that so warm a Champion for Church-Authority as your zealous Dr. Wall is forced to confess, “ that it is a Piece of History which cannot fairly be denied, that amongst the primitive Christians the People used to have their SUFFRAGE in the Choice of Church-Officers; and that this is the most regular Way; that it continued many Years; and those Christians who have gone about to mend this Way, have made it worse ||.”

These,

* Socrat. Schol. L. 6, Ch. 2.

† Sculp. Sev. Cap. 7.

‡ Orat. 19.

§ L. 2. C. 6.

|| Dr. Wall's Hist. Inf. Bap. Vol. II. page 334. Nay, if any Presbyter was created a Bishop by imperial Mandates, the People were enjoined to renounce him.

These, now, are the Grounds on which this Right of the People stands. And thus impregnable is the Post you so adventrously attack. Your reasoning upon this Head is truly extraordinary; which in short is this,—“ A Man does well who meekly attends the Ministry of a good, able, orthodox Minister, by whomsoever provided; but the King, Bishops, Lord Chancellor, Gentry, &c. are MORE COMPETENT Judges of the Goodness and Orthodoxy of Clergymen than the common People* ;” therefore, the People ought not to judge for themselves in these Matters, but to submit meekly to the Determination of the King, Lord Chancellor, Bishops, &c. A most excellent Doctrine! admirably fit to promote Popery in Spain, Mahometism in Turkey, Paganism in Japan. The brave Protestants in France then, I urged, have unwarrantably and wickedly withdrawn from the Ministers which the King and Bishops had set over them: “ Yes, you reply, undoubtedly they have, if their Kings and Bishops set over them, as they do here, good orthodox Ministers ” But could you think, Sir, such an Answer would be received without a Smile? Pray, who is to judge of the Goodness, Ability, and Orthodoxy of the Minister? Not the People themselves, according to your Scheme, but the King and Bishops, who are MORE COMPETENT JUDGES. Well then, the Rulers in France are more competent Judges of the Goodness, Ability, and Orthodoxy of Ministers than their Huguenot Subjects; to their superior Judgments, therefore, they ought to submit.—What rare Christianity and Protestantism this! But are the Huguenots in France, I beseech you, more competent Judges of the Ability of the Clergy, on whom they ought to attend, than the People of England? Or have the King and Bishops here MORE AUTHORITY from GOD to judge for their Subjects, Subjects, than the King and Bishops there? 'Tis strange a Gentleman of Discernment can entangle himself in so inconsistent a Scheme.

“ That the Minority of a Parish are bound to submit to the Choice of the Majority; so if these happen to chuse a Popish Priest for their Pastor, those are obliged to receive him as such,” is an Absurdity you would charge upon my Principles and Reasoning *, but is really nothing, Sir, but the Production of your own Imagination; there being not a Syllable in my Letter favouring such Submission; but it expressly claims and maintains the Right of EVERY MAN to judge and chuse for himself.

S E C T. XI.

The BURIAL OFFICE and ATHANASIAN CREED most apparently inconsistent and repugnant to each other.

WITH what Truth, Sir, and Justice you drew your own Character as a sorry Advocate for the Church——†, the Public will judge; that you have shewn no Defect of Courage, every one must own. You proceed in what you call, your soldierly Manner ‡, and like a bold and intrepid Champion undertake to defend what, I believe, few except yourself but would desert as a quite forlorn and untenable Post: And that is, your Church's thirteen Times a Year most solemnly pronouncing concerning ALL Arians and Socinians that they CANNOT be saved, that they do WITHOUT DOUBT perish everlastingly; and yet, with equal Solemnity, pronouncing concerning these SELF SAME Persons, dying in their Heresies, that GOD has in GREAT MERCY taken them to himself, and that you HOPE they REST IN CHRIST. This is such a Contradiction

* II. Def. page 63.
dic. page 15.

† II, Def. page 128.

‡ De-

tion as, I confess, I did not expect any Gentleman of Sobriety, would attempt to reconcile. But let us hear how you perform.—“ When we declare “ that Arians and Socinians perish everlastingly, our “ Sense is, that their Heresies are damnable, and “ that they upon the Account of them are liable to “ Damnation; notwithstanding which, there may “ be Room for Pardon in particular Cases, and that, “ when one of these comes to die, it may be chari- “ tably hoped, that his is such a Case, and we may “ lawfully declare, that we do not quite despair con- “ cerning him * :” That is to say, you damn the Heresie, but save the Heretic: A Piece of spiritual Legerdemain, which, I own, I cannot comprehend. But does not all the World see, Sir, that the Creed plainly and incontestibly refers to PERSONS, not to Things only; and absolutely pronounces upon THEIR final Circumstances or State? WHOSOEVER will be saved, 'tis necessary before all Things that HE hold the Faith there defined; which Faith, except EVERY ONE doth keep whole and undefiled, HE shall without Doubt perish everlastingly.—Does this speak only of the Heresie, will you say, and not expressly pronounce upon the CONDITION or STATE of the Person who holds it? And does it only say of him, that he is liable to Damnation, and not that he shall without Doubt, or most certainly, be damned?

Again, does the Creed leave Room to hope in particular Cases, when, at five distinct Places, it determines absolutely against Hope; and in such strong and express Language, as most evidently reaches, and was intended to reach, to every particular Case? WHOSOEVER,—EVERY ONE,—which except a MAN believe,—HE shall WITHOUT DOUBT, perish everlastingly. If, notwithstanding these decisive and most peremptory Declarations, the Creed still leaves Room to hope for the Salvation of the avowed Deniers and Oppugners of this Faith; then the Use of Language is lost, there is no Meaning in Words, Truth and Falshood are the same, and a Man may honestly subscribe the Koran of Mahomet and reconcile it with a Profession of the Gospel of CHRIST. Besides, what contemptible Chicanery and trifling is it to talk, “ of Room for Pardon and Hope in PARTICULAR Cases,” when you declare solemnly this Hope UNIVERSALLY, and in EVERY Case, and to say, — “ When ONE of these comes to die ;” when you do it over ALL when they come to die : And, “ that you do not quite despair concerning the Man ;” when you have the Assurance to thank GOD that he hath in GREAT MERCY taken him to himself, and to pray him, that when you die, YOURSELF may rest in CHRIST, as you hope this ARIAN or SOCINIAN doth. Is this the Language of NOT-QUITE-DESPAIR ? — Such trifling does but hurt a Cause : You had much better have done here, as with the burial Office and the Absolution, have passed it in Silence over, and not attempted to defend what every one sees to be incapable of Defence.

But, the unfeigned ASSENT and CONSENT which you have solemnly given, and which every Clergyman is obliged most solemnly to give, sticks, no Doubt, greatly ; and makes you strain every Nerve to endeavour to let it pass. Such Potions, indeed, must be bitter ; GOD grant they be not malignant ! There is something in every wise Man that must strongly keck against them. To Numbers in your own Church it cannot but be difficult, in GOD’S Presence and before his Church, before Angels and Men, to give their unfeigned ASSENT and CONSENT to ALL and EVERY thing contained in the Athanasian Creed, with all its Explications, Limitations, and damnatory Clauses. — A Creed, whose Limitations they condemn ; whose Explications they deride ; and whose damnatory Clauses they detest heartily and abhor ; — yet in GOD’S Presence and before his Church, I repeat it with Astonishment ! to declare ones unfeigned Assent and Consent to them ALL, — is a Potion, surely, which though sweetened with the noblest Church-preferments, a Man might justly dread to swallow! You wonder, Sir, perhaps, to see Deism, Infidelity, Popery, a Corruption of Manners and Contempt of holy Things prevail throughout the Land? I acknowledge, I do not: For when those who are to be the great Examples and Teachers of RIGHTEOUSNESS, too generally enter upon their sacred Office with a dangerous Violation of it; subscribing Articles they do not believe; preaching contrary to their Subscriptions; declaring solemnly their unfeigned Assent to what they do not approve, but, it may be, heartily detest; and prostituting the holy Rites and Offices of their Religion to political and sordid Ends. — Why should it be thought strange if POPERY and INFIDELITY greatly gain Ground? and what wonder if they at length fatally prevail?*
ones

S E C T. XII.

The Scottish Presbyterian ESTABLISHMENT vindicated.

IF SCHISM be so dangerous and damnable a Thing as you affect to represent†; the River Tweed, methinks

C c 2

* See a like manifest inconsistence betwixt the XXVth Article, and the Office for Confirmation. The Article says—“Confirmation has not any visible Sign or Ceremony ordained of God” — But the Office commands the Bishop to declare, “That he hath laid his Hands on the confirmed (after the Example of the holy Apostles) to certify them by this Sign of God’s Favour” — Behold an evident Contrariety! But to both Parts unfeigned Assent and Consent is obsequiously given!

It is something (more than) odd, a learned Bishop of your own has lately observed, to have two Creeds established in the same Church; in one of which, those are declared accursed, who deny the Son to be of the SAME Hypostasis with the Father: And in the other, it is declared they cannot be saved, but perish everlastingly, who do not assert that there is ONE Hypostasis of the Father and ANOTHER of the Son — Essay on Spirit. §. 146.

† II, Def p. 63.

methinks, should not bound it, nor your solemn Warnings against it* ; but from the Profusion of your Charity to the English Dissenters †, a little should extend also to your episcopal Brethren the Dissenters from the Scottish Church. But these, such is your partiality, you endeavour to justify instead of censuring ; yea, to justify upon such Principles as certainly expose yourself to heavy Censure and Rebuke. You alledge,—— “ That they did not “ separate from the Presbyterians, but the Presby- “ terians from them,——that by Tumults, false “ Mufters, and other Misrepresentations of Persons “ and Things the Presbyterians got themselves esta“ blished,——but that having renounced EPISCO-“ PACY, and their Ordination being irregular, “ their COMMUNION can be neither Safe nor Law- “ ful ‡.” Behold ! in these last Words that schif- matical dividing Spirit from which you endeavour to vindicate your Church. A severe and unchristian Sentence ! by which you unchurch at once, and cut off from Christian Fellowship all the foreign reformed Churches, a glorious and great Company, and pronounce them not to belong to the visible Church of CHRIST. They all have renounced EPISCOPACY, in your Sense of the Word, their ORDINATIONS therefore you declare irregular, being only Presbyterian, and their COMMUNION to be neither SAFE nor LAW-FUL, i. e. it is a dangerous and wicked thing to hold Communion with them : Your own sober Thoughts, Sir, and the episcopal Authority under which you are placed, will, I doubt not, correct you for so immodest a Censure. To assist the former in this good Office, I would offer two things to your serious Review.

1. That the very Canons of the Church of England, to which you have sworn Obedience, acknowledge the Church of Scotland to be a true Sister Church ;

* Ibid. page 128.
 pages 16, 145.

† Dedic. page 15.

‡ II. Dct.

Church; commanding all its Clergy to pray for the Churches of ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, and IRELAND as Parts of CHRIST'S holy CATHOLIC CHURCH, which is dispersed throughout the World. Canon LV. Note, the Church of Scotland, when these Canons were made, was Presbyterian as it is now. And,

2. Consider, that the Presbyterian Church in North Britain is established by the very same Authority, and rests upon the same Law as the episcopal Church in South Britain.

The very same Legislative Powers which established and formed the one, have established the other likewise; if it be Schism, then, Rebellion and Contumacy against GOVERNORS to separate from the latter; it is most certainly the very same to separate from the former also. As for "Tumults and false Musters by which it got itself established." You should have known, that the Sense of the Scottish Nation was, perhaps, ten times more general for Presbyterianism, in the Reigns of K. William and Q. Ann, when that Form was established there; than the Sense of the English Nation was for Protestantism, in the Reigns of K. Edward and Q. Elizabeth, when the episcopal Church of England was formed and established here. But if the Settlement of PROTESTANTISM in England, by the Crown and Parliament of these Realms, was valid and right, even though the Bishops and Clergy were, almost unanimously against it; PRESBYTERIANISM in Scotland surely, enacted and established by the same Crown and Parliament, must be equally valid; especially as the Voice of their Clergy as well as Laiety ran, not only violently, but generally that Way.

A grand CONVENTION of the States in Scotland, at the Revolution, in a Claim of Rights which they presented as containing the fundamental and unalterable Laws of that Kingdom, declare,— "That the Reformation in SCOTLAND having been begun by a PARTY among the Clergy, all PRELACY in
that

“ that Church was a great and insupportable Grievance “ to that Kingdom.” King William, however, Bishop Burnet * informs us, “ assured the episcopal “ Party there, that he would do all that he could to “ preserve them (established) granting a full Tole“ ration to the Presbyterians, provided they concur“ red in the new Settlement of the Kingdom (i. e.
 “ in renouncing King James, and owning himself
 “ as their Sovereign.) But the Bishops and their Fol“ lowers resolved to adhere firmly to the Interests “ of King James, and so declaring in a Body, with “ much Zeal, in Opposition to the new Settlement, “ it was not possible for the King to preserve that “ (episcopal) Government there, all those who ex“ pressed their Zeal for him, being equally zealous “ against that Order.”

This Establishment of Presbytery was again in the most solemn Manner enacted and confirmed by the Queen (Ann) and Parliament of England when the UNION was made. You speak therefore of this Affair, Sir, in more coarse and disrespectful Language than is either decent or true, when you talk of Insurrections, false Musters, Misrepresentations, &c. It was done upon the most mature and grave Deliberations both of King William and Queen Ann, and of the Lords and Commons of both Kingdoms in Parliament assembled; it has received the most sacred Sanction a human Law can receive; and is made as essential and fundamental a Part of our present Constitution, as the Church of England itself. Take heed therefore that you are not preparing a Rod for your own Correction; and lest by teaching Men to argue away the Legality and Reverence of the Presbyterian Establishment in North Britain, you give a second mortal Stab † to the Church established here. You may please to observe also, that when you call the episcopal Dissenters there the Church

* Hist. of his Times, Vol. IV. pages 42, 43, duodecimo.

† A deadly one you before gave. See page 7.

Church of Scotland, 'tis with just the same Propriety, Decency and good Sense, as if the Presbyterians should call themselves the Church of England here.

Hence also it appears, that what you offer in Mitigation of the Jacobitism and Rebellion of the Episcopalians in Scotland (pages 16, 17,) has one material Flaw, which is, that it is not founded upon TRUTH. For you represent the Loss of their Establishment as being the Cause of their Disaffection; whereas, the very REVERSE is exactly the Case; and they therefore lost their Establishment. because they were disaffected, rejected the Revolution, and adhere staunchly to King James. King William would have preserved them, if they would have acknowledged his Government; they obstinately refused, and fell therefore a just Sacrifice to their stupid Attachment to a tyrannical and Popish Prince.

As to the present Loyalty of the two Parties in that Kingdom, the Presbyterians and Episcopalians, which you have drawn into Comparison you have done one of them great wrong in representing them both as, perhaps, *alike deeply engaged in the late impious Rebellion there. If from the Disposition of the Clergy, that of the Laiety may be reasonably presumed, there are two important Facts, to omit many other, which will dispose every impartial Person, I believe, to view that Affair in a very different Light. One is, the ROYAL Commander, the Duke of Cumberland's Letter to the General Assembly at Edinburgh, in which he expresses a strong Sense “ of the very steady and laudable Conduct “ of the Clergy of that Church, through the whole “ Course of that wicked and unnatural Rebellion; “ and says, I owe it to them in Justice to testify “ that upon all Occasions I have received from “ them Professions of the most inviolable Attachment to his Majesty’s Person and Government, and

* II. Def. page 15.

“ and have always found them ready and forward
 “ to act in their several Stations in all such Affairs “ as they could be useful in, tho’ often to their “ own great hazard——.” Upon an impartial Account, the Balance, I believe, by every disinterested Person, will be found to stand thus,— Of the Presbyterian established Clergy not one in fifty in the whole Body, but wished heartily Success to the Arms of his Majesty King GEORGE; of the episcopal Dissenting Clergy, not one in fifty of the whole Body but wished heartily Success to the Arms of Frenchmen, Italians, and the miscreant Crew who came to invade and overthrow our Constitution in Favour of an abjured and Popish Pretender.

The other Fact is, the Necessity which the Legislature have found themselves under, by new Acts of Parliament, in two different Sessions, more narrowly to watch, and to lay under fresh Restraints, the episcopal Churches in Scotland. These are well known to be fruitful and fatal sources of Jacobitism and Disaffection; dangerous Seminaries where Men are formed and nourished up in Allegiance to a Popish Prince, and in avowed Aversion and Disloyalty to their rightful Sovereign King GEORGE:— Though it be too true then that there were some of the Laiety of the established Church, by some occasional Resentment or unhappy Occurrence, hurried into that black Affair; they herein departed from their settled and professed Principles; whereas the Episcopalians acted quite in Character, agreeable to the fixed Sentiments and Affections of their Party, when they prayed and fought heartily for the Destruction of our happy Government, and for the Advancement of a Popish Pretender to the Throne. To say then, “ that the Scottish Presbyte- “ rians, were, perhaps, as deeply engaged in the late “ odious Rebellion as the episcopal Dissenters there,” is to scatter Censures at random, to confront the plainest Evidence, and to represent them (as you have

have done abundantly by your Dissenting Brethren here) in a very partial and injurious Light.

S E C T. XIII.

Of the Church's AUTHORITY in Controversies of Faith.

THIS is a Claim, which, to the Grief of its real Friends, and to the Triumph of its Foes, your CHURCH hath set up, and obliges all its Clergy solemnly to subscribe. For it is really no other than an Invasion of the DIVINE Prerogative; and, in the Language of the HOLY GHOST, a sitting in the Temple of GOD, shewing itself that it is GOD *. It is a Claim of Honour as due to a Company of poor frail and fallible Men, which belongs only to the omniscient and infallible GOD, and to CHRIST the sole Lawgiver and King in the Church. It is the very Root of Antichristianism; the Prop upon which the whole System of Popery rests; it came from the Church of Rome, and thither it directly leads; nor can the Reformation be ever justified, or the Church of England supported, upon the Foot of this Claim.

For if THE CHURCH hath Authority in Controversies of Faith, the Church of Rome, surely, had it BEFORE the Church of England; yea, had it at the very Time when the Reformation was made. Cranmer, then, and Ridley, Luther and Calvin were guilty of great Petulancy and ecclesiastical Rebellion, in refusing to submit to the CHURCH's solemn Determinations concerning Image-worship, Transubstantiation, &c. and in proudly setting up their own private Opinion against the authoritative Decisions of their ecclesiastical SUPERIORS, to whom they owed Submission, and whom they ought to have obeyed.—This Claim

D d

of

* 2 Thes. ii. 4.

of your Church, Sir, I say it again, is an unanswerable Argument in favour of Popery; which hath drawn thousands, no doubt, and is continually perverting Multitudes from yours to the Church of Rome. Nor can all the Learning or Wit of the whole Clergy of the Land withstand the Force of a single Jesuit, let him be armed with and wield skilfully this dangerous Weapon, the XXth Article of your Church.

It was the fatal Influence of this Article, I observed, that seduced King James II. and the great Chillingworth into the Romish Tents. These Instances you contest with me. But as to the first, are guilty of an unhappy Oversight, in confounding two Things, in the Quotation from Burnet's History, and considering them as one, when they are most apparently distinct. The Authority of the Church, and the Tradition from the Apostles in Support of Episcopacy, are in the Bishops Account of King James's Perversion most manifestly two several and different Things; whereas you would strangely have it thought, "that by the Authority of the Church, is "meant only, the Authority of its Tradition or Testimony concerning Episcopacy *." But do you not know, and did not the King know, that the Authority of the Church is one Thing, and its Tradition in Support of Episcopacy is another? Does not the Church, besides this Tradition, claim to itself moreover an Authority in Controversies of Faith? And did not the King wisely and rightly judge, "that "there was more reason to submit to the CATHOLIC "Church, than to ONE PARTICULAR Church?" — That if the Church of England had this Authority, the Church of Rome had it long before her, and upon better Grounds than she; — that if the Church of England by its Authority might solemnly determine that CHRIST went down into Hell, and that

Arians

Arians and Socinians are undoubtedly damned when they die, and perish everlastingly, but yet, there is hope, when they die, that they rest in CHRIST, and are taken to GOD in mercy; the Church of Rome, by the same Authority, might solemnly determine that Images are to be worshipped, and that a Piece of Bread is transubstantiated into the Body and Blood of CHRIST; there being nothing in the one at all more incredible or absurd than in the other?—I own I see not but, upon this Principle, the King acted right; and that every one that believes this XXth Article of your Church ought to follow his Example, immediately forsake it, and go over to the Church of Rome *.

Thus did the renowned Chillingworth; he thought there was a Necessity of an infallible living Judge of Controversy; or, that there always was and must be some Church upon Earth that could not Err, which in other Words is, that had Authority in Controversies of Faith; finding therefore the Church of Rome claiming it with a better Grace, and upon fairer and stronger Grounds; than that of England could pretend, he too hastily went over to it; though he afterward well atoned, by his incomparable Writings, for that precipitant Step. “But he was too great “ a Master of Reason, you say, to take Authority for “ the same Thing with Infallibility, under a dif“ ferent Expression; and that, therefore our “ Church, in claiming the former, did, in effect,
 D d 2 claim

* In a Debate on a Bill against Blasphemy, &c. brought into the House of Lords, Anno 1721, the Earl of Peterborough frankly said, tho' he was for a Parliamentary King, yet he did not desire to have a Parliamentary GOD, or a Parliamentary Religion: And if the House were for such a one, he would go to ROME, and endeavour to be chosen Cardinal; for he had rather sit in the Conclave, than with their Lordships, upon those Terms. Tindal's Hist. Eng. Vol. IV. page 647.

Dr. Will. Tindal was also, by the same Principles, perverted to the Church of Rome. Vid. Second Defence of the Rights, &c. page 79.

“ claim the latter *.” However he took them, Sir, nothing is more plain than that they are undoubtedly the same. For that to whomsoever GOD gives AUTHORITY in Controversies of Faith, he gives also INFALLIBILITY, incontestibly appears hence, viz. that else a Man might really have Authority from the GOD of Truth to lead Men into ERROR, he might have a Power, a Right from Heaven to seduce and to deceive. The Absurdity of which glares at first View, and needs no further to be exposed.

To talk therefore “ of the Church’s limited Authority to decide Controversies according to the Rule of Scripture and universal Tradition; and that these Decisions (so long as they evidently contradict not that Rule) oblige her Members to Obedience,” — is quite trifling and beneath the Character of a rational Divine: For who, I pray, is to judge whether the Church’s Decisions are, or are not, according to the Rule of Scripture and universal Tradition. — The Church herself, — or her Members? If the Church herself, and not her Members; then the Authority is absolute, a Popish Tyranny is erected, and a blind unlimited Obedience takes Place. But if the Members are THEMSELVES to judge, and no further to yield Obedience than they THEMSELVES see the Decisions to be according to the Rule of Scripture, then all Authority is overthrown; the Determinations of the gravest Synods are to be weighed in the Balance of every Man’s private Judgment, and according as they appear to HIM to agree with Scripture or not, are absolutely to stand or fall. Betwixt Authority and no-authority in Matters of Faith, there is no possible medium: as for limited and unlimited they are only cant Expressions to which you affix no determinate Ideas; nor can pretend to tell the World. — what limits the Autho-

Authority has,—where it is circumscribed,—in whom it is lodged,—and how far its bounds go?

Accordingly, you find that noble Champion of the Protestant Cause, when escaped from the pernicious Snares in which his Notions of Church Authority had at first unhappily entangled him, expressing himself thus,—“ For my part after long “ and impartial search, I profess plainly that I can“ not find any rest for the Sole of my Foot, but “ upon this Rock only, namely, that the Bible, “ the Bible, I say ONLY, is the Religion of Protes- “ tants. I see plainly and with my own Eyes, that “ there are Popes against Popes, Councils against “ Councils, some Fathers against others, the same “ Fathers against themselves, a Consent of Fathers “ of one Age against a Consent of Fathers of an“ other Age, the Church of one Age against the “ Church of another Age,—in a Word, there is “ no sufficient Certainty but of Scripture only for “ any considering Man to build upon: This there“ fore, and this only, I have reason to believe,— “ I will take no Man’s liberty of Judgment from “ him; neither shall any Man take mine from me.
 “ —I am sure that God does not, and therefore “ that Men ought not to require any more of any “ Man than this, To believe the Scripture to be GOD’s “ Word, to endeavour to find the true Sense of it, and “ to live according to it *.”—These are the true Principles of Protestantism and of Christianity to which your CHURCH must necessarily come back, if ever she would maintain her Ground against the dangerous Assaults which Poperly is making on her; for as long as she stands hampered with that perplexing and unhappy Article (the XXth) she must remain the Dupe and the Jest of insulting Jesuits and Unbelie- vers; and be content to see her Members led in Triumph away from her by hundreds in their Snares.

S E C T.

* Chillingworth’s Rel. Prot. Chap. VI. Sect. 56, page 379.

S E C T. XIV.

Of the POSTURE in which our Lord and his Apostles eat the SACRAMENTAL SUPPER.

THIS is the only Point I shall at present further consider. Concerning which I observe,

1. That it is most certain that they eat it in their TABLE-GESTURE, whatever that was; it was the Gesture in which they were wont to take their Food at Meals. This is all we need to know, to justify our Practice: Our Lord and his Apostles took the Sacrament in an eating, not in an adoring Posture. Let no Man, then, think himself wiser, nor pretend that he can take it in a more humble, dev.ut., and fitter Posture than THEY. And,

2. Though it was, perhaps, somewhat different from the Posture we at present use (as there are several different Ways of sitting in different Countries and Times) yet there was no Word in the English Language so proper by which to render ἀνάπνικτων and ἐνάκειμενος, as sitting, which our Translators, and I, after them, presumed to use; for which I have fallen under your Rebuke.

“ You tell me, page 148, that the Posture was “ lying down or along ;” and yet just after, “ that it “ was with the upper Part of the Body erect ; and “ advise me to try how conveniently a Man may “ eat and drink in that Posture.” But to lay my Body down or along ; and yet keep its upper Parts erect, is a Position so extraordinary, that without the Help of some Posture-Master, or your further good Instructions, I despair of ever compassing so arduous a Point.

That it was the Custom of the Antients, both Romans and Greeks, to SIT at their Meals cannot be denied; πρὸς δεξιμῆς, Homer. Odyss.——And Virgil,

Virgil, who wrote near the Time of our Saviour, says,—Soliti patres considerare mensis *. Æneid VII. The Custom of lying or leaning at Table was brought in amongst the Romans not till the primitive Severity of their Manners was corrupted by the Effeminacy and Luxury of the East; and even then, the Posture of sitting was retained in their sacred Feasts in the Capitol †.

And as for the Usage of the Jews, Dr. Lightfoot, Sir, is an Authority which if, without being strongly armed, you presume to attack, the Blow will surely rebound, and hurt your own self. But the learned Doctor assures us,—“ That at other “ Meals they either sat, as we do, with their Bo“ dies erect, or when they would enlarge them“ selves to more Freedom of Feasting or Refresh“ ment, they sat upon the Beds and leaned upon “ the Table on their left Elbow. But on the Pas- “ sover Night, they used this leaning Composure, “ being the Posture of free Men, in Memorial of “ their Freedom.—And thus are we to under“ stand those Texts which mention John’s lying “ on Jesus’s Breast, and leaning on his Bosom (John “ xiii. 25. xxi. 20.) not, as some have pictured him, “ reposing himself or lolling on the Breast of Je- “ sus, contrary to all Order and Decency; whereas “ the Manner of sitting together was only thus;
 “ Jesus leaning on the Table with his left Elbow,
 “ and so turning his Face and Breast away from the “ Table on one Side, John sat in the same Posture “ next before him, with his Back towards Jesus;
 “ his Breast not so near, as that John’s Back and “ Jesus’s Breast did touch one another, but at “ such a Distance as that there was Space for Jesus
 “ to use his Right-hand upon the Table, to reach “ his Meat at Pleasure; and so for all the rest, as “ they

* Porro considerare, non in lecto recumbere ad mensas heroicis temporibus morem fuisse diximus. Not. Delp. in Loc. & in Æneid. I. L. 702. † Valer. Max. L. 2, 3.

“ they sat in like Manner : For it is a strange Fan“ cy that they lay upon the Bed before the Table, “ one tumbling, (or lolling) upon the Breast of “ another *.”

I have now followed you, Sir, much further than I intended to have done. I hope it will not be expected that I remark upon all the weak and indefensible Things your Defences contain ; there are, I believe, five Times as many as those I have here noted ; upon which it would tire the Reader's Patience, as well as greatly try my own, particularly to touch. As for the Discipline of the Church of England, its best Friends I am persuaded wish, and common Prudence would have advised, that you had been quite silent on that Head. “ Whoever “ thinks seriously (says one of the greatest of your “ present Bishops) of the Manner, Causes or Objects
 “ of our Excommunications generally speaking, should “ methinks in Pity forbear to mention the Word †.” Your ecclesiastical Courts, to whom that Discipline is committed, are justly not only reckoned, but called amongst yourselves, the very Dregs of your Constitution. And upon your own honest Confession of the scandalous and ruined State in which Church-discipline lies amongst you (quoted pages 67, 68, of my second Letter) I am well content to let that Matter rest.

As for the persecuting and dividing Spirit the Church of England has shewn, I think it the easiest of all Points (and so, I believe, does every one who knows its real History) to support with abundant Evidence the Charges on this Head. But as both Churchmen and Dissenters, 'tis hoped, are now growing into a better Spirit, and their common Interest as Britons, as Protestants, and as Christians, calls

* Lightfoot's Temp. Serv. Chap. xiii. Vid. also Rainold. Censura de Libris Apoc. Prælect. 79. Altare Damascen. Cap. x. page 552.

† Answer to the Represent. pages 38, 39.

calls loudly for a stricter Union ; I wave, at present, any further Prosecution of a Point which might rather tend to widen than heal the unhappy Breach. Upon your own Principles as to Persecution also I forbear to remark, though most easy to be proved both unprotestant and unchristian, the Merits of the Cause betwixt us being little concerned therein.

If this Review of the Controversy, which your Letters have called up, shall be a Means of holding forth to both the contending Parties the several Defects of their ecclesiastical Constitution, and of rendering them more candid and benevolent to each other ; and shall at all prepare the Way for a Coalition betwixt them, I shall think it an auspicious and very happy Event.

“ The Readiness which, you say, my Lords the Bishops have shewn, and will shew, to come to a Temper with their *dissenting Brethren,” will, I doubt not, be very gratefully and delightfully accepted by them, and returned by a correspondent readiness to lay aside all Prejudice (for Prejudices, I am free to own there, doubtless, are amongst us) and to comply with any just and reasonable Proposals for the accomplishing so important and valuable an End.

I hear it with great Pleasure, if what you speak is upon good Authority. — “ That if parting with the Ceremonies, and taking away a few indifferent Things will close the Breach, you are satisfied that it will not long remain open — †.” And in return declare, I verily believe that if such Condescensions as a great Part of our Governors both in Church and State would, I presume, think not unreasonable to make, were made to the Dissenters, there would no unbecoming Stiffness or Aversion be shewn by the most considerable Part of them. May Heaven dispose the Minds of all who have Power to further and help on this desirable Event! that with one

E c

Mind

* Dedic. page 12.

† Ibid. pages 13, 14.

Mind, and with one Mouth, we may glorify God, and unite our common Zeal against a growing common Enemy; and may receive one another, but not to doubtful Disputations! For if we still continue to worry and weaken one another, there is Reason to fear lest we finally be destroyed one of another. These Things I recommend, Sir, to your Consideration; and shall only farther say, that as I have not been able; and am persuaded never shall be; to get you to speak out, and openly and plainly tell us,—who you mean by the CHURCH, “to which Dis-“senters owe Subjection, which hath Power to de-“crec Rites, and Authority in Points of Faith;“and by withdrawing from, and rejecting the Au-“thority of which we are guilty of a dangerous“and damnable Sin——.” Whether it is the Pope with his Cardinals; or the King with his Parliament; or the Archbishop with his Bishops; or the Bishop of every Diocese with his Dean and Chapter attending.—Nor will you so much as pretend to shew us the Charter which has vested them with this high Power,—nor will say, to what Things, or how far it extends,—though these are essential Points upon which the Controversy betwixt us entirely depends: You must excuse me from paying any farther Regard to your Lucubrations on these Things. I have neither Time nor Inclination to dispute about a Scheme which you affect to wrap in Obscurity, and which you are afraid to lay open and avow before the World. I here therefore take my Leave of the present Debate. But though I chuse not to bear you Company in the disagreeable Employment of groping in the Dark, you will nevertheless believe me, Sir, to be

With unfeigned Respect,

Your very humble Servant,

A DISSENTER.

THE

T H E Dissenting Gentleman's
P O S T S C R I P T
T O H I S

Three LETTERS to Mr. WHITE.

S I R,

THE extraordinary Remark which introduces your Appendix—That Views of worldly Interest incourage and support our Dissent from the Establishment—I shall leave to the universal Laugh of your Readers, for a Confutation; and pass on to points of greater Moment in debate.—To begin with your first. OF CHURCH-POWER, and in whom lodged.

The Church of E———d claims, in her Articles and Canons * to have Power from GOD, to decree OTHER Ceremonies and Rites of Worship, and to make OTHER Terms of Christian Communion than either Christ or his Apostles ever made or decreed; and to have Authority in Controversies of Faith.

This high and important Power she sovereignly exerts: You, as her zealous Advocate, endeavour to support her in it; and charge all the Dissenters as guilty of a very crying and dangerous Sin, in

E e 2

not

* Art. XX. and Can XXVII, XXIX, XXX.

not submitting thereto. The Dissenters, I have told you, will readily own the Charge, and return immediately to your Church, if you will gratify them in these two most reasonable Requests. 1. Tell them plainly, WHO, and WHAT it is, you mean by the CHURCH? And, 2. Prove it, to have this Power vested in it by GOD.

Your Advocates for Church Power, I know, love always to deal in Generals; and will twist a thousand Ways, rather than explain their Scheme, and be forced to speak out: But you, Sir, being a Gentleman of singular Intrepidity; and affecting to do Things in, what you call, a soldierly Manner, when your late Appendix came forth, protesting to treat expressly of Church Power, and in whom lodged; I hoped to see the point, all Disguises apart, openly and frankly handled; and that a certain Judgment might now be formed what your Sentiments were. But, alas, vain were these Hopes! Not all the Invitations and Provocations I have used, can draw you from the Darkeness where you artfully lurk. Tho' the regard you owe to Truth, to Justice, to the Souls of your Dissenting Brethren, and to your own Reputation, most strongly obliged you to it; yet you have not, durst not honestly and fairly tell us—who the Persons are whom GOD hath trusted with this Power; nor have produced the least Shadow of a Charter from Heaven, investing them with it.

In most manifest Contradiction, indeed, to our Constitution; our Laws; our Articles and Canons, to which you have solemnly sworn and subscribed; and even to your very SELF (as I shall presently shew) you continue to affirm—"That this Power " is NOT AT ALL in the civil Magistrate; that he " hath declared and recognised it not to be in " himself; but is solely in the Pastors and Governors
" of the Church."—But when I once and again press and provoke you to say, who these Governors and Pastors

Pastors are—Are they the Archbishops; or the Bishops; or the Deans and Chapters of every Diocese; or the Priest in every Parish; or the Clergy met in Convocation?—You are four, and will not answer. No, if Dissenters must have these knotty Points solved, let them seek it from other Hands.—

But what Idea, Sir, will the Public form of a Scholar, a Divine, a some-time Fellow of a learned College, arraigning us before its Bar as guilty of high Crimes in not submitting to Church-Power; writing Tract upon Tract to persuade and reduce us to it; coming forth with an Appendix professing to treat expressly of Church-Power and in whom lodged; and yet, with all this Parade, not capable of being induced to say—who it is he means by these Pastors and Governors, to whom, under Peril of everlasting Damnation, we are bound to submit.

I observe, you rank yourself with the Learned, and claim Precedence amongst them.—“I, and another learned Gentleman *” (Ego, & Rex meus.) But will not the Learned disclaim you; and treat your Lucubrations as an egregious Impertinence; who can thus double and evade, and meanly refuse to speak to the one single Point, on which they all see the whole Controversy turns? Must not all your pretended Charity, and Lamentation over our straying Souls, appear to an high Degree ridiculous, and perfect Grimace? Dissenters dangerously sin, in rejecting a Power ordained by Almighty GOD: They profess themselves ready to yield it Submission, if shewn where it is: Mr. White, their pretended Friend, knows the grand Secret; but no Prayers can wrest it from him; he is close and demure; and leaves them to wander on, and sin, and perish in the dark.

But to examine your romantic Scheme, as far as Conjecture can pick it out.—The Church's Pastors
and

* Appen. page 37.

and Governors are ALONE possessed, you say, of this Power. By its Governors, 'tis presumed, you mean its Bishops; and by Pastors, its Priests. Every Parish Priest then, (your good SELF, Sir, amongst the rest) and every Bishop of this Land, is vested with this high Power: viz. a Power of decreeing OTHER Rites and Ceremonies in divine Worship, and of injoining OTHER Terms of Christian Communion, than either CHRIST or his Apostles decreed or enjoined; and of pronouncing AUTHORITATIVELY in Controverses of Faith. This, you will note carefully, is the Power in Dispute betwixt us. This the Power which your Church exerts: This the Power you claim for her; and which you affirm is vested solely, (if I understand your Scheme) in its Bishops and Priests.

But, pray, give me leave to ask——How do they possess it! separately or conjunctly? It must be one of these. Has every Priest within his Parish, and every Bishop within his Diocese, a Right to exercise this Power, separately and apart from others? Or, must they assemble in common Council, and by joint Suffrage and Consent issue forth their Determinations; to which the Consciences of all the Faithful are bound to submit? Not separately and apart, 'tis presumed you will say, but in Convocation convened.

Accordingly, you lay, I observe, a mighty stress upon the CONVOCATION'S Consent to the Act of Uniformity, and the present established Forms; and seem to represent this as that which alone gave Authority to both; and that as long as this Consent of the Convocation was withheld (as for a considerable Time it was) so long the Reformation “ was a Measure not quite Canonical nor ecclesiastically right “ —That it was a going a little awry into some “ illegal or extra-legal Ways——That the King's “ Supremacy, on that Occasion, was raised to an “ undue Height, and such as ought not to be drawn “ into “ into Example at other Times—That most, if “ not all, the Reviews and Alterations which have “ been since made, have been made by the Bishops

 “ and Clergy, in, or by the Authority, or with the “ Concurrence of the Convocation (your great Mis“ take, here, you will presently see) and if our “ Governors shall at any Time think fit to subject
 “ it, to any other Alterations or Reviews, you “ will not suffer yourself to doubt, but they will “ be made by ecclesiastical and even synodal Autho“ rity, before the civil Sanction be added to “ them*.”

The Authority of the Convocation is, I see, the Phantom that haunts your Mind, and has distorted strangely your Thoughts, on this Subject of Church-Power. I will candidly endeavour your Illumination on this Point; as I have the Satisfaction to hope, I have, not without good Effect, attempted it on some other.

Before you had taken on you, Sir, to write about Church-Power, you ought to have known—That, by the Constitution and Laws of England, the Convocation is really no Part of its Government; no Branch of its ruling-Powers; has no Share of its legislative Authority at all. To be amply convinced of this, I shall lead you to Authorities which you will have no Countenance nor Power, however strong your Inclination may be, to contest. To some great ones, in the Law, you have already been directed †, which you have (and with good Reason) not presumed to dispute. Turn your Attention, now, to some of your own Bishops, the Ornament, the Supports, the Glory of your Church: Who were honoured with the first Rank among those Pastors and Governors, with whom alone you declare Church-Power is lodged.

A Gen-

* Append. pages 8, 9.

† Dissent. Gent. 1 Lett. page 10.

A Gentleman of your Erudition hath, no doubt, heard, at least, of the Writings of those venerable Names Burnet, Kennet, Nicholjon, Hody, and particularly Wake, your late excellent Archbishop, on this Subject of the Convocation.

A due Attention to their learned Researches on this Point, will effectually ease your Mind of the Errors it labours under. From the last of these great Persons, I shall present you with a few Extracts, to set right your Misapprehensions as to the real Constitution and Nature of your Church; which you seem (excuse my Freedom) extremely unacquainted with, and not at all to understand.

To root up, and destroy for ever, the dangerous Absurdity of two independent Powers (i. e. the Power you are claiming for your Pastors and Governors, independent of the civil Magistrate) the Wisdom of our Legislature hath enacted and decreed, “ by the Statute 25 Henry VIII. called the Act of “ SUBMISSION. 1st. That the Convocation should “ from thenceforth be assembled only by the King’s “ Writ. 2dly. That it should make no Canons or “ Constitutions but by Virtue of the King’s Licence, “ first given them, so to do. 3dly. That having “ agreed on any Canons or Constitutions, they should “ yet neither publish nor execute them, without the “ King’s Confirmation of them. Nor 4thly. By his “ Authority, execute any, but with these Limita“ tions; that they be neither against the King’s “ Prerogative, nor against any common or statute
 “ Law; nor finally, in any other respect contrary “ to the Customs of the Realm.” Vid. Wake’s Appeal, &c. page 4.

The learned Metropolitan further informs you * — “ That Christian Princes have a Right; and “ from Constantine the Great, down thro’ succeed“ ing Ages, have exerted the Right; not only of “ exercising

* Wake’s Authority of Christian Princes, &c. page 10.

“ exercising Authority over ecclesiastical Persons, but “ to interpose in ordering ecclesiastical Affairs—“ That when the civil Magistrate advised with the “ Clergy about calling a Synod, it was not looked “ upon as a Matter of Right; but that he often “ called Synods without such Advice: And when “ the Bishops have earnestly desired a Council, and “ it has been refused by the Magistrate, they have “ submitted, and not reckoned themselves to have “ a Right to meet without his Leave—When a “ Synod was resolved on, the Prince determined, “ or allowed, the Time and Place of meeting, and “ what Persons should come to them—When “ Synods are assembled, he shews, the civil Magis- “ trate has a Right to prescribe the Matters on “ which they are to debate; as also the Manner
 “ and Method of their Proceedings in them; and, “ if he pleases, to sit in, and preside over them;
 “ or to appoint his Commissioner to do it in his stead.
 “ (Thus Ld. Cromwell, a Lay-Person, sat in, and “ presided over the Convocation for the King, Hen.
 “ VIII.) They cannot dissolve themselves, nor depart
 “ from Council but by the King’s Licence—Their “ Definitions are no further Obligatory, than as ra“ tified and confirmed by CIVIL Authority.—That “ the Prince is not obliged to confirm whatever the “ Clergy shall think fit to determine; but has a “ Power of annulling and rejecting what they have “ done; to alter or improve, to add to or take “ from it.—He denies the inherent Authority of “ the Church to make any synodical authoritative “ Definitions; or that the sitting of Convocations
 “ is any Right of the Church.—And says, “ that as even the King’s Licence cannot give the “ Convocation Authority to promulge or execute “ any Canons, but what are agreeable to the Cus- “ toms and Laws of the Realm; so he ought to “ submit them to the Examination of his Council “ learned in the Law ; by them to be advised, whe“ ther they are thus agreeable, before he confirms

 “ them *.”

So that the Convocation, you see, are not so much as the King’s supreme Council in ecclesiastical Affairs. There are others who are to judge after them ; to sit as a Check above them ; to inspect, controul, approve or reject the Advice they give the King ; even his Council learned in the Law.

The Archbishop adds——“ That as the King “ has Power, without a Convocation, to make and “ publish such Injunctions as HE shall think the “ Necessities of the Church to require and to com- “ mand the Observance of them : So he may, with “ the Advice and Consent of his Parliament much “ more, (i. e. I apprehend, he may without, much “ more with, their Advice and Consent) make “ what ecclesiastical Laws he shall think fitting, for “ the Discipline of the Church ; and may alter, “ correct, disallow, or confirm the Resolutions of “ the Convocation according to his own liking †”

And finally, he gives a List of a great Number of Alterations, Reviews, and Reformations in ecclesiastical Matters, which have been done entirely by SELECT COMMITTEES, without any Advice or Consent of a Convocation (through all the several Reigns of Hen. VIII. Edw. VI. Q. Eliz. James I. and Charles I.) When the King having first appointed a certain Number of Bishops and Clergymen (whether they shall be Clergy or Laity, or what Number of each, is entirely in his Choice) to consider what may be fit to be ordered, then enjoins it by his royal Authority. And adds (directly contrary to what you assert) That AFTER THIS MANNER, viz. by select Committees, (and Acts of Council) the Reformation of the Church of England was in

* Wake’s Authority of Chrit. Pr. &c. page 130.

† Wake’s Authority of Chrif. Pr. &c. page 136.

in great Measure carried on, and its most important Affairs transacted *. And in his Appendix, No. VII. he presents you with a long Catalogue of Canons; Injunctions; new Translations of the Bible; Articles of Religion set forth; Explications made of them; Examinations of Ceremonies; Hymnies composed; Prayers sent to the Archbishop; with Orders for their public Use; Visitations of the whole Kingdom, with an entire Suspension of episcopal Jurisdiction; (The Visitors were two Gentlemen, a Civilian, a Register, and only one Divine. Eckhard's Hist. Eng. page 300.) new Offices of Communion; other Offices reformed; new Catechism drawn up, &c. &c.—All done by private Commissions, or otherwise, out of CONVOCATION †. So that the Clergy in Convocation have not the least Ground to claim as a RIGHT to be consulted in any future Reforms or Reviews. If the Government shall indulge them with Leave to assemble, and to give their Sentiments on these Things, it is to be gratefully received, as a Matter of Grace, not of Right; and to be used with due Humility and Deference to the ROYAL Judgment; in which the SUPREME ecclesiastical Wisdom is by our Constitution declared, and by all our Clergy acknowledged to reside.

F f 2

By

* Wake's Auth. of Chr. Pr. &c. page 256. The King, says Fuller, would not intrust the Convocation with a Power to meddle with Matters of Religion, from a just Jealousy he had of the ill Affection of the major Part thereof; who under the fair Ring of Protestant Profession, had the rotten Core of Romish Superstition. It was therefore conceived safer for the King to rely on the Ability and Fidelity of some select Confidants, cordial to the Cause of Religion, than to adventure the same to be discussed and decided by a suspicious Convocation. Ch. Hist. Book. VII. page 421.

† Whether? And in what Method, our present Governors may think proper to attempt any further Reviews, I presume not to guess: But, perhaps may be allowed to say, That whoever knows the real History of English CONVOCATIONS; and observes the narrow and bigotted Spirit; the petulant, censorious, uncatholic, and rigid Temper, which has ever generally prevailed there; especially, in its inferior Members; will indulge but faint Hopes of Reformation from that Quarter,

By this Time, no Question, Sir, you have an humbler and juster Sense of the Power of a Convocation; and perceive it to be no Part of our Government, and that it has no legislative Power or Authority in these Realms.

Your favourite fantastic Scheme, then, “ of Pastors and Governors having the SOLE POWER as to Church-matters; and that the Civil Magistrate has NONE AT ALL *,” is really, you now see, of very dangerous and important Consequence; actually subversive of our present happy Constitution; wrests from the King and Parliament an high Branch of their Prerogative; impeaches their supreme Authority; attempts to set up another legislative Power; and is a deep Indignity cast upon our Reformation from POPERY, which was effected ONLY by the Civil Magistrate, your boasted Pastors and Governors struggling vehemently against it. Are these the Returns you make for the Indulgence of that Government, by whose Favour you live at Ease upon the Labour and Sweat of others!——

The Times of Hen. VIII. Edw. VI. and Qu. Eliz. you say, were extraordinary Times, and the regal Supremacy was then raised to an undue Height. But, see how the Case stood, when the Church was in the Zenith of its Prosperity and Power! I mean at the passing the Act of Uniformity of Charles II. In the Preamble of which you have the Sentiments of the Legislature, and of that your most religious King, which recites to this Effect——“ That the Book of Common prayer, &c. having been enjoined to be used by the Statute 1st Elizab. and since that by the Neglect of Ministers, great Inconveniencies and Schisms having happened; for Prevention thereof, and for settling the Peace of the Church, &c. the King had granted his Commission to some Bishops and other Divines to review the Common Prayer-book, and to prepare such Alteration and Advice “ Advice as they thought fit to offer. And that “ afterward his Majesty having called a Convocati“ on, and having been pleased to authorize and “ require them to review the same Book, and make “ such Alterations as to them should seem meet,

 “ and to exhibit and present the same to his Majes“ ty, for his further Allowance or Confirmation; and “ the same having been done; his Majesty hath du- “ ly considered, and fully approved and allowed the “ same; and recommended to this present Parlia“ ment that the same shall be appointed to be used “ in all Churches,—Whereupon it is enacted,
 “ &c.”

See here, how poor a Figure the Power of your Convocation makes when shining in its highest Glory! The Clergy are authorized and required by the King to propose Alterations in Church-ceremonies and Forms, for HIS CONSIDERATION and ALLOWANCE, as Supreme Head of the Church. The King approves and allows such of them as he thinks fit; but in order to their having Power at all to oblige the Members of the Church, the King recommends them to his Parliament; who turn them into a Law. And thus only they acquire all their obliging Force. What, now, did the Clergy in all this Affair! but give their Advice. Which might have been taken, or refused: So Lawyers, incapable of voting in Parliament, are often consulted in forming and making Laws; shall they therefore set up for a Share in the legislative Power; and exalt themselves from Subjects to be Rulers in the State?

And when a most happy Alteration was, afterward, made in this Law, by the Act of Toleration; which so deeply affected the Forms and Ceremonies of the Church, with Regard to a great Number of the Subjects of this Kingdom, pray tell me! What Hand had the Convocation and Clergy in that important Church-affair?

And

And as Forms of Worship; so Matters of Faith are enacted into Laws, judged and punished, entirely by the Civil Magistrate, without any Intervention or Assistance of the Clergy. By the Statute of 9th and 10th of William III. it is enacted,——That if any Person shall be convicted in the Courts of Westminster, or at the Affizes, of denying any one of the Persons of the Trinity to be GOD: Or, of maintaining that there are more GODS than one: Or, of denying the Christian Religion, or the Authority of the Scriptures; he shall forfeit——be imprisoned, &c.——Here again, you see the Jurisdiction and Decision of the great Articles of Faith declared by Parliament to be in the Lawyers.

And as to the Punishment of Vice and Irreligion, the Statutes against Drunkenness, cursing, swearing, the Breach of the Sabbath, &c. sufficiently shew that the Parliament and Common-law Courts have taken to themselves the Cognizance of these. And what now becomes of your ecclesiastical Dominion and canonical Settlement for above 200 Years? When it has been, and might in innumerable other Instances be shewn, that the King and Parliament have all along claimed and exerted a supreme Right in Matters of Religion, Faith, Worship, and Practice. Your ecclesiastical Courts, indeed, are sometimes permitted to take Cognizance of some of these Matters; but then it is to be remembered, 1. That these are the King's Courts; to be held only in his Name. 2. The Judges in these Courts often are, always may, and (say many of your most learned Clergy) ought ever to be Laymen. And, 3. The King, whenever he pleases, stays their Proceedings; grants Prohibitions; takes Causes out of them, and removes them into his Courts of Common-law,——What, now, is become of the original, radical JURISDICTION, which you claim for your Pastors and Governors!

But

But to return to the Convocation,—Our excellent Constitution, you see, hath with great Sagacity circumscribed its Power, and reduced it to a mere Shadow, or just nothing at all. Ecclesiastical Synods, from the famous Council of Nice, down to the not-famous Convocation of L—n, anno 1717. Sad Experience hath shewn to have been little else than the Pests and Troublers of Mankind; Mints where pernicious Errors have received the Stamp of Authority, and been sent out to corrupt the Church, and to set the World in Flames; and that, for the most Part, they have been Conventions of interested, ambitious, factious and angry Men; who under a fair Pretence of Zeal for the Lord of Hosts, have been driving furiously and foully on in Pursuit of worldly Views; and with an Affectation of being thought contending earnestly for the Faith, have been only contending like the Disciples, who should be greatest among themselves. This the Wisdom of our Legislature knew to have been the Manner, the Practice immemorial, of ecclesiastical Synods; and therefore guarded, with great Discretion, against the portentous Evil; denied them all legislative Power; subjected them entirely to the Authority of the Civil Magistrate; and thus hardly restrained them from throwing, as they have often done, the World into Confusion; and filling the Church with everlasting Debates.

And now, Sir, having thus laboured your Edification, in a Point of high Importance, where, 'tis certain you greatly needed it; by this Time you begin to see, not the Futility only, but the Presumption, and the real Danger of your Scheme. That it is a Suggestion as groundless, as it is ungrateful and ill-timed, that our Reformation was not effected in a legal and right Manner. You, see, that by representing the Magistrate as having no Power in Church-matters, you undermine that glorious Structure; betray it into Papish Hands; and subvert the very Foundation of your own admired Church: And that by laying so essential a Stress, as you do, upon the Convocation's Assent to the Act of Uniformity, by which the Reformation and the present Church was established, you suggest to a crafty Jesuit unanswerable Matter to insult and expose both. For, pray, the Jesuit will ask, How was that Assent of the Convocation obtained? Was it not by the Magistrates depriving the holy Bishops; and thrusting out the Church's Pastors from those Seats, and from that Authority which GOD had given them therein? And can the Assent of a Convocation thus packed by the Magistrate, make that legal, canonical, and ecclesiastically right, which was before illegal, uncanonical, and ecclesiastically wrong?
 very

Besides, to talk of the Convocation's ASSENT and CONCURRENCE, is Language altogether unconstitutional, and has a great deal too assuming and presumptuous an Air. Submission, Sir, and Obedience is all the Convocation was capable of giving. The King may give his Assent, and either House of Parliament may give their Assent, and thereby confirm and give Authority to any Act: But should the Magistrates of a Country Town talk of FURTHER confirming it by THEIR Concurrence and Assent; which would they most provoke, your Indignation or your Mirth? And yet, the Corporation of a Cornish Burrough, Sir, has, as much Right, by our Constitution, to talk of ratifying by their Assent any Law of the Crown, as the Convocation itself*.

And hence, by the Way, you see the extreme Vanity of your Imagination——“ That the Civil “ Magistrate, by ratifying the XXth Article, hath “ recognized

* The Convocation never gave their Assent at all to the Articles of Religion in K. Edward's Reformation. And all the Assent they ever gave to Q. Elizabeth's (as far as I can find) was the setting forth the Articles, which was not done till January, 1563: Whereas the Reformation was established by the first of Eliz. January, 1558. Vid. Fuller's Ch. Hist. B. IX. pages 52 and 72.

“ recognized and owned the Power to be not in “ himself, but in the Church *”—i. e. as you are pleased to understand it, in the Clergy. By what Logic, Sir, do you make the Church, in that Article, to mean the Clergy? Are not the LAITY also an essential Part of the Church? Does not the very preceding Article, XIXth, expressly declare they are? Defining the Church——to be a Congregation of faithful Men——But, would you impute to the Magistrate so tame, so absurd, so ridiculous a Part, as publickly to disown himself to have any Power in Church-Matters: Yea to deny himself to belong to the Congregation of the Faithful! Yes; with Astonishment be it seen, this is what you are not ashamed openly to impute to him. “ For the King and “ Parliament, you say, have plainly disowned any “ such Power, as we are speaking of, in themselves ;
 “ and recognized it to be in the Church, and no “ body imagines that by the Church they mean “ themselves †.”——But if by declaring it to be in the Church, they have disowned it to be in themselves ;
 they have, thereby, also disowned themselves to be of the Congregation of the Faithful ; for this Congre- gation they declare to be the Church, to whom this Power belongs. Besides; this is supposing the KING to disown and give up a Power which the whole Legislature hath solemnly vested in him ;
 and which every Bishop and Ecclesiastic in the Kingdom (till the Time of K. William) did swear, that he believed in his Conscience to be true, under the Penalty of a Premunire, viz. “ That the King is “ the only supreme GOVERNOR of this Realm ; as “ well in all spiritual or ecclesiastical Things or “ Causes, as temporal ; and that they will assist and “ defend him in such Jurisdiction and Authority.”

See, now, the hopeful State to which you have brought the civil Magistrate ! You have made him

G g

to

* I Def. page 17. Appen. page 5.

† I Def. page 17.

to divest himself of all Power as to Church Matters, and to recognize it to be in you, the Clergy. He is now, therefore, in all these Affairs, to be subject to you his HIGHER POWERS. You have Authority from GOD to make Laws, and to prescribe Rites, which Kings and Parliaments are to obey: To bind your Kings in Chains, spiritual, ecclesiastic Chains— Rise up, O ye Kings, to these your Pastors and Governors! be instructed, and pay Homage to their spiritual Decrees! This Doctrine was the happy Engine, which hath often lifted humble Bishops, to the high Places of the Earth; hath made Kings bow down before them, and subjected Emperors to their Feet.

Ecclesiastical Affairs, Sir, you are too sagacious not to know, take in a mighty compass; and very naturally comprehend the Principles, the Manners, the whole social and moral Conduct, of those over whom these holy Pastors are to watch. Thus the Priests of the Church have exalted themselves, for many Ages, to be Princes of the World; and by Claims of spiritual Power, have hooked in enormous Shares of temporal Grandeur and Wealth. But, is this a proper Time, think you, to revive and to press Pretensions of this Kind? Thank Heaven, that Darkness is passed! The Light of Christian Liberty dawns gloriously upon us; and exposes all such fanatic Claims to just Scorn and Reproach.

But——I press you no farther——You begin to relent. Having urged you with the Weight of your XXXIVth Article, which you have frequently subscribed; and of your XXXth Canon to which you have solemnly Sworn; both which declare positively, your Church Ceremonies to be ordained by the Authority of the CIVIL MAGISTRATE; you are, at length, constrained to own their Force. But, without the Honour of retracting your former dangerous Assertion, “That the Magistrate has no such Power

Power at all *.” You are now brought to acknowledge——“ That the Truth of the Case is, all our “ Ceremonies, and Forms of Worship, are ordained, as they ought to be, BOTH by ecclesiastical “ and CIVIL Authority †.” Honestly said at last! Well, if by civil Authority, then the Magistrate has some Power in ordering Church-Matters; which you have all along denied him; and then the Power is not vested solely in the Pastors and Governors, as with great pertinacity you have insisted it was. Render then to Cæsar, the Things which are Cæsar’s; and lift not up your Heel against the Hand by whose bounty you are so liberally fed.

You are now willing, I find, to compromise the Matter, and to go shares with the Magistrate, in the Enjoyment of this Power; and presume to talk of an “ ALLIANCE, and of TERMS on which it “ stands, betwixt the State and the Church ‡.” This ALLIANCE, Sir, is a mere Phantom, conjured up by the Strength of a late warm Imagination, to preserve at least a Shadow of its lost Power to the Church §. Neither our History, nor our Laws know any Thing at all of it. The Nature of our Constitution utterly disowns it; and avows the Church to be not an ALLY, but a SUBJECT to the State. An ALLIANCE supposes Independency in the Powers betwixt whom it stands. But, by the famous Act of Submission, the Church hath resigned all pretensions to Independency; and given up its Powers into the Hands of the State. The Truth of the Case is this. A few Centuries past, the Church was found guilty of a dangerous Rebellion and Higb-Treason against the State: Whilst it lay thus at mercy, as a Criminal before its Judge, its Pardon and Life were given it, upon the TERMS of its resigning all Claims of Independency, and submitting itself thenceforward to

G g 2

the

* I. Def. pages 18, 19. † Appen. page 13. ‡ Ibid.
§ See a late excellent Comment on WARBURTON’S Alliance, &c.

the Will of the Prince. But behold! these Terms of Submission, you have now, it seems, refined into Terms of Alliance; and the Church from a pardoned Criminal, now claims to be a rival Power; and to have its Rights and Jurisdiction independent of the State. “Our Ceremonies and Forms of Worship are ordained by ECCLESIASTICAL, as well as CIVIL Authority.” But these, alas! are but Illusions which mock your heated Fancy; for ecclesiastical Authority, as distinguished from civil, you may rest assured, there is none. Ask your learned Bishops, and they will utterly disclaim it. Ask your able Lawyers; and they will tell you, that you incur the Danger of a Premunire by presuming to exert any one single Act of Authority of this Kind. Ask all the knowing Members of the Convocation itself, and they will answer with one Voice, ’Tis not in us—AUTHORITY we have none. Yea; Ask the meanest Novice in the History of the Reformation, and of the Establishment of your Church; and he will presently acquaint you, that your Ceremonies and Forms were NOT ordained by BOTH ecclesiastical and civil Authority; but by civil Authority ONLY: The Ecclesiastics in Convocation, and in the two Universities, obstinately refusing to give their Concurrence; and even entering their very solemn and zealous Protest against it.

But, you are still harping that the Convocation at last gave their Assent. Pray! how did they give it? Not till they had been first garbled and packed by the Magistrate: All the Bishops, save one, exiled, imprisoned, turned out, by his Authority; and new, according to his taste, put into their Room; besides, the invincible Artillery of Deaneries, Prebends, snug and fat *Living*s played strongly upon the inferior Clergy: Many Dignitaries amongst these, also, being deprived by the civil Power. And, is it strange that the Convocation, thus powerfully attacked, made no long Resistance; but yielded, how-however reluctant, to what the Parliament had done*? But their Concurrence, I must again tell you, whether free or forced, gave, and could give, no AUTHORITY to the new Establishment; because, by our Constitution, they had not the least Grain of AUTHORITY to give. Suppose the Convocation had refused their Concurrence to that Act of the Legislature; would the Law not have had its Force? You dare not affirm it. Suppose, again, the Clergy had established any new Forms, without an act of Parliament; would the People have been obliged to yield Obedience to them? neither durst you assert this.

However, not to discourage good Beginnings, I will take you where you are——We are come, then, to this Issue. That the civil Magistrate has Power to ordain Ceremonies and Rites of Worship, and to make new Terms of Christian communion; and that the Things of this Kind which are done in the Church of England, are done, at least in Part, by CIVIL Authority. This is what you now grant. But the Question then returns, with unanswerable Weight upon you——Who gave him this Power? WHAT Charter hath lodged it in him? Not, surely, the Scriptures; the only Charter of the Christian Church. For all the Power or Authority which the Scriptures give the Magistrate relates only, and can relate but, to Things of a civil Nature; and cannot at all relate to Things of Worship and Religion. This never can be contested, because the Magistrate was, at the Time, when the Scriptures were wrote, and and for near three hundred Years after, Infidel and Pagan. St. Paul, therefore by commanding us to be subject to the higher Powers; and to obey Magistrates, for Conscience Sake, because they are the Ministers of GOD, for good—does not, in the least, require our Obedience to their Decrees as to Ceremonies and Forms of Worship; or, our Conformity to their Establishments, in Things of a religious Nature. No, St. Paul himself, and all the Apostles were very zealous Nonconformists. The grand Scope of all their Labours, their preaching, their Lives was to persuade and draw Men off from the established Forms of Worship; and to convince them that, in these Affairs, there was ONE King only, and ONE Lord to whom their Homage alone was due: Even JESUS, who by his Sufferings had merited this high Honour, and to whom alone GOD has commanded that, in Things of Religion, every Knee shall bow.

* Hear what even Echard, who was never suspected of Partiality against the Church, says——“ Fourteen Bishops, twelve “ Deans, twelve Archdeacons, fifteen Heads of Colleges, fifty Prebendaries, and eighty Rectors, were deprived by the QUEEN. “ But it was strongly believed, that, of the rest, the greatest “ Part complied against their Consciences; and would have been “ ready for another Turn, if the Queen had died while that “ Race of Incumbents lived, and the next Successor had been of “ another Religion.” Echard's Hist. Eng. page 330.

Here, then, I again call upon and provoke you to tell me—WHO gave the Civil Magistrate this Authority in religious Matters?—You are silent, and cannot say—Well, then, if by the Command of Almighty GOD, and by the original Constitution of the Christian Church, he hath none: then, the Subjects of JESUS CHRIST are under no Obligation to obey his Injunctions, in Things of a religious Nature; consequently are in no Fault in dissenting from established Forms; and consequently, your Censures of them, as great SINNERS for so doing are extremely rash and uncharitable; for which it becomes you, to be humbled greatly before GOD, and to ask Pardon of Men.

See, now, the unhappy Pinch to which you are reduced—If you say the Magistrate has Authority to decree Ceremonies, and Forms of Worship, to make new Terms of Communion, and to determine Controversies of Faith—you then sin against the undoubted Rights and Constitution of the CHRISTIAN Church;

Church; against GOD, against JESUS CHRIST, against Reason and common Sense. But if you say that he has not, you then sin against the Church of England, against its Laws and Constitution: You are a Dissenter, at least, in Principle; but, perhaps, have not Fortitude enough to sacrifice, what you call, your Snugness, by professing openly your Dissent.

Having thus considered the former Part of your self-repugnant Scheme. 1. That the Magistrate has not: And, 2. That he has the Authority which he claims and exercises in your Church: I should now proceed to the other, viz. That it is lodged in the Church's Pastors and Governors. But, here, to the Surprise of every attentive Reader, you content yourself with asserting, without paying him the Compliment of so much as attempting to prove them, possessed of this Power. The BIBLE, I thought you knew, to be the Religion of Protestants; and the SCRIPTURES, the only Rule of their Practice and Faith. But behold! a Protestant, a Divine, claiming an high Power for his Pastors and Governors; a Power in which the Peace and Purity of the Christian Church are essentially concerned; and yet not able, nor when called upon pretending, to produce one single Text of Scripture in Support of this Claim.

I have pointed you to several express Commands of the sacred Law, which directly FORBID and CONDEMN this pretended Power; have shewn you, that Christians are the LORDS freed-men, that they are each for himself, to study, and search the Scriptures—To examine and try the Spirits—To call no Man upon Earth MASTER, and are not to be called RABBI, i. e. are neither to acknowledge, nor to claim any Authority over others in Things of Religion, because ONE only is our Lawgiver and Master, in these Things, even CHRIST; and all Christians are Brethren. That tho' the Princes of the Gentiles exercise DOMINION over them; and they who

who are great, exercise AUTHORITY upon them, it SHALL NOT BE SO AMONGST YOU——What have you replied, Sir, to these plain and direct Commands: Have you so much as attempted to evade their Force? No: but with conscious Impotence stand still; and see this Scripture-Artillery demolishing the boasted Thrones of your Pastors and Governors, and beating down the high Places to which your Immagination had raised them, without so much as extending a feeble Hand for their Support.

From what has been said, on the Point of Church-Power, you see with how little Reason you plume yourself and Gentlemen of the Establishment, as the only proper Champions to encounter the Church of Rome——“ Upon the Head of Heresy, Schism, Ordination, Tradition, Church-Unity, and Catholic-Communion, no Protestant is so well qualified to write upon these, and so likely to do it to the Conviction of a Papist, as one of the Church of England; but, to be sure, not a Protestant Dissenter *.” What Protestant Dissenters can do on the Papish Controversy, the Salter's-Hall Lectures will shew to their lasting Honour. And, in Truth, all your mighty Champions, Cbillingworth, Hales, Stillingfleet, Middleton, &c. in all their Conflicts with the Church of Rome have been ever forced to quit their own, and to borrow our Weapons; and to these alone have owed the Triumphs they have gained.

Councils, Fathers, the Church's Power to decree Rites and Authority in Controversies of Faith——are Armour in which no Protestant dares look a sagacious and learned Jesuit in the Face. No; but the sufficiency of Scripture, and the Right of private Judgment (our distinguishing and proper Principles) are the only Method of Assault before which the the Romish System immediately falls. These, Sir, if you know any Thing of the State of that Controversy, you must know to have been the Principles upon which your own learned Doctors have defended the Reformation; and the Principles on which alone it is capable of Defence. But then you are to remember also, that they are Principles on which the Church of England can never possibly be defended; and which, if faithfully and duly followed, would have brought Chillingworth, and Hes, and Middleton, amongst us; and would make every intelligent and honest Protestant, in this Kingdom, a Dissenter from the established Church.

* Appen. page 11.

For if the SCRIPTURE be, indeed, a sufficient and perfect RULE; what becomes of your additional Splendors (as you are pleased to call them) and your Improvements upon Christianity! What, of your Church's POWER to decree Ceremonies and Rites! What, of Sponsors and the Cross in Baptism, kneeling at the Lord's-Supper, bowing to the East, &c. of which the SCRIPTURES, the sufficient and perfect Rule, say not a Word. And if the Right, and the Duty of private Judgment be acknowledged; into what a Fume, alas! evaporates the Church's boasted Authority in Controversies of Faith! Your learned Doctors themselves felt, and owned the Difficulty of the Part they had to act. And 'tis, really, pleasant to observe; how, in their Attacks upon Dissenters, Councils and Fathers, Church-Authority and Church Power, the Danger and Sin of Schism, &c. are gravely mustered up, and plied warmly upon us. But no sooner does a crafty Jesuit come forth armed, cap-a-pèe, with Weapons of this Kind, than away they are all flung! to our Quarters they retreat! Then, the BIBLE, the BIBLE only is the Religion of Protestants, and every Man is to read, and to judge for himself; then, not those, who separate from a Church, that imposes unlawful (unscriptural)

Terms, are guilty of Schism; but the Church alone is guilty in imposing such Terms.

A slight Attention will shew you, with how extremely ill a Grace a Church of England Divine must appear upon the Head of Schism, Tradition, Church-Unity — Who by the TRADITIONS of Men (Sponsors, the Cross, &c) hath notoriously made void the Commandment of GOD (to receive one another, but not to doubtful Disputations*.) Who breaks, in a flagrant Manner, the UNITY of the Christian Church, by setting up NEW Terms of Fellowship and Communion in it; and by casting out such as Christ receives into it: And who declares, before the World, against CATHOLIC-COMMUNION, by refusing to admit any to the two Sacraments of Religion: except, besides what Christ and his Apostles have ordained, they submit also to some Rites which themselves have ordained, as Improvements upon the Plan which the inspired Apostles left. — And is this, now, a Man to encounter Romish Emissaries? Must he not go forth with infinite Disadvantage, and feel his own Weapons turned violently upon himself? But, the Dissenter, who stands fast to his distinguishing and proper Principles (sufficiency of Scripture, and right of private Judgment) at once beats them from the strong Holds of Councils and Fathers (where you have been long assaulting, but not able to dislodge them) and makes all their learned Sophistry fall before the sacred Force of the BIBLE and COMMON SENSE. And hence it is, as before observed, that the Swarms of unhappy Profelytes, which these Seducers are said to make, are all drawn from your, not one, that I have ever heard of, from our Churches: Your Doctrines and Forms too naturally preparing them to take that fatal Step.

But

* Rom. xiv. 1.

But it is Time that we now quit the Subject of Church-Power. I have treated it the more largely, because it enters into the essence, and is the one single Point, every Person sees, on which the whole Controversy turns. Your other two Points, the sacramental Test, and the regal Supremacy, I shall dismiss in fewer Words.

As to the first, the sacramental TEST—I perceive nothing in your Appendix which either merits or needs a particular Reply. Only because you still insist, that as the Law now stands, the Priest has a Power of repelling evil Livers, when they come to receive the Sacrament, as a qualification for a Place; and by this wrong Apprehension, are kept from viewing the Affair in a Light so distasteful as it really deserves; I shall offer a few Things for your Illumination also here: Presuming, when you see, that you have not Power, in that Case, to refuse the CHRISTIAN COMMUNION to the wickedest Man living, you will groan under the disgraceful Yoke; and for the Honour of Christianity, and the Ease of your own Conscience, will be the first to wish its Repeal. Now this is a Point of Law; and has been given against you, by the learned in that Profession. And, if you attentively weigh the Case, their Opinion will appear grounded upon Reasons of very great and unanswerable Strength. Because if the Priests has a Liberty of DISCRETION in this Case, it is then in his Power to deprive the King of the Services of his loyal and good Subjects; as also, to deprive the Subjects of some of the most valuable Favours of the Prince; yea, the Priest has then a Power to put a Negative, in many Cases, upon the Nominations of his SOVEREIGN to Posts of the highest Dignity and Importance in the State.

His Majesty appoints a Person to some great Office in his Army, his Household, or his Fleet; but the LAW forbids him to Act (at least, but for a short Time)

Time) till he has first taken the sacramental Test: He comes, therefore, according to Law, to qualify for his Place. No, Sir, answers the Priest; I say you are a prophane and wicked Man, a notorious evil Liver: I am authorized therefore by the Rubric, and commanded by the Canon, to refuse you the Sacrament; and, be assured, I will not give it—— So here is the King's commission the Subject's expectations, and the Officer's good services, all quashed at once.

But can it enter into an Imagination so vague as even yours, that our Laws have put it in the Priest's Power thus to bar the King's Commission to a General, an Admiral, a Secretary of State. Gentlemen who too much merit, perhaps, the Character of evil Livers may, sometimes, by the royal Choice be appointed to high temporal Offices; and may be capable of discharging them with great Advantage to their Country, and great Honour to themselves. But, must the Priest's Consent be asked! at his Discretion must it lie! whether the Person, whom the King hath honoured with an high Commission, shall presume to proceed in the Execution of his Trust! ——Yes, it really thus lies in the Priest's Power (you will have it) to put a Negative upon the Crown. Without the Priest's Approbation of him, as being NOT an evil Liver, no Officer shall presume, nor can be qualified by Law, to act.

I congratulate you much, Sir, that you are now even with the civil Magistrate. The Noli Prosequi's and Prohibitions he has granted to stop proceedings in your ecclesiastical Courts, have been Matter of long Grievance: Now, you have it in your Power to make ample Reprizals on him. You have now a Power, by LAW, to judge after, above, the King. Tho' his Majesty ever so much wants and desires the Services of a brave Officer, you are first to fit in Judgment on him; to consider whether he is an evil Liver; and according as you pronounce concerning his his moral Character, he shall, or shall not, be qualified and allowed to act—These, doubtless, are the Days, of which blessed Laud is said to prophesy! Who hoped to see the Time, when no Jack Gentleman in England should dare to stand covered before the meanest Priest. The holy Martyr, indeed, died unblest with the Sight. But, you, his Son and Successor in Doctrine and Spirit, are taking bold Strides to reach Pisgah-Top, from whence to feast your Eyes with that promised happy State.

his

I might rest the Matter here—and hope you are now convinced of the presumptuous and high Nature of the Power you are thus, publickly, again claiming for the Priest: But, to silence for ever all doubts on this Head, I will present you with an Authority of irresistible Weight. This is no other than the lower House of Convocation, Anno 1704; staunch Champions for the Church, you know, as ever honoured the British Isle; in their Address to the upper House, amongst Gravamina Cleri Grievances to be redressed, they represent—“The increasing Difficulties of the parochial Clergy, about administering the holy Sacrament indifferently to all Persons who demand it, in order to qualify themselves for Office; because they see not how they could, in several Cases, act conformably to the Rubrics and Canons of the Church, in repelling such Persons as were unworthy, and particularly notorious Schismatics, without exposing themselves to vexatious and expensive Suits at Law*.”—This was the Construction which this learned Body of Clergy, you see, put upon this Law; but a Construction, because I had made it, which you, blessed with superior Light, take upon you to pronounce—“forced, unnatural, whimsical, unequitable †.”—Happy 'tis nothing worse!

But,

* Tindal's Hist. of Eng. Vol. III. page 686.

† Appen. page 20.

But, to conclude this Point——If, as the Law now stands, the Priest has, as you affirm, a Power to repel evil Livers; pray! what is the Reason that the Rubrics and Canons, which so solemnly oblige him to it, are not only, not faithfully observed, but most shamefully violated, and quite trampled under Foot? Why, amongst the Swarms of notorious evil Livers, Heretics, Blasphemers, and open Unbelievers, who continually come to the LORD'S TABLE, to qualify for a Place; do we never here of one rejected by the Priest? What! is there no Conscience, no Integrity or Honour left amongst those who administer this holy Rite of Religion! seeing the Rubric requires, and the Canons oblige to reject these evil Livers; and the Scandal of receiving them (both to Deists without, and to Christians within) is so crying and flagrant; Why, in the Name of GOD, whose Ministers and Stewards you profess yourselves to be, are these Enemies to his Government, these Aliens from his Family, these Despisers of his Son, never rejected, but ever tamely received, as his CHILDREN, to his TABLE——Why! but because the Priest knows there is a LAW which hangs heavily over him, and threatens to punish with severe Penalty its Breach: And this being the Case, he chuses rather to throw himself upon the Mercies of GOD, than upon the Indignation of Man.

And now, Sir, if with this dreadful and oppressive Yoke upon your Neck; whilst scoffing Infidels laugh, and discerning Christians mourn; you are easy and well pleased; and bless yourself, and your Church in the Protection of this Law: All I shall say, at present, is, that I envy not your Felicity; but heartily thank Heaven, I have neither Lot nor Share in this Matter. Only, hear the Word, which GOD sent by his Prophet to certain time-serving Priests. Ezek. xliv. 6, 7. Thou shalt say to the rebellious House; let it suffice you of all your Abominations; in that ye have brought into my Sanctuary Strangers, gers, uncircumcised in Heart, to be in my Sanctuary, to pollute it; even MY HOUSE, when ye offer my Bread——they have broken my Covenant, because of all your Abominations.

I have said too much on your first Topic, of Church-Power, to have either room or occasion to add many Things on your last, our Constitution in Church and State. Here, indeed, I observe with Pleasure, that amidst the shew you affect to make of confuting my Account of the regal Supremacy, and of our Constitution, you hardly, in one single Instance, presume to contradict it. My Account, Sir, was founded upon Fact and upon Law. After close Examination, I suppose you found it to be so; and therefore though, to save Appearances, you would seem to say something on this Subject also; yet in your whole 14 Pages, there is scarce the shew of any Opposition to what I had advanced.

As for the Form of Speaking in use amongst us——Our Constitution in Church and State——That it is really an impropriety, as generally understood, I do not at all hesitate (with due Submission to the great Authorities by whom it is used) again to insist. It is a Form of Speaking, no doubt, drawn from the Usage of Popish Times; before the Reformation of our Religion took Place. For then there, truly, was a Constitution in Church, distinct from, and independent of, our Constitution in State. The Church had, then, its Laws, its Rights, its Officers and Powers, and its sovereign or supreme Head, peculiar to itself, and apart from the State. But, now, by the Reformation all that Independency and Distinction is abolished; it is now become entirely and absolutely a civil System: There are now no Laws in the Church (I mean none of human Enaction) but what were made by the civil Magistrate, and receive all their Obligation and Authority from him: There are now no Officers in the Church but what are constituted by the Authority and Direction of the Magistrate, gistrate, and are all liable to be unmade and deprived again by him—But that our Constitution in Church, is nothing really, but a civil or parliamentary Constitution; has, with incontestible Evidence, been shown in the preceding Letters; and and is a Truth, indeed, so plain, that no intelligent or sober Member of your Church will, I apprehend, so much as attempt to deny.

Our Constitution, therefore, being now changed by the happy Reformation; so, doubtless, would this Form of Speaking too; but seems to have been retained for Reasons of Policy, to sooth the Weakness of those who were then the Weakest of all the People, and the most averse to the Reformation, I mean the Clergy *. With the same condescending Views, probably, it is still kept in Use; but in real strictness and propriety to talk of our Constitution in Church and State, is not only to put the Body before the Head, the Effect before the Cause, the Handmaid before the Mistress; but it is to convey an Idea your Authorities could not possibly intend to convey, because not founded in Truth, viz. That the Church has a Constitution distinct from, independent of, yea prior or superior to, our Constitution in State.—By the Way, you will remember also, that the Presbyterian Church of Scotland is as essential, fundamental, and unalterable a Part of our present ecclesiastical CONSTITUTION, as the episcopal Church of England can ever pretend to be.

My Account of the POWER which our Laws and Constitution give to the Kings and QUEENS of this Realm, in Affairs ecclesiastical; to instruct, over-rule, direct, controul, all the Archbishops, Bishops,

* So because 'tis said—The Lords Spiritual and Temporal—Will any one therefore plead, that a Bishop is of higher Rank than a Duke? 'Tis no more than giving a Lady the upper Place; or, according to the apostolic Precept, honouring the weaker Vessel. What Defect of Argument does it shew, to lay such stress upon a mere Compliment!

shops and Priests of this Kingdom, in all their sacerdotal and most spiritual Concerns, &c. you do not pretend to litigate, but rather attempt to vindicate and explain. But you unhappily forget the one grand and material Point, for which it was introduced; and to which, above all other, it concerned you to speak; and that is, to reconcile this Constitution of the Church of England, with the Constitution of the Church of Christ: And to shew that Dissenters cannot separate from the one, without the Danger and the high Crime of renting themselves from the other. This was what you asserted, and flourished copiously upon; but are now, I presume, too well instructed to endeavour to support. You now see them, Sir, to be two distinct and quite different Societies: And will be henceforward eased of those painful Commiserations over the Souls of your Dissenting Brethren, with which your generous Mind laboured; and be terrified no more with direful Apprehensions on Account of our Schism, which seem all your Life long to have held you in Bondage.

There is a little unhappy Slip which, tho' not quite in Place, I shall take Notice of here—In page 13. of your Appendix, you charge me “with false Play in citing your XXXIVth Article, as declaring expressly that your Church Ceremonies were ordained by the Civil Magistrate. And ask me—“Did you find there any such Words?” And yet, with agreeable Surprize, I find you either so uncautious, or so honest, as within a few Lines, to cite the very Words of the Article, which support, in the strongest Manner, the Sense I had given; where an open and wilful Violation of these Ceremonies is, by the Article, declared to be an hurting the Authority of the CIVIL MAGISTRATE. Can a Violation of these Ceremonies violate the Magistrate's Authority, if by his Authority they had not been ordained?

But these are small Matters, in Comparison with what follows. The Affair of Mr. Whiston I thought you would gladly have let sleep. The Case, to be sure, wrung much: You have been once and again flinging to rid yourself of it; but the Manner in which you now do it, rather solely wounds, than gives you Relief. “ You tax me with Misrepresentation, and with no mean Talent that Way*.” Yea, have the Courage to confront me, with a Citation from Bp. Burnet to whom I had referred, as supporting my Account. But what will the World say, Sir! How will all your Friends, if not your Heart, reproach you! and the Learned, amongst whom you rank, hold you in great Derision! When they see you undertaking to give the Public an Account of his Lordship’s History of that Case; but, either carelessly overlooking, or wilfully suppressing, the material and important Passages, which clearly and irrefragably support my Account.

“ His Lordship, say you, † reports it thus—— “ That it seeming doubtful, whether the Convocation could, in the first Instance, proceed against “ a Man for Heresy; and it being certain that their “ Proceedings, if not warranted by Law, might “ involve them in a Premunire, the upper House, “ in an Address, prayed the Queen to ask the Opinion
 “ of the Judges, and such others as she thought fit, “ concerning these Doubts, that they might know “ how the Law stood in this Matter.” Here you stop short with the Bishop’s Narration: Having either not Patience to read, or not Honesty to write further; and then, with flourish, ask——“ Will “ these Accounts now authorize you to represent,
 “ as you do, the two Houses of Convocation, as waiting “ upon her Majesty; and that too to be instructed “ by her, and to learn her Judgment; and not that “ neither, how the Law stood in Relation to their “ Proceedings, but how the Gospel stood in Relation “ tion

* Appen. page 39.

† Appen. page 38.

“ tion to the Opinions of Mr. Whiston, and the “ Mystery of the Trinity? And do you not now “ perceive your Misrepresentation of the Case, and “ that I did not talk without Book, when I speak of “ it as a Specimen of your Talent, which, indeed,
 “ is not mean that Way.”

There is one Thing I here perceive, Sir; which is, that if you do not talk without Book, yet when the Book is before you, you either want Capacity or Integrity to make a proper Use of it. For besides the partial and maimed Account which you have given of this Matter, his Lordship expressly adds the important Passages which follow; whence the Public will please to observe, with how little Fairness and Truth you treat this famous Case; and how great is both the Church's and my own Infelicity; she in having an Advocate, and I an Opponent, capable of such dishonourable and low Methods of Defence.

His Lordship says——“ That by the Act of 1st “ of Elizabeth, which defined what should be “ judged Heresy, that Judgment was declared to be “ in the CROWN——The Bishops in Convocation “ drew out several Propositions from Mr. Whiston's “ Books, which seemed plainly to be reviving of “ Arianism, and censured them as such. The lower “ House (excepting to one Proposition) censured “ them in the same Manner. This the Archbishop, “ being then disabled by the Gout, sent by One of “ the Bishops to the QUEEN, for her Assent (Page “ 1194, Approbation) who promised to CONSIDER
 “ OF IT. At their (the Convocation's) Meeting “ next Winter, no Answer being come from the “ QUEEN, two BISHOPS were sent to ASK it, and “ to receive her Majesty's Pleasure in it; but She “ could not tell what was become of the Paper the “ Archbishop had sent her. So an Extract of the “ Censure was again sent to her; but she THOUGHT
 “ NOT FIT to send any Answer to it. So Whiston's

“ Affair ſlept, and all further Proceedings againſt “ him were ſtopped, ſince the QUEEN did not CON- “ FIRM the Step that we had made; tho’ he after“ ward published a large Work in four Volumes
 “ Octavo*.”

Here let it be noted. 1. The Judgment of what is, or is not to be treated as Heresy, is, by our apostolick Constitution lodged wholly in the CROWN. The QUEEN, when ſuch wears it, is the proper, the ſole Judge, what Doctrines and Books ſhall be censured as HERETICAL: What Principles and Tenets are, or are not, contrary to the holy orthodox Faith.

Note 2. The two Houses having extracted ſeveral Paſſages from Mr. Whiſton’s Books, and censured them as heretical †; deputed firſt one, then two Biſhops to wait upon the QUEEN, to ASK her Approbation and aſſent, to receive her Majeſty’s Pleaſure in this Affair; and to deſire her Confirmation, without which, their Censure was not of the leaſt Signification or Validity in the Church.

3. Upon the Receipt of this Requeſt the QUEEN, as ſole Judge, promiſed to CONSIDER of it. The Affair was of great Importance, viz. “ What
 “ the primitive apostolic Doctrine was concerning “ the Trinity, Incarnation, Nature and Generation of “ the Logos? Whether there were three Perſons “ exiſting in one undivided Subſtance: Or, whe“ ther the Logos was diſtinct in Eſſence from the “ Father; not created, nor made, but in an ineſ“ ſable Manner, begotten from Eternity? And, “ finally

* Burnet’s Hiſt. of his Times, Vol. VI. pages 1133, 34, 35, 94. Edit. 12mo.

† The Archbiſhops and Biſhops in their Addreſs to the Queen, ſay, that Mr. Whiſton had advanced ſeveral DAMNABLE and BLASPHEMOUS Aſſertions againſt the Doctrine and Worſhip of the ever bleſſed Trinity: And, in their Censure, they earnestly beſeech all Chriſtian People, by the Mercies of CHRIST, to take heed how they give Ear to theſe falſe Doctrines, as they tender the Honour and Glory of our Saviour, &c.

“ finally, whether the apostolical Constitutions were “ a genuine and inspired Book ; and a true Part of “ the sacred Canon ?” Her Majesty was now applied to, by her two Houses of Convocation, and requested, as SOLE JUDGE, to pronounce authorita- tively upon these Points, i. e. to tell them whether Mr.
Whiston's Doctrine was to be received or rejected ;
 to be considered as Heresy, or not ; in this Church.
 The QUEEN, as became a wise Judge, refused to pronounce rashly : She took Time to CONSIDER of it ; to weigh sedately in her Mind the Merits of the Cause, lest she should condemn the Innocent.

Note, The Scriptures, and the four first general Councils, are the Measure set by Law, to judge of Heresy : Her Majesty, therefore, being now requested by her Clergy to judge authoritatively in this important Case, acted a worthy Part in deferring her JUDGMENT, 'till she had examined carefully the Rule by which she was to judge.

Observe, 4. After the QUEEN had taken Time maturely to CONSIDER of these deep and mysterious Points, she THOUGHT NOT FIT to send any Answer.
 Upon her Majesty's THOUGHTS, the Issue of this great Affair is seen absolutely to depend. Finally,

'Tis worthy to be observed. 5. That her Majesty's THOUGHTS and JUDGMENT, on this weighty Case, were quite DIFFERENT from those of her learned Bishops and Clergy. They thought Mr. Whiston's Writings “ contained damnable and wicked Doctrines, “ and earnestly beseech all Christian People, by the “ Mercies of Christ, to take heed how they give ear, “ &c.”—and judged them to deserve a public and solemn Censure : Her Majesty THOUGHT OTHER-WISE. She did not THINK FIT to confirm the Step the Convocation had made. In Consequence of which, their Proceedings were all stopped ; and the solemn Censure they had passed with all their earnest Ob- testations, by the Mercies of CHRIST, evaporate into Air.—This is a fair and true State of the Case—

What

What Improvements are here made, by the Wisdom of later Ages, in the primitive apostolic Plan! Behold the W O M A N now empowered, not only to teach, but to usurp Authority over the Man; over all the Archbishops, Bishops, and Priests of this Realm; to vacate their most solemn Censures; to quash and stop at once their Spiritual Proceedings, in an Affair where blasphemous Doctrines, and damnable and wicked Errors, were bringing Danger of everlasting Ruin to the Souls over whom they watched! See here, Sir, the two Scales, that are to try Doctrines and Opinions in your holy apostolic Church: In one, is laid the united Judgment of all the Bishops and Clergy in Convocation convened; in the other, the QUEEN'S alone: Lo, the former mounts, and kicks the Beam! The single Judgment of the QUEEN, in the Balance of the Church, weighs more than that of all the learned Bishops and Priests of the Realm!

And is not this, now, exactly consonant to the Account I had given? “Is not here, Sir, the very comely and edifying Sight (at which you except) * of the two Houses of Convocation waiting upon the good Queen, to be instructed by her Majesty, whether that Gentleman's Books concerning the Trinity were to be condemned, as heretical or not?” Do they tell us, “you ask, of the Synod laying their Censure before the Queen, to have their Judgment upon it?” Yes—And of their waiting upon a W O M A N, who could be supposed to know as little of this Matter as of the Motion of the Stars, to learn from her Mouth, what the Church is to believe, and what to reject, as to this great Mystery of Faith?” Yes; you see, with your own Eyes, that this is really the Case. Why Sir, will you constrain me to expatiate upon Things which reflect no Honour upon the Church; and by a rash and indis-

creet

creet Defence but the Cause you would support ! How much wiser is the Part your candid Brethren are now acting, who like dutiful and pious Sons, are taking a Veil, and walking backward, to cover the Nakedness which has been too long exposed to the Jest of scoffing Unbelievers*.

As your Letters and Defences breathe a noble Compassion to the straying Souls of Dissenters; the extraordinary Instance, with which you conclude the whole, ought not to be overlooked. You are concerned, it seems, “ that I have read, and in several Instances agree in Sentiment and Reasoning—
 “ with the Author of the Rights of the Christian Church; and appear to have much studied and “ profited by that worthy Author---And are sorry to “ find Dissenting Ministers and Gentlemen dealing “ so much in Books of this Sort. So long as this “ is the Case, what hope of a Comprehension ! Or, “ indeed, who would wish for it ! †” I have read, Sir, and I hope profited by the Rights, &c. As you profess to have read, and I hope not without profit, Bellarmin, an Author incomparably worse. As for my Agreement with THE RIGHTS, &c. as far as that Author agrees with Truth, with Scripture, with Law, you must give me leave to say (without augmenting, I hope, your Sorrow) that I esteem it not the least Reproach. Nay for once, Sir, if you please, I will make you my Confessor, and frankly own,

* See a Series of such Exertions of feminine archiepiscopal, pastoral, Authority, throughout the whole Reign of Qu. Elizabeth; particularly, the Case of Archbishop Grinda; whom she sequestered, in great Wrath, from his archiepiscopal Functions, for refusing to obey a rash and tyrannical Order of the Queen relating to Church-matters. Under this Sequestration he continued many Years. The two Houses of Convocation presented to the Queen a most humble and earnest Petition for his Restoration, but could not obtain it. Vid. Fuller's Ch. Hist. Book IX. page 120.—Neil's Hist. Pur. Vol. I. pages 358, 374.

† Appen. pages 41, 44.

own, that in many Things I agree in Sentiment and Reasoning with one far worse than either Bellarmin or the Rights, &c. Who this may be, you will see, Luke iv. 41. James ii. 19.

Dissenting Ministers and Gentlemen, I presume, deal in Books of all Sorts, from whence they can gather useful Knowledge, and improve and enlarge their Minds. They have dealt in the Writings of the shrewdest Deists (Books much worse than the Rights, &c.) as you see by the many noble Defences of Christianity which their Pens have produced. Your—dealing in books of this Sort—is a Bugbear, which may frighten Children in Understanding; but Dissenters, you should have known, have not so learned CHRIST. They are commanded to try the Spirits; to examine, and prove all Things; and remember the noble Bereans, who are commended by St. Paul for searching carefully into the Grounds and Evidence of Things before they gave their Assent. And if this Liberty of Examination, and of speaking and writing freely upon Subjects of Religion, be a bar to a Comprehension—very long may it remain! It is the Glory of Christianity that it shuns not the severest Search: 'Tis Bigotry and Error only that love to hide themselves in Darkness, and grow touchy and alarmed if you seek to bring them into open Sight.

We acknowledge, Sir, your Goodness in bringing down to our Understandings the Mystery of CONSECRATIONS of Churches and Church-yards; and your kind Attempt to illustrate the Usefulness, Edification, and Comeliness of this Ceremony. There are some previous Questions, which I could wish to see answered, before we enter thoroughly into the grand Debate—As, whether you think the Apostle Paul, in all his apostolic Labours and Travels thro' the Churches, ever consecrated a Plat of Ground? Whether any of the twelve Apostles, amongst the Mira-

Miracles and mighty Works which they every where wrought, ever did this wondrous Thing? Whether the Synagogues, where our SAVIOUR preached; the Chamber where he instituted, and first celebrated his sacred Supper; the upper Room where the Apostles met, when they actually received the extraordinary Gifts of the Holy Ghost; the House of Aquila and Priscilla, Nymphas, &c. in which were Christian Churches; had really any other Consecration than our Places of Worship have? And yet, whether these were not as much the House of God, and Places of his more immediate Presence, as any splendid Cathedral, now consecrated with all the Pomp of sacerdotal Device? *

You appeal to “the Forms which Bp. Andrews and others have used in their Consecrations. And ask—What think you now? Is there any Thing “ridiculous or superstitious in all this? †” Yes; extremely much of both, if they at all resemble that of A. B. Laud (the only one I have ever seen) when he consecrated the Churches of St. Catherine Cree, St. Giles’s, and others in London. An intolerable Piece of ecclesiastical Foppery, sufficient to have made a Popish Cardinal blush, and which no Protestant can read but with indignant Concern! The Form has, in larger Histories, been more than once published; but having never seen it in any little Tract, I shall beg leave to transcribe it, for the Edification of our common Readers. A striking Instance of the Danger of indulging human Invention in Things of Religion; and which shews, into what Wilds of ridiculous Superstition even learned

K k

* You have forgotten, perhaps, the Doctrine of your own Homily, to which you have several Times solemnly subscribed,—“That in Tertullian’s Time, 160 Years after CHRIST, Christians had no other Temples but common Houses, whither for the most Part they secretly resorted.” Peril of Idol. Part III. Page 159.

† Appen. Page 45.

learned Minds are apt to run, when they leave the Simplicity of the Gospel of CHRIST.

“ The Bishop came attended with several of the “ high Commission and some Civilians. At his “ Approach to the West Door of the Church, “ which was shut and guarded by Halberdeers, some “ that were appointed for that Purpose, cried with “ a loud Voice——Open, open, ye everlasting “ Doors, that the King of Glory may come in! Pre“ sently the Doors were opened, and the Bishop, “ with some Doctors and principal Men, entered.
 “ As soon as they were within the Place, his Lord- “ ship fell down upon his Knees; and, with Eyes “ lifted up, and his Arms spread abroad, said, This “ Place is Holy, the Ground is Holy; in the Name of “ the FATHER, SON, and HOLY GHOST, I pro- “ nounce it Holy. Then walking up the Middle “ Isle towards the Chancel, he took up some of the “ Dust, and threw it into the Air several Times.
 “ When he approached near the Rail of the Com“ munion-table, he bowed towards it five or six “ Times; and returning, went round the Church, “ with his Attendants, in Procession; saying first “ the hundred and then the nineteenth Psalms, as “ prescribed in the Roman Pontifical. He then read “ several Collects, in one of which he prays God
 “ to accept of that beautiful Building, and concludes “ thus——We CONSECRATE this Church, and sepa- “ rate it unto THEE as HOLY GROUND, not to be “ prophaned any more to common Use. In another he “ prays——That ALL who should hereafter be buried “ within the Circuit of this HOLY and SACRED Place, “ may rest in their Sepulchres in Peace, till Christ's “ coming to Judgment, and may then rise to eternal “ Life and Happiness.”

“ Then the Bishop, sitting under a Cloth of “ State, in the Isle of the Chancel, near the Com“ munion-table, took a written Book in his Hand, “ and pronounced Curses upon those who should hereafter

“ hereafter prophane that holy Place by Musters of “ Soldiers, or keeping prophane Law-Courts, or “ carrying Burthens through it: and at the End “ of every Curse he bowed to the East, and said, “ let all the Peop'le say Amen. When the Curses
 “ were ended, which were about Twenty, he pro“ nounced a like Number of Blessings upon ALL that “ had any Hand in framing and building that sa- “ cred and beautiful Church; and on those that “ had given, or should hereafter give, any Chalice, “ Plate, Ornaments, or other Utensils: And,
 “ at the End of every Blessing, he bowed to the “ EAST, and said, let all the People say Amen.
 “ After this came the Sermon, then the Sacrament, “ which the Bishop consecrated and administered
 “ in the following Manner.

“ As he approached the Altar, he made five or “ six low Bows; and coming up to the Side of it, “ where the Bread and Wine were covered, he bowed “ seven Times. Then, after reading many Prayers, “ he came near the Bread; and gently lifting up
 “ the Corner of the Napkin, beheld it, and imme“ diately letting fall the Napkin, he retreated haf“ tily a Step or two, and made three low Obei-“ fances. His Lordship then advanced, and having “ uncovered the Bread, bowed three Times as be“ fore. Then he laid his Hand on the Cup, which “ was full of Wine, with a Cover upon it; which “ having let go, he stepped back, and bowed three “ Times towards it; then he came near again, and “ lifting up the Cover of the Cup, looked into it,
 “ and seeing the Wine, let fall the Cover again, re“ tired back, and bowed as before. Then the “ Elements were consecrated, and the Bishop hav“ ing first received, gave it to some principal Men “ in their Surplices, Hoods and Tippetts; after “ which, many Prayers being said, the Solemnity
 “ of the Consecration ended.”

This, Sir, was the Sense, and this the Manner of that celebrated Martyr and Governor of your Church, in this Business of CONSECRATION. And, what now think you? Was there nothing Ridiculous or Superstitious in all this! You seem, indeed, to have not quite so exalted an Opinion of this Solemnity as his Lordship; but as the Church has no where (that I know) explained herself as to this Matter; nor censured Laud's Conduct; nor prescribed any set Form in which this Ceremony is to be done; any Bishop, I apprehend, at present, is at full Liberty to use the same, and may now consecrate a Church after the Manner of St. Catherine Cree Church. And pray! to whom shall I attend, as best knowing and expressing the Church's Sense in this Point, to the great Archbishop Laud; or, to the—Mr. White, sometime Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge.

I have now done with your Appendix—There is another OFFICE of your Liturgy, alike liable to the severe Exceptions of all well-instructed Christians, and to the Sneers of insulting Deists, as any I have yet considered; and that is, your OFFICE for the Ordination of Priests and Deacons. This, if you call me forth again, I may more particularly shew. At present, I only ask—Whether to your sober Reason it really appears a fit Question, to be put to EVERY young Gentleman that comes from the University for Orders to the Bishop; whether he trusts that he is INWARDLY MOVED BY THE HOLY GHOST to take upon him this Office? And for EVERY such young Gentleman to declare solemnly as in God's Presence, that he trusts that he is SO INWARDLY MOVED. The Gentlemen, and their Communication; the Manners, the Taste, and State of the Universities; you, perhaps, better know, than I shall pretend. Tell me then, before God, is their moral State SUCH that you can reasonably think EVERY Student that comes thence, when he gets a Title to a Living, and applies for Orders to the Bishop, doth really feel himself inwardly moved by the HOLY GHOST to make that Application? How is it we are not afraid to trifle in an Affair so exceeding serious and important! Is it not coming too near to the Sin of Ananias, viz. LYING to the HOLY GHOST?

And when, kneeling before the Bishop, he lays his Hand on the Student's Head, is it not a strange saying—Receive the HOLY GHOST—Whose Sins THOU dost forgive, they are forgiven; and whose Sins THOU dost retain, they are retained; in the Name of the FATHER, of the SON, and of the HOLY GHOST, Amen. I make no Reflections at present: But only say: That to me it appears quite amazing, that, in an Age of such Discernment and Freedom of Enquiry, this Form is suffered to stand. And, in the Language of your Collect, I very heartily pray—That Almighty God, who alone worketh great Marvels, would send down upon our Bishops and Curates the healibful Spirit of his Grace, the Spirit of Wisdom and Humility! assured, that this Stone of Stumbling, in the Way of sagacious Infidels, will then quickly be removed.

But to conclude. I have the Pleasure, Sir, to be persuaded that your Mind is not now filled with those swelling and high Thoughts of the Excellence of your Liturgy, as when our Correspondence opened. Dissenters, you find, are not the only Persons who except strongly against your Forms. Many of your learned Clergy have, in a candid and respectful Manner, and yet with a becoming Courage, expressed great Dissatisfaction with them. What Effect their Attempt for the Enlargement of the Church's Bounds, and for a further Reformation and Review will produce; Time alone must shew. Upon the Foot it at present stands, the Church's Situation, to every discerning Person, must appear extremely critical and uncertain.

It is difficult to defend it against the crafty Attacks of POPERY on the one Hand; and, I think, actually impossible to support it against the Assaults of INFIDELITY on the other. Betwixt these two Stones, is there no room to apprehend its being quickly ground to Powder? To the injurious Idea which many of your Forms give of the Christian Religion, the unhappy Increase of Deism is, undoubtedly, in great Measure owing. And increase it further will, there is the highest Reason to believe, if these Forms which are the just Offence and Ridicule of Unbelievers, are not timely dismissed. But, when those who now boast themselves the Successors of the Apostles, and the only regular Pastors and Ministers of Christ, shall give Proof that they are possessed of a truly apostolic Virtue, and shall no longer seek their own, but the Things of JESUS CHRIST; a Review will be no distant, nor difficult Event.

In the mean Time, Dissenters have the Satisfaction to reflect; that amidst various Discouragements, they have, by their Dissent, approved themselves LOYAL to the only SOVEREIGN of the Church, and FAITHFUL to a sacred Trust committed to them by GOD, for which they must give Account. They rejoice in the Review, that they have entered their Protest against the Impositions and Inventions of Men; which have corrupted the Simplicity, enervated the Vigour, deformed the Beauty, and broken the Communion of the Body of Christ. And whatever rash Censures they may happen to incur from the Prejudiced, the Weak, and the Interested now: They, with great Assurance hope, to be not only approved, but applauded by their JUDGE; and to receive, at his appearing, Honour proportioned to their present Reproach.

When, it shall please the Almighty Sovereign to awaken in the Christian World a Spirit of genuine CHRISTIANITY——When true HONOUR shall prevail prevail over Cowardice and Temporising; and INTEGRITY and TRUTH over Falshood and Error—When that slavish ignoble Principle, that we are to conform to the established Worship of the Country where we dwell, whatever it be, shall be held in deserved Reproach: a Principle that debases greatly and corrupts the human Soul; puts out its intellectual Eye; chains up its noblest Powers; robs it of its highest Glory, viz. the searching into religious Subjects, and offering to its CREATOR a reasonable Service; in short, a Principle that directly tends to banish every Thing that deserves the Name of Religion; to drive all Truth, and Honour, and Honesty, from amongst Men; that will justify a Man's professing himself a Mahometan at Constantinople, a Pagan at Peking, a Papist at Rome—When this infamous and base Principle, I say, shall be treated with just Contempt; and Men shall be every where disposed, to seek with Impartiality, and to practise without Disguise RIGHTEOUSNESS and TRUTH—Then, Sir, will the Character of a rational DISSENTER be had in universal Honour. Then will such appear to have been the only consistent Protestants; the true Patrons of Christian Liberty, Church Unity, and Catholic Communion; and the only Body of Christians upon whom the Guilt of Schism does not really rest; because they open their Communion to every sincere Christian; and require no Terms, but what CHRIST and his Apostles have required in the Church. If you will not throw in your Lot, and share with them in those Honours; you must e'en take your own Way. However, rest assured that I am, with due Affection and Esteem,

S I R,

Yours, &c.

A DISSENTER.

Miss M. Lean. Book

Allen M. Leankis

Book 1771

